"For the past year and a half we have been working in this direction. Since the Seventh Convention of our League we have more than doubled our membership to 13,000, but what is also of significance is that beside the growth of the League itself, we have helped establish independent youth clubs and organizations with programs very similar to ours and which, together with us, totals some 55,000 young people."

"It is, therefore, possible to envision for the not too distant future the merger of our League with other advanced organizations of youth into a united anti-fascist youth league of mass proportions."

"Why do we not propose an immediate merger of these organizations? Because the forces working in the direction of such a united league are only in the first stages of crystallization. Through the work for the building of an American People's Front; through the rising militant labor movement; through the extension of the unity in the ranks of the youth—through these streams it will be possible to unite hundreds of thousands of young people into an organization for education and struggle; into an organization comparable to the great United Socialist League of Spain with its more than 300,000 members."

"In the meantime, while continuing to help build such organizations as the Youth Division of the International Workers' Order with its 17,000 members; as the American Student Union with its 20,000 members; as the Youth organizations around the Farmer Labor Parties; as the dozens of independent clubs under our influence, we must especially emphasize the need for a radical transformation of the character of our YCL on the basis of the decisions of the Sixth Congress."

"The Young Communist League endorses and supports the program of the American Student Union. Why shouldn't it? It has joint parenthood with the Communist Party over this organization. There are chapters of the American Student Union in high schools, junior colleges and universities."

"In order to provide a picture of the type of teaching given the Young Pioneers, we incorporate here a few quotations from the 'New Pioneer,' a Communist youth publication. Here is what they say about George Washington:

"Some facts about the father of our country. 'He was one of the biggest drunkards of his day!'

"He was a Federalist. They believed in rich having more power than poor!"

And about Abraham Lincoln:

"Referring to Lincoln, the youth publication tells its Pioneers and any other children whom they may reach:

"The Great Emancipator—He did not want to free the slaves. He wanted to save the union so the northern capitalists could go on exploiting the southern states for their own use."

"Children's Summer Camps are established throughout the country. Adult Communists or sympathizers are placed in charge. The prospectus includes the teaching of hatred for religious and patriotic institutions, contempt for the Government and the flag, and on the other hand, schools the children in the tenets and principles of Communism. Recreation is provided in the form of games, hiking, etc."

"It may be appalling to some readers to learn of situations such as this, but the citizens of the country have only themselves to censure. Certainly, a rightly resentful populace could rise in righteous wrath and force the enactment of legislation which would forever abolish the establishment of schools which teach and advocate the overthrow of our government and the substitution of a Communist régime."

"Effort in industry, pride in labor, thrift, investment and provisional measures for comfortable old age—all of these are components of American life. The vision conjured up by our forefathers, of commerce flowing freely from coast to coast and from our shores to those of distant lands, became a reality. But something went awry and suddenly we find ourselves in a maelstrom of strife. Strikes. Picket lines. Intimidation of loyal workers who insist upon exercising their prerogative to work at their jobs. Beatings and property damages. Industry handcuffed. Great ships lying silent in harbors."

"But who is guilty of having created the situation? When a crime is committed we seek the culprit. Here is a crime which was committed against the country as a whole, against the workman and against the industrialist as well. America, magically soaring from the depths of a gripping depression to the heights of prosperity, suddenly found herself bound with ties she could not break. Strangled by her own people who by a series of strikes, kept men out on strikes, kept men out of work and put them on relief. A country at peace with the world—but torn asunder by her own people! True, the tiresome struggle of 'Labor v. Capital' so dear to the hearts of the revolutionists, continued; but the suicidal combat of Labor vs. Labor is the tragic center of interest in the country today."

"Again the question is asked, 'Who is responsible?'

Now, gentlemen, everything I have read concerning un-American activities in California is from men who are law-enforcing officers of that state and their opinions apparently are based on facts which cannot be controverted. I do want to add a word of heartfelt appreciation of one kind of labor leader we have in this country, President Green of the American Federation of Labor, who, with his organization, has done wonderful work in counteracting these un-American activities. I certainly trust that the Council will see fit to pass each and every one of the three orders that I have introduced."

The orders were referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.34 p. m., on motion of Coun. TAYLOR, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President MURRAY at 4.15 p. m.

Coun. WILSON in the chair.

The report was accepted and the matter was referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

The report was accepted and the order passed.

CONDITIONS AT CITY FUEL COMPANY, BORDER STREET, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. AGNEW, for Coun. Irwin, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Department of the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately investigate conditions at the property of the City Fuel Company on Border street, East Boston, and report their findings and recommendations forthwith to the City Council relative to the coal dust nuisance.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PENSION FOR CERTAIN RETIRED POLICE OFFICERS.

Coun. AGNEW, for Coun. Irwin, offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation as follows: All police officers of the City of Boston who were retired before reaching the age of retirement by reason of incapacity occasioned by injuries received in the performance of their duties shall be entitled to a pension in an amount equal to that which police officers retired for the same reason are receiving on the effective date of this act, provided such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and the City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PENSION FOR FRED G. TRASK.

Coun. AGNEW for Coun. Irwin offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation as follows: That Fred G. Trask, a police officer of the City of Boston, who was retired before reaching the age of retirement by reason of incapacity occasioned by injuries received in the performance of his duties, shall be entitled to a pension in an amount equal to that which police officers retired for the same reason are receiving on the effective date of this act, provided such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and the City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Coun. FITZGERALD, for the Committee on Rules, submitted the following:

Report on resolution (referred January 30) memorializing Congress to continue activities of W. P. A. at full complement and rescind recent cut of $150,000,000 from appropriation—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on passage of the resolution.

Coun. ROSENBERG—This resolution I believe, is a very helpful one. Despite the fact that criticism has been leveled at the W. P. A. I believe this resolution should be adopted in order to call the attention of Congress to the necessity of enacting an appropriation of $150,000,000 in order that those people who need the work may be kept at work.

The resolve was passed under suspension of the rule.

NEW EDITION OF "BOSTON'S STREETS."

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Printing be authorized and directed to print a new edition of one thousand copies, bound in boards, of the book entitled "Boston's Streets," with the precinct changes, if any, made by the Election Commissioners to December 31, 1938, together with street names corrected to date and with designations of existing public highways; said copies to be distributed under the direction of the Committee on Printing, the expense to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FILING CABINETS FOR ASSESSING AND WATER DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Budget Commissioner to include in the current budget for the Assessing Department a sum sufficient to provide necessary filing cabinets in which to store records of said department.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Budget Commissioner to include in the budget for the Water Division of the Public Works Department a sum sufficient to provide necessary filing cabinets in which to store records of said division.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, it seems that it is within the province of this Council to determine the ways and means for generating cool air in the hot Sahara Desert and to see that the coolies in China are given proper treatment! Therefore, I do not intend, and hope I will not insult the intelligence of the Council or take up any of its time by bringing into the body something pertaining to the affairs of our city! But if any one of you had gone into the Assessing Department or the Water Income Department and had seen the way that records are kept there, you would be astounded. The Water Income Department for the first time in many years has given us something for which we should be proud. It has a surplus this year, after all bills for 1938 have been paid, of $600,000, an amount where in other years we had nothing but deficits. But if you stand in that office you will see records that are invaluable to the City of Boston, that it would cost the City of Boston thousands and thousands of dollars to duplicate. Even though we have a man by the name of Daniel Sullivan in charge who is doing a thoroughly good job, we are failing to provide for the department equipment necessary to protect the files of the City of Boston. I cannot see for the life of me, even though we are now in an economy stage, why, under the circumstances, a few thousand dollars cannot be appropriated to protect those files. We have wooden files, and the building is not, in my opinion, free from the hazard of fire. There can be fires in City Hall as well as any other place, and we have had them there. If those records were destroyed, it would demonstrate the adoption of a very foolish economy by our City of Boston. We should spend money for the protection of these files which are so necessary and so valuable. In the Assessing Department we have the same thing,—records that cannot be duplicated unless we go to a tremendous expense—in wooden files, or in no files at all. Let the City Council get down to the business of this city and show to the people that we are doing something in their behalf so far as protection of their property is concerned. If you go up into the Water Income Department you will observe people coming in there with regard to their bills and with no place for them to sit down. You find them standing, leaning against the counter waiting for help to come to them, help which is non-existent, because they need more help there. I would suggest that his Honor the Mayor provide out of that $600,000 income which the Water Department made for the City of Boston last year a sufficient and adequate amount to keep their records properly.

The orders were severally passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS FOR WARD 16 STREETS.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct sidewalks along Laban Pratt and Arbroth streets, Ward 16, under the W. P. A. type of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK, SAWYER AVENUE, WARD 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a sidewalk, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, in front of 102 Sawyer avenue, Ward 13.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESIGNATION OF JUSTICE LOUIS D. BRANDEIS.

Coun. SULLIVAN, HUTCHINSON, GALVIN and ROSENBERG offered the following:

Whereas, The resignation of Associate Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court has caused an universal regret among the people of the nation in view of the penetrating logic, the legal acumen, and thoroughly progressive idealism and unwavering loyalty to the cause of democracy which he brought to that position, and

Whereas, He was the preeminent precursor of the cause of social and economic justice in the body which he dignified for nearly a quarter of a century, and

Whereas, The city which he once adopted as his own is today assailed by insidious groups boring from within, who have neither the same dignity, perception, nor loyalty to the American cause and who fail to distinguish between civil liberty and civil license and who contribute to democracy a meaning never known to a man of the honestly liberal beliefs which Louis D. Brandeis has always possessed; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Boston City Council regret the passing of Louis D. Brandeis from the Supreme Judicial Body of the land and respectfully suggest that once again he adopt Boston as his home to carry on the fight for American democracy in the city which gave it birth.

The resolve was unanimously passed by a rising vote.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF BOSTON ELEVATED.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the enactment of legislation as suggested by the Public Utilities Commission to place the Boston Elevated Railway under Public Ownership.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I don't think there is any lengthy speech necessary on that order, but I do believe it is obvious to anyone, even not of a mathematical bent of mind, that money may be saved to the taxpayers of this city by taking up the bonds now outstanding on the Boston Elevated, with the accompanying saving of interest on such bonds and through ceasing payment of the present dividend.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

BUS LINE FROM GREEN STREET.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a bus line along the following route: From Green street up Centre street, through May street to Pond street, terminating at the Brookline-Boston line, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RAZING OF BUILDINGS ON WEST ROXBURY VETERANS HOSPITAL PROPERTY.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange a W. P. A. project for the immediate razing of all buildings on the property formerly known as the West Roxbury Veterans Hospital.

Coun. LYONS—Two weeks ago I put in an order in regard to that property, the Veterans Hospital at West Roxbury. There was a message from the Mayor favoring turning the property over to the Public Works Department with the idea of demolishing the buildings, possibly through a W. P. A. project. After looking around up there I find that the buildings are not of any value at all. After three meetings in West Roxbury the consensus of opinion of the people is in favor of demolishing the buildings and having the City of Boston level the land off for some future development. I think the Mayor figured on possible house sites, bringing extra revenue to Boston. It has been figured that there were one million feet, and if there are W. P. A. projects to demolish the buildings and level the land off, it would be an ideal spot for a stadium or something beneficial to the ward. So with the proviso in the order to have the Public Works Commissioner arrange a W. P. A. project and go in and demolish the buildings and level off the land, but not to be sold for house lots, it might be that a stadium or some such structure could be erected.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WAITING BOOTH BLUE HILL AVENUE AND SEAVER STREET.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Elevated, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to construct a waiting booth at the corner of Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MEETING ON THURSDAY.

Coun. TAYLOR moved that when the Council adjourn it be to meet on Thursday, February 16, at three p. m. The motion was carried.

USE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS BY PRIVATE ORGANIZATIONS.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee of the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to set up certain rules and regulations with regard to the use of school buildings by private organizations to the end that at least five days' notice may be required and that sufficient information be furnished the School Committee so that it may easily be determined that said organization is not unpatriotic or un-American in its motives or purposes.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, for the past few years, I have been following, with a great deal of interest and no little apprehension, the activities and utterances of Joseph Lee, Jr., of the Boston School Committee. My investigation, which has been of the most searching nature, has disclosed that this man is affiliated with most every known radical and Communist Front organization in this area, not counting nationwide groups, either by active supporting these groups or lending his support to them in various ways. To mention the Communist-led American Youth Congress and the Red American Students Union is but to name a few. His vicious and slanderous statement regarding the Irish and persons of Irish descent in the South Boston District is too well known to our citizens to repeat. This unwarranted attack upon one of the largest groups of our citizenry was certainly grounds enough to question Lee's fitness to hold public office. His recent attack upon the headmaster of the Roxbury Memorial High School and his views, upholding attacks on the Catholic church by Communist groups meeting in our public school building, which are supported by Catholic citizens in the form of taxation, causes me, at this time, to take a very decided stand on this matter. I am being deluged with appeals, not only from my own constituents, but from citizens throughout the City of Boston, to take some concrete step which will result in the removal of Mr. Lee from public office and I am now engaged in studying our laws to find solid grounds of procedure. The Irish and Catholic people of the City of Boston, especially the older residents, will recall quite vividly the campaign of hate, vilification and slander which was the daily portion of their fathers and mothers in the early days of their settlement in Boston. I, for one, am determined that this ugly situation will not rise again in our community if my voice and meager talents can prevent it. There will be no more burning of convents and churches, no more assaulting of priests and nuns, regardless of the desires of Mr. Lee and his radical and communistic cohorts. No church in Boston will be painted with the Hammer and Sickle of Moscow, such as was done in New York City recently. I have reliable information that the forces of Communism and their "fellow travelers" recently held a secret meeting in Washington to formulate plans whereby they will conduct a campaign to present the Catholic church and its members as the enemies of progress and enlightenment, the supporters of Fascism and reaction and in this campaign they have enlisted the support of several well known left-wing columnists, whose offerings and outbursts are even appearing in the newspapers of our city. I have wired Congressman Martin Dies, Chairman of the House Committee Investigating Un-American Activities, to dispatch, at once, an investigator, to go into every possible angle of this alarming situation. I can do no less for the mothers and fathers of our boys and girls who attend our public schools and who may be exposed to this influence. Thank God the majority of our school teachers are loyal American citizens and detest Communism as much as any right-minded American who honors his country and its principles. Mr. Lee is not fit to serve on any public body and has sacrificed the confidence, if he ever had it, of every decent citizen of our city. He has used his position on the School Board as a sounding board and his unearned wealth to forward and to obtain publicity for ideas and principles which are seething with bigotry, hate and vilification coupled with abuse. This cannot continue if I can prevent it. As a member of the Boston City Council I would be derelict in my duties if I did not take this stand and I believe it will be the stand of each one of my colleagues when the facts of Lee's activities are known. I would suggest to these groups who have been meeting recently and condemning Father Coughlin for his masterful defense of Americanism, that they would be accomplishing more for domestic peace and understanding if they would devote some of their energies to investigating and condemning the Communistic activities at the Roxbury Memorial High School and its immediate vicinity. Here are some places that should be looked into:

15 Essex Street, Boston, Mass., Listed as the Communist Headquarters.

This is merely a blind, no real Communistic meetings or conferences are held in this office, nor are any vital or informative records kept here. Dictaphone records over a period of time and tapped wires revealed much important information, but nothing vital. The actual spots where the records are kept and the residences where the real stuff is discussed is known to me, and take it from me it is not in Charlestown or South Boston.

Boylston Place.

A nest of Communistic and radical groups are located in this alley, off Boylston street. Their names and purposes are known as well as their leaders.

Hayward Place.

Another group, who are on the outs with the Stalinists meet here. They are merely at loggerheads over leadership, not principles.

La Grange Street.

Here we find the assorted radicals and those engaged in missionary work. Stroll down this street and look things over for yourself.

Leverett Street.

Headquarters for the recruiters for Spain and other Communistic campaigns. Here you will find the Polish and Ukrainian Communists meeting.

Causeway Street.

Here we have another center for varied Communistic activities, over a restaurant, near Lowell street. If you are interested you can discover what goes on in this hall, as well as I can.

Charles Street.

A community house, where allied Communistic and radical groups, especially among the foreign and children of foreign-born parents are enticed away from their church organizations to join in activities which are directed by "Fellow Travelers."

Dorchester—Roxbury.

This area is infested with various halls and private homes where meetings of the Communist Party, Young Communist League, Young Pioneers, League for Peace and Democracy American Students Union, American Youth Congress, International Workers Order, Workers Alliance, Friends of Spanish Democracy, Abraham Lincoln Brigade, American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy, Friends of China, Friends of the Soviet Union, American Federation of Teachers, the organization which the A. F. of L. was forced to denounce in New York and demand charters from several units. I could name others, but due to the importance of my information, it is deemed best not to divulge it at this time.

City Hall.

It is a known fact that well-known Communist agitators were and still may be employed in the basement of this very building by the Historical Records Section of the W. P. A.

Newbury Street.

Headquarters of the Communistic forces which are supporting Communistic Spain.

Byron Place.

The meeting place of the "Fellow Travelers," who do not want the public to know that they are Communists or Communist sympathizers. Here we will find the cream of the crackpots, radical morons and their monied suckers who are taken for a financial ride in the interests of the "cause."

Symphony Hall.

Here we have a gang of "Fellow Travelers" meeting under the guise of a church, which in reality is nothing more or less than a Communistic and radical forum. The name of Christ, as the Savior of the World or the Redeemer of Mankind, is never heard within these walls on Sunday morning. The Christian plan of Salvation and the Christian Way of Life is a story unknown in this building on the Sabbath morn.

Instead the "Fellow Travelers" meet to listen to Earl Browder, the front for the Communist Party in the United States. Norman Thomas, the ever present Presidential Candidate of the Socialist Party for President. Scott Nearing, another well-known radical, and a long line of similar-minded persons, regardless of race or group, as long as it is pleasing to the "Fellow Travelers."

Ford Hall.

I need not go into the activities of Ford Hall. I need not relate the type that is found within this building on Sunday night. All I ask you to do is pay it a visit. Notice your audience and look over the faces. A safe place for the "Fellow Travelers" who cannot be seen at the meeting of Cell No. 10 or Unit No. 3 of the Communist Party or take part in a Top Fraction Meeting which is discussing the proper methods or arousing the pupils of the public schools to strike or to plan a demonstration on State street.

County Court House.

It is well known that communistic agitators were and may be still employed at the Register of Deeds office in the square. I do not mean to give the impression that any official of the city or county is responsible for the employment or retention of these persons; they are not. They are W. P. A. responsibility.

I have mentioned but a few places known to me that are now being used for communistic and radical purposes. In Somerville, Chelsea, Revere, Everett and Malden, not to mention other spots, such as Cambridge, has its centers. I will continue to probe into these activities also and transmit my information to the officials of these cities as soon as possible.

APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS.

I urgently appeal to all right-thinking citizens of the City of Boston, who have any information, however slight, regarding any communistic or radical activities within the city to get in touch with me at my home, 46 Monument avenue, Charlestown, or write to me at that address, or if they desire, write direct to City Hall, but I would advise in the interests of secrecy, they write direct to my home and I will promise a full investigation. I desire the names, addresses and other vital information and I pledge myself to guard and protect anyone informing me of these affairs or hangouts. We are ready to go to town and no force, however powerful, will stop us.

I trust that the representatives of the press will aid in giving this appeal publicity.

In addition to the above, partly read and then submitted for inclusion in the minutes, Coun. Galvin submitted the following extracts for inclusion in the record:

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES.

AMERICAN STUDENT UNION.

As a section of the World Student Association for Peace, Freedom, and Culture, the American Student Union is the result of a united front gathering of young Socialists and Communists. It was formerly known as the Student League for Industrial Democracy and the National Student League. The latter was the American section of the Proletarian Youth League of Moscow. (See page 582, volume 1, committee hearings.) Out of the Coalition convention, which was held at Columbus, Ohio, in 1937, came the American Student Union. The united front was heralded in Moscow as "one of its (Communism's) greatest triumphs." (See page 582, volume 1, committee hearings.)

The American Student Union claims to have led as many as 500,000 students out in annual April 22 student strikes in the United States. It announced that it set up the "front" movement, the United Student Peace Committee in 1938, which has brought into its front seventeen national youth organizations. The young Communist League takes credit for the creation of the American Student Union, since it was its organization, the National Student League, which issued the call and organized the convention which was held in Columbus. (See page 584, column 1, committee hearings.)

In an advertisement which appeared in the Communist journal, "New Masses," the Union offered free trips to Russia. In 1938 it issued a call for a "closed shop on the campus," urging a united front between its local college groups and certain teachers and professional groups. It claims credit for perfecting a united front of Communist and Socialist students in Europe. (See page 584, volume 1, committee hearings.) Most of the subversive activities among the youth of the United States were formerly conducted through so-called student groups, one of these being the National Student League (Communist) and another the students League for Industrial Democracy (Socialist). The former group was organized in 1932, the other having been organized in 1905 as the Intercollegiate Social Society which was sponsored by the revolutionary writer, Jack London. While considerable rivalry existed between these two groups they were in conformity with orders issued at the July, 1935, World Communist Congress held in Moscow, merged in that year into a group which is now known as the American Student Union, which was not only sponsored by the Communist Party but to all intents and purposes is entirely controlled by it. To this American Student Union may be credited the continuous agitation for the promotion of the students' so-called peace strikes, which occur on the campus of universities throughout the United States in April of each year. These peace demonstrations concern themselves with many subjects which are not germane to the administration of our educational institutions and as an indication of this condition attention is directed to Exhibit No. 1, issued by the executive committee of the American Student Union of Stanford University under date, April 13, 1937, and particularly to that portion in which objection is raised to a speaker selected, on the grounds that he openly supported the so-called Spanish Fascists.

In connection with this same exhibit it will be noted that the American Student Union is conjoined with the youth section of the American League against War and Fascism, with the American Youth Congress with the youth section of the Emergency Peace Committee, and with the War Resisters League. All of these organizations are notoriously communistic. Ostensibly the principal objective of the American Student Union is to oppose compulsory military training, but both directly and through the American Student Union's support of the American Youth Congress this student group concerns itself and attempts to exercise its influence in matters of politics, labor, religion, etc.

Exhibit No. 2 is a circular issued by the American Student Union of Berkeley opposing the anti-picketing ordinance effective in that city and which contains the statement:

The International Longshoremen's Association and the American Student Union have joined together today to picket Woolworth's outstanding on the Central Labor Council's unfair list, in order to inaugurate a campaign for the repeal of this ordinance.

The next exhibit, No. 3, is a circular issued jointly by the American Student Union and the Warehousemen's Union 38-44 of the I. L. A. It will be noted that twenty members of the union and eighteen students of the university were arrested for violation of the anti-picketing ordinance, and Exhibit No. 4 is a circular advertising the holding of a trial of fourteen of the students so arrested.

The Communist leaders of the A. S. U. were drafted into service by the Communist leaders of the Longshoremen's Association for the definite purpose of creating a more favorable public sentiment toward the latter. Viewing it, however, from the standpoint of inroads which the party has made in the student movement and ignoring the nature of the offenses for which each student was arrested, the facts nevertheless provide a specific instance of a definite tie-in between the American Student Union Movement and radical labor leaders.

A circular issued by the American Student Union on April 16, 1936, advertises an open meeting of that body to be addressed by Henry Schmidt, Communist Official of the International Longshoremen's Association, whose subject was importance of the waterfront and the anti-war fight. (Exhibit No. 5.)

Indicative further of the effectiveness of Communist proselyting among the students of California University, there are presented two typical cases of students at the University of California at Los Angeles.

1. Nancy Bedford Jones, a former student at U. C. L. A. and a member of the erstwhile student league of Industrial Democracy was arrested in October, 1933, while speaking at a street meeting of the young people's Socialist League in Los Angeles. This young woman is the daughter of Bedford Jones, the author. Their political differences of opinion and her repudiation of her father were aired in one of our national magazines. In November, 1935, Nancy B. Jones was married at Yuma, Arizona, to Joseph P. Lash, National Secretary of the American Student Union and nationally known as a Communist. Nancy B. Jones next appeared according to "Sunday Worker" on May 16, 1937, as secretary of the United Youth Committee to aid Spanish defense, a typical illustration of the indoctrination which occurs in our institutions of learning.

2. Celeste Strack. This young woman was a former member on the debating team of the U. C. L. A., and was suspended on October 29, 1934, by the Provost of the University because of her Communist activities, following which she made a speaking tour of California Colleges agitating "Students' Rights." At the opening of the 1935 semester Miss Strack was reinstated, following which she was an active participant in the nation-wide Student Peace Strike set for April 12 of that year.

On or about July 1, Miss Strack was appointed a member of a committee to investigate Fascist activities in Cuba; was deported from that country shortly after her arrival and on August 17 was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct while picketing the office of the "American Mercury Magazine" in New York city. Subsequently she was elected general organizer of California for the American Student Union. The "San Francisco Examiner" of December 30, 1935, announced her election at the Convention of the A. S. U. at Columbus, Ohio, on December 28 and 29, to the position of national secretary of the high school section of the American Student Union. Another product of proselyting within our educational domains.

Mr. Starnes. In other words, among the activities of the American Students Youth was the active champion of the warehouse men's strike on the Pacific Coast?

Mr. Knowles. That is right.

Mr. Starnes. And later propagandizing the student bodies of the respective schools, and the people on aid to the Spanish Democracies?

Mr. Knowles. Yes, sir; also its endeavor to have the compulsory Reserve Officers Training Corps disbanded in those schools.

Mr. Starnes. Proceed.

THE AMERICAN TEACHER—

Sheffield, Wellesley College; Ruth Gillette Hardy, New York; Selma M. Borchardt, Washington; Mary C. Barker, Atlanta; Lucie W. Allen, Chicago; Editorial Office, 506 South Wabash avenue, Chicago; features radical articles and upholds the principles of its organization (See American Federation of Teachers.)

AMERICAN YOUTH CONGRESS, (PAGE 82.)

The American Youth Congress was not originally set up by Communists, but it was penetrated by them, as shown by the reports of its first Congress, which was held in Washington, D. C. In 1934, at its second convention, it was broken up and reorganized into a "red" front. (See pages 611 and 612, volume 1, committee hearings.)

We defeated the enemy and turned the Youth Congress into a broad united front.

While there are many non-Communist organizations in the Youth Congress, there are over a dozen Communist, Communist front, and Communist sympathizing movements in it. (Page 613, volume 1, committee hearings.) The Communists, realizing the value of such an excellent camouflage, immediately set about organizing similar congresses in other countries, and they called for a Paris International Congress. Later a World Youth Congress came into being. This embraced the same organizations which were affiliated with the American Youth Congress. Right-wing youth movements refused to attend the World Youth

Congress which was held at Vassar. The organizers in the United States were leaders of Communist, Communist "front," and Communist sympathizing movements. (See pages 615, 616, and 617, volume 1, committee hearings.)

THE CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION.

The Committee heard testimony with reference to the Civil Liberties Union. Some witnesses listed this organization as communistic while other witnesses denied that it was communistic. We received in evidence a number of official pamphlets distributed by the Civil Liberties Union, which speak for themselves. From the evidence before us, we are not in a position to definitely state whether or not this organization can properly be classed as a Communist organization. In this connection it is interesting to note the report of the United Mine Workers filed in 1924 wherein the following was said about the Civil Liberties Union: There are 200 organizations in the United States actively engaged in or sympathetic with the Communist revolutionary movement as directed and conducted by the Communist Party of America. Some of them are local in their scope and work; other are nation-wide. Forty-five of these organizations of either "pink" or radical structure are engaged in the Communist effort to seize control of the labor unions in this country and convert them to the revolutionary movement. In virtually every instance these organizations have direct contact, through the mechanism of interlocking directorates, with the central executive committee of the Communist Party of America, or with its "legal" branch, the Workers Party of America.

Illustrative of this arrangement is the executive committee and the national committee of the American Civil Liberties Union, at New York, posing as the champion of free speech and civil liberties, but serving as a forerunner and trail blazer for the active and insidious activities of the Communist, among labor organizations. Harry F. Ward, born in London in 1873, and chancellor of the Union Theological Seminary, is chairman of this organization. The managing director is Robert Baldwin who served a term as a draft evader in the Essex County Jail in New Jersey in 1918 and 1919.

This statement of the United Mine Workers is borne out by the evidence we have heard thus far and we strongly urge that this organization be thoroughly investigated.

Mr. Robert N. Baldwin, National Director of the Civil Liberties Union, testified before a congressional committee as follows:

The Chairman. Mr. Baldwin, does your organization uphold the right of an American citizen to advocate force and violence for the overthrow of the Government?

Mr. Baldwin. Certainly, insofar as mere advocacy is concerned.

The Chairman. Does it uphold the right of an alien in this country to urge the overthrow and advocate the overthrow of the Government by force and violence.

Mr. Baldwin. Precisely on the same basis as any citizen.

Mr. Chairman. That is not your personal opinion?

Mr. Baldwin. That is the organization's position.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF TEACHERS.

Radical: stands for abolition of R. O. T. C.; recognition of Russia; full academic freedom to teach anything including Socialism. Communism or Atheism; closely allied to A. C. L. U. received financial aid from the Garland Fund, which gives only to radical agencies; monthly organ, "The American Teacher"; president Henry R. Linville, New York; secretary Florence Curtis Hanson, Chicago.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, as the man who precipitated the investigation on which the Boston School Committee gave its report last evening, I feel grateful to the School Committee for the action they have taken, but feel they have gone only half way. I believe if the statement is not denied that Mr. Lee is definitely a Communist, actively so, having been affiliated with Communist organizations, that if that body has jurisdiction over its membership it should impeach the fifth member of the Boston School Committee. I know they have supervision over their personnel. I know George Faxon was one of the gentlemen, a member of the Boston School system who was actively engaged in the promotion of the meeting at the Perkins School one week ago for the meeting there of the Students Union and I believe certainly the members of the Boston School Committee should discipline that man for his communistic action. I don't see any reason whatsoever for a Students Union in Boston. Every facility is given to the students of the city, and there were no Students Union activities prior to the advent of Joseph C. Lee into the Boston School Committee. That gentleman has definitely and conclusively been a Red openly and actively promoting the cause of communistic activities in Boston. He was among the group in Boston who sought to let down the embargo on arms to the Spanish group, and I have here a copy of "Sign," a national publication for February, 1939, in which they said, "The individuals and organizations behind these efforts to persuade our legislators to follow this un-American course are communistic or at least communistic-inspired. Needless to say, it is to the Red Government at Barcelona that they wish the arms shipped. They are moved by the desperate straits in which the government finds itself at present." I am amazed, under the circumstances, to find Mr. Lee speaking of the brotherhood of man and his love for his fellow citizens. Only a few years ago he came out with one of the most vile statements against the descendants of the Irish race in South Boston. This is the man who has such an outstanding love of and so ardent devotion to the brotherhood of man. I was surprised this morning to read in the Boston papers where six professors of Boston colleges, Harvard and others, came out in support of the Student Union. I wonder if those gentlemen know of the activities of the Students Union? I wonder if they know of that vile publication, or if they know that they are in the company of degenerates and Red Communists? I think the six professors who composed that group this morning and who promised to promote this cause should be definitely ashamed of themselves. I have seen where Mr. Lee in a double sense is drawing a red herring across his own trail. He stated this week when accused of being unfair to Catholic people of Boston that no man had a more ardent admiration for the Encyclicals of Pius XI and Leo XIII. Well, I have studied the Encyclicals of Pius XI and Leo XIII for eight years and the interpretations which the communistic-minded give to them are absolutely unwarranted, so in a double sense he is merely striving to draw a red herring across his own trail. Further, I believe that if this gentleman, who purports to be a Democrat, who purports to represent the democratic spirit of the people of this city, is really democratic, he should reflect the will of the Democratic people of Boston. The will of the people of Boston at this time is that Mr. Joseph C. Lee should immediately get off the Boston School Committee. If really Democratic-minded he should resign, and if he is not, in the event he does not withdraw, the Boston School Committee should immediately oust him.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

COMMENDATION OF ACTIONS OF HEAD-MASTER ROBERT B. MASTERSON.

Coun. GALVIN and SULLIVAN, offered the following:

Masterson of the Roxbury Memorial High School, through whose vigilance and courage the attempt of the Communists to gain a foothold in the Schools of Boston was prevented.

I sincerely hope that we will all enjoy each other's company and will each and all have a successful year. (Applause.)

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Thursday, February 16, 1939.

Adjourned regular meeting of the City Council in Faneuil Hall at 4.25 p. m., President MURRAY in the chair. Absent, Coun. Agnew, Irwin and Norton.

DOG RACING IN BOSTON GARDEN.

Coun. WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following report on petition of Greyhound Racing Corporation (referred February 6) for permission to conduct dog racing at Boston Garden, recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the consent of the City Council be hereby granted to the location and use of the land on Causeway street, known as the Boston Garden, for dog racing purposes.

The report was accepted and the order passed. Coun. SHATTUCK doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The roll was called, and the order was passed, yeas 15, nays 2:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Harris, Hutchinson, Kelly, Kerrigan, Lyons, Murray, Rosenberg, Sullivan, Taylor, Wilson—15.

Nays—Coun. Langan, Shattuck—2.

LEGISLATIVE BILLS OF INTEREST TO COUNCILORS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the members of the City Council of all bills, pertaining to the Council, pending before the Legislature, and the date of the hearing of such bills.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the legislative agent of the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to contact the councilor of the district affected, with reference to any bills that might be pending before the Legislature.

The question came on the passage of the orders under suspension of the rule.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, of course the members of the Council are particularly interested in legislation affecting the city and their districts. The legislative agent and the Corporation Counsel are in daily attendance at the State House watching matters which concern the city. I have, therefore, introduced these orders requesting the legislative agent of the city and the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, to contact the councilors with reference to any bills pending before the Legislature which may interest or affect our districts or the city. The object of my orders is that the members of the City Council be informed and furnished copies of bills and measures in which they might be concerned, presented for hearing before the various committees. The purpose is that no such bills shall be presented or hearings held on matters that might be detrimental to the city or to our various districts without our being informed. I think it is important that the Corporation Counsel and the legislative agent keep the members of the City Council posted on such matters, so that if any member wishes to appear when the matters are heard, he may have an opportunity to do so. The Corporation Counsel and the legislative agent are, of course, up at the State House every day and I think it is their duty, as representing the City of Boston, to safeguard the interests of the city, and this is a move in that direction. I was particularly interested in reading in the morning paper to see that a bill had been filed in the Legislature by the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company for a bus line to run from Fall River into Boston. There was a petition to that same effect, in so far as it concerns the City of Boston, presented here and rejected some time ago. I notice, however, that it had its third reading in the State House and that Representative Rounseville of Fall River stated that when the City Council of Boston rejected the petition of the road, because there was too much traffic already in the streets of Boston that would be affected, the City Council should be investigated. I wonder how Representative Rounseville of Fall River would feel, as representing that city, if there were a similar petition presented there, under which this road would operate, as they would operate here if the petition were granted, through a road which had been termed "the highway of slaughter" and "Death Valley." Speaking particularly of the route that would bring them in through Blue Hill avenue, I will say that there have been more accidents and deaths that have occurred on that avenue than on practically any street or highway of the City of Boston, and if the people of Fall River had such a condition to contend with in their city I believe they would be up in arms about it. I don't believe the City Council of the City of Boston wants Representatives outside of our city to tell us what we should do, and at this time I want to commend Representative McHugh of Jamaica Plain for speaking up in the Legislature and asking reconsideration of the passage of the bill, which I trust he may be able to have reconsidered today, stating that he does not feel that home rule should be taken away from the City of Boston. We in Boston know what is good for us. We know what is detrimental to the interests of the citizens of Boston. I might say that the Representatives in the Legislature were misled by a statement made there that the citizens of Fall River and of Taunton might not be able to get into Boston if this permit was not granted. There are bus lines coming into Boston today which are connected up with the rapid transit line in Dorchester, and they are all given an opportunity to have that service. I believe if this matter were presented to the Representatives at the State House in a proper way they would not pass that bill to a third reading, taking away home rule from Boston. I am hopeful, with the assistance of some of our Representatives at the State House, particularly with the assistance of one of our own members here, Senator Kerrigan, who will undoubtedly be able to use his efforts with his fellow Senators, that a fair hearing will be had and home rule for the City of Boston will be maintained. I believe also that, by the passage of these orders, other measures affecting our city and our districts may be brought to our attention, so that when hearings are held upon them we will be able to appear and state our position; that the Corporation Counsel and the legislative agent will use their good offices to protect the interests of our city in this respect, so that we may be able as members of the Council to appear before committees of the House or Senate and state our feelings for or against measures that are presented. I feel that the passage of this order will aid the citizens of Boston.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF SANDERSON PLACE, WARD 22.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out as a public highway, Sanderson place, Ward 22.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAINTING OF CROSSWALKS ARBORWAY AND CENTRE STREET.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to paint crosswalks for pedestrians at the traffic circle at the junction of the Arborway and Centre street, Ward 19.

Coun. LANGAN—Mr. President, two weeks ago I introduced an order into the Council asking that his Honor the Mayor direct the Traffic Commissioner to establish traffic lights at the junction of Centre street and the Arborway, what is probably known as "The Circle." The Traffic Commissioner informed me that his appropriation would not permit of such installation at that point. I feel, however, so great is the danger to pedestrians at that point that some action is necessary in order to protect life and limb. Consequently, I have introduced this order for the purpose of securing some safety for the district.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

THE NEXT MEETING.

It was voted, on motion of Coun. TAYLOR, that when the Council adjourns it be to meet on Monday, February 27, 1939 at 2 p. m.

DIVISION OF CITIZENSHIP IN EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation establishing a Division of Citizenship in the Department of Education, as recommended by House Document 2100 of 1938, and as set forth in House Bill 1934 of 1939; and that the Clerk of the Massachusetts House of Representatives be so notified.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF ASHMONT TERMINAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council the total number of persons entering and/or leaving the Ashmont Terminal during the year 1938, so far as such information is available.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I might say with reference to that order that we passed an order requesting the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company to install an escalator at the Ashmont Terminal, which is the recognized center of the Dorchester district, to which the trustees replied that they had similar requests from various sections of the city which, if carried through, would involve a total expenditure of more than one and one-quarter million dollars which the trustees did not feel would be justified; also stating that the number of people entering the Ashmont Terminal during the maximum hour is only 2,054, and the cost of installing an escalator at that station is estimated at $46,000. I still do not think that was a fair response of the Elevated to the order, and I still think that is one point where an escalator should be provided. I don't think it is fair to give us the number of persons entering the station at any given hour as indicating the traffic at that point. Therefore, I ask the passage of this order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 17 PLEBISCITE ON LIQUOR QUESTION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to arrange for a plebiscite in Ward 17, Dorchester, which shall permit the registered voters in each of the twenty precincts in said ward, at the city election in November, 1939, to vote "Yes" or "No" in answer to each of the following three questions:

1. Do you favor the sale of all alcoholic beverages (whiskey, rum, gin, beer and wine) in the precinct in which you live?
2. Do you favor the sale of wines, beer and ale in the precinct in which you live?
3. Do you favor the sale of bottled alcoholic beverages, not to be drunk on the premises, in the precinct in which you live?

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I have heard it suggested that this particular order might cause some embarrassment to the Mayor. I want to say that I have no such intention, that it is farthest from my thought. I consider the liquor question a far greater moral issue than dog racing or horse racing. The pari-mutuel betting evil is of recent vintage, and temporary; the question of taverns and bar rooms in residential communities has been with us for generations. Just as his Honor the Mayor sought guidance as to local sentiment on the dog racing issue in Readville, I am very certain that the Licensing Board will be very glad to have some direct light on the liquor question in central Dorchester, with a referendum worded fairly enough to permit the voters to express their opinion of bar rooms in their own immediate neighborhood. Very frankly, I do not believe that the referendum as carried on the ballots at the state election is a fair one for those residential sections of the city.

The average man or woman who personally is absolutely against liquor is inclined to vote "Yes" on the referendum question, in order that the situation in cafes, hotels and places of entertainment may not be such that we will be a dry city, and many of them, after voting "Yes," find themselves in the position of having innumerable taverns and bar rooms placed in the residential sections, in their neighborhoods. Then, when clergymen, representatives of civic associations and others go to the Licensing Board to protest against having these places in their home districts, they are met with the very logical response that their ward voted four, three or two to one "Yes" on the liquor question, and to that extent they are stopped in their argument. I can remember the days before prohibition, when the taverns or bar rooms nearest the center of Dorchester were no further out than Fields Corner or Grove Hall. But we now have taverns all through the Dorchester district. From the door of a tavern across the way you can throw a stone to the white church in Codman square, which was built so long ago that the bell in the belfry is a product of Paul Revere. I believe that people in the residential sections of Dorchester should be given full opportunity to state whether or not there should be sales of alcoholic beverages in their neighborhood. The recent plebiscite carried on in three precincts of Hyde Park on the dog racing question, while it may have involved a moral question, in my opinion was no such moral question as this old perennial question of the sale of alcoholic liquor, especially in the residential wards of the city. It has been stated that the plebiscite in the three precincts of Hyde Park as it was carried on was not an expensive experiment. The plebiscite I ask for will not cost one single penny, because I am asking that it be placed on the ballot at the city election held in November of the present year. I believe it is a matter in which the people of my district are vitally interested, and that if it is proposed to thrust more taverns and bar rooms into that home community, the people should be able to go to the Licensing Board and say that "In a plebiscite in our ward there was an overwhelming vote against taverns or bar rooms in that part of Dorchester." I think this is a fair suggestion that the Mayor should be urged to follow, and I believe other neighborhoods would like a similar ballot in an off-year election, such as that to be held in November of the current year.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PARKING UNDERNEATH SOUTH STATION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to suggest to the State Public Utilities Commission and the officials of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, a possible mercantile use of the vast unused basement area under the South Station for parking facilities, as one means of additional revenue, rather than permit abandonment of the eighty-eight stations and sixty-six trains on the Old Colony Division.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, in introducing this order I have in mind the vast unused basement area under the South Station and adjacent property, reached by at least two existing ramps or runways from Summer street and Atlantic avenue. We have heard recently also of a traffic proposal favored by the Chamber of Commerce, to prohibit parking in downtown Boston before ten o'clock in the morning. Congestion on our downtown streets has for a long time been a matter of grave concern. There have been suggestions made in the past, for instance, that there be a vast parking space under Boston Common. Such parking space as is suggested in this order would, I submit, on information that I believe to be reliable, provide for the parking of hundreds if not thousands of vehicles in the space available under the South Station, and I believe that the carrying out of such a plan might meet with the approval of the owners of that property, especially if they are in such financial straits that they are to abandon the Old Colony Division line of the railroad.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NURSES AT CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council Committee on Hospitals, prior to any passage of the budget for the year 1939, investigate (a) the need of additional nurses at the Boston City Hospital and (b) present living conditions, hours of labor, and service requirements of student nurses at the hospital.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I urge upon you and the other members of the City Council that this particular order is, in my opinion, aimed at a very serious situation at the Boston City Hospital. Some years ago, back in 1928, instigated by former Councilor McMahon, there was an investigation of the City Hospital by a committee of which Councilor Fitzgerald of Ward 3 was chairman, and at that time, in spite of a good deal of criticism, much good was accomplished. I do not believe there is any medical man in the City of Boston or any employee of the Boston City Hospital but will privately agree that many of the reforms suggested by that committee were good for the hospital and have since been carried out—even such items as push buttons at every bed, the taking in of warm food in the food wagons, which they told us could not be done, and more especially the increased number of nurses in the past ten or eleven years. But, despite the improvements made as the result of that investigation, the hospital has outgrown its personnel. We heard the councilor from Ward 14 (Coun. Rosenberg) tell us at the last meeting the story of the woman who was burned by acid, as I remember it, and might well have died because of red tape and lack of treatment at the Boston City Hospital. I understand that a woman relative or member of the family of another member of the City Council, who was seriously cut, almost bled to death while they were asking the story of her life before giving her attention. There is too much archaic red tape when it comes to handling accident cases, too much inquiry about the life of the patient and how the accident happened, and not enough immediate first aid. That, however, may be something of an aside. The thing I am immediately concerned with at the present time is the number of nurses in the City Hospital which I consider inadequate, and the living conditions and working hours of the student nurses at the hospital, treatment which apparently may be compared, in my opinion, with that in the average sweat shop in the South. I understand, as an example of the impossible conditions under which the girls are working, that a maternity ward containing thirty-six mothers and forty babies was in charge of two student nurses last week. I understand also that among the student nurses there are at least six who, because of overwork, long hours and other conditions, have tuberculosis at the present time. I understand also that there is one girl student nurse at the City Hospital who, after working there less than six months, following a careful examination upon her entrance, contracted such a severe attack of tuberculosis that she had to be put to bed and lie on her back, that one of lungs has to be collapsed and she must remain in a hospital bed for at least a year. It appears that she had tuberculosis for at least three months, during which time she was actively at work in the hospital with newly-born babies and mothers. That situation, to my mind, is entirely the result of the living quarters in the City Hospital and the hours the girls are forced to work because the hospital, by reason of its expansion, is grossly undermanned. I believe if the Committee on Hospitals makes a fair investigation and if the head nurses and officials of the hospital are summoned and open up and tell the truth, and if Doctor Manary is forced to state the facts, it will be admitted that the reason for this sort of thing is the expense that would be involved in remedying conditions. I believe the head nurses at the City Hospital and the superintendent will admit that they have not nearly enough nurses in the hospital to deal fairly either with the public or the student nurses themselves. When I say that there are at least six girls—and I believe I am correct in the statement—studying to become nurses who have contracted tuberculosis at the present time, I know it must be because of working conditions at the hospital, because, if I am correctly informed, those nurses are only taken into the hospital after the most extended and careful physical examination, which means that they must at that time be in first-class physical condition, or they would not be allowed to enter the hospital in the first place. When a girl is admitted under such conditions, presumably in good health and of athletic ability, and within a period of six months is condemned to lie in a hospital bed for a year and have her lung collapsed to make an attempt to cure her, it is because of long hours and hard working conditions that should be remedied. I believe this is something that should be given immediate attention by the Hospital Committee. Millions are spent upon our hospital, which, as far as equipment and medical attendance are concerned, stands second to none in America. It is manned by the best medical men in the country, but it is apparently undermanned as far as nurses are concerned. It certainly is not fair to citizens of Boston, whether paying or charity patients, or to these young girls who are taking up a life career as nurses, expecting some day to be registered nurses, to allow these living and working conditions to continue, conditions to which a serf in Russia would not have been subjected.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AIR COMPRESSION HAMMERING, HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY WORK.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Transit Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make arrangements to have all air compression hammering on the W. P. A. subway project on Huntington avenue to cease at 10 p. m.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NUMBER OF CITIZENS AND ALIENS IN BOSTON.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Statistical Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to secure and submit to the City Council the total population of the total number of citizens and the total number of aliens residing in the City of Boston.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, my purpose in introducing this order is merely for the purpose of enlightening the public to the extent that, although the communistic candidate for Governor only received one fifth of one per cent in last year's election, the main source of the spread of communism is not confined to a small group of declared voters. I exceedingly regret that I have not been able to secure the latest statistics relative to the question in issue, but I have some figures of the census taken in 1930. In Massachusetts, in 1930, we had a total population of 4,249,614. In 1930 we had a total population of aliens of 41,602 and also an additional 24,674 more people who are unknown. Gentlemen, that is almost half a million people in the State of Massachusetts who are not citizens, almost half a million people who have not taken the oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States. When one stops to consider that in 1930 almost one out of nine persons in Massachusetts were not citizens, were not persons who were sworn to uphold the Constitution, we can readily appreciate the grave possibilities of what some of these aliens can do in the spread of the doctrine of communism. Communism is a foreign doctrine, an alien doctrine which belongs in Russia. In order to prevent some persons from distorting what I have said, I wish to state that there is no doubt that most of the aliens in Massachusetts are law-abiding, honest individuals and would make excellent citizens. Nevertheless, we are faced with half a million people who have not sworn to uphold the Constitution of the United States. How do we know but that we have 50,000 or 100,000 alien Reds in Massachusetts? Communists believe in obtaining their goal either by lawful or unlawful means. They spread the doctrine of hate, immorality and murder. They are a foul group. I was asked the question today, "Why has the Council raised the issue of communism?" I raised the issue of communism long before the public school situation. I raised it because of the malicious unwarranted attacks that the Reds made on some members of this body in order to sandbag the consideration of the housing proposition. I raised it because they not only—

Coun. ROSENBERG—Will the speaker yield to a question?

Coun. CHASE—I do not yield at present. I raise it because they not only insulted and threatened me, but also because they abused my wife on the telephone. I will continue to raise the issue irrespective of what criticism is offered of my actions, the communistic endeavor to prevent me from carrying out my sworn duty as councilor. They endeavored to prevent me from giving proper consideration to a matter which was before this body some three months ago. I raised the issue three months ago, and I raised it properly. If communism is no threat, why did Congress vote to continue the Dies investigation by a vote of 344 to 357? By that vote they agreed to spend over $100,000 of the taxpayers' money to continue to investigate the radical activities in the United States. If communism is an idle threat, why is practically every honest and righteous clergyman against it? Not so long ago the premier of France had to lead the militia out to block a nation-wide strike in France which was led and financed by communist leaders and money. Not so long ago an important city in California was crippled by a strike led by the communistic leader Bridges—an alien. Some of the most able and intelligent men in the United States have urged the people of the United States to be on their guard to protect their liberties from the red menace. Only today I read in a Boston daily "Barrows Sees Peril by Reds." Maine Governor Warns of Spread of Communism." The article reads:

"American liberty stands in jeopardy as long as un-American groups are allowed to carry on programs of prejudice and parlanee," Governor Lewis O. Barrows of Maine declared yesterday at the Boston Rotary Club luncheon at the Hotel Statler.

"There is no denying the fact that communistic propaganda is making headway in our nation today," Governor Barrows said. "Much of a startling nature has been brought to light through investigations conducted by Federal and independent institutions.

"When we read in the press the statement that if the Russian-Soviet government had a million soldiers under arms in the United States, communistic propaganda could not make greater headway than is the case today, we are given food for serious thought," he stated.

"Today we, as Americans, face the hidden foe of Americanism—bodies opposed to our ideals and our principles of democracy—the democracy upon which our nation was founded," he said. The Governor praised the American Legion program to check destructive forces.

"The liberty of our people stands in jeopardy as long as these un-American groups are allowed to carry on their programs of prejudice and parlanee," he asserted. "Restricting our interests and endeavors to a simple form of preaching to the multitudes may avail but little, but through a concerted movement initiated by groups upon which we can rely, the Americanism we seek to guard is given the safety that present day unrest demands."

Mr. President, I note with interest in the city of Cambridge the City Council delayed action on the acceptance of the Federal Housing program not so long ago for a long period of about ten weeks and it was a matter in which there was involved about $4,000,000. I, Mr. President, and members of this Honorable Body, was subjected to undue criticism by a very radical element in the city because we endeavored to carry out our sworn duties as councilors. We endeavored to give proper consideration to a matter which involved a tremendous proposition of $17,000,000, a matter which involved tearing down of a lot of homes and driving out of certain sections many people who did not care to move under any circumstances. Mr. President, I contend that such criticism as has been offered recently is the most unfair criticism that I could possibly conceive of any American aiming at the duly elected officials of the city who are endeavoring to do their duty as they see best.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPROPRIATIONS—ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRS

The following communication was received:

City of Boston—Department of School Buildings

February 13, 1939

Ellen M. Cronin, Secretary School Committee of Boston
15 Beacon Street
Boston, Massachusetts

My dear Miss Cronin:

Under date of February 13, 1939, you forwarded to the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings proposed appropriation order for alteration and repair of school buildings.

The School Committee has before it detailed estimates for the proposed 1939 budget requirements which were sent from this office on Wednesday, February 8, 1939. These estimates were determined upon after considerable study by the Superintendent of Construction and the Members of this Board.

The following is a summary of the various items which go to make up the total amount of $744,253.00, the amount required for Alterations and Repairs for the present financial year.

A. Salaries	$133,403.00
B. Administration expenses other than salaries	14,950.00
C. Alterations, furniture, equipment for special educational needs	37,000.00
D. Tools, materials, trucking in connection with the W. F. A. Program	240,000.00
E. Alterations and repairs	318,900.00

Total amount requested

Included in this communication are the following comments which this Board of Commissioners desires to make. We call your attention to the unexpended balances from the Alterations and Repairs appropriation for the financial year 1938 as follows:

Item A	$5,588.94
B	132.75
C	25,569.88
D	2,598.21
E	28,343.51

Total

In addition to this balance, we also call your attention to an unexpended balance of $6,675.17 from the Land and Buildings appropriation for the financial year 1938 or a total unexpended balance of $68,906.46.

In accordance with Chapter 224, Section 2, Paragraph C, of the Acts of 1936, the unexpended appropriation balances may be reappropriated by the School Committee for their respective purposes.

If the School Committee appropriates for Alterations and Repairs the sum stated above, namely $744,253.00, and reappropriates as a credit the balance of $62,233.29, the total amount to be raised by new taxes for the Alterations and Repairs for the year 1939 will be $682,019.71.

The School Committee will notice that this latter amount is considerably lower than the amounts listed for Alterations and Repair purposes during the years 1937 and 1938. During the year 1937 the amount raised by taxation for this purpose was $1,008,275.00, while in 1938 with a special appropriation by the School Committee for the purpose of paying back bills incurred in 1937, the amount raised by taxation for that year was $810,258.51.

Your Committee will recognize that the amount available under statute for Alterations and Repairs for this financial year will be approximately $1,300,000.00. With the amount of $744,253.00 requested and anticipating that your Board will reappropriate the unexpended balance of $62,233.29, the amount necessary to be raised by taxation for this purpose is $682,019.71 or approximately but 50 per cent of the amount available for this purpose under statute. In requesting this amount of $744,253.00 for Alterations and Repairs, the Board of Commissioners feels that this amount should not be reduced further at this time. Our department always faces the possibility at any time of an unforeseen catastrophe, such as a fire or hurricane, the cost of which to repair would necessarily have to be paid from the Alteration and Repair appropriation.

The School Committee is also aware of the fact that beyond May 1, no additional appropriation for this department can be made. The Board of Commissioners believes that the present policy should be adhered to, namely, reducing the amount asked for in the budget to the lowest possible level. The Board of Commissioners will continue to put in effect further economies in the operation of the department, and will endeavor to maintain throughout the year an emergency fund, even if it becomes necessary to report an unexpended balance at the close of the financial year 1939, which may be reappropriated by the School Committee for the ensuing year.

May we at this time assure the School Committee that whatever economies have been made in the past or are contemplated in the future, will in no way affect the safety and the comfort of the 120,000 children who occupy our school buildings.

We further call your attention to a special appropriation of $52,254.36 which was made by the School Committee under the provisions of Chapter 383 of the Acts of 1938 for the payment of back bills incurred in 1937. Of this amount, an unexpended balance in this account of $2,883.90 remains. This balance, we believe, should be maintained in its entirety for the same purpose in order that all certified claims chargeable to this appropriation may be paid.

At a meeting held this day, the Board of Commissioners voted to report favorably on the proposed appropriation order for alteration and repair of school buildings totaling $744,253.00, as required by Chapter 351, of the Acts of 1929.

In presenting this budget, we desire to express to His Honor the Mayor, the Members of the School Committee, to the Superintendent of Schools, to the Secretary, and the Business Manager, our appreciation for the kind cooperation shown to us during the past financial year.

Sincerely yours,

Board of Commissioners of School Buildings

William L. Baxter,
Chairman.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Mr. Lee: While many of the statements I made down here at the last public meeting were true, there were one or two statements which were not, and which I corrected upstairs and want to correct publicly here. Without referring to particular remarks, there were remarks which I attributed as coming from the Headmaster of the Roxbury Memorial High School, which did not come from him but from one of the teachers..

We have had a weekend to think over some of the developments of last week and look at them in the light of our desire to handle the affairs of this School Committee in an American way, and I would like to see if I cannot outline something looking towards a better settlement of this question involving the Roxbury Memorial High School.

It seems to me that American political being has been based on the covenant that the people through their government shall be preserved free to hear and think what law has not already agreed to be wrong, and if law has set up precepts of wrong, citizens may still hear or think proposals to modify or change that law, with changes in their very constitution being provided for by the document itself.

In the case before the School Committee, efforts were avowedly made by teachers in school to discourage high school students from meeting to hear and think issues then openly before the government and before the public.

This infringement was the more acute because the students sought only the right to hear and think, not to take sides. Yet the teachers who sought to restrain the students were frankly committed along one direction on the issue.

The very characterization of "entering an alliance against the government" and "speaking for Moscow," directed by teachers against the students, were used as clubs to keep them from the very American activity of discussing immediate and important American problems.

The teachers using these tactics against the students were themselves lined up against our national policy at Washington and against the American policy of more than a century and a half of standing with republics and against conspiracies of dictators, especially when these dictators were revolutionists.

A further club used against the students was the charge that they countenanced an attack against a largely attended church in Boston whose spiritual leader has recently passed away. This was a fabrication without foundation in fact, and, if anything, served only to injure this church by putting it in the light of being attacked. Indeed, untold harm has been done to this church in this instance by members of our school system. For once our American nation and our school generation become committed to dictatorial methods at home and abroad, there is no end but the overthrow of church. In Italy, where almost the entire population is of the faith involved, the late Pope, as an old man working with all the vigor of youth against oppression, died almost a martyr's death, striking out to the end through Osservatore Romano against the Dictator's encroachment on youth. In America the population is overwhelmingly Protestant; and if dictatorial, un-American standards are set up in our Boston school system and City Council, it nurtures a dictatorship of mob-rule, which is absolutely and inescapably certain to be completely ruthless toward the religious and racial minorities so numerous in Boston.

Untold and fearful harm has been done already by the school system's hostile attitude toward those who would remain even openminded toward the Spanish Republic. By being local party to a campaign of pressure tactics brought to kill the Administration's policy which favored lifting the embargo on Spain in the interest of the Spanish government, they have helped to bring the Rome-Berlin axis a thousand miles nearer to America; have aided in bottling up the Mediterranean against England and in favor of the Dictators, and have given the Dictators a jumping off place to South America, which they have been cultivating much more successfully than the United States. I say to this School Committee and to the public of Boston that boys now in school will lie dead on battle fields, as a result of those whose thoughtless and intemperate foreign and domestic policies are manifest in the un-American intimidation which they have so far condoned at Roxbury Memorial High School.

I call upon the School Committee to turn back to the interests of America and stick to the question at hand.

I press that measures committed against American government by teachers have taken place at Memorial High School; that a head master has intimidated boys from discussing American problems in an American way by charging them in the senior assembly that (1) they had entered "an alliance against the government," (2) created an "insulting . . . street demonstration"; and—on speaking on another occasion—that (3) they were parties to attacking a well-known church; and, lastly, also before the senior assembly, that "certain boys . . . therefore are not entitled to diplomas." I submit that not one shred of evidence has been offered to show that any of these statements were true, that there is a great deal of evidence attested by eye witnesses and by numerous affidavits that there was no demonstration, no attack against the Catholic Church, and no un-American activities so far as these boys, so branded, were concerned.

I press that if the School Committee is still loyal to American traditions and to the American constitution, drastic and summary action against these teachers be taken now.

I do not think that situation is cleared up and I think we ought to clear it up.

Chairman: As far as this Committee goes, the Committee was perfectly satisfied with the story told by Mr. Masterson the other night, and the Committee gave him a vote of confidence and praised him for the way he handled a very serious situation. As far as this Committee is concerned, in my opinion, we believe the word of the Head Master and that is all there is to it.

After this public meeting is adjourned, we are going back upstairs, with the press present, and we are going to receive certain information that the Superintendent has at hand on this American Student Union.

Dr. Foley: I move, Mr. Chairman, that there be spread upon the records of the meeting our commendation of Mr. Robert B. Masterson, the Head Master of the Roxbury Memorial High School (Boys), on the manner in which he conducted himself during the recent investigation of un-American activities by pupils of that school.

Mr. Sullivan: Mr. Chairman, I would like to make this statement:

I was unable to attend the last meeting due to activities in connection with the Boston Community Fund Campaign. I followed closely in the press what occurred before this Committee and I agree heartily with the action already taken by a majority of the Committee.

Mr. Lee: May I ask Mr. Sullivan if he realizes that Mr. Masterson, to the best of my recollection, brought us no evidence whatever that there had been a demonstration. I believe he said he heard there had been.

Mr. Sullivan: That matter has not been brought to a head, I understand, and the Superintendent is bringing us a report tonight.

Dr. Foley: I would like action upon the motion that I just offered.

Mr. Lee: We are debating that motion.

Mr. White: I would like to say, Mr. Lee, on this whole question of un-American activities, that I think the question before the School Committee was whether or not certain actions were taken by the head master of the school. That was the question before us at the last meeting here. We found out later that it was not the head master who made those statements.

I think the head master definitely said that he did not pick out any individuals, but he talked about the demonstration and conduct of certain pupils after a particular meeting and made no statement that he would either reprimand the boys or lower their marks. If you remember, in that meeting upstairs, Mr. Reardon said that you could go to the school and find out that one of the boys in question, whom he named, had never been marked down but had among the highest marks in the class.

I do not know, Mr. Lee, whether you are wilfully trying to put this Committee at a disadvantage. We are just as open-minded about free speech in the Boston public schools as any democratic group in this country. We uphold that principle of free speech, and at no time have we tried to take the viewpoint of any particular church in any controversy.

I want to go on record for one that my interest in this whole discussion is not for the benefit of one church or one religion, or one group. I am for all groups in this country, all religions and all philosophies.

And I also want to say that it has not been totally repudiated that there was not some criticism of one church. If I remember the situation, Mr. Faxon did say that this gentleman who spoke went back into the history of the Spanish revolution and, as a consequence, of necessity must have been critical of the attitude of a particular church, because he was taking the part of Loyalist Spain. I am expressing myself in no way on that controversy.

I do not think this incident should be closed tonight, and I do not think we should offer any motions tonight.

In last week's meeting, I did not hear Mr. Lee try to find out definitely from Mr. Masterson what went on.

Mr. Lee: I think it is true that I neglected to ask Mr. Masterson.

Dr. Foley: I offered a motion.

Mr. Lee: I neglected to ask Mr. Masterson in regard to three of the statements attributed to him, and you may remember that the others here, members of this School Committee, failed to ask him.

If you believe in free speech and are open minded, Mr. White, I do not believe you are the kind of man who wants to take a definite stand on the motion that is technically before us here, when you have not heard from the other side.

Mr. White: I have not taken any stand on that motion. I will take my stand on that after we investigate this whole situation.

Mr. Lee: I hope you will not take your stand on that motion until you have heard from both sides. Even if Mr. Masterson had been able to give us direct evidence on his charge of a demonstration on the part of the boys, I think you as an American citizen would want to hear from the other side.

Mr. White: Exactly.

Mr. Lee: Where he has given us this sort of evidence—and all we have is hearsay—I am sure you and the other members do not want to rush into a vote pro and con on this issue until the other side has been heard from. I urge that you do not take a vote pro and con until we have heard both sides.

Mr. White: I am not discussing Dr. Foley's motion. I am discussing the statement that you made here.

Chairman: Dr. Foley has a motion before this body and we should confine ourselves to that.

Mr. Sullivan: Will you read the motion?

(Dr. Foley's motion was read by the Secretary as above recorded.)

Dr. Foley: Speaking to this motion, it refers wholly to the work done by the Head Master of Roxbury Memorial High School (Boys). I am taking into consideration the time spent by this head master in curtailing every activity that he felt was un-American.

I believe that this Committee should send a letter of commendation to Mr. Masterson because, after all, he has done just what every head master of our schools would have done to stamp out anything that he felt was un-American, living up to the principles of his teaching profession.

We have gone into this discussion. There will be a great many befogged issues. There will be a great many smoke-screen tactics used, but, after all, we must get down to facts.

I think my motion speaks for itself, that we spread upon the records the commendation of the School Committee of a man who is deserving of commendation.

Chairman: Speaking in favor of your motion, I think that the head masters and teachers in the Boston Public Schools should at this time be encouraged by this Committee to stand up and fight off, as Mr. Masterson did, any movement from any source which tends to bring to the schools subversive propaganda of any kind. Our public schools are established to educate our children and to teach them the fundamental principles of our American Government.

I have looked into this case enough to go on record with Dr. Foley by seconding his motion to publicly commend Mr. Masterson at this time.

Mr. White: First of all, are we discussing Mr. Lee's speech, or are we discussing Dr. Foley's motion?

Chairman: We are discussing Dr. Foley's motion.

Mr. Lee: My remarks to Mr. White were intended to be on the motion and in the interests of fair play, for I feel that we should not allow a vote which leaves against the record of these boys the remarks which now stand in print. My remarks are for fair play in reference to this motion.

Dr. Foley: I do not think that Mr. Lee's remarks have anything to do with my motion.

Chairman: Will the Secretary read Dr. Foley's motion again, so that we will be sure what we are voting for?

(Dr. Foley's motion was read by the Secretary as above recorded.)

A roll call being ordered, Dr. Foley's motion passed by the following vote:

YEAS — Messrs. Foley, Smith, Sullivan and White—4.

NAY—Mr. Lee—1.

Chairman: If there is no other business, a motion for adjournment is in order.

Mr. White: Are we adjourning to discuss Mr. Lee's statements?

Chairman: We are adjourning to the conference room, with the press present, first, to receive a report from the Superintendent on the American Student Union.

Mr. White: I would like to move now that we discuss Mr. Lee's statement. Why do we have to adjourn to a conference upstairs? Why can't we do it right here, out in the open? I do not know why the general public is not interested in this.

Chairman: I want it understood that we are not attempting to go into a closed session. The members of the press will be there. If this Committee would rather have it discussed here, that is agreeable to me.

Dr. Foley: Mr. Lee has read from a manuscript here. I would like to have a chance to see the statement so that I may discuss it intelligently. I want to be prepared on the statement I will make here in public. The fact of the matter is that Mr. Lee has taken advantage of the Committee. He has come in here and has made a statement that I cannot follow because I have no copy of it. It has been spread upon our record without due deliberation on the part of the Members of the Boston School Committee.

(Mr. Lee then handed Dr. Foley a copy of his statement.)

I have here a copy that Mr. Lee has given me to look at, and I find it will take me some time to peruse it.

Chairman: What is the will of the Committee, — that we continue in public meeting, or retire, with the press, to the conference room?

Mr. Lee: I would be glad to continue in public meeting.

Dr. Foley: I will leave it entirely to the Chair.

Mr. White: I am in favor of the public meeting.

Chairman: I have always advocated public meetings. We will continue the investigation down here in public meeting. We will take a short recess.

(Short recess).

Chairman: In order to have this conducted fairly, Mr. Masterson, Mr. Reardon and Mr. Faxon ought to be here.

Mr. Lee: We have had them in here before. I think we ought to have the boys here.

Mr. White: I will move now that we postpone further discussion to another night and have all concerned present in the public meeting and give them all a chance to be heard.

Chairman (After conferring with the other members): The Chair will rule that this meeting is adjourned. We will go upstairs and continue our conference with the Superintendent, with the press present, in reference to the American Student Union.

The Committee adjourned.

Secretary.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

MAYOR TOBIN PAYS HOMAGE TO HEROES OF BOSTON MASSACRE ON MARCH 5—DELIVERS ADDRESS AT MONUMENT ON COMMON BEFORE CROWD, EXTOLLING PATRIOTISM THAT MOVED REVOLUTIONARY SPIRITS TO ESTABLISH THIS DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT WHICH HAS GROWN TO BE GREATEST IN CIVILIZED WORLD—LAYS WREATH OF TRIBUTE AT FOOT OF SHAFT ERECTED TO THEIR MEMORIES AND CALLS FOR RENEWAL OF SPIRIT OF LOYALTY AND LOVE OF LIBERTY AS SALVATION OF LAND.

The following address was delivered by Mayor Tobin at the Boston Massacre monument, March 5, 1939, in commemoration of deaths of the heroes of that incident:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen.

As I reflect upon the event we commemorate today I become more deeply impressed with the conviction that we live in and are citizens of the best country in the world, also I am deeply impressed with the truth that those who shed their blood for this land left to us a heritage of citizenship such as those of no other land enjoy.

With emotions moving men such as this realization arouses, I reverently join with my fellow citizens in paying homage to the martyrs of March 5, 1770, and in laying the tribute of a wreath at the foot of this monument which a devoted public long ago erected to their memory.

No act with which our country has been identified has a greater significance, or was at the time of happening more influential in shaping the destiny of the United States. No single event has been fraught with greater weight in the history of our country than that act which found the martyrs of the Massacre, in a few short moments, the heroes they have become and always will be to us.

The deaths of Crispus Attucks, Samuel Gray, Patrick Carr, James Caldwell, and Samuel Maverick may be said to have laid the foundation of American independence. It is because of the realization of this fact that we, of Boston, gladly come to this spot each year to pay our homage to their memories and to repledge ourselves to perpetuating the spirit which moved them to perform and die as they did, the spirit of loyalty, devotion and patriotic love for country.

Live in Best Country.

We have greater need for the renewal of this determination at this time than in almost any recent period of our country's history. All the news that comes to us from the seat of our government at Washington, all that comes to us from the countries of Europe and Asia, make us more aware of the fact that we live in a land that is blest and fortunate.

We are happy that we do not feel the heel of the dictator grinding us down; we are happy that we still are, and I pray God always will be, a free people. We are determined to remain a free people, come what may, and to preserve the ideals of democracy handed down to us by the founding fathers and the heroes of the Boston Massacre.

When we see the results of dictatorships and the whirlpools of chaos into which they have plunged their countries, when we see how they have enslaved those who surrendered their heaven-bestowed rights of freedom and liberty, then we, in America and Boston, know that to surrender even an iota of what we possess to any dictatorial force would be to shackle ourselves with chains that could and would only be broken by bloodshed and destruction. From this we shrink. Yet should necessity demand, we would again battle to preserve what has been handed down to us from then to now.

These heroes of March 5, 1770, whom we honor today have well won their crowns of joy and well deserve the reverence and homage we pay to them. They have linked their names with immortality and each succeeding generation will venerate their names.

Led Into Immortality.

History tells us that this little band of martyrs was led into immortality by Crispus Attucks, a mulatto. Thus the blood of all races was mingled in a deed which started the United States on its road to great and glorious achievement. This event has symbolized, ever since, the ideal in this land that men of all races stand together and die together that our common country shall be preserved; that the ideals of democracy shall not perish or be abridged.

Attucks was killed while he stood leaning his breast on a stout hardwood stick; Samuel Gray, one of the ropemakers of the town, was shot while he stood with his hand in his bosom; Patrick Carr was mortally wounded as he was crossing the street; James Caldwell died while standing in the middle of the street, and Samuel Maverick also died while crossing the street.

They died together and are buried together. Together their blood was spilled and flowed in the cause of freedom and a free people. Their acts, their lives and their interment all serve to symbolize what America stands for and what she always will stand for,—a united people, a patriotic people, a liberty-loving and a liberty-preserving people, an ideal which focuses and fills the hearts of all the races that have contributed to make our nation great.

Martyrs of the Boston Massacre, we of Boston again salute you! In saluting you we pledge ourselves never to surrender the least part of what you died to establish and what your sacrifices have preserved inviolate for us and our children. May your souls forever rest in peace.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

AIRPORT BUSINESS IMPROVES.

Mayor Tobin has received the following letter from Park Commissioner William P. Long:

PARK DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, March 2, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—The air line statistics for January, 1939, show a total of 6,688 passengers carried, as compared with 3,574 for January, 1938, or an increase of 87 per cent.

January is considered one of the poorest months in the year for air travel. It therefore indicates that the air travel in 1939 would be double that of 1938.

We are endeavoring to push without interruption the present project for the enlargement of the waiting room and other facilities connected with the Administration Building, which are badly needed.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

MAYOR VETOES POLICE PENSION PLANS.

Upon March 6 the Mayor made public the following letter:

BOSTON, March 6, 1939.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I return herewith without my signature and disapproved two resolutions of your Honorable Body—one in favor of legislation to increase the pensions of policemen formerly pensioned on account of injuries to an amount equal to that which would be allowed under the Retirement Act to a policeman presently retired for the same reason; and the other favoring a similar provision in the case of a former policeman, Fred G. Trask.

Prior to the adoption of the Retirement System a large number of employees, including laborers, firemen, policemen, school teachers, etc., were granted free pensions of amounts based on the salary schedules at the time of pensioning, and the City of Boston is still under a charge of over $900,000 for such pensions.

The claim that these pensioned policemen should receive an increase in pension because some one else who was pensioned later gets a larger amount is equally applicable to firemen, laborers and school teachers, therefore the proposed legislation would establish a precedent which logically would call for similar increases for the other classes of employees.

The city is in no position to indulge in any generous impulses, especially when such action might lead to an estimated increase of more than $800,000 a year in free pension payments.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

The clerk read the call for the meeting as follows:

A special meeting of the City Council is called for Monday, February 20, 1939, to consider the matter of additional nurses for the City Hospital and such other matters as may come before the Council. Time, 2 p. m.

GEORGE A. MURRAY, President.

Placed on file.

ELECTION OF GEORGE F. McMAHON.

Certification was received from Board of Election Commissioners of election of George F. McMahon, of 5 Clifton street, at election held in Ward 8 on February 14, 1939, for vacancy for unexpired term.

City of Boston,

City Clerk's Office, February 18, 1939.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—You are notified that George F. McMahon, having been duly elected to be a member of the City Council from Ward 8, to fill a vacancy, this day appeared and took the prescribed oaths of office as such member.

Before me,

W. J. DOYLE, City Clerk.

Severally placed on file.

Coun. McMahon of Ward 8 having taken his seat in the Body, President MURRAY said:

The Chair wishes to state that he hopes Councilor McMahon will, as a member of the Body, enjoy a successful and pleasant term of office.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. ENGLERT, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for month of February.

Report accepted; said order passed.

IMMEDIATE ACTION ON DOG RACING PERMIT.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Resolved, That in the opinion of the City Council the order passed February 16, 1939, granting consent to the use of the Boston Garden for dog racing purposes is a matter which will not admit of delay, and it so declares. The Mayor having notified the Council of his absence from the city from February 16 to March 2, 1938, it is therefore Ordered, That the City Clerk be hereby directed to officially present the said order to the Acting Mayor for such action as he may deem proper to take.

The resolution and order were referred to the Executive Committee.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR FITZGERALD

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I want to state, representing the ward where this Garden is located, that for the period of at least two weeks, while this matter has been pending before the City Council, I have endeavored by every possible means to ascertain the sentiment of the people of the district, what they thought of having the dog races in the Boston Garden, in view of what took place in the Readville section and, from every standpoint, every source from which I could gather information, I have found out that there was no real opposition to dog racing in the Garden. As the members of the Council well know, I insisted that we have a public hearing, although, as stated by Chairman Wilson of the Executive Committee, we were under no obligation to do so. At that meeting there were three or four people who objected to dogs in the Boston Garden. I think every member of the Council who heard the evidence offered by those people realized that they had an ulterior motive, and since that hearing there have been statements brought out in the Boston papers indicating that some of the people referred to as being opposed to a dog track in the Garden were misrepresented. After we had last Thursday's hearing I waited last Saturday morning on one of the priests, who was represented as being against the dog racing, and he stated to me that he authorized no one to speak for him at that hearing. I read in the Boston papers this morning that he had expressed a different opinion, and I waited on him again this morning, accompanied by a distinguished citizen of the district, who attends services in that church, and asked him what he thought about dog racing being allowed in the Garden. He told me that his position was as he had stated it to me originally, that he had no objection to the racing in itself, but was opposed to gambling in any form. I also read in the paper that another clergyman of the district had stated that he was against the dog racing, and I asked him whether that expressed his attitude. He said "No." I asked him if he had instructed his parishioners last November to vote against dog and horse races, and he said that he did not. He also said that the only reason why he opposed dogs was because of the influence it might have on children. Another clergyman with whom I got in contact, and who has been represented as being against dog racing, stated that he was not opposed to dog racing, but to gambling, and that he did not want to see it in the North End. Well, it is not going to be in the North End, but the West End. In fact, the nearest church of any is in Charlestown. There are some nine Roman Catholic churches in the district, and there have been attempts to approach some of the clergymen. One of them admitted that he had been approached, but it appears that it was by a man who had worked for the passage of the dog race track at the last election, that he had an ulterior motive, being employed by the Revere dog track interests. After the hearing the clergyman said that he would drop it, wouldn't think of opposing it any longer. The fact is that these Revere dog track men want to have a monopoly, and that is the reason for the opposition to the track in the Garden. As a matter of fact, the Garden was built for sports. It is surrounded by the railroad property and by mercantile buildings. There are no inhabitants within ten or fifteen minutes. I don't speak of my knowledge of that district in any spirit of boasting, but, as a matter of fact, I represent the district and I have been thoroughly familiar with it all my life. That section has for years been the scene of sporting activities, in fact, since the days when the American Colonies were established. In the old days prize fights were conducted within the confines of the ward, and it has been a center of sports of every kind. I was born there and I know all about the history of the ward. Some of the great men in sports in the history of the country have come from that old district. Most of this opposition has been started by those who are paid to prevent a license for a dog track being given to the Garden, and they have simply stirred up innocent people to carry it on. We have been informed that the district will be flooded with "bookies" seeking small bets from children, that sort of thing. These are not my words, but are quoted from what appeared in the Herald this morning. We are beginning now to hear this kind of talk, which is circulated for a purpose, but we did not hear it earlier when the campaign was on. Of course, betting cannot be stopped, but no doubt minors can be prevented from going in to the races. I certainly do not approve of anything illegal, but we must remember that this dog racing question has been voted on, to test the sentiment of the people, and when you have a vote of ten to one it would seem to pretty thoroughly indicate the sentiment of the people. Every priest I have talked with does not object to dog racing in itself, but wishes to have the children protected and, of course, we can all understand that. Naturally, there must be some protection afforded through the way in which it is carried on. When you have such an overwhelming vote at an election, however, in favor of the racing, it seems to me that that must be our guide, and that it cannot be overturned at somebody's whim. All the people had an opportunity to express their sentiments at the last election, and not one of those that I know of who stood up here raised their voices at that time. Apparently they then advocated and voted for dog races, and now they come in here and object. The most startling thing of all is this. This appeared in the Boston Daily Record last evening:

"While on the subject of dogs and Eddie O'Hare, the latter arrived in town the other day and he tells me there'll be no other tracks than the ones that now have licenses running at Dighton."

"As I understand it, the people of Dighton voted to permit only the licenses that were already in operation at Dighton to continue the operating of dog racing there at the last election." O'Hare said, in denying reports and applications that have been filed for the conducting of additional meetings at the Taunton dog track."

Here is a man who always has inside information in racing here or in Chicago, and he is going to dictate to the people of Boston in regard to this matter. I think it is a subject for the District Attorney of this county, and that it should be investigated. If it is not virtually a conspiracy I don't know what it is. I feel very sure that if this were New York, with that tireless prosecuting attorney, Dewey, and with that other gallant man who is Governor now, Lehman, this would not go on. It certainly looks like conspiracy when these people come in here in this way. It is a monopoly. I voted for the act, and I have not changed my position one iota.

SUBMISSION OF SUBVERSIVE PROPAGANDA.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council all of the subversive propaganda, such as newspapers, magazines and other material, which they have secured in the course of their investigations of radical activities.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President and members of the Council, there has been a great deal of insidious and subversive Red propaganda, in newspapers, magazines and other news-spreading agencies, throughout this and other communities of the United States for some time, and as chairman of the Appropriations Committee I wish to have in my possession and in the possession of the committee as much of such material as possible, for investigation. I think we should have all the information possible in regard to such propaganda, and that I am justified in attempting to get it, as chairman of the Appropriations Committee. I know that the City of Boston is spending approximately $4,000 a year for the salaries of two police officers who confine their activities to this Red movement in our midst. I have here some of that Red propaganda, circulated about Boston and the United States. Here is a magazine, the Moscow News, the Lenin anniversary issue, printed in Russia, in English, a very beautifully gotten-up publication, selling for from 20 to 25 cents. Here is another similar Red publication, printed in English in Russia, obviously propaganda and intended for circulation throughout our country. This is sold for 5 cents. What is the purpose of this sort of thing? Mr. Chairman, I was made the victim of abuse of the Communists in this community because of my action on the housing proposition which involved an expenditure of $17,000,000 three months ago. They attempted to intimidate me, but they were unable to do so, and I shall continue to fight. I am not afraid of these people, no matter who they may be.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WORK DONE BY EDWARD P. CASSELL.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor submit a report to the City Council containing therein a clear and accurate account of the amount of work and duties that Edward P. Cassell, real estate expert for the City of Boston, performed for the tremendous fees that he receives.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I am prompted to introduce that order because of some information which has been given to me relative to Mr. Cassell. I have been told—I don't know how true it may be—that this gentleman is not entitled to the vast amounts of money he has received from the City of Boston in the past four years as a real estate expert. I have been informed that last year that man received $75,000, while the Mayor of Boston receives only $20,000. If it is true that Mr. Cassell received $75,000 for his real estate work, I believe it is a matter upon which the citizens of Boston should be enlightened, and especially a matter upon which the City Council should be informed, because we as a body have the power to appropriate money for payment for such services. I hope, therefore, that his Honor the Mayor will give us a complete report on what this man does.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OWNERS OF PROPERTIES TAKEN BY BOSTON HOUSING AUTHORITY.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority submit a list of all the names of the legal title owners and a list of all the mortgagees of properties to be taken in the areas where the four new housing projects are to be erected; and be it further Ordered, That the dates of acquisition by these title owners and mortgagees be also listed.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I am proud to offer that order because of the fact that it is in line with the position I took awhile ago on the $17,000,000 housing proposition. I have in mind that in the past the City of Boston has seen a number of these activities from which land speculators and others have profited. We have seen the dog track projects, the housing proposition, which have meant a large profit to private individuals. I think if the information for which I have asked here is produced, the City Council will be very much enlightened as to who will benefit by these new housing projects. Is the benefit going to the title owners? Is it going to the mortgagees? Is it going to the speculators? I am sure that the great body of the people of Boston will not benefit, those on W. P. A. will not benefit, those on relief will not benefit, those obtaining old age assistance will not benefit. Who will benefit? Let us try to find out. We know that the poor people will not benefit.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

W. P. A. WORK IN COUNCIL CHAMBER.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Buildings Commissioner, through the Acting Mayor, be respectfully requested to advise the City Council as to the approximate date on which it is contemplated W. P. A. work will start in the Council Chamber on the fourth floor at City Hall.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, this order may be a little late because I was informed from some source this morning that some workmen were actually seen making their way into the old Council Chamber after fourteen months. So perhaps the work has been started today. I hope so, at least, because we were advised a month ago that the W. P. A. project had been approved and that the work would start at once.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION RE TAX TITLE PROPERTIES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Buildings Commissioner, through the Acting Mayor, be requested promptly to advise the City Council in detail:

1. The total number of tax title properties now in the custody and control of the city.
2. The total annual assessed value of the same.
3. The total amount owed to the city on said properties, including unpaid taxes, interest and accrued costs.
4. The number of tax title properties sold by the city in each of the calendar years 1933 to 1938, inclusive.
5. The total amount realized on the sale of tax title properties by the city in each of the calendar years 1933 to 1938, inclusive.
6. The number of tax title properties now leased or rented by the city.
7. The total number of such properties now being officially used by the city for city purposes.
8. The total amount of rental from tax title properties received by the city during 1938.
9. The number of tax title properties sold by the city during the first two months of 1939.
10. The total amount realized from all sales of tax title property sold by the city during the first two months of 1939.
11. Whether an up-to-date and complete list of all tax title properties now owned by the city, giving the location, the number of square feet, the assessed value and accrued taxes, interest and costs for each parcel, is now readily available in the office of the commissioner for inspection by prospective purchasers and others?
12. Whether signs are now posted conspicuously on each parcel of tax title property stating that the same is city property and for sale?

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, in reference to that order, just read in expurgated form, it relates to tax title property. You are aware of the fact that until the passage of a certain statute the city put various pieces of this tax title property through the Land Court and that they were in the custody of the Public Buildings Commissioner subject to the approval of the Mayor and the City Council. A report has been issued by some real estate organization to the effect that the Council moved so slowly in this matter that a change was made. Any statement to that effect is without any foundation in fact. The reason for moving slowly was because the City Council was unable to obtain from the Public Buildings Commissioner, without blasting, any information of value in regard to the property, how much money was due the city, or other information which we should have. As a result there was introduced and put through the Legislature last year a bill taking from the City Council any voice whatever in the disposal of these tax title properties. I understand that the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) has filed a petition to amend the bill and return to the elected officials of the people a voice in the disposal of these properties. I say it was an absolute outrage that any such bill was smuggled through the Legislature furtively, without notice to the City Council, and I feel that some action should be taken to remedy the situation, to remove the anchor that is holding action back. As a matter of fact, the properties are moving just as slowly as they ever moved, and I trust that action will be facilitated if power is restored to the directors of the city, where it belongs.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

21. Has the Superintendent of Nurses given any intimation of a refusal to accept further responsibility for the situation if additional nurses are not provided for the hospital?

22. For how long a period of time has the matter of sufficient nursing personnel caused concern to the trustees of the Boston City Hospital?

23. Just what alterations or changes are contemplated in the proposed W. P. A. project to reconstruct buildings at the hospital to afford more living space to house nurses?

24. Whether on the night of February 19, 1939, between the hours of 5 p. m. and 8 p. m., only one ambulance was available for the entire City of Boston in the Main Department at the Boston City Hospital due to the fact that only one male nurse was available for ambulance duty?

25. Whether on the night of February 19, 1939, between the hours of 8 p. m. and 12 p. m., only two ambulances were available for the entire City of Boston in the Main Department at the Boston City Hospital due to the fact that only two male nurses were available for ambulance duty?

26. Whether, when the new Surgical Building was opened to provide 300 new beds, a total of at least 125 old beds were discontinued due to the closing of Wards B, C and D?

27. Whether private patients recommended by medical men on the staff of the City Hospital are assigned to services as directed by those physicians in preference to charity patients?

28. Whether incident to the recent Finance Commission investigation of the Boston City Hospital, a report of which is contained in the February 11, 1939, issue of the City Record, the hospital authorities admitted that they had knowledge of shocking conditions brought to their attention, but had been unable to remedy the same?

29. Whether private detective reports were submitted to a trustee of the Boston City Hospital in the presence of the superintendent in December, 1937, or January, 1938, giving conclusive evidence of wholesale thefts from the Boston City Hospital?

30. As of February 20, 1939: (a) How many private patients are at the Boston City Hospital, and (b) How many patients not private?

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I have pro-pounded here a long list of questions to be submitted to the trustees of the City Hospital, questions which are self-explanatory and which I see no reason why the trustees cannot promptly answer. I am familiar with the fact that there has been received by the President of the City Council today the following telegram:

"This time of the year is the peak load of the hospital. We are overcrowded with sick people of every nature in every department. All possible care must be given them. It means that every member must be at his post and cannot attend hearings until this grave emergency is passed. In the interests solely of the patients of the hospital we urgently request that you suspend the proposed hearing for a few weeks, at which time the trustees and the superintendent and anyone else you desire to talk with will be glad to meet you."

JOSEPH P. MANNING.

Now, I have the highest regard for Mr. Manning personally, and realize the difficulties under which the other trustees of the hospital are constantly working; but, of course, the fact that it is an emergency is the reason why we are assembled today in this meeting. It is because it is an emergency that the situation should be rectified—not after some weeks, when the peak has been passed, but while the peak is at its crest. That is why we are here today, and why I feel that the chairman of the City Hospital Trustees, even if he is busy, should have taken a few moments off, coming here in a taxicab if necessary, on a question of such grave concern. I notice the phrase that "every member must be at his post and cannot attend hearings until this grave emergency is past." The trouble is that there is insufficient personnel now at the Boston City Hospital to man the posts in this time of great emergency. That is why we are here today, and I am more disappointed to feel that, since this is an emergency, and when it is at its peak, we cannot have before us the Superintendent of the City Hospital for a few moments this afternoon, in an emergency, when we are endeavoring to protect the city and protect the personnel of the City Hospital. I had hoped that he would be here and, since he considers the present situation a matter of grave concern, that he might take steps to supply at least a minimum of the nurses needed in such a peak period of that institution. But he unfortunately thinks that he cannot be here because "every member must be at his post and cannot attend hearings until this grave emergency is passed." Unfortunately, it seems, he could not be here. But when we telephone the hospital we find in many instances that the officials are not at their posts. I desire this order sent to the Executive Committee, Mr. Chairman, where it can be considered, and where I would like to have the mother of one of the nurses at the City Hospital address the committee. She is here today at her own request and is entitled to be heard. There will be others heard, I assume, by the Hospital Committee of the City Council. I have before me a letter from a prominent doctor in the city whose name, for obvious reasons, I will not give at this time, although that is not at his request.

"February 17, 1939.

"I read with great interest comments with reference to inadequacy of nurses in the Boston City Hospital which are attributed to you in this morning's Herald. As a former member of the staff of the hospital, with a long connection with the institution, I know that the nursing staff has never been adequate in the last twenty years. Equally important in the interest of the sick poor of the city is the fact that the care of the patients is being relegated to a position secondary to the teaching of medical students on the medical side of the institution, a fact which is not generally known, since not readily understood by the taxpayers of Boston. I would be glad to talk with you in reference to these matters in the event you are interested in them."

That letter is from a former member of the staff of the Boston City Hospital, a man active at the hospital for many years, a man who you have my assurance is one of the leading members of the medical profession locally, and I think that is a grave statement. The thing, however, that primarily bothers me today is the requirement of immediate additional nursing facilities at the Boston City Hospital. I am informed that the peak load of sickness in this city is between now and the first of May. I have in mind, too, the routine red tape that necessarily follows any such request. I understand that in the original budget request made by the trustees of the City Hospital they asked for a substantial number of additional nurses. I understand also that since the original request first went forward, because of the emergency, they made still further requests for personnel at the hospital. They expect to have further talks with the Mayor and the Budget Commissioner, and experienced members of the Council who have been active on the Appropriation Committee and are familiar with city affairs know that there will be weeks of time elapse before the trustees will be able to iron out with the Budget Commissioner and the Mayor the demands of the hospital. Then the budget as finally made up will be sent by the Mayor to the City Council, and referred to the Committee on Appropriations. We will then have hearings and it will be weeks after the peak is passed before the request for additional nurses at the City Hospital can possibly be acted on. So I now ask that this be sent to the Executive Committee, where we will today hear the statement by the mother of one of the nurses, and I trust that later on, whether busy or not, the trustees and the superintendent will, when it becomes necessary to ask questions of them, sit in with the committee. I trust that, even if a time of emergency when nobody can be spared from his post, they can find at least half an hour to appear before our committee where they can be heard and where questions can be asked of them.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, speaking on that order I believe that our Boston City Hospital today is the premier city hospital not only in America but in the world. I believe the trouble referred to is due to one individual, and that is the Superintendent of Nurses (applause from the gallery). She is the cause of the trouble. We were warned, and warned properly, that once this Superintendent of Nurses went into the City Hospital it would mean trouble. Now, here are the facts, and a child can understand them. The Massachusetts State Board of Registration of Nurses has direct charge of the nursing school of the Boston City Hospital. If there are conditions such as the councilor complains of, some one at the State House is lax in performance of his duties. But I will guarantee you now that when you get all the facts you will be a bit surprised. Did you know that at the Boston City Hospital we have more nurses and more school nurses than in any hospital you can name? Who says so? I ask you to call upon the officials of the State Board of Nursing, who have taken away the right to have schools in different city hospitals in the last few years. They are alarmed. They know what is going on. They know about the City Hospital set-up. Wait until you get their story before you decide who is to blame for the present situation at the Boston City Hospital. Here are the facts. There are 800 nurses, more proportionately for the number of patients than in any hospital in the country. Never in history has there been such a corps of nurses. I would ask anybody who knows about such matters if that is not an ample number of nurses for the hospital. It is childish to say that there are not enough nurses. And let me say personally that if our trustees want more nurses they will say so and they can get them. I think we have a Board of Trustees at the City Hospital of the very highest standing, the finest board of hospital trustees you can find anywhere, and in "Jim" Manary we have a wonderful superintendent. I have been at the City Hospital many a time in the interest of people in my district, and have always received marvelous treatment. About six months ago I had occasion to bring some orphan children of whom I knew into the hospital for treatment. They had no friends and I brought them into the Boston City Hospital. They accepted those children and did what was necessary for them. It was the only place left open for them. Yes, Mr. President and members, I can tell you most marvelous stories about the good and efficient work done by our City Hospital, as any of you who have had experience with that institution must know. Don't malign in the public press the people running that institution. But Superintendent Laura Logan has instituted a curriculum, a close period of study, in which some of those young women have to spend eighty-four hours a week in the classroom. At the Peter Bent Brigham they will tell you that thirty hours a week, not eighty-four, is plenty. What does that mean? They are in the classroom instead of at the sick bed and if you want to satisfy Superintendent Logan you will have to have far more nurses with the present set-up and will have the same trouble. That is the situation. Mark my words, and check me on what I say. Call up the Massachusetts Board of Nurses, those who have direct charge of that school. And any of you who have had experience with our City Hospital and know what a fine institution it is, speak up. Help those people, defend them. Stand up for the City Hospital, and don't let these impressions go out unanswered.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, earlier this afternoon remarks were made with reference to being unable to contact officials of the Boston City Hospital when they have been needed. I don't know what experience other councilors have had, but I want to say for the record that when I have tried to do so, I have invariably been able to contact Superintendent Manary of the hospital and the assistant in charge. They have given to me all the cooperation necessary for patients from my district. I believe, as I stated at one of the previous meetings, that the trustees of the Boston City Hospital are, in my opinion, the finest type of citizenry to be found not only in the City of Boston but in the state or in any state in the country. I feel that, for purposes of the record, I should in this way express my opinion of the trustees of the hospital and the superintendent.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. ROSENBERG—Yes.

Coun. WILSON—Am I correct in stating that I was under the impression, a week or two ago, that you complained of the fact that a constituent of yours was badly burned, went to the hospital and was not at all satisfied with the treatment that she got from the City Hospital?

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I will answer that question by saying that that case did not come to my attention until after it had taken place. But whenever I have contacted the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, the superintendent or his assistant, I have always received prompt attention. This other case was one that came to my attention after the damage had been done.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

ADDITIONAL NURSES AT CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, through the Acting Mayor, be requested to at once arrange for one hundred additional nurses at the Boston City Hospital.
Referred to Executive Committee.

HEARINGS RE CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That officials of the Massachusetts Division of Registration in Nursing be invited to any hearing held by the Hospital Committee of the Boston City Council on nursing conditions at the Boston City Hospital together with the superintendents of other large Boston hospitals.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

PARKING UNDER BOSTON COMMON.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor consider the advisability of having a study made relative to tunneling under the Boston Common—to be used as a parking space—said construction to be done with W. P. A. labor.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. KERRIGAN in the chair.

BUS PERMIT, FALL RIVER AND BOSTON.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Council immediately consider the matter of a bus permit between Fall River and Boston.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I would ask that that order be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I would like to say a few words on the order. I read something in the newspapers concerning the order and was very much interested, because of the fact that the reported line is going to run partly through my district. I am not surprised at the action of the Legislature of the state upon this matter. They have always attempted to take away home rule from the City of Boston. The City Council of Boston has practically no power at all today. It is a useless body, because the sole power rests in the Legislature and in the Mayor of Boston, and we have no control over the action of the Mayor. We cannot veto his action, and if anything is done by the City Council that does not please a certain group of people not living in the City of Boston they always put some bill in the Legislature to take away additional powers from the Boston City Council. I am interested in my district in this matter. The proposed bus line would run down Seaver street, and Seaver street has very heavy traffic and does not have traffic lights. The result is that there is a serious menace to people crossing that street. We have endeavored to get traffic lights, but the city cannot seem to raise the money for them. When the City Council tries to aid the people of our city, because we don't want more traffic than is necessary on that street, under the circumstances, we have a bill introduced into the Legislature that will prevent the City of Boston having control over traffic on its own streets. I say to the Legislature of Massachusetts, "You have long regarded the City of Boston as a cow to be milked and have got every drop of milk that you could, and when the local interests of the City of Boston are at stake you take away from the city powers that it should have. You are doing something that in the end is going to cause the City of Boston to rise up and express its indignation in regard to your action. You are going to kill the goose that lays the golden egg." Recently the people of Hyde Park conducted a plebiscite upon something that it did not want, and in view of the action then taken I see no reason why twelve or fourteen other districts of the city where such a line as this is proposed should not take similar action to show that they do not want more traffic risks in their streets. I say that a plebiscite upon this matter might well be demanded, just as much as a plebiscite in the Hyde Park district on dog racing. But what is the use? I know what the answer of the Legislature will be. As a matter of fact, this bus line now has an opportunity to go into the Ashmont Station and the riders upon it can thereby obtain quick entrance to the heart of Boston. Incidentally, the ride on the Elevated will bring ten cents each from the passengers, helping to reduce somewhat our Elevated deficit. But, no, they don't want to do that. They want to ride into Park square over our busy streets. I say that our legislative counsel should be condemned for not bringing to the attention of the City Council the fact that such action was proposed in the Legislature. Too frequently matters against the interest of the people of Boston are passed without our even knowing of them. We should certainly have an opportunity to be heard on such questions, and I don't think the Council should allow the Legislature to continue such action without at least expressing our indignation in regard to it.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

LOSS TO ELEVATED THROUGH OUT-OF-TOWN BUS LINES.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council of the amount of revenue that would be lost in fares by permitting the Fall River and Taunton bus line to come to the downtown section of Boston.

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council of the amount of revenue the Boston Elevated has lost in the past five years as the result of permitting out-of-town bus lines to invade the city proper.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I note with interest that recently the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway at their stations throughout Boston, Dudley street, Forest Hills and other points, and in Somerville, have put up neon signs giving you the time within which you can reach downtown Boston, and also telling you at various subway terminals of the Elevated that if you wish to travel with speed to or from downtown Boston you should use the "El." The trustees of the Elevated during the past few years have sat back and remained dormant where matters concerning the revenues of the Elevated were concerned, particularly when out-of-town bus lines are permitted to go to the downtown sections of Boston. In the meantime the deficit on the Elevated has been increasing, and the revenues have shrunk, through lack of serious attempt to see that every dime possible should go to the Boston Elevated. As a result, the citizens not only of downtown Boston, but of metropolitan Boston, have suffered because of the increasing deficit of the road. I think the information requested here may be very helpful to the members of the City Council and perhaps lead the trustees to a realization that they should exercise their prerogatives as Public Trustees to see to it that every source of revenue that may be available is developed in order to cut down the growing deficits.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am only thinking out loud, but here is my idea of the thing. We have 100,000 less people coming into Boston today than we had ten years ago, 100,000 less coming into our downtown section to do business than came ten years ago. That is what we are told by experts, who are considerably worried about the matter. If that sort of thing continues, what will be the result in Dock square and on Washington street ten years from the present time? And so when you consider the bus problem, buses bringing people into Boston to do business, consider in connection with it that fact, that there are 100,000 less people coming into Boston to do business than came ten years ago. I do know that Boston stores are looking for and need additional business, and I do know that this bus line from Fall River to Boston has asked for permission to bring people into Boston. So I think, making as little objection as we possibly can, we should help bring everybody we can to Boston. This bus line will go through my ward, Mattapan square, and I trust that certainly some route can be afforded for buses that want to come into Boston from outside places and to bring people to our city to do business. In other words, I am interested in bringing people into Boston, whoever wants to come. If you want them to pay an additional ten cents to the Boston Elevated, that is another problem. I wonder what passengers on buses going to Providence or to New York City would do if they were forced to stop at the boundary and take the local subway system to the city proper? I don't know. I am only thinking out loud. Citizens of Foxboro and Taunton, and other places, tell me that they like to take these bus lines, because their train service has been cut down. At some places there is no train service but only bus lines. Isn't there some way in which people wanting to come to Boston to trade at our places of business can be induced or encouraged to come? Shouldn't we say to those wishing to come to our city, "Come along, we want you?" Isn't there some way to bring here those people who want to come to our city?

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, when this petition was before the Council some months ago I rose and stated that there might be some other alternative route for the Eastern Massachusetts to bring in its bus service. But I pointed out to the Council at that time that Blue Hill avenue is no route over which to bring people to town by bus line such as this. I don't know whether some of you have seen the reports showing the number of accidents occurring on Blue Hill avenue, in the confines of my ward. I think more people have been killed on that street than on any other street in the City of Boston. I think the Legislature has been hoodwinked in this matter of the Eastern Massachusetts bus line from Taunton and Fall River, that they had some good salesmen up there interested in getting it through the House. I don't know how it will fare in the Senate. Of course, the people of Taunton and Fall River can get bus service into Boston, and the truth is that they are coming now into Boston in that way. These people are coming into the Ashmont Station. But they want express service into the heart of Boston. There is nothing to prevent their coming in from Taunton and Fall River, Dighton, and three or four little towns, to Mattapan or some other station, and there connecting with the rapid transit. But they desire to come in by this other route filing a petition which would enable them to go along Blue Hill avenue. Do you suppose if a similar petition was brought for these buses to go through the heart of Fall River and Taunton to a similar way to that in which they now wish to go through Blue Hill avenue, the people of those cities would allow it? No, these same people who are now favoring this petition would want it killed if it went through their neighborhoods. There are many ways in which people can come into the heart of Boston. The doors are open. But we don't want the Legislature to tell us what must be done in our particular district. We don't care to have people from North Adams or Pittsfield telling us how to operate vehicles upon and regulate our streets and highways. I say that the Legislature should take care of its proper legislative business and give to Boston home rule. Give us the opportunity to determine where bus lines shall come in. I feel that every consideration has been given to the residents of Taunton and Fall River. They can reach the heart of the city now more speedily than by the proposed route, and there would be no objection to their taking other avenues of approach. But they should certainly not be allowed to come over a road which would mean taking the lives and threatening the safety of the people of Boston. Bus operators, no matter how careful they may be, are bound to speed up on such a boulevard as Blue Hill avenue. I have stood here asking, as other councilors have asked, for traffic lights on this and other streets, but we cannot get them, and without traffic lights or other traffic protection there is certainly great danger to the people in such heavily populated sections of our city.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, the councilor from Hyde Park (Coun. Norton) has said that ten years ago there were 100,000 more people coming into Boston than come at the present time. I wish to call the attention of the councilor to the fact that ten years ago we had fewer bus lines than we have today, and the fact that the number of people has not increased with the increase in the bus lines is simply due to economic conditions, and nothing else. On Seaver street, in the ward I represent, we had many accidents and deaths last year as a result of which we waited on the Traffic Commissioner and upon the Mayor of the City of Boston asking for traffic lights, in an endeavor to cut down the accidents and deaths on that street. But we were simply told that they did not have the money for those lights. I say to the councilor from Hyde Park, to the people of Fall River and to the Legislature that I would rather have 100,000 less people coming into Boston than to be the means of killing children and others in my district.

Coun. NORTON—Then, put a fence around the whole city and go to bed! It seems to me if you cannot get the buses in in one way they should come in in another. But the fact is that there are 100,000 fewer people coming into Boston today than came in ten years ago. They run over into Milton or Newton, get what they want, and go back home again, in a short time. We lose hundreds of thousands on that account. What I am interested in primarily is this, isn't there some other way to get people into Boston? The problem is, where are we going to get more money to pay our bills?

Coun. TAYLOR—I suppose you know there was a petition before our Body that was rejected, the same petition?

Coun. NORTON—Yes; I have an idea what happened.

Coun. TAYLOR—The petition was rejected, and then they put the petition into the Legislature. Do you recall that?

Coun. NORTON—Something about it; yes.
Coun. TAYLOR—Do you recall the fact that the Jinney Committee met, that Councilor Rosenberg complained, asking the Eastern Massachusetts why they did not petition to go over a different route, and they answered that they would consider it.

Coun. NORTON—I don't remember that, but if you say so, no doubt it was so.

Coun. TAYLOR—But this petition is the same petition that we had before us, which the Council denied, and then they went to the Legislature, and you think the City Council ought to bow to the Legislature.

Coun. NORTON—No; don't put words into my mouth.

Coun. TAYLOR—Will the gentleman yield for another question?

Coun. NORTON—Certainly.

Coun. TAYLOR—Do you think we ought to act on this matter while it is before the Legislature?

Coun. NORTON—I think we should call in the Eastern Massachusetts and try to iron it out.

Coun. GALVIN—The councilor from Hyde Park feels that it should be taken up with them, again?

Coun. NORTON—Yes; every day is a new day.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) if he was in Europe at the time when the bus issue came up before the committee and when Councilor Wilson fought hard to have it passed by the City Council?

Coun. NORTON—Are you asking that question for information or embarrassment?

Coun. GALVIN—For information.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, speaking on that order, when the matter was brought up last year it was not a question of the route that the buses were going to take. Regardless of how they came, they figured that they were going to come to Boston, anyway. If the councilor from Ward 18 recalls the petition, the first bus was to start from Fall River at 5.30 in the morning, and there were to be fourteen trips here and fourteen back. Jordan Marsh and other business people in that section complain about the possibility of stores being closed up. Naturally, they will be closed up because our tax rate is so high, and continues to go higher year after year, and people are leaving Boston. The Boston Elevated deficit is very, very high. I think Boston paid something like a million and a half for 1938. The buses that come into Boston at the present time land passengers up at Ashmont Station and in the course of a year bring in a revenue in the vicinity of $40,000 to $50,000, and when these buses come directly into the City of Boston it will deprive the Boston Elevated probably of $50,000 to $60,000 a year. When such a petition is taken from the Boston City Council and put into the hands of the Legislature, it is high time that we should stand united and go up there on the hill and demand home rule and get some action, as when the Americans took Boston away from the British. That is the stand I took a year ago, and let us take it now. I shall do what I can to prevent this line coming to Boston.

Coun. IRWIN—It is very amusing to me to hear this situation discussed at the present time. You speak about home rule. When you took away the Relief Station from my section, we were not able to do anything about it. When I asked for a roll call there was only one councilor besides myself who favored it. The councilor may feel that we should have home rule in this matter, but we know that we can't do anything about it at the present time. It has been through the House of Representatives and will soon be before the Senate. The only chance for a protest is before the Department of Public Utilities. The Legislature should not take powers away from the City Council, but the fact remains that the Legislature has that power. We do have the right to make an appeal through the Corporation Counsel and our legislative agent, and they should have been asked to draw a bill to prevent this bus line from coming into Boston. But it is most amusing to have it brought up at this stage.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am glad to have it pointed out to me by the gentleman from Ward 1 that we should, through our legislative agent and Corporation Counsel, keep in touch with these bills in the Legislature. But if you can keep in touch with each and every one of them you will get the gold medal, kid!

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, as I recall, the gentleman from Ward 14 (Coun. Rosenberg) led the fight a year ago when the proposed bus line into Boston was defeated. But at that time the petitioner did not even attempt to come in by another route.

The orders were passed.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 2.30 p. m., on motion of Coun. AGNEW, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President MURRAY at 4.53 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on resolution and order (referred today) for immediate action on permit for dog racing at Boston Garden—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order passed.

2. Report on order (referred today) for information re nurses at Boston City Hospital—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on order (referred today) that Acting Mayor arrange at once for additional nurses at City Hospital—recommending passage of order in following new draft:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, through the Acting Mayor, be requested to at once arrange for an adequate number of additional nurses at the Boston City Hospital; and further Ordered, That in the opinion of the City Council this is an emergency matter not admitting of delay.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the orders.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, very briefly as I understand it, you as Acting Mayor are going to urge upon the trustees and superintendent of the City Hospital and also the Budget Commissioner that something be done in this matter for the City Hospital. When questions of expense are raised, not long ago some of the members did not object to voting $20,000 to keep hens at a poultry farm at Deer Island, or against a large amount for a real estate expert in lieu of our own expert. I respectfully urge, therefore, that if the city is in good enough financial condition to make provision for a poultry farm at Deer Island and to appropriate a large amount for a real estate expert, we are not taking an unreasonable position in asking the trustees of the Boston City Hospital to spend a proper amount to provide adequate care for the sick in the City Hospital.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I merely desire to be recorded as heartily in favor of the passage of the orders.

The report was accepted and the orders were passed.

COOPERATION OF PHYSICIANS RE HOSPITAL INVESTIGATION.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be immediately requested to consider the advisability of soliciting the services of three physicians of recognized standing, who have had experience in hospital administration, to work with the City Council Committee on Hospitals, with a view to ascertaining whether or not standards and conditions for nurses and the training of nurses are in keeping with the requirements of the Boston City Hospital.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, we have heard considerable about nursing conditions at the City Hospital, and also about the needs of the hospital in that line. I sincerely believe when we are in doubt—and I think there is considerable doubt in the minds of the members upon this question—any doubt should be cleared up by calling in physicians of recognized standing who have had experience in hospital administration to work with the City Hospital Committee in investigating this matter. There has been considerable question about the Superintendent of Nurses, the condition of the nurses and the management of the Boston City Hospital. We want our hospital to be second to none in the country and there must be available in the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts medical men of standing, ability and experience in hospital administration, who would be very glad to collaborate with the City Council Committee in clearing up what seems to be a very unsatisfactory condition at the hospital at the present time. Therefore, I trust that the Council will act favorably upon my order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REOPENING OF EAST BOSTON RELIEF STATION.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Acting Mayor declare an emergency exists and that the East Boston Relief Station be reopened at once.

Coun. IRWIN—Mr. President, in view of what was brought out in the executive session, it would at least seem that there can be some improvement in our hospital administration. I have, therefore, introduced this order, and I trust that some good will come out of it. It has at least been called to our attention that there is laxity on somebody's part and that something should be done at once. I think there is no more proper time than the present to take action in regard to the East Boston Relief Station, reopening it at once. It has been agreed that 100 more nurses are needed at the Boston City Hospital, and I think everybody agrees that the East Boston Relief Station should be reopened. It had gone on for twenty years and it has now been taken away from the residents of that section. I have not asked for a plebiscite on the question. I do not believe that five persons in East Boston would vote against the relief station being reopened. That is the practically unanimous wish of all the people of East Boston. Therefore I ask that the order be passed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REOPENING OF HAYMARKET RELIEF STATION.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately reopen the Haymarket Relief Station.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, this also is a matter that should be immediately acted upon. The Haymarket Relief Station should be reopened. Cases are continually coming up needing immediate attention in that vicinity. Within the last two weeks a woman fell downstairs at the station over here, getting on the train, and both of her legs were broken. She was sixty-eight years old, and the mother of a well-known citizen in the city. Recently, in the Park Street Station they had to wait over an hour for an ambulance, because of an accident to the wife of one of the foremost men in the city. It is all very well to try to make light of these things until they strike home. As I have said before, you cannot measure the value of such a convenient relief station in dollars and cents. The city is not run for profit, but to give service to the citizens, and that service can be given without looting the treasury and doing things that are not right. But when you have to wait a long time for an ambulance in case of a bad accident, it is a very serious situation. There is no sound reason why that ambulance station should ever have been taken away from the Haymarket Relief Hospital. There is a building down there that the city condemned and that it was proposed to remodel for other purposes, work that would cost, I am told, a million dollars. It was thought first that they would use it for a fire station, but that would have cost a very large amount. It was, however, a very convenient place when accidents happened around that vicinity—in fact, around this whole part of the city. The time has now arrived when everyone admits that its closing was a mistake. The only thing to do at present, under the circumstances, is to rectify that mistake. God only knows the suffering of people who are stricken down in this great metropolis of ours, who have to wait for hospital or emergency treatment. There was an instance on Friday night where they waited fifty minutes for an ambulance down in the West End. Every moment lost under such circumstances may mean death or permanent injury. When you make a mistake, the sooner it is corrected the better. Doctor Washburn said in his report to the City Council that the Haymarket Relief Station was a necessity, and its history proves that. When we had an investigation of the Boston City Hospital the importance of places like that, where emergency treatment could be given, was definitely shown. But we know what Doctor Washburn said at the time, and we all know now that the closing of that relief station was a mistake. I sincerely hope that some people have learned their lesson. That station was doing a wonderful work, and it has been shown in the large cities of this country that local stations of the kind are practically a necessity. Look at the situation in New York. There, and in other large cities throughout the country, we find relief hospitals everywhere. The few dollars saved by the closing of such a place means a cost of an immense sum in the end. I certainly trust that everything will be done by the trustees to see that the purpose of this order and the order introduced by Councilor Irwin is carried out.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I second what has been said by Councilor Fitzgerald in regard to the Haymarket Relief Station. It has been of immense advantage to the people of my district, who have suffered so because of its being closed that they have been bounding me day in and day out for its reopening. When the City Council of Boston went on record in this matter of the closing of that relief station, every councilor but the gentleman from Hyde Park admitted that its closing was a mistake. I have had continual protests from my ward against the use of the "paddy wagon" to pick up people in my ward and take them to the hospital. The Haymarket Relief Station served a very useful purpose to my constituents. They have to go a long way to the City Hospital, and the policeman in the back of the "paddy wagon" is not equipped with a first-aid kit to help the person who has been injured. I hope the Hospital Committee will take this matter up with the trustees and that we will see that relief station reopened.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I admit that I made a mistake in the matter of these relief stations. I thought, with the opening of the addition to the hospital, proper facilities would be afforded. I now admit that I made a mistake, and I am tickled to death to stand here and say so. I felt at the time with the promise of city officials that when they opened up the new hospital it would take care of both districts, everything would be all right. I now think that Councilor Irwin's order should pass and also that the Haymarket Relief Station should be reopened. Why not? I think the Mayor will probably admit that he made a mistake.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SUPERINTENDENT OF NURSES, CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Acting Mayor, to summarily discharge the Superintendent of Nurses.

INVESTIGATION OF CITY HOSPITAL CONDITIONS.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Council Committee on Hospitals be requested to immediately investigate existing conditions at the Boston City Hospital and report its findings to the City Council.

Referred to Committee on Hospitals.

EXTENSION OF CONSERVATION OF EYE-SIGHT CLASS.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to extend the Conservation of Eyesight Class through the high school grades instead of discontinuing it at Grade IX as at present.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF PART OF WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of that section of Ward 19 known as the "White City," with a view to building new streets and repairing the present streets which are in poor condition.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

City of Boston,

Traffic Division, February 20, 1939.
To the Superintendent,

Sir,—With reference to the attached communication from William T. Doyle, Chief Clerk, Office of the Mayor, City Hall, Boston, in relation to City Council order of February 6, 1939, wherein the following language is employed:

"Ordered: That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council:

a. The total number of patrolmen now in the department.

b. The total number of officers in the department.

c. The total number of officers and men on traffic duty.

d. The total number of officers and men on traffic duty in the district between Massachusetts avenue easterly to the North Station.

e. The total number of officers and men on street duty, other than traffic, between the hours of 8 p. m. and 1 a. m.

In City Council February 6, 1939. Passed.

Attest:

W. J. DOYLE, City Clerk."

I respectfully report on Items c and d, as follows:

c. Total number of officers and men in Traffic Division, 202, distributed as follows:

1 Deputy Superintendent.

1 Captain.

3 Lieutenants (2 on days, 1 on nights).

10 Sergeants (9 on days, 1 on nights).

187 Patrolmen.

The 187 patrolmen are distributed as follows:

7 Mounted on horses.

4 Mounted on motorcycles.

4 Clerks, including Tag Room.

7 Tagging duty.

2 Safety Educational Automobile.

143 Traffic posts (days).

20 Traffic posts (nights).

d. The total number of officers and men on traffic duty in the district between Massachusetts avenue easterly to the North Station:

105 Officers (days).

It might be well to cite at this time, for information of the Boston City Council, that the Traffic Division, which is responsible for traffic conditions in Divisions 1, 2, 3, 4, 16 and the traffic post at Cottage Farm Bridge, on Division 14, which embraces the territory from the North Station to the Cottage Farm Bridge and the Charles river to the South Bay, is often called to furnish details for escort duty at events held at the Boston Garden, Boston Arena, Horticultural Hall, Mechanics Building, Symphony Hall and, during the summer months, functions, such as conventions, etc., at the various large hotels.

With its small personnel, the Traffic Division is also called upon to assign officers to expedite the movement of traffic during funeral services held at various churches, at football and baseball games at Fenway Park attended by large crowds, parades, such as the Boston School Cadets, Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, marathon runs, as well as officers assigned to department drills and target practice, and, in order to keep the most important traffic posts covered, officers have to be constantly shifted from one location to another.

This division must also detail officers to cover important traffic posts on Sunday afternoons and evenings, usually to the extent of twenty officers, as well as on holidays, and these men have to be given their days of relief on some week day following the Sunday or holiday on which they did duty.

At the present time I have two sergeants and nine patrolmen who are included in the personnel of this division but who are actually detailed to other divisions and units, thereby reducing the number of men available for actual traffic duty.

I have allotted 180 posts that are really dangerous and should be covered by traffic officers during the day and, at least, twenty-one hazardous posts at night, between the hours of 6 p. m. and 12 midnight, but owing to the shortage of officers at this division many of these posts must go uncovered.

As topics c and d are the only ones pertaining to the Traffic Division, I respectfully recommend that the attached communication be referred to the Chief Clerk of the department, in order that he may supply an answer to Items a, b and e.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN T. O'DEA,
Deputy Superintendent,
Commanding Traffic Division.

EXTENSION OF GREEN STREET STATION-WEST ROXBURY BUS LINE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 24, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway relative to your order of February 6, 1939, concerning the extending of the present Green Street Station-West Roxbury bus line to Forest Hills over the following route: From the monument at South and Centre streets, over South street, Asticou road, into Forest Hills.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY,
Acting Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
February 15, 1939.

Mr. W. T. Doyle,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—We have considered request on order of the City Council received with your letter of February 9 for extension of the Green Street Station-West Roxbury bus line to Forest Hills via South street and Asticou road into Forest Hills Station.

Asticou road is restricted to one-way operation from South street to Washington street and is so narrow under the bridge that, even though the restriction were removed, it would be a dangerous place to operate; moreover, there is a bad grade on South street between the Parkway and Asticou road.

The distance and running time consumed if the service were operated to Forest Hills would be about the same as to Green street, but as the running time on the rapid transit lines between Forest Hills and Green street is about two minutes, the ride would be that much longer for every passenger in each direction.

The suggested rerouting would also leave McBride and Green streets without service and there would be duplicate service between the Monument and Forest Hills where patrons now have the privilege of transferring to the rapid transit lines.

Under all the circumstances it does not appear to be feasible to comply with the request.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

SHELTER, CENTRE STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 25, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of February 6, 1939, concerning the erection of a shelter on Centre street, Jamaica Plain, opposite the Faulkner Hospital, Ward 19.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY,
Acting Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
February 15, 1939.

Mr. W. T. Doyle,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of February 9, I would say that the trustees have previously given consideration to a request of the City Council for provision of a shelter in front of the Faulkner Hospital on Centre street.

It has been the policy of the railway for a number of years to provide shelters only at prepayment stations. You will, of course, readily appreciate that it would be a very expensive proposition to provide shelters at all points on our system where there is considerable transferring between lines or where there are a number of patrons waiting for a car or bus, and the trustees have felt that in view of the deficit at which the railway is being operated they could not justify expenditures for that purpose.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of February 6, 1939, concerning the making of a

Respectfully,

Boston Elevated Railway,
February 17, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of February 9 with order of the City Council, I would say that, due to unusually bad street conditions since the storm, it has been difficult to maintain regularity of service on the Green Street-Centre Street, West Roxbury, bus line.

The scheduled service is adequate for the riding requirements and now that street conditions have improved there should be no further cause for complaint.

The patronage of the line will be watched and any necessary adjustments made in the service to make it satisfactory.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

"Ordered, That the trustees of the White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the possibility of erecting a recreational building in Ward 4.

In City Council, January 30, 1939. Passed." and I herewith submit the following vote passed by the trustees of the George Robert White Fund at their meeting on Thursday, February 2, 1939:

"Voted, That the Manager for the Trustees be directed to advise the Council that the trustees do not feel that the expenditure of the income of this fund for such a purpose would be advisable at this time."

Housing Authority, February 14, 1939.
William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—This will acknowledge receipt of your communication of February 9, 1939, relative to the order passed February 6 in the City Council:

"That the Boston Housing Authority be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make provisions for the establishing of a hospital clinic in the Old Harbor Village."

I am directed by the Authority to advise you that it has given serious consideration to the subject.

It believes, however, that establishment of a hospital clinic in Old Harbor Village is not a function of the Authority, and that establishment of such a clinic would be an unnecessary duplication of existing facilities.

Very truly yours,
FRANCIS X. LANE,
Executive Director For the Authority.

REPAVING BOSTON & ALBANY BRIDGE, ALLSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 24, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen.—I transmit herewith letter from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of January 23, 1939, concerning repaving the surface of the bridge over the Boston & Albany tracks at Cambridge, Linden and Lincoln streets, Allston, the present wooden paving blocks being in extremely dangerous condition for traffic.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY,
Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
February 16, 1939.

To the Mayor of Boston.

In reply to communication to me, from Mr. William T. Doyle, Chief Clerk, dated January 31, 1939, for consideration and report, regarding City Council order of January 23, 1939, concerning the repaving of the surface of the bridge over the Boston & Albany Railroad tracks, at Cambridge, Linden and Lincoln streets, Allston, the present wooden paving blocks being in extremely dangerous condition for traffic, I respectfully offer the following:

The bridge referred to in this communication has three roadways for vehicular traffic. At the present time the surfaces of the northerly and middle roadways are asphalt and the southerly roadway is wood block. Due to the present condition of the wood block on the southerly roadway of this bridge, I see no good reason for continuing this type of surface covering, as it has given considerable trouble.

I will arrange to have this surface replaced by an asphalt pavement a little later on when weather conditions permit.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS, CUMMINS HIGHWAY—BROWN AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 24, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen.—I transmit herewith letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of February 6, 1939, concerning the installation of automatic traffic signals on Cummins Highway, at Brown avenue, Ward 19, in the Sacred Heart Church district of the ward.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY,
Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, February 15, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor.—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order which reads as follows: "Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install automatic traffic signals on Cummins Highway, at Brown avenue, Ward 19, in the Sacred Heart Church district of the ward."

The intersection of Brown avenue and Cummins Highway is flanked by the Sacred Heart Church edifice on one corner and the Sacred Heart Parochial School on the diagonally-opposite corner, and is at the crest of a hill, so that the Cummins Highway approaches to the intersection in both directions are very steep grades.

We are aware that there is a great deal of speeding by motorists using Cummins Highway. However, the records in this office show that, fortunately, this location has not a particularly serious motor vehicle accident record and, in the opinion of our engineers, there are over one hundred other intersections in the city which are not equipped with traffic signals and which are much more hazardous. We believe that these dangerous locations should be signalized before consideration is given to establishing a traffic signal at Brown avenue and Cummins Highway. We agree that it would be desirable, if unlimited funds were available, to install a signal at this location with a pedestrian-actuated push-button feature, which would permit persons crossing the intersection to do so with almost complete safety.

There are no funds available to this commission at present for the installation requested.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Overseers of the Public Welfare,
February 13, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir.—This department has received your communication with inclosed copy of an order from the City Council dated December 19, 1938, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the Boston Housing Authority and the Public Welfare Department the possibility of preference being given Old Age Assistance and Mothers' Aid cases for tenancy in housing projects in Boston, applying to the rental in such cases the proportionate amounts now allowed such cases by the Welfare Department for rent, light and heat."

I have conferred with Mr. John A. Breen, chairman of the Boston Housing Authority, and we both agreed that at a later date it would be in keeping to sit down and look over the problems involved by this order, which will require a great deal of detailed study before an actual full report can be made to the Honorable City Council on the matter.

SHELTER FOR GREEN STREET STATION BUS PATRONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 24, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen.—I transmit herewith letter from the President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway relative to your order of February 6, 1939, concerning the installation of a glass inclosure at Green Street Station for the health, comfort and convenience of those awaiting the bus which travels up Green street to the monument in Jamaica Plain.

Respectfully,
GEORGE A. MURRAY,
Acting Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
February 17, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir.—In reply to your letter of February 9 with order of the City Council relative to the installation of a waiting room at Green Street Station, I would say that it has been the policy of the railway for a number of years to provide shelters or waiting rooms only at prepayment stations.

It would be a very expensive proposition to provide shelters at all points on our system where there is considerable transferring between lines or where there are a number of patrons waiting for a car or bus, and the trustees have felt that in view of the deficit at which the railway is being operated they could not justify expenditures for that purpose.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION RE CITY HOSPITAL NURSES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, February 21, 1939.
Hon. George A. Murray,
Acting Mayor of Boston.

Honorable Sir,—The Finance Commission desires to suggest to you in your capacity as Acting Mayor and to your associate members in the City Council that you be not stampeded into too hasty and perhaps unwarranted action in connection with the current charges of unclean conditions, insufficient help and improper care of patients and sick employees at the Boston City Hospital. The commission deplores general condemnation of this important and extensive public service on the basis of the gossip that has been placed before you.

For nine years the commission has kept on almost permanent assignment at the City Hospital an investigator who has specialized on institutional management, with experience in state as well as in city institutions. The commission, therefore, has first-hand information of the actual conditions there.

From this advantageous position, and in view of the harm being done the City Hospital by the stories circulated in public, many of them at the Council meeting, the commission unhesitatingly states that the specific charges which have been made are not well founded. The public, you—the Acting Mayor—and the members of the Council can be assured that in so far as the cleanliness of the hospital is concerned, the institution is above reproach. It is doubtful if anywhere in the country among public or private institutions is there one which is kept in better physical condition; and yet it is no easy task in this institution which treats approximately 1,500 bed patients and 1,500 more out-patients every day in the year.

The Finance Commission has been a consistent critic of management at the City Hospital. Only recently the commission issued the latest in a long series of reports pointing out defects in management there. The commission aims to make the hospital management as near perfect as possible. Yet the commission has not had occasion to charge that lack of cleanliness is one of the defects.

The commission has made criticism of the number of nurses and the number of other kinds of help. The criticism, however, has been that there were too many nurses and too much other help. The commission based this criticism on comparisons made with other institutions locally and in the large cities of the country. From information at hand right now, there is no lack in number of

In considering the number of general employees at the hospital today it is well to keep in mind that an army of W. P. A. employees, sometimes as many as 1,500, are helping out the regular city employees in physical maintenance of the plant.

It is well, also, to keep in mind that during this particular period of three or four weeks every hospital institution has its peak load of patients. As in other hospitals right now, the City Hospital is filled up with persons suffering from respiratory sickness. Hospital employees are not immune from this type of sickness.

Because the hospital employees come into daily contact with so much of this sickness, because they are human beings susceptible to the same ailments as others, there are more hospital employees off duty now on account of sickness than at any other time in the year. This, however, is a condition that will pass within a few weeks.

The commission is now making an investigation of the nursing situation. It is important at the present time to have it definitely settled as to whether the city can afford to transform the City Hospital School for Nurses into a purely medical educational institution, as it appears is being done.

There is opinion that proper assignment of the present nursing strength will give an ample supply; there is opinion, also, that student nurses, the backbone of the service in all large hospitals, are now spending too much time in classrooms and too little on the floor in the care of patients.

That such a transformation of the nursing facilities is known and appreciated by the Trustees and the Mayor is a matter of doubt. Because of its implications in greater expense in hospital management later, it is a matter that should be carefully surveyed by more than the hospital officials before further commitment.

The commission has not yet become fully informed on this matter, but it has undertaken a study of it. Pending the completion of this study and a report upon it to the Mayor and City Council, the commission believes that any action by the city government leading to increased number of employees would be inadvisable.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID LASKER, Chairman,
ROBERT ROBINSON,
JAMES E. MAGUIRE,
JOSEPH A. SCOLPONETTI,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,
The Finance Commission.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Commerce street, Ward 3.

WORK OF EDWARD F. CASSELL.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor arrange for a thorough investigation of the work of Edward F. Cassell, "City Real Estate Expert," in order to arrive at a reasonable conclusion as to the possibility of reducing the cost of such "expert assistance" to the city; and be it further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor submit to the City Council a complete report of the findings of such investigation.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I have introduced other orders previously in regard to this real estate expert, Cassell, and I feel that the Committee on Appropriations especially should have before it, in type, statement of the work that this man does and has done. I have received information to the effect that Cassell has received in the vicinity of $200,000 in the past four years for real estate expert work. I personally cannot conceive of the city paying anything like $50,000 or $40,000 a year for that type of work, particularly in view of the fact that the Mayor has taken a decrease in his salary and has also cut the salaries of other department heads, in addition to the fact that the city does employ its own real estate experts. In justice to the taxpayers of Boston I feel that something should be done in this Cassell matter.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LEATHER HAND-STRAPS FOR BUS PASSENGERS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately consider equipping buses with leather hand-straps for passengers who are obliged to stand.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, on the surface that order perhaps does not seem very important. However, to those of us who daily use the Elevated buses and witness the hurling and swirling of human beings, who, as a matter of fact, pay for a seat but on the contrary are forced to stand for abuse because of this hurling and swirling, I feel the order has considerable merit. I am aware of the fact that a rod is provided along either side on the interior of the bus, evidently to be used as a hand-rail. However, these rods are located at an altitude that is not within easy reach of the person of average height, as I feel most of the Elevated's passengers are, and they are consequently of very little use. A bus proceeds at a faster rate of speed than a street car ordinarily does. The buses that are in use in the City of Boston are brought to a stop by means of a foot brake. When this foot brake is pressed to the floor the bus is often stopped with a suddenness that invariably pitches the passengers forward and altogether too often with such swiftness that it is a miracle serious injury is avoided. Passengers pay for and are entitled to every measure of comfort and safety that can be reasonably provided, and I hope that the trustees of the Elevated will lose no time in providing the safety that I have asked for in this order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

President MURRAY at 2.20 p. m. declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President MURRAY at 2.40 p. m.

RESURFACING ELLINGTON STREET, WARD 14.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement Ellington street, Ward 14, from Erie street to Blue Hill avenue.

HEALTH UNIT, WARD 14.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of erecting a Health Unit in Ward 14, in the immediate vicinity of Blue Hill avenue and Talbot avenue.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, we were told in a recent communication from the trustees of the George Robert White Fund that they were not now in a position to erect a youth center or recreation center in Ward 14 from the fund. I believe, in view of the fact that several health units have been erected throughout the City of Boston, the trustees might well consider the advisability of locating a health unit in the vicinity of Blue Hill avenue and Talbot avenue, Ward 14, a central location of the Dorchester district. That would be a convenient location for the residents of the district. I trust, therefore, that the order will be passed, and that the trustees of the George Robert White Fund will consider the advisability of erecting such a health unit in Ward 14, in the vicinity suggested, because the residents of that section certainly should have the facilities in this respect afforded to residents of other sections.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF CAR TRACKS, SAVIN HILL AVENUE.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to remove the car tracks on Savin Hill avenue and Stoughton street, Dorchester, which tracks are not being used at present.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUS PERMIT ASKED BY EASTERN MASSACHUSETTS STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Jitney Licenses be requested to submit their report at today's meeting of the Council on the petition of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company to operate buses between Fall River and Park and Haymarket squares in Boston, so that the entire Council may consider and vote on this matter today.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, my reason for introducing this order is that I have had a number of requests from residents of Fall River who want to know whether the members of the Boston City Council are going to take action on the petition of Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company. I think the petition has been before us long enough and that is the reason why I have introduced this order today.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I don't know why residents of Fall River should contact Councilor Kelly on the question of whether the Boston City Council is going to pass on this matter, particularly in view of the fact that the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company and persons interested in the petition have gone to the Legislature on the subject without asking or requesting any hearing before the members of the Boston City Council. They evidently are trying to circumvent the action of the Council and are trying to force the members of this body to act by holding a threat over us. I do not believe they were expecting any action from the Boston City Council or looking to us at all in this matter when they applied to the Legislature. If the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company really want the Boston City Council to act upon the matter they should apply to this body. When they came here in the first place, and when the original petition filed by the Eastern Massachusetts Company was rejected without prejudice, the idea was that they were supposed to bring in another petition, to which there might not be the same objection. This they did not do. Evidently they were planning to introduce a bill into the Legislature secretly, which they did, and even the members of the legislative committee and the Corporation Counsel at the time did not know of any hearings that were going on in the matter. I believe, therefore, that the members of the Boston City Council should not act upon this until it has been brought before us in such a way that we can properly do so. There has been no petition presented to us recently with reference to bringing this bus line into Boston. The people of Fall River are not prevented from coming into the City of Boston, and evidently many people who would be interested in such a line have been misled. The members of the Legislature have had the matter of this bus line presented to them under the impression that people from Fall River could not get into Boston through curtailment of their train service, when as a matter of fact they do have a chance to get in, connecting up with our rapid transit lines. I believe, therefore, that the Boston City Council should not now be dragged into this matter that is pending before the Legislature, a matter in which we are not concerned in any way. I believe petitions in such matters should be properly presented to us and referred to the Committee on Jitneys or other committees of our body. I would move, therefore, that this matter be referred to the Committee on Jitneys.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, it appears to me that the City Council is entirely competent to act upon matters properly presented to it and properly coming under its supervision. It appears in this matter, however, that the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company is using every effort to try to force the Council to put through this measure without giving proper consideration to this body representing our citizens. The matter is now before the Legislature, and all the arguments in favor of allowing this bus line to go through certain streets in Boston have been advanced. It has been stated that we should not bar from the City of Boston those desiring to come here from outside of the city. In answer to that, I will say this, that the people interested in coming into the City of Boston by this bus line are not people coming here with the intention of spending money, but are people who work in the City of Boston and take money away from the city, but do not pay taxes to the city. I think this matter should go through the ordinary channels. If the members of the Legislature desire to take away from the City of Boston the power it now has, that is up to them, but under no circumstances do I think influence should be exercised in one shape or another to force the City Council to pass this measure. If the Legislature wants to take the power away from us, let them do it. They have done it before in the past. But under no consideration should we allow them to force us to act.

The order was referred to the Committee on Jitneys.

NEW STREETS, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the Moss Hill section of Ward 19 with a view of building new streets and improving the old ones which are found to be in need of repair.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PLAYGROUND, JEFFRIES POINT, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of the construction of a playground at the Jeffries Point section of East Boston from the accumulated moneys of the George Robert White Fund.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OBJECTION TO HOUSE BILL 1722.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston City Council hereby records its objection to House Bill 1722, which provided for the appointment of a Director of Civil Service to replace the present commissioner.

Coun. IRWIN—Mr. President, I attended a hearing relative to this bill, House No. 1722, last week at the State House, and the points brought out at the hearing with reference to that bill should be explained to members of the Council who have not had an opportunity to read it. The special commission to study the civil service laws, rules and regulations, with a view to revision thereof, was appointed by the Governor of last year under chapter 82 of the Resolves of 1938. Serving on that special recess commission was the chief examiner of the state's civil service, who specifically in the bill is given the position of director. It is an unusual bill in this respect, that for the first time the appointing power, so far as the director is concerned, was not vested in the Governor. It creates the position of director at $7,500 a year, which is $2,500 more than the present commissioner receives. The bill also puts him under the protection of civil service, and this is the first time in the history of the Commonwealth that any head of a department has been placed under civil service. It does create a supervisory board of five commissioners over the civil service division, but the director is supreme. He appoints and removes all officers and employees that may be required to perform the work of the division of civil service, not subject to approval of the other commissioners. He appoints the examiners, without the approval of anybody else. He selects all questions for examinations. He has the right to hire or fire all civil service employees in the department. He also can reject all appeals taken by any applicant, and the applicant has no right of appeal. I point these things out to members of the City Council, because probably they have not read the bill and do not realize what its provisions are. The bill creates a dictator, if there ever was one, and I believe the Council should go on record against it.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SMOKE NUISANCE AND RAILROAD ELECTRIFICATION.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Smoke Abatement Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit a report of their activities within the residential section of the mid-town area of Boston; and be it further Ordered, That the Smoke Abatement Commission be requested to thoroughly investigate and endeavor to abolish the smoke nuisance which exists within the confines of Ward 4.

Ordered, That the City Council respectfully request his Honor the Mayor to consult the railroad, state and Federal authorities relative to the possibilities of electrifying all the railroads within the City of Boston; and be it further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor submit a complete report of such consultations to the City Council.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the first order I have introduced relates to the smoke nuisance which we have in certain parts of our city. The smoke nuisance in Boston has been recognized for years, and in an attempt to control and abate it sometime ago there was a Smoke Abatement Commission appointed. But in spite of any efforts that that commission may have made, the smoke nuisance, certainly in the mid-town area of Boston, exists, and should be abolished. As far as I can ascertain, no serious efforts have been made to abolish it. Therefore, I trust that the Smoke Abatement Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, will submit a report of the activities of the commission within the residential section of the mid-town area of Boston, and, also, that attempts will be made to abolish the smoke nuisance which exists within the confines of Ward 4. As to the second order, dealing with the question of electrification of the railroads within the City of Boston, I might say that in the city of New York great strides have been made in the direction of such electrification. It has been brought to my attention that much agitation occurred twenty-odd years ago for electrification of the railroads in the City of Boston, but that as yet nothing has been done about it. We have the Federal Government spending millions of dollars in the metropolitan area of Boston on so-called housing projects, supposed to benefit the poor. In the meantime we do not have electrification of the railroads, and the smoke from the railroads, added to the smoke from other sources, constitutes a serious smoke nuisance, affecting the health of our citizens and causing damage to the extent of thousands and millions to property. Something should be done to relieve this condition. Housewives are complaining, real estate men are complaining, people driving about town are complaining. People living in residential areas near railroads are subject to a condition that is a positive menace to their health. Smoke is a nuisance which endangers health. It causes all kinds of diseases. It is something that the government should do something about, and I hope the Mayor will interest himself in the matter. It is much more important to the citizens of Boston to give them clean, fresh air than to erect some of the housing projects that we have seen. The majority of the people are poor or of the middle class, and they are at least entitled to pure air. I certainly trust that the Mayor of Boston will do something about this. It is about time that something was done. Not only the railroads, but also industries of various kinds, are pouring smoke into nearby houses in our residential districts, polluting the air and damaging property, and nothing is done about it. This smoke nuisance, of course, particularly affects some of our most congested areas where there are neighboring industrial activities. We have a congested area in my district, an apartment house area, which suffers greatly from the neighboring use of cheap smoke-producing soft coal. So there is this terrible nuisance going on, and nothing is being done about it. People are getting sick and tired of its continuance, and the public authorities are apparently doing nothing to stop it. What is the Smoke Abatement Commission doing? What is anybody doing about it? Let us try to have something done which will benefit the people of Boston, giving them clean, fresh air. We have done our part on housing, but what have we done to give the people of Boston clean, fresh air? Nothing. I hope that his Honor the Mayor and other governmental authorities will do something to help the people on this fresh air problem.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF EASTBURN STREET, WARD 22.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving Eastburn street, Ward 22, under the W. P. A. type of construction. Passed under suspension of the rule.

RETENTION OF INSURANCE POLICIES BY WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Welfare Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to permit welfare recipients to retain their insurance policies for six months after being put on the welfare rolls.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, during the past year I have had continual complaint made to me that the Welfare Department has ordered recipients to sell their insurance policies, some of them ten, eleven or twelve years old, and some taken out for the education of their children. Others have been endowment policies. After being on welfare for three or four months, if they have been fortunate enough to get on W. P. A., they have obtained means to revive their policies, but the opportunity to do so was gone. So I believe recipients of welfare should be allowed to retain their insurance policies for six months after being put on the welfare rolls, so that they can be kept in effect until the welfare recipients are able to obtain some permanent work.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE TO PERSONS OF SIXTY.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the passage of legislation now pending before the Legislature which will provide old age assistance for needy persons who have reached the age of sixty years.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

USE OF HIGHWAY FUND FOR TRAFFIC LIGHTS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to set aside from the Highway Fund in the budget for the current year a sum sufficient for the installation of traffic lights at the most dangerous frequency-accident intersections.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, recently the Legislature sent back money to the various cities and towns to be used for emergency highway construction. The question naturally suggests itself, What is the best use of such highway fund money? I believe no more proper use can be made of that fund than to employ it for the construction of traffic lights at the most dangerous intersections throughout the city.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION RE CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following orders:

Ordered, That in addition to inquiries made in order passed by the City Council on February 20, the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to at once advise the City Council if it is correct that:

1. During the week of February 14 there were on duty at the City Hospital 244 graduate nurses paid monthly, 400 undergraduate nurses paid weekly, and about 35 student nurses without pay on probation period and, if not, what are the correct figures?

2. There are about 600 nurses on regular duty at the Boston City Hospital?

3. Twenty-seven nurses were out sick as of February 21, 1939?

4. Student nurses on probation during the first three months put in 11 hours a week in ward work?

5. a. During the probationary period of several months student nurses are on active duty four hours a day and the balance of their working time is in class work? b. The number of such girls averages around 80?

6. The number of beds occupied at the Boston City Hospital on the average is 1,200?

7. The number of beds at the Boston City Hospital at present is 1,450?

8. The number of beds now occupied at the Boston City Hospital is about 1,400?

9. The peak period of illness in Boston extends through the months of March and April?

10. Graduate nurses on duty from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. put in nine hours' actual work in the wards?

11. Student nurses on day duty now put in 59 hours a week, not including time spent in class work, for meals or rest periods?

12. Student nurses on night duty now put in 77 hours a week, not including time spent in class work, for meals or rest periods?

13. The new Dowling Building is not yet fully opened and in use?

14. The City Hospital Trustees last August, in making up their budget estimates for the year 1939, requested from 35 to 40 additional nurses?

15. The present service of at least 140 student nurses on ward duty amounts to 11 hours a week?

16. Student nurses are now taking academic courses at Boston University, supplementing practical instruction and work at the City Hospital?

17. The average student nurse now in the probation class does only 11 hours of work a week in ward duty?

18. Graduate nurses now work 109 hours a fortnight with one day off in 14, except affiliate nurses who have no day off?

19. Fifty-two graduate nurses at the Boston City Hospital are now serving as floor duty nurses in a supervisory capacity, rendering no direct service to patients?

20. Seven graduate nurses are serving as matrons at three nurses' houses?

21. Five graduate nurses are now assigned in charge of scrubwomen and cleaners at the City Hospital?

22. In the training school office of the City Hospital, in addition to four secretaries and bookkeepers, there are 11 graduate nurses now serving as supervisors and instructors?

23. Approximately 50 nurses, for lack of room, are now housed at the Franklin Square House? and be it further Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to advise the City Council:

a. The number of hours per week spent by graduate nurses in classroom or instruction work in addition to their hours of duty in the wards.

b. The number of hours per week spent in classroom work by student nurses on day duty.

c. The number of hours per week spent in classroom work by student nurses on night duty.

Whereas, The trustees of the Boston City Hospital on February 18 stated they "have been concerned for a long time as to the matter of sufficient nursing personnel and the auxiliary personnel that goes with the care of patients"; and

Whereas, The trustees on February 18 further disclosed that they "have in this year's budget requested an increase in both types of employment with the idea of reducing the working hours of the nursing personnel so that the individuals concerned can give more adequate care to the patients, and, in addition to that, since the submission of the budget,—realizing the importance of this situation,—have submitted further request for additional help in connection with the nursing service"; and

Whereas, The trustees, in a telegram to the City Council on February 20, stated that the hospital was "overcrowded with sick people of every nature in every department"; and asking the Council to suspend the proposed examination for a few weeks "until this grave emergency is passed"; and

Whereas, The recent annual report of the Finance Commission states that "From time to time over a period of years the commission has found it necessary to bring forcibly to the Mayor's attention instances of improper management and control of the City Hospital"; and

Whereas, The Finance Commission disclosed on February 21 that "For nine years the commission has kept on almost permanent assignment at the City Hospital an investigator who has specialized in institution management," and that "The Finance Commission has been a constant critic of management at the City Hospital"; and

Whereas, The Finance Commission, despite the reported nine years of close supervision by a specialist on institution management, is not yet "fully informed on this matter," although the commission reports an opinion that "Student nurses are now spending too much time in the classroom and too little time on the floor in the care of patients"; and

Whereas, Student nurses on night duty in the wards are at present putting in seventy-seven hours per week; and

Whereas, Over two-thirds of the nursing staff at the City Hospital is composed of student nurses; and

Whereas, The hospital is now filled to within fifty beds of capacity, although the annual peak of sickness is not expected until the months of March and April; therefore, be it

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be urgently requested, through the Acting Mayor, promptly to submit its promised report on the matter of nursing care of patients at the Boston City Hospital in order that the City Council may have such helpful information relating to its present inquiry whether the present inordinate working hours of nurses at the hospital and the present lack of nurse attendants in the wards is due to an inadequate number of nurses, as intimated by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital in their budget,—or, as intimated by the Finance Commission, is due to student nurses "spending too much time in classrooms and too little time on the floor in care of patients," or both.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the reason for the introduction of this rather long and detailed order is that I realize that the remarks made in the City Council are probably not read by the Finance Commission. I have therefore thought it well to introduce a detailed order of this kind so as to bring to their attention the importance of complying with the request made. The requests enumerated are in addition to those contained in the order passed at the last meeting of the Council. Last Monday an order making various inquiries of the trustees of the Boston City Hospital was passed by the Council. Doctor Manary as Superintendent of the Hospital, the Superintendent of Nurses and the Budget Commissioner were all invited to be present. The mother of a student nurse reported certain facts to the Council, most especially relating to inadequacy of active nursing service in the various busy wards of the hospital, unreasonable working hours required of the nursing staff and improper housing of our nurses, together with other facts more directly concerning her own daughter. The result has been a barrage of apparently conflicting statements by the trustees of the hospital and the Boston Finance Commission, together with a number of unfair editorials by certain Boston newspapers unwilling to accept as facts even those items admitted to be true by the hospital authorities themselves. I am quite willing to comply with the request of the trustees that our proposed hearings be suspended for a few weeks, at which time we are assured the hospital authorities will be glad to meet with us. But meanwhile, with the month of March only two days away, I do feel that the question of the number of nurses active in ward work, and the question of hours of active service required of student nurses should be given prompt consideration. Taking the statements of both the Finance Commission and the trustees of the hospital at 100 per cent face value, it is indisputable that there are too few nurses actively on floor duty in the wards at the hospital. Despite smoke screens and propaganda and unfair, inspired comment, any fair-minded person, able to understand English, unescapably must reach that conclusion on reading official statements from the Finance Commission and the Hospital Trustees. The situation existed before the present Mayor was elected. We are dealing with facts and not gossip. Until we have heard all the facts it is not for us to determine whether the situation is due to an insufficient number of nurses, or due to the fact that student nurses are spending too much time in classrooms and too little time on the floor in care of patients, or both. The situation has given considerable concern to the trustees themselves "for a long time." The Finance Commission "has been a constant critic of management at the City Hospital." The peak months of illness in Boston are close upon us. Already the hospital is "overcrowded with sick people of every nature in every department." Certainly we should be able to determine whether there are over 800 nurses at the hospital as stated by Councilor Norton last Monday, or 725 as estimated by Mr. Manning, the chairman of the trustees, or about 600 as stated by Doctor Manary last Tuesday. It would appear that in the "grave emergency" admitted by the trustees to now exist, the Finance Commission, having "for nine years" kept "an investigator specialized on institutional management" in close supervision of the hospital, a report may be expected to clearly define the views of the Finance Commission on the matter at once.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

MAYOR TOBIN BROADCASTS ADDRESS ON "AMERICANISM" AS PART OF NATION-WIDE CEREMONIES INSTITUTED BY ORDER OF ELKS TO REMIND CITIZENS OF HERITAGE OF DEMOCRACY PASSED ON TO THEM FROM THE FOUNDATION OF THE GOVERNMENT AND THE FIRST SESSION OF CONGRESS — WEEK SET ASIDE BY ORDER FOR PATRIOTIC REFLECTION AND ENUMERATION OF NATIONAL BLESSINGS — ASSAILS ENEMIES OF DEMOCRACY AT HOME AND ABROAD.

The following is the address of his Honor, Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor of Boston, broadcast over Station WAAB, at 2.45 p. m., Wednesday, March 8, in support of "Americanism Week," nationally sponsored by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks:

In these blustering days of March, a century and a half ago, there assembled at New York the first Congress of the United States held in accord with the Constitution just then adopted. The members of the first Senate and the first House of Representatives, riding horseback or by stage coach from their distant homes, gathered but slowly at the appointed meeting place. More than a month elapsed after March 4, 1789, before a quorum was found present in the two Houses, Congress was formally organized, and George Washington became the nation's first Chief Executive.

President Washington, standing forth to deliver his inaugural address, made his first official act an offer of prayer. He lifted up "fervent supplications," he said, "to that Almighty Being who rules over the universe, who presides in the councils of nations, and whose providential aids can supply every human defect, that his benediction may consecrate to the liberties and happiness of the people of the United States a government instituted by themselves for these essential purposes."

Thus, in obedience to the Constitution, which is the nation's highest written law, and in reverent prayer to the Divine Power which is higher still, the United States Government drew the first breath of official life in the form which has endured for 150 years to this day. Thanks to that great beginning, the country has a President who is still the head servant, not the haughty dictator of his people, a Congress recognized as one of the most useful and influential legislative bodies in all the history of mankind, ancient or modern, and a Supreme Court sworn to keep both the President and the Congress ever within the bounds of the Constitution ordained by vote of the people.

Pledge to Democracy.

Now we are called upon to remember that great beginning which took place a century and a half ago, and to pledge ourselves anew to the preservation of our democratic way of government, strong and unimpaired through centuries yet to come. As Mayor of the City of Boston and as a private citizen, I am glad always to give my heart and hand to that inspiring task, and I am especially glad to recognize the effort just now being made to secure widespread public notice of these early days of March as "Americanism Week" throughout the land. By special vote the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has set aside this week as a time for patriotic service, rallying good Americans to fresh thought of our national blessings and fresh determination to stand firm against enemies and detractors of democracy, whether the hostile voices be those of tyrants in foreign lands or of traitors within our midst.

Dr. Edward J. McCormick, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, has clearly stated the order's objectives. "In 1,500 communities," Doctor McCormick recently announced by a nation-wide broadcast, "we shall promote meetings in schools, gatherings of adults and civic ceremonies to bring home to the people of the land the fact that our great nation, which has basked in the glow of God's smile, is being assailed and threatened. We shall marshal from all sources, men and women to help us carry on the fight in every available channel, to the end that America shall not be taken from us, but that it shall be given to our children, even as it was given to us — a golden land of liberty and opportunity, governed by and for the people. We shall warn them that no type of paternalism, socialism, communism, or any other 'ism' can be substituted for liberty, freedom, initiative, opportunity and independence and self-respect."

No 50-50 Americans.

In other words, Doctor McCormick is emphasizing much the same idea that President Theodore Roosevelt had in mind when he issued his famous warning: "There can be no fifty-fifty Americanism in this country. There is room here only for 100 per cent Americanism."

MAYOR TOBIN SHARES IN CEREMONIES INAUGURATING CAMPAIGN OF BOSTON UNIVERSITY TO SECURE FUNDS FOR EXPANSION OF EDUCATIONAL PLANT AND INCREASING FACILITIES FOR BENEFIT OF NEW ENGLAND YOUTH — INSTITUTION SEEKS $1,000,000 FOR MEDICAL CENTER — MAYOR PREDICTS SUCCESS FOR EFFORTS UNDERTAKEN.

The following is the address of Mayor Tobin at Boston University School of Medicine dinner at Copley-Plaza Hotel, March 13:

It is indeed a pleasure to be present tonight and to participate in a function conducted by the largest unit of Boston's biggest business.

Education is Boston's biggest business. More money is invested in educational institutions in this city and its environs than in any other single industry or business. Boston University, from the point of view of numbers served, is the largest unit in that business not only in Boston but in all New England.

In other sections of the country, particularly in the Middle West and the far West, most universities are supported by state funds. This is not true in Boston or New England. The great majority of educational institutions of this section are supported by private funds and by student fees, and this largest university in New England is no exception. It can exist only as generous citizens, realizing its importance to their own and the community's welfare, support it with their money. Today, Boston University has less money than many of its sister New England institutions. Despite this, however, it performs a great service for a greater number of young men and women than any other single New England university. It is a great democratic institution. At its gates are no bars to race, creed or color — all are welcome, provided they have a sincere desire to learn and to serve.

As Mayor of the City of Boston I am proud of Boston University, and I glory in its democratic ideals and in its tradition of true service. I join, too, in the enthusiasm which is growing daily for its plans for expansion. I am sure that under the leadership of President Marsh, Boston soon will have reason to point with pride to the beautiful new campus on the Charles river. Already we can see the impressive new home for the College of Business Administration on that campus.

Tonight we have come to inaugurate a campaign for another step in this great program for Boston University — a program that is fast bringing to reality the dreams of President Marsh and the Board of Trustees. The School of Medicine of Boston University ranks second to no educational institution in its importance to New England. To improve that school, to give it a new building in the heart of New England's largest medical center, is a real contribution to every citizen of these six New England states. I am confident that this present effort to raise a million dollars for the School of Medicine will be successful, and that this will be only the first step in a series of continuing improvements for this school. I know that you who are here tonight are the ones who are going to make this first step successful, and I want you to know that you have the heartfelt good wishes of the citizens of Boston, and what is more important, I believe you will have their financial support.

HERITAGE OF DEMOCRACY.

What President Roosevelt meant by his vigorous speech, the scholar in the White House, President Woodrow Wilson, helped us to understand when he gave the simplest and clearest definition of Americanism that anyone has ever offered. "Americanism," said President Wilson, "consists in utterly believing in the principles of America."

What these principles are you know well. They are briefly summarized in the classic statement of "The American's Creed" approved by an act of Congress. Let me quote that creed to you once more:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

Such, I submit, is the well-established faith which every American is richly justified in sharing, and yet, in recent years, a loud outcry has been raised against democratic institutions not only by arrogant totalitarian nations abroad, but also by many critics and malcontents here at home.

These enemies of democracy take delight in emphasizing and exaggerating the economic difficulties of our time. They ring false alarms from morning till night, striving to make our citizens believe that the American system of private enterprise has come to the end of its usefulness. They would substitute a system of bureaucratic dictatorship over every resource of our nation, over every man's business, small or large, over the private lives and even the inmost thoughts of all our citizens. Only by such methods, say the Bolsheviks and the National Socialists, can unemployment be banished from the land and jobs be provided for all.

ARGUMENTS OF ENEMIES.

"Of what use is free speech," these partisan critics plead, "unless a man has a job? A man and his family cannot live by words alone. They cannot eat newspapers, no matter how free is the press. Look at the totalitarian nations. They once had widespread unemployment, but now they have abolished it. They have provided jobs for all."

On this theme the Communists and National-Socialists are never tired of boasting. There is something to be said for their case. But, mark my words, the boasting totalitarians don't tell you the half of it!

What the alien critics do not admit to you is that the abolition of unemployment in Russia, Germany and even in Italy has been accomplished in large part by virtual enslavement of millions of workers. In many cases, men and women have been provided jobs under conditions which we in America would consider little better than those of convict-labor. Wages are far under the American standard in actual buying power, the ability of the average worker under a dictatorial government to buy food and clothing for himself and his children is less in many cases than the United States now provides for those of its citizens who are receiving public relief. Yet the subjects of the dictator can find no path of redress. The right of organized labor to take a stand for better wages or working conditions has been trampled in the dust. If the individual worker complains or protests, he is likely to find his so-called "work card" taken from him. And with this system, as invented in Soviet Russia and copied in Germany, there goes the virtual power of life or death. A man who has been deprived of his "work-card" is condemned to death by starvation almost as surely as though he had been sentenced to die by hanging or in the electric chair.

Again, the partisans of dictatorship and the enemies of democracy seldom admit, in all their boasting, that the abolition of unemployment by the totalitarian governments has been accomplished largely by turning the whole system of national industry and finance away from the normal pursuits of peace, and bending the whole national economy to the preparation for war, the upbuilding of huge armaments.

A standard slogan in Nazi Germany today is the cry that "guns are better than butter." There is endless use of money for machine guns, for death-dealing submarines, for huge bombing planes, but the funds to feed, clothe and educate the German people are being steadily ground down lower and lower.

GREAT THRONGS COMMITTED.

Despite the monster celebrations organized by the dictators and the recreational programs provided for the pleasure and excitement of the people, it is almost as though the hyperbole spoken by Thomas Jefferson more than a century ago had become in some foreign nations of our time literally and precisely true. "The European nations," said President Jefferson, and I quote his own words, "are nations of eternal war. All their energies are expended in the destruction of the labor, property and lives of their people."

And it is for such a work of destruction that the dictators declare themselves justified in practising the grossest wrongs and cruelties of expropriation against millions of their own helpless subjects — first in Russia by the so-called "liquidation" or mass-extinction of the thrifty, hard-working farmers known as Kulaks, and then in Germany by the horrible persecutions of the Jews, one of the most monstrous outrages ever recorded in history.

Yet it is at the risk of repetition of just such brutal destruction here in America, and at the risk, nay, even the encouragement of class-struggle, class-expropriation and class-murder that the alien propagandists in our midst would have the people of the United States abandon the protection of our system of representative government, our rights of free speech, and our guarantees of protection to all citizens in their persons and property—nay, even the sacred right of every American to worship God according to the principles and tenets of his faith.

Such an abandonment of the hard-won rights and civil immunities of our people, such a reversion to barbarism, such a plunge into paganism and the tyranny of the Dark Ages, the citizens of the United States will never tolerate, I am certain. They will fight courageously against any least promulgation of such benighted doctrines here. They will sternly oppose and put down every propagandist who would assail the institutions of democracy.

All this is not to say that the United States has any purpose to abandon its traditional policy of non-interference in the domestic affairs of foreign nations. Self-respecting Americans cannot stand dumbly silent and fail to rebuke by their voices the shocking wrongs recently perpetrated in some of the totalitarian countries, yet they will abstain from meddlesome deeds or unwarranted intrusions of any sort into matters normally under the jurisdiction of other nations.

But this does not mean that the United States will fail in its traditional devotion to the cause of peace and justice, or that the defense of American rights on American soil will be allowed for one moment to languish. On the contrary, these troubled times in Europe have more and more convinced the American people that this nation must be adequately prepared for self-defense, and that large expenditures for this purpose are well justified. If any threat be brought, which directly and clearly endangers this blessed land of ours, America will be found ready and willing as ever to fight for the defense of American institutions and American liberties.

Reverence for God and devotion to the American flag—these are qualities which eternally symbolize Americanism. Valiant they are, and victorious they will ever be.

As Mayor of this liberty-loving city I urge you to reconsider any action which you may have in mind which will tend to eliminate the Jewish National Homeland.

MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

VETO OF LEGISLATION INCREASING POLICEMEN'S PENSIONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 6, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith without my signature and disapproved two resolutions of your Honorable Body—one in favor of legislation to increase the pensions of policemen formerly pensioned on account of injuries to an amount equal to that which would be allowed under the Retirement Act to a policeman presently retired for the same reason; and the other favoring a similar provision in the case of a former policeman, Fred G. Trask.

Prior to the adoption of the Retirement System a large number of employees, including laborers, firemen, policemen, school teachers, etc., were granted free pensions of amounts based on the salary schedules at the time of pensioning, and the City of Boston is still under a charge of over $900,000 for such pensions.

The claim that these pensioned policemen should receive an increase in pension because someone else who was pensioned later gets a larger amount is equally applicable to firemen, laborers and school teachers, therefore the proposed legislation would establish a precedent which logically would call for similar increases for the other classes of employees.

The city is in no position to indulge in any generous impulses, especially when such action might lead to an estimated increase of more than $800,000 a year in free pension payments.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

SALE OF LAND TO MERCHANTS NATIONAL BANK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 6, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order for the sale to the Merchants National Bank of two square feet of land on Congress street, being a portion of said street discontinued by the Board of Street Commissioners. The order is accompanied by an explanatory letter from the Corporation Counsel, and I see no objection to and recommend its passage.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 3, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—By a resolve and order of the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston approved by the Mayor of Boston on February 14, 1939, Dock square, a highway in Boston, was widened from Devonshire street to Congress street and about 325 square feet of the premises belonging to the Merchants National Bank were taken for street purposes, in order that said widening might be accomplished.

By a resolve and order of the said Board of Street Commissioners, approved by his Honor the Mayor February 14, 1939, a portion of Congress street, containing two square feet, was discontinued. The said discontinuance is shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Dock Square, Boston Proper, December 31, 1938, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department." This discontinued portion of Congress street is contiguous to the property of the Merchants National Bank. The Merchants National Bank desires to obtain ownership of this discontinued portion of Congress street and is willing to pay the sum of two dollars therefor.

I am informed by the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston that the said discontinued premises are no longer needed for public purposes and I am inclosing an order herewith which may be introduced in the City Council if the matter meets with your Honor's approval, authorizing the conveyance of all the city's right, title and interest in the said parcel of land to the Merchants National Bank.

Very truly yours,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

Whereas, By a resolve and order of the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston, approved by his Honor the Mayor of Boston February 14, 1939, Dock square, a highway in Boston Proper, was widened from Devonshire street to Congress street and three hundred and twenty-five (325) square feet of the premises belonging to the Merchants National Bank of Boston were taken to accomplish the said widening; and

Whereas, By vote dated February 8, 1939, the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston determined that no person sustained damage by said widening and made no awards for damages on account of said widening; and

Whereas, The Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston, by a resolve and order approved by his Honor the Mayor of Boston February 14, 1939, discontinued a portion of Congress street, consisting of two square feet, contiguous to the premises of the Merchants National Bank of Boston; and

Whereas, The Merchants National Bank of Boston is desirous of obtaining the ownership of said two square feet; and

Whereas, The said two square feet are no longer needed for public purposes; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized by an instrument in writing, satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston, and in consideration of two dollars ($2.00) paid to the City of Boston by the Merchants National Bank of Boston, a corporation organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to convey to the said Merchants National Bank of Boston all the city's right, title and interest in the said two square feet discontinued as aforesaid.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be immediately sent to each member of the Boston School Committee.

W. P. A. PROJECT FOR SIDEWALKS ON MORTON STREET.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include, in a W. P. A. project, asphalt sidewalks on Old Morton street, between River street and Morton street, and also on Morton street, between Gallivan Boulevard and Washington street, in Ward 17.

OPPOSITION TO HOUSE BILL 2645.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council be, and hereby is, recorded in opposition to House Bill 2645, filed by Representative Hamilton Fish in the 76th Congress, in its present form, which would seem to make unlawful any meeting, drill or parade, even by fraternal organizations; and be it further

Resolved, That the City Clerk be directed to forward a certified copy of this resolution to the Clerk of the House of Representatives in the 76th Congress.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I ask that the resolutions be passed under suspension of the rule. While I realize that the bill proposed by Congressman Hamilton Fish was introduced with the best of motives behind it, it would seem that the bill in attempting to remedy a serious situation goes from one extreme to the other. The bill is entitled: "A Bill to regulate the formation and activities of private military forces in the United States, and for other purposes." It provides in Section 3:

"It shall be unlawful for any five or more persons to organize or to associate together as or in a camp, club, company, organization, association, society, or any other fashion, for the purpose of drill or parade with firearms or other dangerous weapons, or with imitations, copies or replicas thereof, or for any five or more persons, whether organized or not, to engage in such drill or parade in any public or private place."

As I read that act, in its present form, while, as I say, the motive behind it may have been of the best, it might prevent such fraternal organizations or associations as the Ancient and Honorable Artillery, the Knights of Columbus, the Odd Fellows, Knights Templars or other such organizations from drilling in their own halls or parading in a perfectly proper way.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, while I am not opposed to the resolutions offered by the councilor, and am not a member of the organizations he has named, I think before we pass such resolutions too hastily they should be referred to the Committee on Rules for consideration, so that we may have the bill itself before us before passing judgment.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I would suggest that it be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I have no objection to that.

The resolutions were referred to the Executive Committee.

OPINION REQUESTED ON CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to at once advise the City Council whether the provisions of sections 1 and 2 of chapter 113 of the Statutes of 1858, entitled, "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Establish a City Hospital," are still in full force and effect and, if not, then in exactly what respects has this statute been altered, amended or repealed.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I might say that the information obtained through the passage of this order may very well be helpful incident to the proposed investigation of the City Hospital. In section 1 of the statute referred to, chapter 113 of the Statutes of 1858, being an act authorizing the City of Boston to establish a city hospital, we find this language:

"The city of Boston is hereby authorized to erect, establish and maintain a hospital for the reception of persons who, by misfortune or poverty, may require relief during temporary sickness."

It lies in my mind, and I believe we will find as a result of the investigation, that the original purpose in erecting, establishing and maintaining the hospital,—the care of those who, by misfortune or poverty, might require temporary aid,—has been lost sight of, and that the number of private patients placed in this great institution by medical men and others with sufficient influence at the hospital, has limited to some extent the care of the unfortunate and poor. I make that statement advisedly, because I believe, if I were called upon to prove it, I could give names and dates of cases where unfortunate poor sick people of Boston have been taken to the hospital by ambulance or conveyance, have not received the care they should have, and have been sent away. Therefore, I have asked in this order whether this statute establishing the hospital in 1858 has since been altered, amended or repealed in any particular.

I would like that information before proceeding further. I am inclined to believe that one reason why there is not always at the present time accommodations for persons who, by reason of misfortune or poverty, may require relief during temporary sickness, is because of the use of the beds by such other patients as I have referred to. Therefore, I am asking for this information before we proceed further. I might add that section 2 of the Acts of 1858, if it has not been altered in any way, provides that "the City Council of said city shall have power to make such ordinances, rules and regulations as they may deem expedient for the appointment of trustees and all other necessary officers, agents, and servants, for managing the said hospital." I think, when the Committee on Hospitals takes up these various matters that have been temporarily postponed it will be, of course, advisable for us to know the City Council's power in the matter.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ONE DAY OFF IN SEVEN FOR POLICEMEN.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston City Council hereby accepts the provisions of chapter 122 of the Acts of 1938, providing for one day off in every seven days for police officers of the City of Boston.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, as I remember it, in 1937 an act was passed by the Legislature giving permission to local cities and towns to allow at least one day off in seven to police officers in every city and town in Massachusetts except the City of Boston. Because the Boston Representatives and Senators were not interested, Boston was made the one exception. That exception was apparently cured in the session of 1938, so that the act to which I have made reference, chapter 122 of the Acts of 1938, permits the City of Boston to give to the members of its Police Department one day off in seven, in accordance with the police force practice in every large city of the country. It is for that reason that I have offered this order at this time. I do not believe in allowing our Police Department or any other department to indulge in luxury or idleness, but, as I view it, the members of the Police Department are not idle. For instance, on election days many of them are not only busy during the voting hours, but also through the night, and when they get through that duty they frequently have to report for other police duty the following morning and put in another day's work. I have in mind the fact that the police of Boston frequently, after working on night duty, must be in attendance the next morning at the office of the District Attorney or in the courts of the Commonwealth.

They were given double duty, for example, recently, during the drive against the crime wave in the City of Boston. I understand that as a result of the order passed by this Council in that connection, a large number of day men were placed on night duty, that many of the day shift in various stations were ordered out also at night, and then the next day had to take up other duties of the department. That was because of the splendid efforts by the Police Commissioner to cut down crime in the City of Boston. I do believe in this modern day, when such efforts are being made to prevent sweatshop and other such conditions, calling for long hours of labor, the men on our police force, as well as other employees in the community, should have their day off in the week. I also bear in mind what I believe to be a fact, unless it has recently been corrected, that a member of the Police Department is not even permitted to go beyond the city boundaries without the consent of his commanding officer. Certainly, the men in that department who are obliged to risk their lives and subject themselves to all sorts of dangers in the performance of their duty, and who are now compelled to give long hours of service, putting in extra time without additional compensation, should at least be given one day off in seven, something which I believe is given to every police officer in every other large city of the country today.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DEMOLITION OF ATLANTIC AVENUE LOOP.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Whereas, The train service on the Atlantic avenue loop has been discontinued for some six months by the Boston Elevated Railway Company; and

Whereas, The structure having thus been virtually abandoned still remains on the streets of Boston as a needless traffic hazard; and

Whereas, There is reported to be a movement on foot to pay a large sum of money to the Boston Elevated Railway Company for a conveyance of this abandoned structure; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the enactment of such legislation as shall at once cause the so-called Atlantic avenue loop to be promptly demolished and removed by the State Public Works Department or such agency as may be necessary for such work under the law.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, some months ago at my request the City Council unanimously passed a resolution approving the enactment of legislation to provide for the removal of the elevated structure of the Boston Elevated from the junction of Washington and Castle streets to the junction of Causeway street, known as the Atlantic avenue structure, said structure being no longer used for the transportation of passengers, and the Law Department was directed to bring proceedings in the General Court of 1939 to accomplish such removal. The proposed act which was introduced (House Bill 116) appears to provide for the purchase of the structures by the city and removal of same by the city. The amount to be paid the Elevated as full compensation for such conveyance and for any alleged loss or damage resulting to the company by reason of the removal of the elevated structure was left open. As long ago as March, 1937, when at least part of the Atlantic avenue route was still in use, Mr. H. I. Harriman, then chairman of the trustees of the Elevated, in a letter to the chairman of the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs in the Legislature, while endeavoring to show that the book value of this dilapidated structure was over three million dollars, made several important admissions.

Among other summarized advantages of removing the Atlantic avenue route, he pointed out that it would effect a saving of approximately $200,000 per year in the operating expenses and carrying charges of the Elevated; that it would be of substantial benefit to property along Atlantic avenue and in the downtown section, eventually resulting in substantial increases in valuation and taxes, and that it would largely increase the usefulness of Atlantic avenue as a thoroughfare. As part of the sales talk he further pointed out that the cost of the scrap iron obtained should almost meet the cost of removing the structure. Since March of 1937, almost two years ago, we have been told that the demolition would result in no net loss, because of the increased value of scrap iron. Train service on the final link in the Atlantic avenue elevated structure, as I remember it, was discontinued last autumn, some six months ago. During the term of the operation the Atlantic avenue line was a loss, and the deficit charged back to the City of Boston over a period of years amounted to thousands of dollars. Two years ago Mr. Harriman admitted that closing the line would result in a saving of $200,000 annually. The Elevated Railroad, because of cessation of all train service on the loop, would seem to have abandoned its franchise. This unsightly, noisy, unsanitary and derelict traffic hazard still remains on the streets of the City of Boston. It should be demolished. If it still remains on the books of the Boston Elevated Railway as one of its watered assets, that is no concern of ours. If it could not be demolished, torn down and removed without any net loss, I believe the Elevated should be forced to clear away this abandoned eyesore. But it can be demolished without any real expense in view of the salvage value of the scrap iron. The present monstrosity should be at once condemned, just as any dilapidated, unoccupied and abandoned building or other structure on land belonging to you or to me would be condemned. It is a source of filth and cause of disease. It destroys adjacent property values. It is a continuing, unnecessary and dangerous traffic hazard. I see no logical reason why the City of Boston should pay anything for it. If the Elevated wants to quibble or haggle about it, then let us force their hands at the present time. I believe our Law Department and the Mayor can see to it that for once the City of Boston receives a square deal. The car-riding public and the taxpayers of Boston have been sold out to the Elevated long enough. Here is the opportunity for the city government to show what it can do.

Ordered, That the Building Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to at once condemn that part of the elevated structure of the Boston Elevated Railway Company now abandoned, and known as the Atlantic avenue loop; and, further, that he be requested to provide for its early demolition either as a W. P. A. project or otherwise, unless same is removed by the Boston Elevated.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I bear in mind the excellent point made in the report of 1938 by the special commission to investigate relative to the removal of the Atlantic avenue section of the road, that the taxpayers have in effect already paid for the Atlantic avenue structure, and that caused the special commission of 1938 to express the opinion that the structure should be transferred to the City of Boston without any further payment. I read from section 4 of the existing building law, as follows:

"The commissioner, or one of his inspectors, shall inspect every building or other structure which he has reason to believe is unsafe or dangerous to life, limb or adjoining buildings," and he has authority to remove the same.

And under section 5:

"If the public safety so requires, the commissioner, with the approval of the Mayor, may at once enter the building or other structure which he finds unsafe or dangerous, the land on which it stands or the abutting land or buildings, with such assistance as he may require, and secure or remove the same," and for this purpose may close a public highway. The expense incurred thereby may be recovered from the owner thereof in action of contract.

Therefore, Mr. President, I urge seriously, in view of the present conditions—and bearing in mind that this dilapidated structure has for years been subject to waterfront obsolescence and depreciation on one of the most traveled traffic routes in Boston—in fact, the heaviest traffic route between the North and South Shores—that that structure, which has been definitely abandoned for good or bad—especially for good—by the Boston Elevated as long ago as October, should now be condemned. I believe, under the present law, such an old, archaic, dilapidated structure may be found by the Building Commissioner, if he really wants to do it, to be subject to condemnation proceedings. The Boston Elevated could then be notified to take it down or salvage the cost of taking it down; but the Building Commissioner would have the right to go in under condemnation procedure. He could do it, or it might be done by the Public Works Department. But, while the structure should be abolished, if there is a movement on foot incident to that—and this would be in line with past history—to pay the Elevated an additional amount for this abandoned structure, thereby hamstringing the city, it should certainly be turned down. While this may appear on the books of the Elevated, certainly at the present time and under the circumstances there is absolutely no rhyme or reason for the Elevated being paid one cent by the city for this abandoned structure, and for that reason I ask that the Building Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to at once condemn that part of the elevated structure known as the Atlantic avenue loop, and that he be requested to provide for its early demolition, either as a W. P. A. project or otherwise, unless it is removed by the Elevated. Certainly, the City of Boston should be put to no further expense in the matter to help out this defunct railroad.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, there are so many whereas attached to the resolution just read that I would like a chance to look it over. Therefore, I move its reference to the Executive Committee.

The order and resolution were referred to the Executive Committee.

OPPOSITION TO PURCHASE OF ELEVATED COMMON STOCK.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby opposes the purchase of the 238,794 shares of the common stock of Boston Elevated Railway Company, at $60 per share, total, $14,327,640, or at any price, by the fourteen cities and towns of Boston Metropolitan District, as provided by House Bill 154 of 1939, "An Act Authorizing Retirement of the Common Stock of Boston Elevated Railway Company"; and the Corporation Counsel for the City of Boston, through his Honor the Mayor, is hereby requested to oppose said bill at hearings before the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, on March 13, 1939, or any other dates, and before any other committees of the General Court where said bill may be heard; and said Corporation Counsel is also requested to oppose the passage of said bill before the Senate and House of the General Court.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, lest it might be said that this is an affair of the Legislature, and within its province—I will admit that the Legislature has taken unto itself many of the proper functions of the city government of Boston—I desire to point out the very obvious fact that, because of the present set-up of the road, the taxpayers of the City of Boston are probably paying about 60 per cent of the annual deficit of the Boston Elevated. Despite the desire of some members of the Legislature to run the City of Boston for us, I believe that a locality that has been really paying from 50 to 60 per cent of the freight annually for years is the locality that is primarily interested in any attempt to buy the worthless stock of the Boston Elevated through action of this year's Legislature. There is a lot of money involved; there is a lot of powerful pressure being brought to bear to put this thing through. We have all seen figures of the Boston Elevated stocks and bonds. There are powerful factors behind this proposal to pay $60 a share for stock that is not worth a dollar. I honestly believe that, unless public opinion is aroused, because everyone is so tired out on this Elevated question, there might be jammed through the Legislature a bill, strange as it may seem, to pay real money for worthless stock; and I believe it is incumbent upon the City of Boston to make its stand plain at the very outset concerning this matter at the hearing on the 15th of March on the bill to purchase this worthless stock at a high price. Let our position be known at this time, as well as before the committee that is giving a hearing upon the matter. I believe it is incumbent upon us to take a stand on this matter and do what we can to prevent this calamity at this or any other time. In view of the effort that is being made to use public funds, directly or indirectly, to bail out the stockholders of this company in any such way, I believe we should make our position clear once and for all. I trust that this resolution will be passed.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I think probably the Elevated stock is not worth $60 under present conditions, but certainly it is worth a good deal more than a dollar, because, unfortunately, we have had to pay $5 a share on it for some years and are under a contract to do so until the end of the period of public control. That certainly makes the stock worth something, irrespective of the value of the assets. It would be very pleasant to get that stock for $1 per share, where $5 per share is to be paid upon it for the next twenty years. It would be a great bargain. Therefore, I do not believe we should pass the resolution the gentleman has offered, which says that the stock should not be purchased "at any price."

Coun. WILSON—Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. SHATTUCK—Certainly.

Coun. WILSON—Assuming that the Elevated Company is insolvent, is there anything to prevent receivership proceedings?

Coun. SHATTUCK—The Control Act provides that the district shall pay the entire operating expenses during the period of control plus $5 per share on the stock, and that any deficit shall be charged to the district. I don't believe that the Elevated is insolvent, and if it is insolvent this guaranty is an asset. I assume that it is an asset of value.

Coun. WILSON—Then, the theory is that because we are stuck millions of dollars the road is not insolvent?

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I am not defending the act, but am simply speaking of what exists because of what has been done.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I would like to ask whether or not the Legislature would have a right to do these things when there is already in existence a contract between the Elevated and the State, I presume, to pay the dividend over a series of years?

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I would not attempt to pass on the legal question involved, except that I know that House Bill 1154 has been introduced into the Legislature to authorize the buying of the common stock of the Elevated at $60 a share; and, with all due respect for what the gentleman from the Back Bay (Coun. Shattuck) has said, I personally am sold on the belief that there is some other refuge for the taxpayers of the fourteen cities and towns involved than under the bill proposed. I believe the bill providing for the payment of $60 or any amount for the stock of the Boston Elevated positively should be defeated, and that our attitude in the matter should be made very clear.

On motion of Coun. SHATTUCK the resolution was referred to the Executive Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON JITNEY LICENSES.

Coun. ENGLERT, for the Committee on Nitney Licenses, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Boston Elevated Railway (referred February 14, 1938) for license to operate motor vehicles between Ashmont Station and Dudley Station—that leave be granted.

Report accepted; said license granted.

2. Report on petition of Boston Elevated Railway (referred January 23) for license to operate motor vehicles between Sullivan square and Everett line—that license be granted.

Report accepted; said license granted.

3. Report on petition of Boston Elevated Railway (referred January 30) for license to operate motor vehicles between junction of Dorchester avenue and Broadway and junction of Dorchester avenue and Summer street—that license be granted.

Report accepted; said license granted.

4. Report on petition of Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company (referred September 26, 1938) for license to operate motor vehicles from Mattapan to Haymarket square—that petitioner have leave to withdraw.

Coun. ENGLERT—Mr. President, upon the petition of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company to run these buses from Mattapan to Haymarket square, I desire to say just a word. If the committee grants this petition, it means eighteen trips to be run from Mattapan to Park square and Haymarket square, and Egleston square, in my district, one of the most congested parts of the City of Boston, will be on the route. We are endeavoring to make arrangements which will result in better traffic conditions there. There have been several accidents in that section recently, and there is a bad traffic situation which should be corrected. I hope the Council today will vote against granting this permission to run these buses from Mattapan into Park and Haymarket squares over that route. I think the people of Fall River would be better off if they went to Ashmont Station and took the elevated from there into the City of Boston, to the corner of Summer and Washington streets. But if this petition is granted, it means that people will be dumped off at Park square, for example, and then have a ten or fifteen minute walk to the business section of Boston, simply in order that the Eastern Massachusetts may get perhaps $25 a day more. I hope the Council today will vote against granting this permit.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, this petition of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company has been given careful study by the members of the Nitney Committee, as you have heard from the chairman of the committee. The people of Fall River and Taunton now come into Boston by way of the Ashmont Station. If the Eastern Massachusetts Company had really wanted to be fair to the residents of Fall River, it would have given to those people an express service coming to Ashmont Station or Mattapan Station. The running time on which they are now operating is two and a half hours into Ashmont Station. By an express route we were informed by Mr. Cummings, vice president of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, that the running time to Mattapan or Ashmont Stations would be one hour and fifteen minutes. By the proposed extension of their bus route into the city the time would be extended at least half an hour, whereas if the passengers were transferred to the rapid transit route they would come in twenty minutes. But the Eastern Massachusetts evidently did not want to have the riders get that type of service, but intimated that the people of Fall River, evidently brought up on a soft diet, could not be expected to change at Ashmont or Mattapan, that they wanted to go through. I don't like to get up on the floor of this Council unnecessarily, but when the newspapers of greater Boston term Blue Hill avenue "the highway of slaughter" and "death valley," and ask who is to be killed next, I think it becomes a matter requiring serious consideration. When we see Blue Hill avenue, one of the finest highways in the City of Boston, referred to as the most dangerous highway in the city, a place where more people have been killed and maimed than anywhere else, it certainly demands our attention. Editorials continually ask, "When Will The Slaughter Stop?" When Mr. Cummings was asked in the Committee on Nitneys whether, if he were a member of the Boston City Council or of a city council of a city or town where a permit like this was asked for through a highway where so many persons had been killed or injured, he would vote in favor of it, he was not in a position to answer. There he was, the vice president of a transportation company, asking for this privilege and taking that position. Was he fair to the committee in trying to get his bus route through that highway? Mr. Cummings could have answered that question. He knew what the answer was. He knew that he, as a member of a city council or board of aldermen where such a permit was asked for would not vote in favor of a bus line that would so threaten the residents of the city or town. We all know the conditions going with bus routes. We know the amount of space that buses take along the roads. You and I have had the experience of driving automobiles in front of or behind such buses, and we know what a threat, what a danger their operation along our roads is, no matter how careful the drivers may be or attempt to be. When the Elevated lines and subways were provided, the intention was to keep such traffic off the surface of the highways. Why is it that they do not want to connect up with the rapid transit service at Ashmont Station or Mattapan square? Simply that the company operating the buses may receive additional revenue. Mr. Cummings thought that the additional amount would be probably $25 a day, or possibly less. He said that he could not give the true figures. If those buses connected up with the rapid transit system at Ashmont or Mattapan, there would be a substantial amount received by the Boston Elevated, which would help on the deficit that is assessed on Boston and other cities and towns of the district. But these people are indifferent to the wishes or the interests of the citizens of Boston. They are only interested in the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company. We find also that the operators of the cars between Mattapan and Egleston square are now forced, I understand, to make the route in seventeen minutes, and they have to work like the devil to keep that schedule. The fact that they were endeavoring to keep to the schedule might very well have caused that accident at the corner of Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street, by reason of their speed in making up time. That may well have been the cause of this recent accident at that corner, where six unfortunate persons lost their lives and many others were injured, and it is more than likely that other serious accidents would occur from bus lines operating along that route. We sometimes hear the words, "It can't happen here!" Well, perhaps it would not happen with Boston Elevated cars traveling with safety rather than with speed in mind. We certainly want to be on the lookout to see that accidents of this type do not prevail with other traffic on that highway. Talking of service, Mr. Cummings said that the people of Fall River, unless this permit is granted, will feel sort of isolated from Boston. I don't know whether he thought he was talking to schoolboys. He ought to know that people of Fall River who want to go to Boston go there. They have to travel farther to get to Providence than to get to Boston. As for train service, they are still getting six-train service a day from Fall River to Boston, and I am informed that the Brotherhood of Railroad Train Men are opposed to this bus line service. The steam railroad, I understand, has curtailed service to the residents of Fall River and Taunton for the purpose of improving the chance for dividends to stockholders. If the residents of Taunton and Fall River are interested in having better communication with Boston, their complaint should be to the Interstate Commerce Commission or to the Department of Public Utilities, in order to secure proper train service. But the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company should not place bus line service along these dangerous and treacherous highways. The Boston Post said in an editorial on December 29 last:

"People crossing now have to maneuver across on the red lights and stand the risk of being hit by an automobile making a right turn on green lights."

"But there is this point to be considered. This place is at the edge of Franklin Park, where thousands of men, women and children go in good weather. One fatal accident has recently taken place at this intersection."

"It would seem that consideration of the pedestrians would be paramount, even at a busy vehicular intersection such as this. After all, the law protects the pedestrian first and foremost. A halt for pedestrians is never wasted care."

When they talk about train service, have you ever stopped to consider the service that has existed between Boston and Springfield, with trains coming in almost every ten minutes in the day, and when people were coming to the Boston stores without any special effort being made to get them there. So if these people really want to come into Boston to shop, they will come. As a matter of speed and of better convenience for the people travelling on these buses, it would certainly be better for the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway to bring its passengers by express bus service into Mattapan or Ashmont Station, and not ask to take them over a highway where conditions are so dangerous to pedestrians crossing the street. I trust that the members of the Council will in their wisdom vote "No" on this petition. We have diminishing fares on the Boston Elevated, and the burden on our citizens of the dividend being paid on the stock of a defunct corporation, amounting nominally to 5 per cent but actually to 10 per cent on the investment. We should do everything possible to protect the residents of Boston, and I would remind you gentlemen that Dorchester, including the district bordering Blue Hill avenue along the route where this bus line is projected, is still a part of Boston. Each and every one of you should consider the safety of the residents of this city. I trust that in your wisdom you will protect the residents of the Dorchester district in order that they may not continue to be subjected to the conditions jeopardizing life and limb evidenced by the terrible accident that we recently had out there.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I also am interested in this particular matter because this bus line wishes to operate down Seaver street, a very dangerous street in the City of Boston. I was interested the other day when I listened to the vice president of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company making certain statements. He was asked what the fare would be if they carried out their plan to run buses to Park square. He said, "We cannot do it for less than one dollar." I asked him whether or not this bus line was to be operated in order to give the Eastern Massachusetts some more revenue, or whether it was operated to give more benefit to the people of Fall River. He replied that, of course, in giving the service to the people they were also interested in the revenue. I am informed that the fare now from Fall River to the Ashmont Station is 75 cents, and I understand that they intend to charge one dollar to Park square or Haymarket square, which means that there will be a charge of 25 cents per head more to the patrons to go beyond Ashmont Station to Park or Haymarket squares. In other words, while the vice president of this corporation was trying to give the committee the impression that the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company is an eleemosynary institution, as a matter of fact they are going to take from every person who rides on that bus line 25 cents for this additional distance, for which people are now paying ten cents on the Boston Elevated line. I say to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, and also to the members of the Legislature, that it is very fortunate, with this car going off the rails on Seaver street, that there was not coming along at that time a Fall River bus loaded with passengers, which might have collided with this car; and I say to the managers of the road and to the members of the Legislature, if they intend to pass this bill that is now before them, if any such serious accidents happen in the future, let the responsibility be on their heads. Certainly the City Council does not want any part of it. If another such accident happens at the corner of Seaver street and Blue Hill avenue in connection with the operation of the bus lines, I say the responsibility should be placed on those who know nothing about traffic conditions in the City of Boston, but are only familiar with such conditions in Fall River, Taunton and other places outside of Boston, and who because of their ignorance of local conditions here, with which we are all familiar, have taken action which has resulted in loss of life and injury to our citizens. The Registry of Motor Vehicles has recently suspended the licenses of many operators of buses, and we are all familiar with the curtailment of service along the New Haven lines. So there is a good opportunity to encourage the use of the Elevated, whose large deficits we have to help meet, and the Elevated should have an opportunity to give to these people the service to which they are rightly entitled. But what we will be confronted with, if this petition of the Eastern Massachusetts Company prevails, is a very dangerous condition along our highways, and I don't think the City Council, knowing more about Boston conditions than anybody else, ought to assume responsibility for any major hazards on this particular route.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I have heard some comments indicating that the citizens of Fall River were now having difficulty getting into Boston. I would like to ask some of the gentlemen who have spoken if it is not a fact that there are now bus lines between Fall River and Ashmont, and that any of the people of Fall River who so desire can go to these terminals of the Elevated as freely as they wish?

Coun. TAYLOR—I understand, councilor, that people desiring to come here from Fall River, Taunton, or that vicinity, can now get a bus, and come here and connect up with the Elevated at Ashmont or Forest Hills and get the same service that is now sought by continuing this bus line of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company to Park square or Haymarket square.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, there are several motor truck companies transporting goods daily between Boston and the Fall River-Taunton district. There has been no demand that these trucks unload their freight at the Boston line and deliver it there to trucks whose usual place of business is Boston. I feel that we must be insistent in the matter of traffic hazard and if we are going to vote against the granting of this bus license to permit people to commute between these cities we must also take steps to prohibit these trucks from carrying on their business between Boston and the Fall River-Taunton area. I feel that the traffic hazard is increased to a far greater extent by these trucks, many of which are, as a matter of fact, as large as freight cars, than by the buses. Most of us have no doubt driven along the road behind these large trucks and are well aware of the menace which they create. I sympathize with Councilor Englert of Ward 11, Councilor Taylor of Ward 12 and Councilor Rosenberg of Ward 14, in their desire to keep their streets free from possible hazards caused by buses running through their districts. But what about the streets in other districts? In my district we have buses, permission for which has been granted by previous Councils, running to Providence, New York and Worcester. Why should we keep sacred such arteries as Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street? Furthermore, I sincerely believe that this bus line will bring business to Boston and I feel that each and every member of this Body should gladly favor any undertaking that will aid in making and keeping Boston the business center that it has been and that it should be. I therefore feel that I must vote "No" on leave to withdraw on this petition.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I would like to point out that, while the Boston papers have several times commented editorially on Blue Hill avenue as a dangerous thoroughfare, I believe every Boston newspaper has favored the granting of this particular bus line and others that will mean bringing business to Boston. So far as the type of car used on the Blue Hill avenue route is concerned, it might be that if the passengers had been in a lighter car it would have made that turn all right. The gentleman from Ward 14 (Coun. Rosenberg) thinks that the diet of the people of Fall River and Taunton may have something to do with their wish to be carried into the heart of the city. I don't know their habits of diet, but I think they must be getting a stomachful of Boston as a so-called modern, progressive city. While I like peace and quiet, I cannot figure a village blacksmith shop along near the corner of Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street. We really have the choice in Boston of living in a growing industrial city or adjacent to a village green,—of looking around our market district and seeing the darkened windows of a gradually dying town, observing such conditions as we see along the Atlantic avenue loop, having pointed out to us near Copley square, as I have been informed, I believe authentically, property which has been assessed for $150,000 or $160,000, selling not long ago for $7,500 or of living in a modern business community. We have to take the choice of residing in a growing, busy industrial community or in one that is dying, where we can hear band concerts rendered by the village band at our once busy corners. Mr. President, we cannot build a Chinese wall, in my opinion, around the City of Boston. When all the shooting is over and we boil the thing down, after all we are not having anything like the Overland Express coming through Blue Hill avenue. These buses will make six trips a day in the twenty-four hours not even adding appreciably to the present traffic. As far as traffic congestion and traffic hazards are concerned in our Dorchester wards and the danger that has been referred to on Blue Hill avenue, I can speak with some authenticity of Dorchester travel conditions, because buses come along through my ward now, through Pierce square and Dorchester avenue to Ashmont Station. We know something about congested conditions and what may result from additional congestion at the Ashmont terminal, and I trust that the congestion there may not be increased. I believe that the people from Taunton and Fall River should be allowed to make the trip to Park square or Haymarket square, without being obliged to break their journey at Ashmont Station or Mattapan. These people frequently pack dress suit cases or bags, the same as I sometimes carry a dress suit case with me when I am traveling to different points. It is not a pleasant thing at times, under such conditions, to have to dash for a car somewhere along the line. The fact is that the people of Fall River or Taunton, if they have to break their trip to Boston in this way, in lieu of coming here may go to Providence, if it is easier to get there, because the American public are getting soft and lazy, and have to be encouraged to go anywhere or do anything. Also, if these buses are going to transfer their passengers at Peabody square and Ashmont Station, that is going to mean the inconvenience and crowding of many of the people of Dorchester who will find no seats in the Elevated trains because they will be filled up by the people coming in from Taunton, Fall River and other sections on these buses. We should recognize the fact that we are living in a great industrial city, where street cars, automobiles and buses use the streets, and I, for one, can see no insuperable objection to the buses from Taunton and Fall River making a continuous trip to Park or Haymarket squares.

Coun. TAYLOR—Is it your opinion that the people traveling from Fall River and Taunton to Boston can get in more quickly by bus than they could by transferring at Ashmont Station and taking the Elevated in?

Coun. WILSON—It is not entirely a question of speedy transportation. I admit that they could get in just as fast and perhaps faster, by transferring to the Elevated. But I am not so much interested in the question of speed as in another side of the question. As a matter of fact, the American public—and that includes all of us—are getting soft. It is largely a matter of convenience. If people can come into town without too much trouble, they will come. If they have to drop off at every gas and rest station on a certain route they will travel some other way.

Coun. TAYLOR—You think that we are building a Chinese wall around Boston when we have them transfer at Ashmont Station?

Coun. WILSON—I believe if they can have easy and comfortable access to Boston they will come, and Boston, from a business standpoint, has got to make it easy and comfortable for them to come.

Coun. TAYLOR—Well, you think we are building a Chinese wall around Boston in expecting people to transfer at Ashmont Station, when any of us who live in Boston have to make two or three stops in getting to and from places right around us? Why should we treat these people from Fall River differently than we treat our own Boston people?

Coun. WILSON—Well, most of us when we are going around on our daily business are not carrying suit cases and bags, as I venture to say those coming from Fall River generally do.

Coun. TAYLOR—Well, you think that those coming from Fall River are necessarily coming here to shop, when they may be bound somewhere else, and are simply using Boston as a way station?

Coun. WILSON—Well, I cannot answer as to that, but my opinion is that these buses coming into the heart of our city will bring additional business to the City of Boston by making it more convenient for those people to come in here. I think the day of steam railroad transportation is a thing of the past. I think you will find that if the people of Fall River and Taunton cannot get an unbroken bus trip to the heart of our city the business will flow to Worcester or Providence, where they can find such accommodation. If we don't want the business, if we want to grow grass in the streets and have band concerts at the corner of Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street and other important corners of our city, very well. We will stop business from coming here, and after awhile the only people who will come will be on bicycles.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I listened with interest to the statement of the gentleman from Ward 14 (Coun. Rosenberg) and also to what was said by Councilor Wilson, who does not consider buses an unusual traffic hazard, and who has referred to the fact that the Boston newspapers have been editorially imbued with the idea that we should do what we can to bring new business into Boston through the method of transportation suggested by this petition. I was also interested in the statement of the gentleman from Ward 14 to the effect that this petition does not meet with the approval of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. That may be so, but we have not seen any evidence here of labor organizations opposing the measure, and I definitely remember at a hearing awhile ago that one of the speakers of the Boston Central Labor Union favored this sort of thing. I do not believe myself, therefore, that it meets with the opposition of organized labor. Accordingly, I favor the petition.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I can entirely sympathize with the feelings of the councilors in the neighborhood of Blue Hill avenue in regard to this matter from the standpoint of traffic congestion on the avenue. At the same time, we must face the situation that Boston at the present time is slipping, that there are over 5,000 vacant seats in our primary schools today, and that there are 100,000 fewer people coming into Boston than came ten years ago. Therefore, I think we should do what little we can to bring business into our city by some route or another. If we do not get business here, it will go somewhere else.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, probably the councilor from Hyde Park does not realize that a suggestion that another route might be taken was made to Mr. Cummings, the vice president of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company. If the councilor from Hyde Park had been present at the hearing before the committee he would have heard Mr. Cummings, the vice president, reply to a question of mine. I said to Mr. Cummings, "When the original petition was presented to the Council some months ago, we rejected it without prejudice, with the suggestion that you file a petition for some other route or at least bring a petition in for an express route to Mattapan Station, and no such alternative petition was presented to us." Mr. Cummings stated that he wasn't interested in any other route, that this was the route he wanted. In other words, Mr. Cummings is a Hitler or Mussolini, attempting to dictate to us as those men dictate in Europe. He said, "I want this bus line to go over this particular route, and don't want any other route." I think the people of Taunton and Fall River must be a peculiar kind of people. I am surprised that Mr. Cummings should say, in representing those people, who are apparently different from the people of Boston, "I am not interested in any other route. This is the route I want." The Titney Committee would have been inclined to cooperate with him, if he had not come here with an arrogant and insolent attitude, simply wanting his own way. The gentleman from Ward 17 (Coun. Wilson) admitted that he was perhaps a little selfish because of the fact that the bus line coming into the Ashmont Station would overcrowd the capacity of the station, so that the people of Dorchester might not be able to get the accommodation they have at present.

Coun. WILSON—On that line.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Well, your complaint should be that the Boston Elevated ought to put on additional cars. But it is very evident that Vice President Cummings of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company simply wants his own way, and does not want to cooperate with the people of Boston. I say that those people should be brought in there and taken care of by the Boston Elevated, irrespective of the fact that the officials of the Elevated have not even raised their voices in opposition to the proposed bus line coming into the heart of our city. As a matter of fact, the Elevated might well shout from the roof tops in opposition to those bus lines coming into the heart of Boston and thereby cutting down the revenue of the Elevated.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, last week before the Committee on Jitneys a question was asked of Mr. Cummings relative to the number of buses that pull into the Ashmont Station. We were informed at that time that there were approximately one hundred trips that run south from the Ashmont Station. The City Council, if they do grant this permit, are just granting a permit for buses to run to Haymarket square and are not in any way regulating the number of trips that these buses will run. If the Eastern Massachusetts saw fit to run a direct bus line from Milton to Boston, with these six buses from Ashmont Station to Park square, it might mean a ten-minute time at any spot that one of the buses would pass. Mr. Cummings stated that that was not his intention, and that he would make a statement in writing to the Council. But I understand that it has not come as yet.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, we are all aware of the present tendency of the Boston Elevated to give up car lines and to substitute buses. That tendency towards a great increase in the number of buses in our streets seems to me an important reason why we should refuse this permit. We would be utterly swamped if we allowed buses from all over New England to come into the center of our city. If the present tendency to the growth of bus traffic in the streets of Boston is to continue, as is the tendency at the present time, with its accompanying congestion, it seems to me we should route these buses so that they will connect with the Elevated terminals, whether in East Boston, Everett, Ashmont, Forest Hills, Harvard square, Mattapan, or other terminals. This strikes me as an entering wedge, and if we grant this permit I see no reason why we should not grant permits for any number of buses without limit to come into the center of the city, when they can just as well transfer their passengers at Ashmont or whatever the terminal may be. As has been pointed out, the people of Boston themselves use these terminals all the time, transferring at Ashmont, making Cambridge subway transfers, transferring in Roxbury to other sections, and to and from the Washington street subway and Forest Hills.

Coun. CAREY—Isn't there also the question, in connection with this bus line, of transporting freight into Boston from Taunton and Fall River? How is the freight from those stations to be brought into Boston?

Coun. SHATTUCK—I don't see that that is at all the problem we are considering. The question we are discussing is whether these buses shall come into the center of the city or deliver passengers at one of the terminals. The freight question is another question.

The question came on accepting the report and giving the petitioner leave to withdraw, and the clerk called the roll. The Council voted to give the petitioner leave to withdraw, yeas 13, nays 8:

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Englert, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Harris, Hutchinson, Kerrigan, Lyons, McMahon, Murray, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Taylor—13.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Fish, Kelly, Langan, Norton, Sullivan, Wilson—8.

REPLACING WARD 18 SCHOOL STRUCTURES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of replacing school structures in Ward 18 that have been standing for fifty years and more and are built of wood, such as the Grew, Damon, Greenwood and Fairmont Schools, and the Hemenway School, Readville, which is located adjacent to an "oil farm."

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENTS, PRINCE STREET PLAYGROUND.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make the needed improvements on the Prince Street Playground by removing the stones and debris and installing proper lighting facilities in order that the people of the district might derive some benefit from it.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

P. A. employees, particularly to those who were assigned to W. P. A. employment from the welfare rolls.

ANNUITIES TO FAMILIES OF CITY HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to petition the Legislature for such legislation as may be necessary to pay an annuity to the families of employees of the Hospital Department who died on account of injury or disease contracted in the course of their employment, provided that the provisions of the present retirement system are not sufficiently broad to cover such cases.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DISCONTINUANCE OF "EL" DIVIDENDS.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the enactment of House Bill 198, now pending before the Metropolitan Affairs Committee at the State House, which provides for the discontinuance of the payment of guaranteed dividends to stockholders of the Boston Elevated Railway, provided such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and the City Council.

Referred to Executive Committee.

ROPING OFF UNION PARK STREET.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be, and he hereby is, authorized to rope off Union Park street, between two and four p. m., on Saturday, April 8, 1939, for the cross-country run of the Cathedral Club, the expense incident thereto to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, Flags, Ropes and Stakes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF ALLEGHANY STREET.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Alleghany street, from Parker street to No. 30, in Ward 10, as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION RE ARRESTS MADE.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council as to the number of arrests made each year for the past three years:

1. By police officers who cover routes on foot.
2. By police officers in cruiser cars.
3. By police officers who constitute what is known as the Special Service Squad.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I wish to say that in the near future the Committee on Appropriations of the City Council will have before it the annual budget for 1939, including the budgets of the various city departments. There seems to be an opinion throughout the city that there is no need of a number of cruising cars being attached to the different stations of the Police Department. I feel that if we have before us in going over the budget information such as is sought by this order—with reference to the number of manual arrests made by police officers on foot, by those in cruising cars and by the special service squad—the committee will be in a better position to take action or to make proper recommendations. Furthermore, there is the pending suggestion that 100 additional men be appointed patrolmen at the present time. I still feel that there will be further need of patrolmen, men on foot.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, for the enlightenment of the councilor on the question of possible additional police officers, I understand that the Civil Service Department recently sent to the Police Commissioner the names of 165 men on the list, and that they were all accepted.

Coun. CAREY—I believe that if we get 100 men we will be very fortunate.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS.

President MURRAY announced that Councilor Agnew has resigned from the Committee on Appropriations, Councilor Taylor from the Committee on Finance and Councilor Kerrigan from the Committee on Public Safety, and appointed Councilor McMahon of Ward 8 to be a member of the said committees in place of the members who have resigned.

RESURFACING OF CHILD STREET, WARD 11.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving, Child street, Ward 11.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

VETO ASKED ON EASTERN MASSACHUSETTS STREET RAILWAY BUS PERMIT.

Coun. TAYLOR and ROSENBERG offered the following:

Resolved, That the members of the Boston City Council hereby request his Excellency Governor Leverett Saltonstall to veto any legislation which will grant a permit to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway for the operation of motor buses down Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, there are two reasons why I think the Council should pass this resolution. The first is because of the situation with regard to passage of these Fall River buses through some of our highways, a matter that has been explained at great length. But the second reason is even more important—that it is taking away from the City of Boston the right of home rule.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED PAYMENT TO ESTATES OF DECEASED TEACHERS.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to provide for the payment to the estate of members of the Boston Public School Teachers' Retirement Fund who die while in the service of the city, of a portion of their contributions to said fund.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS FOR WARD 13 STREETS.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to substitute electric lights for all gas lamps at present in use on streets in Ward 13.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. LANGAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Joseph P. Kolf (referred February 27) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor vehicle belonging to Sanitary Division, Public Works Department—recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of nineteen dollars and twenty cents ($19.20) be allowed and paid to Joseph P. Kolf in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Sanitary Division, Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report accepted; said order passed.

2. Report on petition (referred May 18, 1936) of Timothy J. O'Keefe to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor vehicle belonging to Police Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

O'Keefe in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Police Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report accepted; said order passed.

TWO-MAN OPERATION OF CERTAIN ELEVATED LINES.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have two men operating the cars on the Egleston, Mattapan and Blue Hill avenue lines.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, earlier in the afternoon I spoke of the cars being operated between Egleston square and Mattapan, over the Blue Hill route, as cars which might well be handled by two men, and I also referred to the speed at which the operators are now expected to run the cars on that route, a speed which at certain points may be dangerous. It is really a surprise to me that there have not been accidents on this route on previous occasions, not only at the particular location of the recent accident, but on other parts of the route. I am confident that if the cars along that route were operated by two men this accident might have been prevented.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RELOCATION OF BLUE HILL AVENUE TRACKS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel and the Legislative Agent be requested to inform the Council, through his Honor the Mayor, whether or not they have filed a petition with the Legislature in response to the order of the City Council to permit the relocation of the street car tracks on Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street junction along Blue Hill avenue to the American Legion Highway, to the center of the thoroughfare.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, some time last year I introduced an order asking the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, to file a bill in the Legislature looking to relocation of the street car tracks on Blue Hill avenue, Seaver street and the junction of Blue Hill avenue and the American Legion Highway, in the center of the thoroughfare, feeling that they would thus be better located not only for pedestrians but for the motorists using the street car route. As yet I have heard no report from the Corporation Counsel's office in regard to the matter. Therefore, I ask for the passage of this order so that if no petition to the Legislature has been filed, some action along this line may be taken by our Body.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON WASHINGTON STREET, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Washington street, both sides, from Archdale road to Roslindale square, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF GREEN STREET, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement Green street, Ward 19, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF NEPONSET AVENUE, ROSLINDALE.

Coun. LANGAN and NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement Neponset avenue, Roslindale, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

COMMENDATION OF POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council hereby commends the Police Commissioner and Fire Commissioner for the prompt and efficient work which the members of their departments rendered in connection with the recent street car accident at Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street, Dorchester.

Coun. LANGAN—Mr. President, I feel that I am performing a pleasant duty at this time in introducing this order to commend the members of the Boston Police and Fire Departments for the efficient way in which they handled this matter following the recent accident in the Dorchester district.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, while I feel that the highest praise should be given to the Police and Fire Departments for their action at such a critical time, I believe also we should not overlook the cooperation rendered by the superintendent, officers and staff of our City Hospital.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I also wish to add my word of commendation—in addition to the praise of the work of the Police and Fire Departments—of the work of the City Hospital. The officers of the City Hospital the moment word was received from the Police Department, through the radio station, of the accident in which six people were killed and many injured acted immediately, sending an ambulance which arrived at the scene half an hour later, and rendered the best medical assistance possible to the sufferers from the accident.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, while we are praising the different departments who participated in assistance and relief following the accident, we should not overlook the services rendered by a member of our own body, Austin Fish, who assisted in every way possible with his auto.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

BINDER USED IN W. P. A. STREET CONSTRUCTION.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of all streets that have been constructed by the W. P. A. in Ward 20 during the past two years with a view to using some type of binder that will keep the streets from deteriorating within one year after construction work is completed.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF HAVEY STREET.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Havey street, Ward 20, as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 22 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a sidewalk along Bigelow street, Ward 22, under the W. P. A. type of construction.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be again requested to lay out and accept as a public highway, under the W. P. A. type of construction, the following streets in Ward 22:

Upland road, Adair road, Eaton street, Ryder Hill road, Rena street, Myrick street, Etna street extension, Sanderson place.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

CURTAILMENT OF ONE-MAN CAR, "EL" SERVICE.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, not to further extend one-man cars into those districts now enjoying the more adequate and safer two-man service.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I have been led to introduce this order because I have understood that the trustees are proposing shortly to have one-man cars take the place of the present two-man cars on certain routes. I have heard a report that the cause of the accident on Blue Hill avenue which resulted in these deaths and injuries was because some youngsters got on the back of the car and released a brake. If that was so, it would not have been possible if it had been a two-man car. At the present time, as I say, I understand that the trustees propose to have one-man service on certain lines where there have been two men, and in the interest of the safety of the people of Boston I feel that that should not happen. Therefore, I have introduced this order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECOMMENDATIONS BY STATE TAX COMMISSIONER.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Whereas, The State Tax Commissioner has indicated that he will present three recommendations to the present session of the Massachusetts State Legislature to provide relief for fifty cities and towns which are straining under the weight of heavy welfare costs; and

Whereas, Boston is one of the fifty communities enumerated by the Tax Commissioner as being in need of such relief; and

Whereas, The three recommendations listed by him include:

1, That $3,000,000 be taken from income tax receipts and given to needy cities and towns;

2, That they also be released in whole or in part from all state and county tax assessments;

3, That a general sales tax be adopted; and

Whereas, The amount contributed by the City of Boston to the state deficit this year will reach unprecedented proportions and, accordingly, will materially affect the Boston tax rate for the current year; and

Whereas, The third alternative, the sales tax, has met with disapproval on the part of merchant-groups and consumer-public generally; be it

Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to instruct the City Legislative Representative to favor, and to work for, sections 1 and 2 and to oppose the third alternative as suggested by the commissioner.

Referred to Executive Committee.

RECESS.

By direction of President MURRAY the Council at 4.10 p. m. went into executive session. The members reassembled and were called to order by President MURRAY at 4.40 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on Mayor's message and order (referred today) for sale to Merchants National Bank of two square feet of land on Congress street—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order. The order was passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

2. Report on order (referred today) that Building Commissioner be requested to condemn Atlantic avenue loop of Boston Elevated and provide for its early demolition as W. P. A. project or otherwise—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on order (referred today) favoring enactment of such legislation as shall cause the Atlantic avenue loop to be promptly demolished and removed by State Public Works Department or other agency—recommending passage of same.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Report on order (referred today) opposing purchase of common stock of Boston Elevated Railway Company at $60 a share—recommending passage of accompanying new draft, viz.:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby opposes the purchase of the 238,794 shares of common stock of the Boston Elevated Railway Company at $60 a share, total, $14,327,640, by the fourteen cities and towns of Boston Metropolitan District, as provided by House Bill 154 of 1939, entitled "An Act Authorizing Retirement of the Common Stock of Boston Elevated Railway Company," and the Corporation Counsel for the City of Boston, through his Honor the Mayor, is hereby requested to oppose said bill at hearings before the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, on March 13, 1939, or any other dates, and before any other committees of the General Court where said bill may be heard; and said Corporation Counsel is also requested to oppose the passage of said bill before the Senate and House of the General Court.

Report accepted and resolve passed in above form.

COAL DELIVERIES TO WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston City Council Committee on Public Welfare take immediate action in investigating the complaints of welfare recipients that coal companies holding city contracts to provide fuel for welfare recipients are not delivering the quality and amount of fuel in accordance with their contracts; and be it further Ordered, That any evidence of a criminal nature disclosed as a result of such investigation be immediately given to the District Attorney.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I am prompted to introduce this order because of various complaints which have been called to my attention. Only recently I received this letter from a poor old lady. The letter, in part, says:

"I find there is a shortage in my coal order each time it is delivered"—and she mentions a certain coal company—"delivered to me what was supposed to be half a ton of nut coal and received in return $5.14, a check from 43 Hawkins street, there were only eight partly filled bags and I am supposed to receive ten 100-pound bags on each delivery. Will you kindly have the proper persons call on me at once and check up on my deliveries, as this shortage has been in evidence ever since they started to supply me with fuel."

"I called up the company when the truck was leaving and they promised to check upon it at once but have failed to do so."

Now, Mr. President, the writer of this letter and others elicit welfare relief are unfortunate people who should not be mistreated by those who are more secure in the possession of worldly goods. Mr. President, if these charges are true, if coal companies or their employees are cheating the poor, I contend, sir, that it is a most miserable situation, a despicable practice, and the offenders should be punished to the full extent of the law.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF TRAFFIC DANGER, BLUE HILL AVENUE.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the entire length of Blue Hill avenue, with the view to making necessary changes in the present traffic regulations to cut down the high death rate on this heavily traveled thoroughfare.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIGHTING BLUE HILL AVENUE AND SEAVER STREET.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the traffic lighting regulations at the corner of Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street, with the view of effecting changes in the present traffic regulations which will permit pedestrian traffic, desiring to cross at this point, additional safety.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, at this particular corner the traffic lights do not give the proper protection to pedestrians. The Traffic Commissioner felt some time ago that it was necessary to meet conditions required in the way of free flow of traffic moving along the highway, but I believe the important thing for the Traffic Commissioner to bear in mind is the protection of pedestrians at this particular point. This is the Franklin Park section, to which people come from all parts of Roxbury and Dorchester, as well as from other parts of the city and state, and I trust that the Traffic Commissioner will see fit to regulate the traffic in such a way that people will be able to cross without danger at that point. At times now it is almost committing suicide to cross the highway at that intersection.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

THE NEXT MEETING.

On motion of Coun. GALVIN it was voted that when the Council adjourns it be to meet on Monday, March 20, 1939, at 2 p. m.

OPPOSITION TO HOUSE BILLS 1447 AND 1583.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby opposes the enactment of House Bill 1447 or House Bill 1583, the provisions of which would reduce the present City Council to a membership of nine.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, those two House bills referred to in the order will cut down the Boston City Council to a membership of nine. I don't know what the purpose of the council from Hyde Park (Coun. Norton) was in introducing such proposed legislation, whether or not the people from his district are getting wise to him and he now wants to submit his candidacy to a vote of the city at large, thinking that he might have a better chance of election than at the hands of the people who know him more intimately in his district. Possibly he thinks that the people of the district are beginning to catch up on him, and that perhaps people in the other districts have not. I believe the people of my district want local representatives. Apparently the councilor from Hyde Park feels differently in his own case, and feels that he would have a better chance to get by in an election throughout the city, where he might not be so well known. I realize that the councilor from Hyde Park puts in six days a week performing his duties at Commonwealth Pier, and that perhaps he is not confronted daily with the problems that some of us have in our districts. I realize also that he is at times quite busy in attending hearings in other places, and that he spends only an hour here, if he is present at all, on Monday. I move that this order be adopted, feeling that the defeat of those legislative bills I have referred to would be for the best interest of the people of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Coun. FITZGERALD, for the Committee on Rules, submitted the following:

Report on resolve that the City Council go on record as favoring Senate Bill 5 for repeal of Plan E and Proportionate Representation as embodied therein—recommending passage of the resolve, with Coun. SHATTUCK dissenting from the report of the committee.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and passage of the order.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. Doesn't that apply to the Commonwealth generally, and not to Boston?

Coun. FITZGERALD—There is a bill there now applying to Boston, and I think we should go on record as opposing it.

Coun. TAYLOR—Well, Mr. President, as I understand it, that is a general bill and does not apply to Boston. I have the same objection to interference with the Legislature on such matters that I have to interference with our own city government. I don't want to be in the position of interfering with other cities and towns in a matter with which Boston is not concerned.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I don't object to this lying on the table, and later on the Council will probably wake up.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, this law which we are resolving ought to be repealed applies to cities other than Boston. It may be accepted by any city except Boston, but it can only be accepted by vote of the people, and I assume that if there were any amendment permitting Boston to accept it, such acceptance would be subject to a vote of the people of Boston. I wonder if the gentleman from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) is so scared of what the people here might do that he wants to remove the possibility that they might have a chance to pass upon the matter?

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, Boston is in a fair way now to have a campaign waged to pass upon this proposition. In fact, a campaign is being waged. A representative of Ward 12 has been on the radio in the last three or four months favoring the adoption of this Plan E, and I think his representative might be in favor of it.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I will say to the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) that I am opposed to proportional representation as far as Boston is concerned, and if that matter were before the Body that is the action I would take. But I don't think that that proposition is before us. It is something that concerns other cities and towns, and they are big enough to take care of their own affairs. I think I understand the matter, councilor. There is now a bill, House 1732, before the House of Representatives or the Legislature, that does affect the City of Boston, a bill that I am certainly opposed to, but I think the bill he has reference to here is a bill referring to other cities and towns and not referring to the City of Boston.

The matter was laid on the table.

Adjourned at 5.10 p. m., on motion of Coun. ROSENBERG, to meet on Monday, March 20, 1939, at 2 p. m.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 31.

SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1939.

NO. 12

MAYOR TOBIN EXTOLS VIRTUES OF CITIZENS OF IRISH BLOOD IN BOSTON, IN ADDRESS BEFORE MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THE CHARITABLE IRISH SOCIETY, AT ANNUAL BANQUET—POINTS TO BRILLIANT NAMES OF MEN AND WOMEN OF IRISH ANCESTRY THAT HAVE ADORNED AND STILL ADORN THE PAGES OF THE HISTORY NOT ALONE OF BOSTON BUT ALSO OF THE UNITED STATES—RESPONDS TO TOAST, "THE CITY OF BOSTON," BEFORE NOTABLE GATHERING ON OCCASION OF 202D ANNIVERSARY OF ITS FOUNDING—ALSO ASSAILS NARROW-MINDEDNESS AND BIGOTRY AS WELL AS INTOLERANCE.

The following is, in part, the address of Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, before the Charitable Irish Society, on March 17, 1939:

Mr. Chairman, Reverend Clergy, Members of the Charitable Irish Society, Friends and Guests.

We are told that our forefathers in the Massachusetts Bay Colony "felt themselves in tune with the infinite" and were thereby given "courage in the face of opposition, resoluteness in the face of discouragement and eloquence in the face of apathy."

I like to think of such a reason for the continued existence and the pronounced success of this the oldest Irish society in the country, which has proudly held its banners high for more than two centuries. I salute the society tonight and wish for it many more years of great benefit to our city.

In responding to the toast of "The City of Boston" I would remind you that in 1737 when this society was organized there were less than 17,000 inhabitants here. Boston was officially made the capital of the Massachusetts Bay Colony by vote of the General Court in October, 1632. For one hundred years increase in population was slight, but at the time the Charitable Irish Society was founded it was the largest and wealthiest town in the English colonies, and remained such until 1755.

Our forefathers passed through many momentous years and the history of this society is co-terminous with much of the history of the state. And no state in our Union has more of history than Massachusetts, nor has furnished to the world more in inspirational service to mankind.

Society's Founding.

The urgings that prompted the foundation of this society were the promotion of unity and harmony, not only among those of Irish blood but among all fellow-citizens, irrespective of race or creed. Never was there greater need for unity and harmony among all peoples than at the present time.

It is good to reflect that men and women of Irish blood have always given to Boston, the Commonwealth and the Nation, unquestioned loyalty and devotion. That they have always contributed much toward the growth and progress of any community in which they have settled, goes without question.

The Irish love of liberty, their hatred of oppression and their valor and heroism will always remain a bulwark against those manifestations of meanness, bigotry and intolerance so rampant in many countries today and which have produced such insidious doctrines as Communism, Naziism and Fascism.

It is always a wholesome comment that here in Boston, the strongest Irish city in America, the deeds and accomplishments of Irish blood illuminate the pages of her history, from the days before the Revolution to the present. Men of Irish blood fell in the Boston Massacre, at the Battle of Bunker Hill, at Lexington and at Concord. They marched with Washington from Dorchester Heights to Yorktown and Valley Forge.

We should never cease to repeat what is so well known in history, that in every war since the establishment of our country, men of Irish blood have carried on bravely and have shed their blood that liberty might be preserved and with it freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of religious worship.

Noted Irish Names.

Generations of Irishmen have made their homes in Boston, and I ask you where there can be recalled names greater and more potent in the affairs of any city than those of John Hancock, Major General Knox, Governor James Sullivan, Rev. John Lyford, John Singleton Copley, John Boyle O'Reilly, Patrick A. Collins, Hugh O'Brien, Most Reverend John J. Williams, Cardinal O'Connell.

Boston, we are proud to reiterate on all manner of occasions, furnished the spark that fired this land to become a nation of free citizens and I can think of no group of free-living Americans who look with greater horror upon the events in Central Europe, or in Spain and China, than do the people of Boston. Where this German madness will end, nobody knows. Upon every possible occasion we should seek to impress upon our fellows the great good fortune which is ours to live under a government which knows no dictator and which, as we firmly believe, would never become totalitarian and thus seek to control, supervise and direct, not only politics, but also other phases of human life—capital and labor, producer and consumer, industry, trade, commerce and the professions; agriculture, religion and education; art, literature, the radio, and the press; sport, charity, every organization and association, and, to an increasing extent, even family life.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR TOBIN.

Evacuation Day will always mean much to patriotic American citizens. It is idle to review the stirring scenes which were enacted in Boston and particularly on Dorchester Heights in March, 1776, but it might be pertinent to ask what turn history might have taken if the evacuation of the British forces had not taken place on March 17 or some other date. Who knows under what heel of tyranny we might now be living!

I am wondering whether the school children of Boston, yes of the entire country, are being seriously taught the real significance of Lexington and Concord, Bunker Hill and Dorchester Heights. We have all heard that the lesson of Dorchester Heights has never been sufficiently impressed upon the public mind, but certainly this grand old society, and the entire district of South Boston, have done their part in memorializing the event.

To us in Boston March 17 means Evacuation Day. To us, also, it means St. Patrick's Day. And may history never record the time when it shall be otherwise. With this uttered in all solemnity, I happily bring you the greetings of the City of Boston. May she always stand as she stands today, for tolerance, liberty, progressiveness, unity and harmony.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendations of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

MAYOR VETOES PROPOSAL FOR DAY OFF IN SEVEN FOR POLICE.

The Mayor, on March 21, submitted the following to the City Council:

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I am inclosing a communication which I have received from Police Commissioner Timilty setting forth that to grant one day off in seven, rather than one day off in eight to members of the Boston Police Force, would cost $85,150 the first year of operation and would be increased to $109,150 during the fifth year of operation.

To place this added financial burden on the city at this time would tend to place the positions, not alone of police officers, but of all city employees, in jeopardy. It would place a further burden on the already sadly harassed home owners and property owners of the city.

Therefore, because of the present financial situation of the city, I am returning the order passed by your Honorable Body without my approval.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

CITY OF BOSTON,
POLICE DEPARTMENT, March 20, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MAYOR TOBIN,—I have your letter of March 20 requesting the number of additional officers that would be required in order to grant one day off in seven rather than one day off in eight, together with the additional cost thereof, and I submit herewith the following information:

Additional Number and Cost for One Day Off in Seven.
	Cost.
Two lieutenants.....	$5,400
Four sergeants.....	10,000
Forty patrolmen.....	64,000
Additional salary cost.....	$79,400
Additional cost for uniforms and equipment at $125 each.....	5,750
Total cost for the first year	$85,150

The patrolmen, as you are no doubt aware, receive an initial salary of $1,600 per annum, with an annual step-rate increase of $100 until they reach a maximum of $2,100.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

MAYOR TOBIN SUBMITS BUDGET TO CITY COUNCIL — ECONOMIES EFFECTED HAVE ENABLED CHIEF EXECUTIVE TO KEEP AGAIN HIS PLEDGE TO CITIZENS TO LOWER BURDENS OF TAXPAYERS — PARINGS IN DEPARTMENT ESTIMATES BRING FIGURES TO $1,817,044 LESS THAN WAS BUDGET OF 1938 — BUT FOR INCREASED DEMANDS OF STATE AND DEPARTMENTS OF GOVERNMENT OUTSIDE CONTROL OF MAYOR TAX RATE FOR 1939, WHEN FIXED, WOULD HAVE SHOWN NO INCREASE AND POSSIBLY WOULD HAVE DECREASED — NOT POSSIBLE TO PREDICT RATE UNTIL PENDING LEGISLATIVE MEASURES HAVE BEEN DISPOSED OF.

Mayor Tobin, on March 27, submitted the following as his budget estimates for the year 1939:

BOSTON, March 27, 1939.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,— I submit herewith in segregated form my budget recommendations for city, county and revenue departments for the fiscal year 1939. These recommendations are in substitution for the lump sum allowances submitted to you under date of January 30, 1939. The allowances in this budget represent, in my opinion, the lowest appropriations possible without seriously crippling the services rendered by the city, and without reducing salaries of city and county employees. It had been my intention to submit a budget at the very outset of the calendar year but my insistence upon exercise of a highest scrutiny and severe economy has resulted in this presentation. In the interval which has elapsed since the first of the year I had instructed all department heads under my jurisdiction to curtail expenditures to those of an absolute necessity, and in consequence of more time for analysis of departmental requests I am able to submit a budget substantially lower than would have been the case were it submitted at the first of the year. In the event that your Honorable Body feels after deliberation that further parings in these allowances could be made without jeopardy to the services or the functions of the municipal government, I sincerely hope that you will not hesitate to reduce these estimates.

The allowance for contractual services is the lowest appropriation since 1922.

Equipment.

The allowance for equipment is the lowest since the establishment of the segregated budget some twenty-two years ago.

FINANCE COMMISSION PROPOSES STATE TAKE OVER CONTROL AND SUPPORT OF PENAL INSTITUTION AT DEER ISLAND — SUGGESTS THAT USES TO WHICH INSTITUTION IS NOW PUT MAKES IT MORE PROPERLY THE PROBLEM OF THE STATE AND COUNTY THAN THE CITY OF BOSTON — SUGGESTED ACTION WOULD RELIEVE CITY'S TAXPAYERS OF THE DISPROPORTIONATE BURDEN THEY NOW BEAR BECAUSE OF UPKEEP OF PRISON AT PRESENT FORCED UPON THEM.

On March 21 the Finance Commission submitted the following proposal to Governor Saltonstall relative to the Deer Island House of Correction:

BOSTON, March 21, 1939.

HON. LEVERETT SALTONSTALL,
Governor of Massachusetts.

YOUR EXCELLENCY,—The Finance Commission of the City of Boston is empowered by the statute which directed its creation to make report from time to time as occasions warrant to the Governor, or to the Legislature, as well as to the Mayor of Boston, or to the City Council of Boston, on matters of appropriations, expenditures, methods of administration, etc., affecting the City of Boston or the County of Suffolk. Under this authorization the Finance Commission desires to bring to the attention of your Excellency and to the Legislature a situation that is of substantial importance to the city. It has also somewhat direct bearing upon present affairs of the state.

In many ways the taxpayers of Boston individually are required to pay proportionately a much larger share of the expense of government than do the taxpayers of other communities. Sometimes this is due to statutory requirements which have accumulated during the existence of the Commonwealth. Sometimes it is due to nothing more than practices adopted by public authorities. In other instances it is due to an excess of zeal on the part of local government which led to the establishment of services under permissive or mandatory authority and which eventually led to development or expansion of those services to a degree not yet found advisable or necessary by other municipalities or counties.

As your Excellency doubtless knows, with respect to the payment of the expenditures for government services in Suffolk County, the City of Boston is to all intents and purposes the County of Suffolk.

The Mayor and the City Council of Boston are in effect the County Commissioners. They must provide from the financial resources of the City of Boston for the maintenance of the county government, courts, institutions, etc. As in the conduct of municipal affairs the public administrators of the City of Boston have in past generations elaborated in provision of public service, so likewise have they in their capacity as, in effect, County Commissioners of Suffolk County elaborated in provisions of county service.

BOSTON UNAIDED.

To meet the expenditures necessary for maintenance of county government, the city is not even aided by all the revenue received by the county offices. For instance, the district court located in Chelsea to which legal matters—civil and criminal—which arise in the municipalities of Chelsea and Revere are brought for adjudication divides the revenue received by this court between the municipalities of Chelsea and Revere.

The revenue obtained from a case having its origin in Chelsea goes to the city of Chelsea. The revenue obtained from a case having its origin in Revere goes to the city of Revere. Yet the City of Boston in its capacity as the County Commission must pay for the maintenance of the courts.

Cases originating in Winthrop are handled by the East Boston Court. The fines received by the court in cases originating in Winthrop are turned over to the town of Winthrop. The entire expenses of this court also are paid from the treasury of the City of Boston.

Likewise, the City of Boston exclusively must pay for the care and custody of the prisoners committed by the Chelsea Court and by the East Boston Court to the Charles Street Jail and to the House of Correction at Deer Island.

A more striking illustration of the burdensome requirements that Boston must pay the expenses of cases originating in these other municipalities was furnished recently by a decision of the Supreme Court. The Court ruled that the expenses of the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth in the investigation of municipal conditions in the city of Revere, which resulted from a gangster murder in Revere, must be paid by the treasurer of the City of Boston.

HISTORY OF THE DEER ISLAND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

The imposition of the expense of maintenance of a county house of correction on the City of Boston, which first occurred in the early days of the city, is an instance of the prodigality of the public administrators at Boston expense. Originally, in Colonial times, Boston had its own "work-house" for the incarceration of persons unable to care for themselves as well as for violators of the peace. In 1788 the General Court required every county to maintain a house of correction. That statute or any of several subsequently passed in relation to the county house of correction did not require that each must be large enough to accommodate all commitments of the particular county's courts. No county, except Suffolk, even attempted to supply accommodation to that extent.

The house of correction required by the 1788 act was intended for the commitment of persons for a great variety of causes. Though in some instances the offences listed in the act for which persons might be sent to this house of correction would be analogous to offences for which twentieth century practice is to punish with state prison sentence, they might be characterized for the most part as light offences—common brawlers, drunkards, vagabonds, idlers, professional beggars, fakirs, sneak thieves, nightwalkers, etc.

In 1824 the existing house of correction, the successor to the earlier "work-house" provided by Boston, became by statute the House of Correction for the County of Suffolk. By the terms of this statute the City of Boston must bear and defray all the expenses of the House of Correction of the County. This relieved Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop of any expense for the care and custody of persons committed by court to the county institutions for offences committed within their borders.

During a large portion of the nineteenth century the City of Boston maintained two institutions, each known as a house of correction. One was at South Boston, another at Deer Island. In addition, the city maintained a reformatory for juvenile offenders at Rainsford Island; also, for a considerable period, another correctional school at West Roxbury, known as a parental school.

The number of these correctional institutions, as well as the variety, is evidence that Boston certainly did its share in meeting the need and cost of ample prison accommodations. No other county in the state ever matched that liberality.

NO CONTRIBUTION FROM OTHER MUNICIPALITIES TO DEER ISLAND EXPENSE.

Whatever Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop may have contributed to the cost of construction of an original county house of correction and of maintenance of a county house of correction until 1824, these municipalities have not, since 1824, contributed anything toward either construction or maintenance expenses of any county house of correction. Boston has done it for them.

In the early days of the Commonwealth all of the county institutions were "reformatories." Persons found guilty of serious offences, and particularly those known as hardened criminals, were sent to state institutions.

When authority was given by legislation in 1896 and in 1899 to merge the two existing Boston houses of correction in one institution to be located at Deer Island and to be known as "The House of Correction at Deer Island for Suffolk County," it was provided that the additional cost would be a City of Boston expense. Previous expenditure on the institution located there had likewise been a City of Boston expense.

There can be no argument, therefore, that Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop have any interest in the House of Correction at Deer Island because of investment of Chelsea, Revere or Winthrop funds. Nor can there be any doubt that Boston is paying from its own funds the expense for county correctional institutions that should be properly Chelsea's, Revere's and Winthrop's.

CHANGE IN TYPE OF PRISONERS SENT TO DEER ISLAND.

The Deer Island institution was not intended for the hardened criminal type. In the major period of its existence it had not been the practice of the courts to send the hardened criminal class there. It is true that it always received many recidivists or repeaters; but the recidivists that came there were of the type who indulged in the lesser violations of statutes or ordinances, rather than the burglars, the murderers, the rapacious, etc.

The institution was built for the type it was intended to reform or to restrain—the lesser offenders. It was not laid out or developed to contain and to keep occupied prisoners who are sent away for long terms, or prisoners whose every movement must be supervised and who must be kept always under heavy guard. In other words, the Deer Island House of Correction was intended only as a reformatory and was built and developed to be a reformatory.

In recent years it has become entirely "a prison." The inmates there are under lock and key most of the time. Meanwhile the city administrators have been unwilling to spend the money that would be necessary to transform the House of Correction into a modern institution for the custody of hardened criminals. It would take too much money from the Boston taxpayers to pay for such a change. As a result there is but limited provision for the kind of industry that is feasible for long-termers, and the means of keeping them in quiet restraint are inadequate.

Many believe that the municipal administrators acted properly when they withheld authorization for the expenditure that would have been necessary to meet adequately the new conditions. It does not appear, however, that any of Boston's administrators made any effort to resist the march of progress in the wrong direction of the House of Correction as a correctional institution.

The number of commitments to Deer Island of persons found guilty of serious crime has steadily increased. The criminals themselves make every effort to be sent there. They want to be near the city in a place where friends and relatives can make frequent visits. While it cannot be said that Deer Island never had any confirmed criminals, still the percentage of that class formerly sent to Deer Island was small. Now it amounts to almost one half the inmate population.

SUFFICIENT PROTECTION TO PUBLIC FROM DEER ISLAND LACKING.

Apart from the question of whether the serious offenders belong at Deer Island or not, and whether the City of Boston should have to pay for their keep, there is another matter of serious import to be kept in mind. That is the need for and the supply of protection for the public from this class of prisoners while they are supposed to be in restraint. Fortunately, there has been no serious break at Deer Island yet. There have been occasions, however, when the authorities were seriously alarmed.

There is no wall around the institution property except one which separates it from the end pointing out to sea which is occupied by the Federal Government.

The Winthrop shore, a residential section, was formerly separated from the prison property by a narrow gut. Sometimes this gut was so narrow that one could almost jump across it. At other times it was wide enough for passage by large excursion boats. At all times it was difficult to cross because of the strong currents.

Now even that protection to Winthrop has gone. The gut has been filled and a street approach to the House of Correction has been made. The whole prison is within easy walking access of the business center of the town of Winthrop.

In the early days of the House of Correction its proximity to Winthrop did not constitute a great danger. Most of the inmates were short-termers, the average commitment being for five or six months. From time to time there were some escapes, but the prisoners who attempted it found it too difficult to reach shore by swimming.

Now, however, there are many at Deer Island who are serving long terms and frequently many who have other prosecutions facing them upon release. There are many who have previously served time in State Prison and Concord Reformatory. There are many, therefore, who might at any time become desperate and attempt escape.

The people on the Winthrop shore have something to worry about from this class of prisoners under the limited protection that now exists.

BOSTON CANNOT FINANCE NEEDED MODERNIZATION.

If the City of Boston is to continue its custodianship of the Deer Island House of Correction and if the courts are to continue to send hardened criminals down there, Boston must soon spend a lot of money in rebuilding the institution. Boston must first make it safe for law-abiding people to live on the Winthrop shore. It must provide industrial occupation for the new type of inmates. It must add to or replace the ageing facilities here and there.

The Finance Commission questions whether Boston should be compelled to shoulder this expense. Is it proper to compel one county, because it happens that the largest city in the state pays the bills of that county, to erect and maintain a modern state penitentiary while the state provides that type for most of the other counties of the state? In its present financial condition, Boston cannot do it.

INTEREST OF BOSTON IN SOLUTION OF PRESENT STATE PRISON PROBLEM.

Assuming that the state undertakes to provide new prison accommodation, Boston has a strong interest in whatever means the state takes to furnish it.

Boston pays a substantial portion of the state tax. Accordingly, Boston will eventually pay a substantial portion of the cost of whatever the state spends for new prison accommodation and maintenance of it. It is Boston's interest as well as the state's to keep that cost as low as possible.

The state authorities realize that the state must provide more prison accommodation. Recess committees have recommended more for a generation. One thing contained in the report of the most recent recess committee that cannot be disputed is the statement of the very evident need for more prison accommodation.

All the efforts of many years of those sincerely interested in the parole system, and in prisoner reform, are being nullified by the present crowding of prisoners, good and bad, in the existing state institutions. The Finance Commission has likened it to putting spotted apples in barrels with good apples. The Recess Committee has recently used the same simile.

Accommodation must be provided or arranged so that prisoners may be properly segregated by classes and types and that the rotting type may be separate from those for whom there is hope of reformation. Many judges are sending prisoners to Deer Island only because they know there is room for them there. If there was ample accommodation in state institutions, the judges would not send many of these same prisoners to Deer Island.

FINANCE COMMISSION SUGGESTION THAT DEER ISLAND BE TAKEN OVER BY STATE.

The Finance Commission has already suggested one method of meeting the need—that the state take over the Deer Island House of Correction. The advantages to the state are many. The cost of a new site would be saved. Cost includes more than financial outlay by the state. There is the cost to the neighboring community to protect itself. Deer Island is now and has been a prison for a century. It is easily accessible to the center of the state population. Accessibility for relatives and friends of prisoners is an important consideration in orderly care and custody of prisoners. Frequent visits by relatives tend to keep up the morale of prisoners by relieving the monotony of prison life. Deer Island can be reached from almost any point in Metropolitan Boston by payment of an ordinary, small fare.

A prison must be easily accessible to a large center. A large police force nearby is necessary when trouble breaks out. The aid of a large fire department, such as cities maintain, should be speedily obtainable in emergencies. If such aid is not available, the institution must contain that extra service for all emergencies within its own organization. Deer Island has the maximum in protection in this respect.

DISADVANTAGES OF THE NORFOLK SUGGESTION.

Governor Hurley in 1938 suggested an additional prison plant near the present Norfolk annex of State Prison. Many experienced in prison administration question whether it would be good judgment to place a walled prison for hardened criminals in such close proximity to an unwallled, wide-open reformatory where prisoner trustworthiness is being tried out.

From the standpoint of accessibility, Norfolk could not obtain, in an emergency, a large police force without almost coming to Boston. The maximum police reserve must, therefore, be employed in that one spot the year round. This would mean heavy overhead expense.

It costs visitors to prisoners at Norfolk the best part of a working day to reach the institution and return from there. It costs approximately $5.00 for transportation from and to Boston.

RECENT RECESS COMMITTEE REPORT.

Recently a recess committee created under authority of the 1938 Legislature made a report on the Massachusetts prison situation. This committee recommended using a portion of the State Farm at Bridgewater for housing State Prison surplus. In many respects the objections to the plan of the Hurley administration apply to this suggestion also.

The blanket condemnation by this committee of the Deer Island institution was unwarranted. It followed approximately a one-hour visit of a portion of the membership of the committee to the institution. It was superinduced to some extent by hostile report of conditions by some who have personal interest in continued maintenance of Deer Island by the City of Boston.

This Recess Committee made comparison of cost of operation at Deer Island with the cost at Charlestown State Prison and with the average cost in the state institutions with discredit to Deer Island. Any comparison is worth nothing unless there is a common basis for it. There can be no common basis established between any state institution and the Deer Island House of Correction under existing conditions. For many reasons, some of which have been already set forth in this report, the cost under present conditions at Deer Island must be greater than in the other institutions.

To form intelligent opinion of the availability of the Deer Island House of Correction more is necessary than a casual inspection. A more scientific approach to the question, prompted by a desire to make the most of what is now there, would have discovered that many features of the institution would serve for many years if the state took it and expanded it. No architect or engineer apparently was employed to examine for the committee or to estimate cost of changes. Nor was such service obtained apparently when the committee arrived at the cost of other projects.

INVESTIGATION OF DEER ISLAND BY STATE COMMISSIONER OF CORRECTION.

The State Commissioner of Correction recently assigned employees of his department to investigate conditions at Deer Island. Not having visited there himself in several years, according to the records of the House of Correction, he personally is unacquainted with actual conditions and underlying causes. This group of investigators spent several days in investigation spread over four or five weeks.

The investigators were not men expert by training or experience in prison management such as the Finance Commission believes to be necessary for such a task. Two of them (there were four in all) were under recent administrations employed in the Governor's office with limited, if any, opportunity to observe prison management. None of them was appointed to the state department as one having had experience in institutional work, and all of them are of comparatively recent connection with the department. The Finance Commission does not know to what extent their report guided the Recess Committee in its finding, if at all. The Finance Commission believes it should not be taken too seriously for several reasons.

FORMER RECESS COMMITTEE FAVORED DEER ISLAND FOR A STATE INSTITUTION.

A recess committee created by an earlier Legislature made an exhaustive study of the same question which was before the committee recently reporting. That earlier committee made careful note of changes that would be necessary at Deer Island and estimated the cost of them. The committee emphatically recommended acquisition of Deer Island by the state and figured the cost of making over the existing institution would be approximately $1,000,000. This figure included expenditure of approximately $100,000 for a bridge which would now be unnecessary because there is a roadway to the island.

CONCLUSION.

Keeping taxation costs in Boston as low as possible, especially in these times, is important to the whole state. Financial disaster to Boston will affect every taxpayer in the state.

The amount the city must pay to the state is vitally important to the city. It is not what the city is responsible for on its own account that is mainly the cause of the present threat of financial disaster.

Ill-considered state expense in providing new prison accommodation will increase the hazard of Boston financial disaster. Providing ample and accessible new prison accommodation by a means that will serve to keep the cost down and at the same time relieve Boston of an unfair expenditure accomplishes good for both the state and the city.

In view of the foregoing facts and observations, the Finance Commission believes that the transfer of the custody of the House of Correction at Deer Island from the City of Boston to the State Department of Correction and the usage by the State Department of that institution, after suitable rearrangement and expansion, will serve best and most economically for relief of the crowded conditions at Charlestown State Prison and Concord Reformatory.

The commission desires to emphasize that the proposal contained herein is offered on its merits alone. It is not a part of any idea that the state should assume custody of other county institutions.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID LASKER, Chairman,
ROBERT ROBINSON,
JAMES E. MAGUIRE,
JOSEPH A. SCOLPONETI,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,

APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS.

Supplies.

The allowance for supplies is the smallest appropriation since 1928, with the exception of 1933 and 1934, during which two years the market prices of items included in this category were substantially lower than the level which obtains today.

Materials.

The allowance for materials, $244,750, is the lowest amount recommended for city departments in the last twenty-odd years.

Special Items.

The allowance for special items, which consists primarily of the city appropriation for aid to dependent children, dependent aid, and old age assistance, is $10,304,364.23. I am informed by the Director of Public Welfare that demands for assistance made on his department are in the increase and I am fearful lest the threatened curtailment of the W. P. A. work relief program will aggravate the situation. It is not intended that your Honorable Body interpret the allowance for special items (welfare assistance) as an estimate of the requirements for relief assistance for the full year. What they will be is highly conjectural. All we know is that the unfortunate victims of economic conditions must be provided for until they are able to provide for themselves. The figure submitted in this schedule is practically the same as that submitted in the budget of last year. It is to be ardently wished that an improvement in conditions of employment or additional cooperation from Federal and State governments may render it possible that no further sums will be needed for this item.

Relief Projects.

The allowance for relief projects for the purpose of defraying Boston's share of W. P. A. projects is $22,231.70 greater than the amount originally provided in the 1938 budget. Unexpended loan balances carried forward from 1937 to 1938 amounted to $118,122 as compared with a current carry-over of relief projects balances of $161,954. With this carry-over and the increase in actual appropriations, departments will have available $66,000 in excess of last year's appropriation for W. P. A. projects. Final requirements for this item are conditioned upon Congressional action. In the event that additional funds are necessary to continue W. P. A. work relief program, existing law provides that they be made available by borrowing.

Special Appropriations.

The sum total of the various allowances under this group reflects a net decrease of $32,804.47 over 1938 appropriations. This reduction is made notwithstanding the increased appropriation necessary for snow removal. In 1938 it cost the City of Boston $279,001.22 to perform this very necessary function, and in the first three months of the current year the cost of snow removal has already reached the $400,000 figure.

The allowances for the Contingent Fund and the Reserve Fund are the same as in prior years.

An allowance of $25,000 has been recommended in this year's budget for Reconstruction of Streets, under chapter 90 of the General Laws, as compared with last year's appropriation of $50,000.

County Departments.

* Decrease.

† Special Appropriations include: Social Law Library, $1,000; Supplementary Maintenance of Young's Hotel, $8,000; Temporary Courthouse Accommodations, Rental of, $40,000.

Allowances for county maintenance show an increase of $142,979.81 over appropriations for 1938. The above table indicates in comparative form the group distribution of this increase.

Personal Service.

The increase in the personal service is due primarily to the increased personnel for the operation of the new Suffolk County Courthouse which has recently been opened for public service.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

N. Cibotti & Co. have been directed to perform the following extra work under the contract for sewerage works in Central Wharf, from Atlantic avenue 650 feet easterly, city proper, dated December 7, 1938. Items ordered: Build high wood and chicken-wire fence as requested by the Eastern Steamship Company (100 feet long and 10 feet high) around the trench in the wharf at the outlet of overflow from Station 0 plus 00 to Station 0 plus 40, to restrain our men from entering other parts of the wharf, at a cost of $1275 per foot. Estimated cost of extra work, $127.50.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendations of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Upon March 29 the Mayor approved a contract with Coleman Brothers Corporation for rebuilding the Berkeley Street Bridge over the Boston & Albany Railroad, P. W. A. Docket No. Mass. 1584-F, at an estimated cost of $59,000. The following bids were received March 21:

Contractual Services.

Of the increase of $9,033.45 in contractual services, $7,200 may be attributed to the cost of moving the Suffolk County departments to their new quarters.

Equipment, Etc.

The increase of $28,077.66 in the equipment item is for the installation of rugs, American flags, electric fans, desks, fireproof containers for official documents, and similar equipment installed in connection with the opening of the new Courthouse. There is reason to believe that if the appropriation of the Courthouse Commission had been sufficient to provide the $7,200 for the cost of moving in relocating offices and for the installation of this new equipment, it would have been a proper charge to their funds. In view of the depleted condition of their funds and my desire that there be no further delay in the use of this building, I am recommending that the city go forward in the matter of completing financial arrangements and with a bill in the Legislature for the Commonwealth to reimburse the City of Boston in the proportion provided by law.

Special Items.

The decrease in the special items of $29,034.28 is due completely to repeal of the law, by the last Legislature, for the Penal Institutions Department to provide separate support to the dependents of inmates to that institution during the term of their sentence.

Special Appropriations.

Of the increase of $48,000 in special appropriations, $8,000 represents the cost of personnel to maintain the Municipal Court in its present location until the Sheriff is able to provide quarters acceptable to it in the Courthouse on Beacon Hill. The remaining $40,000 represents the rent chargeable by the City of Boston to the County of Suffolk for use and occupancy of the so-called Young's Hotel by the Municipal Court of the City of Boston for the first eight months of 1939, at which time it is believed the Municipal Court will move into quarters in the new Courthouse.

Section 6 of chapter 474 of the Acts of 1935, provides that the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts shall share the cost of operation and maintenance of the Suffolk County Courthouse, taken as a whole, on the ratio of 70 per cent and 30 per cent, respectively, and payments to the City Treasurer, under the provisions of this same chapter, should result in a cost to the taxpayers of Boston of less than the cost of operating prior to the new construction.

Although the revenue departments of the city are self-sustaining and are not provided for from tax collections, but from fees charged for the services they render, for your information there is given above a table in comparative form showing the group distribution.

Tax Rate for Boston.

In view of the various bills pending in the Legislature having a direct bearing on municipal finances, it is practically impossible to forecast a tax rate for Boston with any degree of accuracy. Comforting it is, however, to note that I have continued to conduct the city's affairs economically and that whatever increase in the tax rate for Boston that may come can be attributed to financial policies completely and exclusively beyond the control of the Mayor of Boston.

Under the provisions of chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889, departments are authorized to expend, prior to the adoption of the budget, one third of the previous year's appropriation. In view of the fact that the period of grace allowed by statute is coming to an end, I recommend prompt consideration and adoption of the accompanying orders and recommendations by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

* Increased appropriation for the Boston Port Authority is made possible by the passage of chapter 453 of the Acts of 1938, enacted to broaden the program of this department and providing the Commonwealth shall reimburse the City of Boston for 50 per cent of the total appropriation. Although the activity of this body will be considerably broadened the net cost to the City of Boston, $32,500, will be $6,010.02 less than in 1938.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with contractors and business concerns as indicated for labor, supplies, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

BOSTON, March 10, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—I respectfully request your approval to the awarding of a contract, without advertising, to the Boston Sand and Gravel Company for furnishing and delivering to various school buildings, ready mixed concrete in the proportion of 1-2½-5.

You will recall that during the year 1938, this department advertised for bids on this material and received from two concerns bids of $7 and $7.05 per cubic yard. These prices I considered excessive and I therefore rejected the bids submitted.

Later on, informally, I received a bid from the Boston Sand and Gravel Company of $6 per cubic yard with a discount of 50 cents per cubic yard to be allowed on deliveries made between the 1st and 15th of the month, providing the invoice is paid on or before the 25th and on deliveries made between the 16th and the 31st of the month if invoices are paid on or before the 10th of the following month. This bid allowed us to purchase ready mixed concrete of the mix mentioned above for $5.50 per cubic yard, the lowest price I understand paid by any department in the city.

I have just received from the Boston Sand and Gravel Company an informal bid stating that they are willing for the first six months of this year to deliver concrete at the same price as last year, and for the last six months of the year they stand ready to deliver this concrete for $6.50 less 50 cents per cubic yard. From the prices I have obtained this year as paid by various other departments I feel that this informal bid of the Boston Sand and Gravel Company is a much lower figure than other departments are paying.

As our total requirements for this material will exceed one thousand (1,000) dollars, I respectfully request your Honor's approval to the awarding of this contract without advertising. In making this request I feel that it is in the best interests of the city.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES J. MAHAR,
Superintendent of Construction.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 6, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Under date of September 26, 1938, bids for installing complete oil-burn- ing equipment at the House of Correction, Deer Island, were advertised for in the City Record. These bids were publicly opened and read at this office on Monday, October 3, 1938, and permission to award this contract to the lowest bidder, Petroleum Heat and Power Company, was approved by your Honor on October 13, 1938, for the sum of $15,980. The contract for same was approved by your Honor on October 19, 1938.

Thereafter, on November 28, 1938, your Honor approved the award, without advertising, of an addition to this contract in the sum of $1,473 for rebuilding the left outside wall of boiler No. 1 and renewing the rear arch of boiler No. 1. A further permission to award an extra work order for the sum of $3,338 for rebuilding the walls of boiler No. 2 was approved by your Honor on January 24, 1939.

On recommendation of the engineers in charge of the installation the following work, not contained in the contract, is necessary: The contractor is to remove the present defective rear arch of boiler No. 3 and surrounding brickwork and is to install a moulded fire-clay arch complete with tee or I-beam structural shapes properly protected against deformation by twisting or warping, and is to provide asbestos or high melting rock wool for insulating around arch. This work is to be performed similar to the work previously done on boilers No. 1 and No. 2.

The price for the above work is to be $274.

As the Petroleum Heat and Power Company are now performing the work on the original contract, I am of the opinion that the best interests of the city will be served by approving an addition to their contract for doing all this work and respectfully request your Honor's approval to this award, without public advertising.

Respectfully,

JOHN J. DOUGLASS,
Commissioner.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 6, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—In order to continue the present practice of this office of the purchase of fruits and vegetables on a daily basis, and meats, poultry, butter, cheese and eggs on a weekly basis, which your Honor approved under date of July 21, 1938, I would respectfully request that permission be granted me to continue this procedure for the year 1939, as I am of the opinion that this practice is a more economical procedure than that of purchasing these commodities on a monthly basis, as was the custom prior to 1938.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN A. BREEN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Department to raze the following structures as fire hazards or nuisances:

The buildings at 2 and 4 Badger place, Ward 2, Charlestown.

The building at 802 and 804 Dorchester avenue, Ward 7, owned by Mary O'D. Campbell estate; Leo Reed, administrator.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your approval is respectfully requested for the emergency employment of the following men on snow removal work at the Boston Airport on January 30, 31 and February 1, 5, 6, 7, 12, all at $5 a day:

George Annis, 4½ days, $22.50; Richard J. Geehan, 7 days, $35; Joseph P. Mori, 3½ days, $17.50; Roy F. Smith, 1 day, $5; Joseph D. Tomasso, 4 days, $20. Total, $100.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

Boston, March 22, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request permission to pay 162 men, employees of this department, for overtime work removing snow and sanding park highways between March 9 and 19, 1939, at the time of the last blizzard.

This overtime amounts to $1,534.09 and will be paid from the A-3 item in the Park Department budget.

These men worked in the late hours of night and the early hours of morning to perform this important work. It is of the utmost importance that the roadways, parkways and paths under the control of this department be kept open, and in order to do this these men are obliged to work at all hours of day and night.

Accordingly your permission is requested to pay them the above-named sum.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

The Mayor has approved the following requests of the Public Works Commissioner on snow removal:

Boston, March 21, 1939.

To the Mayor of Boston.

The snowstorm of March 11 necessitated the employment of about 4,984 emergency laborers at $5 a day, for from one to nine days from March 12, to assist the department forces in the clearing of streets, for which I respectfully request your approval. To be charged to the appropriation for Snow Removal.

Yours respectfully,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Boston, March 23, 1939.

To the Mayor of Boston.

The snowstorm of March 11, 1939, necessitated the employment of nine gasoline engine operators on snow loaders at $1.37½ an hour (union scale), for a period of from seven-eighths of a day to four days, from March 13, 1939, to assist the department employees in the clearing of streets, for which I respectfully ask your approval. To be charged to the appropriation for Snow Removal.

Yours respectfully,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

MAYOR TOBIN PAYS TRIBUTE TO HUMANITARIAN SERVICES OF SUPERINTENDENT OLIVER B. ELLIOT, OF THE BOSTON INDUSTRIAL HOME, OVER FIFTY-YEAR PERIOD—IN BROADCAST OVER STATION WHDH PRAISES WORK DONE FOR THE UNDERPRIVILEGED AND AID GIVEN TO NEEDY—POINTS TO ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND PREDICTS STILL GREATER FUTURE FOR BOTH SUPERINTENDENT AND INSTITUTION HE SERVES.

President Nichols, Superintendent Elliot, Visiting Clergymen, Officers of the Boston Industrial Home, Friends and Guests.

We are met in this haven of refuge on a day when the prevailing weather in Boston is raw and inclement, but for our present purpose, if I may say so, that's just what it ought to be. The institution where we are assembled this afternoon is no place of fair-weather charity, smiling only when the sun shines. It is a house of human kindness perpetual, in season and out of season,—a home especially designed to give shelter to men and women against the chill wind of adversity, a home built to stand only the more firm the harder the storm rages, a home that gives friendly aid to the outcast and friendless.

Some of us, no doubt, have felt during years of the recent depression that we were peculiarly burdened. We have felt some sense of complaint that if the economic times had to get out of joint, it was a particular injustice that such misfortune should come during our lifetimes.

By way of contrast to that indulgent self-pity, consider for one moment the purpose voluntarily adopted by the Boston Industrial Home sixty-two years ago. This institution was founded, let me remind you, with open-eyed realization that the burdens of human hardship, the problems of unemployment, the difficulties of depression were to be its daily lot, and this not for a few years but through all the years, whether in good times or in bad, by night as by day, in the storms of winter as in the parching heat of summer.

Look back through the annual reports of the Boston Industrial Home and you will find there the records not of one period but of several periods when the general business of this country had fallen off, when jobs were scarce, and when many of Boston's people were suffering and in need.

For example, the annual report of the Boston Industrial Home for the year 1893 refers—I quote the exact phrase—to "the exceptional hard times through which we are passing." And then that 1893 report says gladly and gratefully that "There has been a steady increase in the Home's sale of wood and coal, and all other branches of work the past year, which has made it possible to keep more men employed. Mr. Oliver C. Elliot," the 1938 report declares, "has been untiring in his interest in this department and has done good and effectual work among those who came under his care."

It is to this faithful worker—Mr. Oliver C. Elliot—that we are assembled this afternoon to pay tribute. A full half-century ago Mr. Elliot first came to the Boston Industrial Home. In 1893 he was named assistant superintendent—in the same year, by the way, when the Home's present building was opened. Ten years later—on March 28, 1903—Mr. Elliot was chosen acting superintendent. Soon afterwards he was elected to the office with full tenure, and with a full, strong grip he has held it ever since.

As Mayor of Boston, I am honored by the opportunity to pay tribute to a man who has fulfilled such a half-century of humanitarian service. Figures, statistics, are but inadequate means to convey an idea of the great substance and reality of his long labor. I would like to offer you, however, a broad picture which seems to me truly impressive. During the fifty years of Mr. Elliot's work here, a rough calculation shows that the Boston Industrial Home has supplied to men and women otherwise homeless more than 30,000 nights' lodging each year. Over a period of fifty years that means the supply of clean beds and bedding for something like 1,500,000 nights' shelter. Meanwhile, the Industrial Home has served a far larger number of individual meals. A quarter-century ago the Home was supplying nearly 40,000 meals annually. Last year—in 1938—the number rose to 60,000 by actual count.

And I am especially mindful, as Mayor of Boston, that the Industrial Home makes this provision for men and women who are in dire need, but who, for various reasons, are not eligible for public relief. Here no barrier is raised up against needy human beings who are aliens, or who have not established or maintained a proper legal settlement.

In short, as the Boston Industrial Home's annual report declared in 1895, this Home strives to "become all things to all men. Does a man want work? We furnish it. Is he hungry?—We feed him. Naked? We clothe him. A stranger? We take him in. Sick? We provide him with a physician, medicine and nurse."

These, surely, are humanitarian services which deserve grateful thanks from all of us in the body politic, and which merit also the most widespread popular support.

To Mr. Elliot, President Nichols, the treasurer, Freeman Emerson, and for all others associated in this most worthy enterprise I offer heartfelt appreciation on behalf of the City of Boston, with the hope that they may remain with us, full of good works, for many years yet to come.

TAX TITLE LOAN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 13, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised that as a result of the tax taking conducted by the city last January in connection with delinquent 1937 taxes that tax titles in the approximate amount of $2,300,000 have been recorded by the City Collector in the Registry of Deeds. Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 235, of the Acts of 1938, any borrowings against tax titles must be used solely to meet notes issued in anticipation of revenue. On the 12th of next month $5,000,000 in temporary notes issued last April will come due, and I propose to borrow from the Commonwealth $2,000,000 against the tax titles most recently recorded, the proceeds to be utilized in the redemption of these notes.

ANNUITIES TO FAMILIES OF CERTAIN HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 20, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Corporation Counsel relative to your order of March 6, 1939, concerning a petition to the Legislature for such legislation as may be necessary to pay an annuity to the family of employees of the Hospital Department who die on account of injury or disease contracted in the course of their employment.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 13, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have received a memorandum from your office dated March 9, 1939, transmitting for consideration and report the following order of the City Council;

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to petition the Legislature for such legislation as may be necessary to pay an annuity to the family of employees of the Hospital Department who die on account of injury or disease contracted in the course of their employment, provided that the provisions of the present retirement system are not sufficiently broad to cover such cases."

I have examined the provisions of the Boston Retirement Act (chapter 521, Acts of 1922, as amended) and I am of the opinion that the provisions of said act are sufficiently broad to accomplish the purpose set forth in said order. In this connection I respectfully call your attention to section 15 of said act which section is as follows:

"Section 15. If a member is killed or dies or a beneficiary retired for accidental disability who has not taken an option under section seventeen dies and the retirement board, upon application by the head of the department in which the member or beneficiary was employed or of a person acting in behalf of the legal representative or dependents of the member or beneficiary, and upon receipt of proper proofs, finds that such death was the, natural and proximate result of an accident or of undergoing a hazard peculiar to his employment in the performance and within the scope of his duty, at some definite time and place, without contributory negligence on his part, and that such accident occurred or hazard was undergone not more than two years prior to the date of death or that, in the case of one who was a member at the time of his death, such accident occurred or hazard was undergone more than two years prior to the date of death but was reported in writing to the retirement board by the member or in his behalf within ninety days after it occurred or was undergone, and if the medical board shall find that the death was the natural and proximate result of such accident or of undergoing such hazard, an accidental death benefit shall be granted by the retirement board. Such accidental death benefit shall consist of:

(a) His accumulated deductions which shall be paid to his legal representative; and

(b) If he has dependents a pension equal to one half the annual compensation received by him during the year immediately preceding the date of the accident which pension shall be paid:

(1) To his widow during her widowhood; or
(2) If there be no widow or if the widow dies or remarries before every child of such deceased member shall have attained the age of eighteen years, then to his child or children under said age, divided in such manner as the retirement board in its discretion shall determine to continue as a joint and survivor pension until every such child dies or attains the age of eighteen years; or

(3) If there be no widow, or child under the age of eighteen years surviving such deceased member, then to either his dependent father or dependent mother as the retirement board in its discretion shall determine, to continue for life or until remarriage.

Yours very truly,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

Placed on file.

INSURANCE POLICIES OF WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 18, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Vice Chairman of the Public Welfare relative to your order of February 27, 1939, concerning permission for welfare recipients to retain their insurance policies for six months after being put on the welfare rolls.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Overseers of the Public Welfare,
March 13, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Attention of Mr. Doyle.

Dear Sir,—This department has received your communication of March 1, 1939, with inclosed copy of an order from the City Council, dated February 27, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Public Welfare Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to permit welfare recipients to retain their insurance policies for six months after being put on the welfare rolls."

In the Old Age Assistance group and also in the group covering Aid to Dependent Children, adjustments of insurance are mandatory on the Overseers of Public Welfare, because recipients in these categories must have their insurance coverages comply with requirements of the law in order that they may attain the benefits of special legislation passed to aid them. In these cases, both the Federal Government and the State Government are co-contributors.

In the group classified under Dependent Aid, interpretation has to be based under chapter 117 of the General Laws of Massachusetts. This chapter is rather indefinite in that it says that persons shall not be barred from receiving public welfare if they have insurance up to $300. With this provision worded as it is, our presumption has been that the intent of the Legislature was not only to care for insurance coverages for public welfare recipients but also to require this department to investigate insurance holdings and adjust them where necessary because of the outlay involved.

In general, we find that industrial insurance bought by payment of a weekly premium is the usual form of insurance of people applying for welfare aid. The two types of insurance coverage usually met with are those of the straight life policies and the short and long term endowment policies. The life policies are less costly because their cash value through the years is lower and the face of the policy is payable only at the death of the assured; the endowment policies are more costly because at the end of a definite given period the assured may get the full face of the policy which is also payable in the event of death prior to the end of the endowment period. The factors that are involved in the adjustment of these policies, therefore, are the cost of policies to the welfare recipient and the question of the greatest amount of protection for the least amount of weekly payment. May I give a typical example of a case in point: If a welfare recipient, his wife and three children were paying an aggregate of 75 cents a week for a combination of life and endowment policies and were able to keep the total amount of protective insurance at the same total with reduction in weekly premium to 50 cents per week by change to whole life policies, we believe that we are accomplishing what we should because we feel that we should keep in proper proportion the amount of money that is paid for insurance coverage out of the total family budget.

Also, it is a rule of insurance companies that when an endowment policy is changed to a whole life policy, a medical examination of the assured has to be remade, because for the same amount of protection a lower premium has to be paid. On the other hand, if at the end of a given period an individual wishes to change from a whole life policy to an endowment policy, no medical examination is required because the endowment policy carries a higher rate of premium payment.

Because of these facts, which we trust are in keeping with the factors involved, we decidedly feel that no hardship is imposed on any recipient because of temporary readjustment of policy contracts and maybe a slight reduction in the total amount of coverage for various individuals in the family, for the reason that we feel obligated to do our best in an absolutely impartial way to see that each family is properly protected in accordance with its family budget.

May we say that we hope that this answer will satisfy the honorable members of the City Council, but at any time that a case in point does not seem to meet with the best interest of any welfare recipient, our Insurance Division will stand ready to cooperate in order to obtain the best result for the family in question.

Sincerely yours,
BOARD OF OVERSEERS OF PUBLIC WELFARE,

Vice Chairman.

City of Boston,

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have received a memorandum from your office dated March 9, 1939, transmitting for consideration and report the following order of the City Council:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel and the Legislative Agent be requested to inform the Council, through his Honor the Mayor, whether or not they have filed a petition with the Legislature in response to the order of the City Council to permit the relocation of the street car tracks on Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street junction along Blue Hill avenue to the American Legion Highway, to the center of the thoroughfare."

I find no record of the passage of the order referred to in the above order and am, therefore, unable to advise you regarding same.

I respectfully call to your attention the following order and response thereto relating to the location of car rails on Blue Hill avenue and appearing in the City Council Minutes for 1937.

Order of May 3, 1937.

"Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of changing the present location of the car rails on Blue Hill avenue from the side of the roadway to the center of the roadway to permit traffic to flow in one-way lanes on either side of the proposed center-rail car lines, between the junction of Seaver street and Blue Hill avenue and the American Legion Highway and Blue Hill avenue."

"City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, June 18, 1937.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of May 3, 1937, concerning the advisability of changing the present location of the car rails on Blue Hill avenue from the side of the roadway to the center of the roadway.

Boston Elevated Railway,

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—Replying to order of the City Council of June 3 relative to advisability of changing tracks on Blue Hill avenue from the side to the center of the roadway, the trustees directed me to reply that a study was made of what this would mean if the cost of such change were placed upon the Elevated and it would amount to $112,000, which would be directly reflected in the Elevated deficit.

The Board sincerely hopes that this additional charge will not be considered under present conditions.

USE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS BY ORGANIZATIONS.

The following was received:

Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Secretary of the School Committee relative to your order of February 14, 1939, concerning setting up of certain rules and regulations concerning the use of school buildings by private organizations.

City of Boston,
School Committee, March 9, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the City Council held on February 14, 1939, an order was passed requesting the School Committee, through your Honor, to set up certain rules and regulations regarding the use of school buildings by outside organizations, so as to provide that at least five days' notice may be required of the petitioners, and that sufficient information be furnished in each case in order that it may be determined that the organization is not unpatriotic or un-American in its motives or purposes.

The School Committee has directed me to say that under the present regulations, every effort is made to satisfy the department that the person seeking the permit is responsible and is entitled to the privilege he seeks. Frequently permits are refused because credentials presented are not satisfactory to the office. The Committee feels that further regulations in this particular respect are not necessary at this time.

In the evening centers, the situation is somewhat different, for club activities are carried on under the general oversight of the person appointed in charge of the center. Recently the superintendent asked the director to enforce more stringent regulations regarding the use of rooms for club activities of any kind. The School Committee believes that this work, too, is being handled with due care.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The City Council in meeting, January 23, passed an order requesting the School Committee, through your Honor, to rescind the present age requirement for admissions to the kindergartens and to establish the entering age as four years on or about October 1 of the year of application for admission.

The School Committee has directed me to say that the present regulation which establishes the age for admission to kindergartens as four years six months on September 1, was established after very careful consideration. The Committee believes that the change was justified and will work to the advantage of the children. It will prevent a good deal of the retardation which now occurs in the early grades.

It seems to the School Committee that no change in the regulation now is desirable.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of March 6, 1939, concerning the installation of automatic traffic signals at Deerfield street on the north side of Commonwealth avenue and at the intersection of Brookline avenue with the south side of Commonwealth avenue.

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, March 11, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated March 6, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner of the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install automatic traffic signals at Deerfield street on the north side of Commonwealth avenue and at the intersection of Brookline avenue with the south side of Commonwealth avenue."

We have reason to believe that the intent of this Council order is rather to amend the operation of the existing traffic signal in this portion of Kenmore square so that an exclusive pedestrian period may be afforded than requesting the installation of automatic traffic signals.

Requests of this nature have been recurrent since the installation of the traffic signal in Kenmore square in 1932. Every one conversant with traffic conditions in this area must realize that, particularly during rush hours, the vehicular traffic passing through this area requires 100 per cent of the time and often this is not sufficient. For this reason we have never been able to operate the signal so as to provide a pedestrian period. To accommodate this request it would require that a pedestrian period of from thirty-six to forty seconds, which would use 36 to 40 per cent of the time as the signal operates on a 100-second cycle, be inserted in the operation of the signal, because the persons who are interested in the request are desirous of being able to cross on foot from the corner of Deerfield street to the corner of Brookline avenue, at the Hotel Buckminster. This is a distance of 156 feet which would require thirty-six seconds to traverse at three miles per hour, the average walking speed of a pedestrian.

It is unfortunate that this request cannot be honored, but we believe that a person who wishes to cross this area should use the pedestrian subway even though the use of it results in a degree of inconvenience.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

SEWERAGE CONDITIONS, WARD 10.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 9, 1939.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of December 19, 1939, concerning the sewerage conditions, etc., along the Riverway, Jamaicaaway and South Huntington avenue in Ward 10.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, March 3, 1939.
Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Re City Council order dated December 19, 1938, requesting that the Commissioner of Public Works conduct an investigation into sewerage conditions, etc., along the Riverway, Jamaicaaway and South Huntington avenue, in Ward 10.

Dear Sir,—In compliance with the above order an investigation was made, and I submit the following report:

Riverway. Custodians of apartments along Riverway near Huntington avenue report that sewer and surface drains function properly and they have no complaint.

Jamaicaway. Apartment houses from No. 10 to No. 60, inclusive. The basements of these apartments were badly flooded during abnormal rainstorms which occurred during July and August, 1938. The water entered through the rear basement doors and windows and came from the flooding of a low point in South Huntington avenue about opposite the rear of No. 20 Jamaicaaway. The water in South Huntington avenue formed a large pond, and at the low point flowed across the northerly sidewalk, through a store property at No. 41 South Huntington avenue, also through the yard space between Nos. 41 and 35 South Huntington avenue to the rear of the apartments where it entered, flooding the basements.

The flooding of South Huntington avenue was caused by the filling of the catch-basins at the low point in South Huntington avenue with a clay silt carried in suspension by rain water. The silt not only filled the catch-basins but left a deposit several inches deep in the roadway.

The clay silt came from a large vacant lot, believed to belong to Otis Shepard heirs, on the southerly side of South Huntington avenue near Heath street. The surface of the lot for a depth of about 150 feet from South Huntington avenue is about two feet above the grade of South Huntington avenue and then rises almost perpendicular to the top of Parker Hill. This steep slope is denude of vegetation.

During most rain storms, but particularly during heavy storms, the water passing over the steep slopes of this lot pours a stream of yellow-colored water onto the southerly side of South Huntington avenue, where it flows in an easterly direction to the low point described above.

In addition to the above, there is a very quick run-off of storm water from the back lots of brick apartments on the southerly side of South Huntington avenue, which water, carrying some sand and gravel, outlets directly at the low point through Colburn street (private street).

The number of catch-basins and the size of the surface drain in that part of South Huntington avenue in question are adequate to prevent serious flooding, provided that steps are taken to prevent the clay silt from the vacant lot adjacent to Heath street from washing onto South Huntington avenue. A wall along the street line of the lot would help materially but might create a pond in the rear of the wall that would be a hazard to children. This department has requested the Law Department to interview the owner of this lot in an effort to work out a satisfactory solution.

The Sewer Division has been instructed to keep these basins clean and functioning properly, so that even under present conditions every effort is being made to cope with the situation.

The owners of the Jamaicaaway apartments have built a high concrete wall along their rear property line which effectively protects them from future flooding from South Huntington avenue.

The delay in replying to the Council order is attributed to the claim by the Jamaicaaway apartments that occasionally they have trouble with their house sewer. In order to properly investigate this claim it was necessary to observe the functioning of the drains during heavy storms. The conclusion is, except as noted below, that most of their trouble, which occurs infrequently and is not of a serious nature, is due in part to the arrangement of drains within the building, and they have been instructed accordingly.

The Jamaicaaway apartments are connected with a sewer in the Jamaicaaway, the sanitary sewage and the roof water going into a common sewer. To provide better drainage, a separate surface drain should be provided and a study is now being made to determine if this can be done at a reasonable cost.

The owner of No. 40 to No. 60 Jamaicaaway complains of water standing in the gutter in front of the apartment. This is a question of grading, and has been referred to the Park Department for action.

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Please be informed that this is a W. P. A. project. There are no stones or debris on the playground, and the area has been used by the public for skating when the boys of the district would allow the ice to form. They have repeatedly smashed it with stones, tin cans, and anything they could lay their hands on.

The project is not complete, but immediately upon completion lighting arrangements will be made.

The department should be commended instead of criticized for the work it has done down there in making this place into a playground that could be utilized by the public this winter.

City of Boston,
Health Department, March 6, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—We have your communication of February 23, 1939, transmitting to this department "City Council order of February 14, 1939, concerning the immediate investigation of the condition of the property at the City Fuel Company on Border street, East Boston, and report their findings and recommendations forthwith to the City Council relative to the coal-dust nuisance."

Since the reference to this department of a similar order of the City Council in the spring of 1938, we have kept an almost daily check on this plant, with particular reference to undue dust arising from the handling of coal.

No complaints have been received by this department and our own investigations indicate that everything possible is being done to prevent an unreasonable amount of dust.

The coal yards and docks of the City Fuel Company are located in a business zone and have been in operation for about sixty years and approximately two hundred and twenty-five persons are employed by this concern.

It is possible that a plant of this size may, at times, cause some dust, but our investigations, covering a long period, do not reveal anything that could be construed as a public health nuisance.

There is heavy traffic, including coal trucks of various coal companies, on Border and Meridian streets which may be responsible in some measure for the complaint.

We find no action necessary at this time. The Housing and Sanitation Division of this department will continue to keep the plant under observation and, if the necessity arises, and in our opinion a nuisance exists, we will take the proper steps to abate it.

Respectfully yours,
H. F. R. WATTS, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works make a survey of that section of Ward 19 known as the "White City" with a view of building new streets and repairing the present streets which are in poor condition.

Upon investigation I find that the following-named streets are private ways and this department has no jurisdiction therein. The matter of acceptance should be taken up with the Board of Street Commissioners, 401 City Hall Annex, Boston:

Northbourne road, Hyde Park avenue to Bourne street.

Southbourne road, Hyde Park avenue to Eastland road.

Westbourne road, Southbourne road to Florence Street East.

Bourne street, Walk Hill street to Catherine street.

Woodbourne road, Eastland road to Eastland road.

Bourne road, Eastland road to Eastland road.

Florence Street East, Wachusett street to Southbourne road.

The following-named streets are public and come within the jurisdiction of this department, but the condition of same is good and no work is needed on them:

Bournedale road, Wachusett street to Northbourne road.

Wachusett street, Eldridge road to Southbourne road.

Eldridge road, Hyde Park avenue to Patten street.

Eastland road, Bourne road to Bourne road, has been accepted by the Board of Street Commissioners and will be entered for construction some time this year.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SHELTER, BLUE HILL AVENUE AND SEAVAR STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 9, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of February 14, 1939, concerning the construction of a waiting booth at the corner of Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
February 27, 1939.

Mr. W. T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of February 23, with copy of order of the City Council concerning the construction of a waiting booth at the corner of Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street, I think you will readily appreciate that it would be a very expensive proposition to provide shelters at all points on our system where there is considerable transferring between lines or where there are a number of patrons waiting for a car or bus, and the trustees have felt that in view of the deficit at which the railway is being operated they could not justify expenditures for that purpose.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

SIDEWALKS, WASHINGTON STREET, WARD 19.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 9, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of January 9, 1939, concerning the installation of sidewalks on both sides of Washington street, Ward 19, from Archdale road to Roslindale square, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
March 1, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith order in City Council that granolithic or asphalt sidewalks be installed on both sides of Washington street, Ward 19, from Archdale road to Roslindale square, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

A recent canvass of this street has been made, the result of which is that there are twenty-one years, eight nays, and four doubtfuls, showing that the greater number of abutters have signified their willingness to pay their proportionate assessment of the cost of the work.

I recommend that a lien order be put through the City Council so that this work can be submitted on a W. P. A. project.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

RAZING OF WEST ROXBURY VETERANS HOSPITAL BUILDINGS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 9, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of February 14, 1939, concerning the arranging for a W. P. A. project for the immediate razing of all buildings on the property formerly known as the West Roxbury Veterans' Hospital.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
March 1, 1939.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—I have copy of the following order that was passed in the City Council on February 14:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange a W. P. A. project for the immediate razing of all buildings on the property formerly known as the West Roxbury Veterans' Hospital."

In accordance with the provisions of the order, a W. P. A. project will be submitted immediately for the demolition of all the buildings on the property. I feel that this will be a worth-while project, as it not only will remove dilapidated buildings which are no asset to the community, but will also provide the city with building materials that will be salvaged and used in the construction of modern and up-to-date garages and office buildings in the various yards of the Public Works Department.

I recommend that this order be approved.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

REVENUE LOST TO ELEVATED THROUGH OPERATION OF OUTSIDE BUS LINES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 9, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of February 20, 1939, concerning revenue lost by the Boston Elevated in connection with out of town bus lines operating into the city proper.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
February 28, 1939.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your letters of February 24 inclosing orders of the City Council passed February 20, 1939, concerning revenue lost by the Boston Elevated in connection with out-of-town bus lines operating into the city proper.

When the question of the Fall River bus line came to the attention of the railway, its first interest was to protect the revenue of the Elevated as far as it could, without being inconsistent with the general public interest of Boston.

We insisted that the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company should agree that no passengers should be taken on inside of the Stoughton-North Easton line and they so agreed. Under such conditions the operation of this line would not affect the revenue of the Elevated because it is the substitution of motor bus service for traffic which formerly did reach downtown Boston by steam railroad or automobile.

It was stated that the reason for this bus operation was the curtailment of steam railroad service. This was consistent with the policy which the railway has previously pursued to protect its revenue. Transportation from the group of towns adjacent to the Elevated's outer boundaries is the only service which should, if possible, be prevented from going beyond Elevated terminals and thus help to provide revenue for the Elevated as well as the taxpayers.

The attached list shows the out-of-town bus lines now operating to Elevated terminals and to downtown Boston from the furthestmost group of towns and from the towns which we consider tributary to the Elevated system.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of February 14, 1939, concerning the installation of a sidewalk, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, in front of 102 Sawyer avenue, Ward 13.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works install a sidewalk, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, in front of 102 Sawyer avenue, Ward 13.

When this department enters a street it is the policy to clean up the entire street and we do not make a practice of submitting a project to cover only one house on a street.

I would suggest that the order be changed so as to take care of the entire street.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

DOG TRACK PETITION.

The following was received:

Petition of Greyhound Racing Corporation, by James H. Hayes, president, for approval to conduct dog racing at the Boston Garden, North Station.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I move reference of the petition to the Committee on Rules.

Chairman SHATTUCK—The question is on reference to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on that.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, the only reason why I wish that referred to the Committee on Rules is that there may be a lot of legal complications in this matter, due to the fact that the previous petition may or may not be alive at the present time. I think, therefore, that the proper committee to refer the matter to is the Committee on Rules.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, while, as I have said before, I am not in favor of dog racing, the purpose of this petition is for the Council, in view of the vote of the people, to determine whether this amusement Garden at the North Station is a proper place for racing. A majority of the Council has already so voted, and the President of the Council, as Acting Mayor, signed a similar order. The ruling of the Justice of the Supreme Court, as I read the papers, was that it was beyond the power of the Acting Mayor to do so, and I understand that this petition is now introduced into the Body because this is the proper place to bring the petition. Before the Racing Commission can grant a license, the City Council is the tribunal to determine whether or not the Garden is a proper place to hold these races. It seems to me, as a member of the bar, that no legal complication is involved. The attorneys representing the company, complying with the court order, in view of Judge Cox's position, are simply presenting to us now a petition upon which we have already voted. In order to be consistent, I am prepared to vote today the same way that I voted a week or two ago. If this is now favorably reported by the Council, it will then go to the Mayor, who is now in the city. It seems to me something of a subterfuge to divert the petition to the Committee on Rules when it should properly go before the Executive Committee of the Council.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I don't know whether the councilor from Ward 17 (Coun. Wilson) misunderstands my position in this matter or not. I feel the same way as I did when I voted for it before. There has already been a similar petition acted upon, signed by the President of our body as Acting Mayor. On that petition the Supreme Court has held that the President's signature is invalid. There is a question in my mind, the previous order having been signed by the President of our body as Acting Mayor, and that action under the circumstances having been deemed by the court insufficient, whether the Mayor of Boston can now act on this subsequent petition. That is simply a question for the Committee on Rules to consider, and I can see no objection to it.

The Council voted to refer the petition to the Committee on Rules, yeas 13, nays 3.

Yeas—Coun. Englert, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Harris, Hutchinson, Irwin, Kelly, Lyons, Norton, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Sullivan, Taylor—13.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Wilson—3.

LEGALITY OF APPROVAL OF PETITION OF GREYHOUND RACING CORPORATION.

A communication was received from the Clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court inclosing decision of Mr. Justice Cox in petition of George T. Lanigan for writ of mandamus against Racing Commission, as follows:

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Suffolk, ss. Supreme Judicial Court.

George T. Lanigan v. Charles F. Connors and Others.
No. 38780.

Finding and Ruling.

This case was heard upon the petition and answer. The answer admits all the material matters of fact "correctly pleaded," and, in addition, sets out in detail the proceedings of the Boston City Council on February 16, 1939, consenting to the use of the Boston Garden, so called, for dog racing purposes by the Greyhound Racing Corporation on its petition that was filed February 6, 1939, and the resolution and order of the City Council adopted on February 20, 1939, in which it is alleged "That in the opinion of the City Council the order passed February 16, 1939, granting consent to the use of the Boston Garden for dog racing purposes is a matter which will not admit of delay, and it so declares. The mayor having notified the Council of his absence from the city from February 16 to March 2, 1938, The additional facts alleged in the answer are not traversed."

It is apparent that the date March 2, 1938, in the resolve adopted February 20, 1939, should be read as March 2, 1939. The order adopted by the City Council on February 16, 1939, was approved in writing on February 21, 1939, by the President of the Boston City Council "in his capacity as Acting Mayor of Boston in the absence of the Mayor, Maurice J. Tobin."

The charter of the City of Boston (St. 1909, c. 486, s. 47) provides, among other things, that in the case of the absence of the Mayor, the President of the City Council shall perform his duties; that he shall be called Acting Mayor, and shall possess the powers of Mayor only in matters not admitting of delay. Compare G. L. (Ter. Ed.), c. 43, s. 26, as amended by St. (1938), c. 378, s. 9.

The question in the case is whether the granting of the consent of the City Council for the use of the Boston Garden for dog racing purposes is a matter not admitting of delay. I find and rule that it is not. Dimick v. Barry, 211 Mass. 165.

The writ is to issue commanding the respondents to refrain from granting any license to the Greyhound Racing Corporation based upon the purported consent of the Boston City Council by order adopted February 16, 1939, and purportedly approved on February 21, 1939.

INTEREST ON HOME MORTGAGES.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Board of Assessors to confer with the officials of all savings banks, trust companies and national banks located in Boston, and holding mortgages on homes occupied by the persons whose mortgages amount to $5,000, and who are paying amortization, that the rate of interest be placed at 5 per cent per annum and all mortgages on home dwellings of $4,000 and less where amortization payments are being made, that the rate of interest be reduced to 4 per cent per annum.

REPLACING HUNTINGTON AVENUE WATER MAIN.

Coun. CAREY offered the following: Ordered, That, in view of the serious interference with residents in the district, as well as the hardship imposed on business houses in the neighborhood, the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to do everything possible to expedite the work of replacing the water main on Huntington avenue, between Brigham Circle and the overpass on Huntington avenue, Ward 10.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, through Huntington avenue passes one of the heaviest flows of traffic that is found on any main artery in the city. Since January 9 last, due to the replacing of a water main on Huntington avenue, between Brigham Circle and the overpass, but one-way traffic has been permitted. This regulation has brought about a serious traffic congestion, and perhaps more important, a detouring of vehicular traffic through Francis street and also through St. Albans road. Both of these latter streets are almost entirely residential and the detouring of this very heavy traffic through them causes very imminent danger to children and other pedestrians during the day and seriously interferes with the peace of the neighborhood at night. Also, residents of Wait street, Parker Hill avenue, Mission street, Frawley street, Kempton street and other streets in the section are being greatly inconvenienced in getting to and from their homes. Furthermore, business houses along Huntington avenue have been put to considerable inconvenience and loss of trade because of the limiting of traffic to one-way between Brigham Circle and the overpass, and I therefore ask that everything be done—possibly the assignment of more men might help—to hasten the completion of this work and thereby restore the usual two-way movement of traffic on this thoroughfare.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PRINTING OF MUNICIPAL REGISTER.

Coun. HARRIS offered the following: Ordered, That the Statistics Department be authorized, under the direction of the Committee on Rules, to prepare and have printed the Municipal Register for the current year; and that the Clerk of Committees be authorized to prepare and have printed a pocket edition of the organization of the city government; the expense of said register and organization to be charged to the appropriation for City Documents.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS, BENNINGTON STREET.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following: Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide in the 1939 budget a sum sufficient to cover the installation of four traffic signal lights on Bennington street, East Boston, from Neptune road to Orient Heights.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC OFFICERS ON BENNINGTON STREET.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following: Ordered, That the Police Commissioner of the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to assign five traffic officers to Bennington street, East Boston, from Neptune road to Orient Heights, until such time as traffic signal lights are installed.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INVESTIGATION OF PET SHOPS.

Coun. IRWIN offered the following: Ordered, That the Police Commissioner of the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make immediate investigation of the records and conditions of all pet shops in the City of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUS LINE, SAVIN HILL-CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following: Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a bus line from Savin Hill Station to the City Hospital on Sundays during the regular visiting hours.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF SAVIN HILL AVENUE.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with concrete paving, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, Savin Hill avenue, Ward 13, from Dorchester avenue to the bridge.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

COMPLETION OF BOYLSTON STREET BRIDGE REPAIRS.

Coun. CHASE offered the following: Ordered, That, in view of the serious traffic congestion and because of the hardships suffered by the merchants and residents in the district, his Honor the Mayor be requested to consult with the contractor who is engaged in repairing the Boylston Street Bridge with a view to hastening the completion of the work.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, last December the contract was let to repair this Boylston Street Bridge, up near Massachusetts avenue. The contractor was given six months to complete the work, and technically cannot be called to account for not completing it within a shorter period. But I feel that the contractor should have more civic pride and should endeavor to finish the work within six months, in view of the great inconvenience, traffic congestion and hardship suffered by the merchants and residents in the district. The non-completion of the work of repairing the bridge has tied up traffic, people in the immediate vicinity are unable to get good transportation on the Elevated and much hardship is being endured by everybody who normally has occasion to use that bridge and who is injured by the consequent tie-up of traffic. The merchants in the neighborhood complain of losing business, and people in the vicinity are seriously put out by the tie-up. Two of the main arteries leading into the heart of Boston are in a very badly crippled condition because of the delay. I certainly hope that his Honor the Mayor will take this up with the contractor and endeavor to hasten the work of repairing the bridge. I understand that there are but a few men working on the bridge. I have myself consulted five engineers who have informed me that the work could be done within three months' time from the start if the contractor saw fit. Therefore, I cannot see why the contractor should take advantage of the terms of a contract which allow him six months' time to finish work on this bridge which could be done in three months, and the doing of which in short order would be of immense benefit to the people of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CORRECTION IN MINUTES.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following: Ordered, That the record of the March 6, 1939, minutes of the City Council be changed, on page 116, second column, twelve lines from the bottom by striking out the word "Springfield" and inserting the word, "Quincy" so that the line will read "between Boston and Quincy."

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF DEERING ROAD, WARD 14.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving, Deering road, Ward 14.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RELIEF OF TRAFFIC HAZARDS, BLUE HILL AVENUE.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following: Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, the Traffic Commissioner, the Street Commissioners and the trustees of the Boston Elevated be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately confer to formulate plans for a W. P. A. project by extending the present center-loading platform, now in use on Blue Hill avenue in Mattapan, from its present terminus to Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street, in order to relieve the present traffic hazards which now exist along Blue Hill avenue.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, the present center-loading platform now in use on Blue Hill avenue in Mattapan square prevents a traffic hazard to those using the street to get to or from the platform, or otherwise, passengers or pedestrians. I believe, therefore, that through a W. P. A. project the center-loading might be extended from its present terminus to Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street, thereby affording additional safety not only to pedestrians but to motorists, and relieving the present traffic hazards now existing along the avenue. I trust that the order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECONSTRUCTION OF BLUE HILL AVENUE.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, the Traffic Commissioner, the Street Commissioners and the trustees of the Boston Elevated be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to confer at once for the purpose of formulating plans for the reconstruction of Blue Hill avenue, from the American Legion Highway to Seaver street, and provide for a two-barrel highway in the above-mentioned section, to eliminate present traffic hazards.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, there is a serious situation at the present time on Blue Hill avenue from the American Legion Highway to Seaver street, because of the fact that the street cars go along one side of the street, and the north and south traffic use the rest of the street, with a threat to motorists going both ways and to pedestrians crossing the avenue. If a two-barrel highway can be provided, with the cars going along the center of the avenue and the north traffic going on one side of the tracks and the southbound traffic on the other, much of the present traffic danger will be eliminated. In the interest of public safety, I believe this should be done, perhaps through a W. P. A. highway project. It seems to me that it would be an arrangement that could be easily devised and carried out, and that it would be a safety measure, removing the present threat to pedestrians and motorists and simplifying the flow of traffic.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ELECTRIC ARC LIGHTS, WARD 20.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install electric arc lights on both sides of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad bridge on Baker street, between Spring and Centre streets, Ward 20.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENT OF WARD 20 STREETS.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 20 and to install sidewalks on both sides of same, the work to be done under the W. P. A. plan of construction: Cass street, Tappan street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STEPS AT STURGES ROAD, WARD 20.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a flight of steps connecting Sturges road with Bellevue street, Ward 20.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INDORSEMENT OF HOUSE BILL 851.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby approves and indorses the provisions of House Bill 851, providing for certain legislative action relating to mosquito control, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be at once forwarded to the clerk of the Public Health Committee, Room 450, State House, Boston, the hearings on said bill being scheduled for Tuesday, March 21, 1939.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I have a copy of the bill here, and I suppose the matter might well be referred to the Executive Committee. It proposes legislative action relative to mosquito control along the Charles river.

The resolve was referred to the Executive Committee.

OPPOSITION TO SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council desires to be recorded as opposed to such proposed amendments to the present Social Security Act as would repeal exemptions for churches, hospitals and charitable homes, such amendments now being considered by the Ways and Means Committee of the House, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be at once forwarded to each Massachusetts Congressman at Washington.

Referred to Executive Committee.

APPRAISAL OF ELEVATED BY FINANCE COMMISSION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston Finance Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take suitable steps for an honest and competent appraisal of the tangible property and the supposed assets of the Boston Elevated Railway Company.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM HOSPITAL TRUSTEES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, through his Honor the Mayor, be directed to at once advise the City Council in response to questions submitted in writing and passed unanimously by the Council as long ago as February 20 and February 27 of the current year, especially relating to nursing facilities and working conditions at the Boston City Hospital, and Further Ordered, That the Committee on Hospitals be requested to arrange an early date for hearing of the matters referred to in Council inquiries already made and related subjects.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I ask that those two orders be passed under suspension of the rule. These questions relative to the City Hospital nursing service or lack of service came up for the first time a month ago today, and, as one very much interested in the nursing situation at the hospital, and also realizing the difficulties with which the hospital was contending at this particular time, I was glad to agree to the propriety of the request that the matter be allowed to go forward for a short time—until, for instance, the Finance Commission had had an opportunity to investigate and make a report, because I understood that they had had a trained investigator at the hospital for nine years. I also bore in mind the fact that when the matter first came up the hospital trustees were so busy that they could not come down here for even a short time. I think, however, that possibly there lay in the minds of some the thought that perhaps I or other members of the Council would forget all about the matter. I therefore take occasion to assure the officials at the City Hospital that the matter is not being forgotten, that a month has passed without answering questions that could have been answered in three-quarters of an hour in the first place, and that the time has now come when we should take advantage of the statute which gives us the right, following requests of any department head, to summon them before the City Council, place them under oath, and bring out the facts desired. I really believe when a month has been wasted in a matter of this kind, where I think the public interest demands a prompt answer to the questions we have asked, we should not be tossed around to a degree that is not to the credit of the Council.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, a month ago this list of questions was introduced in the Council by Councilor Wilson, and the matter was referred to the Executive Committee, where the mother of one of the nurses was heard, and at that time we were told by the mother that her daughter had contracted tuberculosis at the City Hospital. The thing was presented in a very dramatic way. I wish now to say, however, for purposes of the record, that the physician-in-chief in charge of such cases at the Mattapan hospital states that in his opinion the young lady is getting better and will probably entirely recover. I know that we are all glad to hear that.

Coun. WILSON—I hope so.

Coun. NORTON—Well, it made headlines for you. Secondly, let me say for the information of the Council that an X-ray plate taken of this young woman while she was at the Danvers Hospital shows that she then had tuberculosis. Get that point. The X-ray shows definite evidence of tuberculosis at that time in that young lady. In other words, she had it when she came to the Boston City Hospital. But, regardless of where she got it, she is now apparently well on the way to recovery. I know that the councilor from Ward 17 (Coun. Wilson) will be glad to hear that, in the opinion of Dr. John Foley, the young lady is going to get better, being now at our River street, Mattapan, hospital for treatment.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the gentleman from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) has injected personalities into this discussion today. Very frankly, as a member of the Council and as the one who brought this matter to the attention of the Council, when we ask for information from the trustees in reference to nursing or other conditions at the hospital, I don't think it is incumbent on us to have any member of the City Council act as an interpreter for the trustees in the matter. I have not been officially advised as to whether the young lady came from Danvers, and what her condition was when she came, or where the councilor obtained his evidence in regard to the X-ray plate which showed that she had tuberculosis when she came to the City Hospital. If that is true, it is one of the most damaging admissions that could be made. In my opinion, if that young lady showed evidence of tuberculosis when she came to the hospital, why was she allowed to go into a maternity ward with forty patients? If that is so, I want to hear the trustees of the hospital admit it. The gentleman thinks that my entire purpose is to obtain publicity. I think I was entirely justified in the statements I made and the attitude I took when it appeared that the superintendent of the City Hospital was so busy with hospital affairs that he could not come down here and talk with us on the 20th of February in regard to the matter, although he had plenty of time to follow from the hospital in a motor vehicle the sister of our fellow member, giving her personal attention.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, what has this got to do with the order that the councilor has introduced? Who is the one who has interjected personalities here? Did I interject personalities? I merely stated that in the opinion of the doctor this young lady was on the way to recovery. Fine! I am glad and every member here is glad to hear that. I referred to the evidence shown by the X-ray plates that this young lady had tuberculosis when she was in the Danvers Hospital. Make the most of that; do all you wish. Where is the personality in those statements? And what has that got to do with the matter under discussion in regard to our City Hospital? And what has the reference to my sister got to do with it? You are looking for trouble, aren't you? You are the one who has stood here and referred to me as a "thing." I am not indulging in personalities, and I want to say to you now that you are the last man in the world to indulge in personalities here.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I hope that the councilors when they are speaking here will address the Chair.

Coun. NORTON—Well, I will be glad to, Mr. President.

Chairman SHATTUCK—The councilors will be in order, and will address the Chair.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I want to apologize for not addressing the Chair. Sometimes when we are standing here in this way and turning around to each other, without realizing it, we neglect to address the Chair. But I wish to assure the Chair that there was certainly no discourtesy intended on my part. We sometimes, under such circumstances, address the man to whom we happen to be speaking. In regard to the superintendent of the City Hospital following my sister home, I suppose the superintendent of the City Hospital in his own time can do as he pleases. I know nothing about the circumstance. But if he did, what of it? I suppose the superintendent of the Boston City Hospital is human and is appreciative of the fact that I stood here on the floor of the Council and defended him, because I believe he is a fine superintendent of the finest City Hospital in this country. I suppose he is only human in appreciating the fact that he and the hospital were defended. But I am not going to allow the councilor or any other member of this body to attack that gentleman. There are things that I could throw in here. The councilor has made a statement in regard to a member of my family. I could make a statement here about you that would make the headlines tomorrow, but I am not going to make it. I am not going to attack you, sir, as you have attacked me; but, oh! there is a statement I could make about you, if I wanted to descend to that kind of statement, that would make you sorry for some of the things you have said about me. I have no desire, however, to go into personalities or to bring in members of a person's family. I repeat, however, that if you continue insulting me, either when I am here or when I am not here, I am going to take advantage of the prerogative that is offered to any man under such circumstances. In answer to the statement of the councilor, that he has made for the headlines tomorrow, let me say this—I don't know whether the superintendent of the City Hospital followed my sister out or not. If he did, what of it? What does that show? I know that I have had occasion to call on him for help to deserving people in hundreds of cases, and I know that he has always done what he could within reason in the hospital to relieve suffering and to help out poor people. Therefore, my experience with the hospital and with the superintendent has been an extremely favorable one. He has always done what reasonably could be done at my request and the request of others. Why shouldn't I stand up here for the superintendent of the City Hospital, when he has given such fine service, and defend him against unjust attack? Of course, unfortunate cases such as this tuberculosis case do occasionally arise, but they should not be the cause of subjecting an institution of that character to such unfair attack.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. NORTON—Yes.

Coun. WILSON—As a matter of fact, didn't the Boston City Hospital put on additional nurses to the number of thirty-five?

Coun. NORTON—Due to the fact that they had an unprecedented number of nurses taken sick during this recent epidemic, the greatest number of such cases that they have ever had in the City Hospital's history.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I do not intend to indulge in personalities or to criticize the hospital in general, but I do recall an incident that occurred a few days before the gentleman from Dorchester (Coun. Wilson) introduced the order in reference to nursing conditions at the City Hospital. A certain police officer came to my home at 11.30 one night, and asked me if it would be possible for me to assist in securing a special nurse for his landlady, an elderly and penniless widow. She was taken to the hospital and the attending physician informed this police officer that if she did not have a special nurse the chances were that she would not live twenty-four hours. In other respects they gave her every possible treatment that they could, but they did not furnish a special nurse. The poor woman had no relatives, and it was absolutely essential for her to have the services of a special nurse, but the only way in which such services were obtained for several days was by the officer and two or three of his friends raising among themselves a couple of dollars apiece which, of course, did not go very far. He could not understand why the hospital did not make provision for special nurses in such cases. I got in touch with the superintendent of the hospital and he had a special nurse put on, after much urging. I feel that a community fund could be used in no better way than to furnish special nurses at the City Hospital in such cases where the patients are very dangerously ill, are poor, and have no friends or family to help them out. I feel that in such cases, even if the hospital cannot see any reimbursement coming, when it is a question of life or death, they should provide the nursing and then try to get the money afterwards. This hospital is not a financial but a charitable institution. I think in such extreme cases the hospital should provide a special nurse and then look for recompense from relatives or friends, if possible, afterwards.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, in view of the explosion this afternoon, and in view of the fact that the nurse in question was put on duty in the Maternity Ward, with the permission of the councilor who offered the order, I would like to change its wording so as to read that the trustees be requested to immediately appear before the Hospital Committee. It might be that the trustees of the hospital and the doctors were justified in permitting a nurse in that condition to administer to newly-born babies. But we are at least entitled as soon as possible to learn the facts. I say, therefore, in behalf of the citizens of Boston, the trustees of the City Hospital owe it to the Council to appear here as soon as possible, and I therefore would urge an amendment changing the words from "an early date" to "an immediate date."

The order requesting the Hospital Trustees to arrange for a hearing at an early date was amended by substituting for "early" the word "immediate." (Both orders were read, at request of Coun. Agnew.)

Coun. LANGAN—Mr. President, I can readily realize that in such a large city as ours there are many things concerning the hospital that from time to time may require necessary changes. I can readily understand, on the other hand, that the duties of the hospital officials are great and varied. There has been created a Hospital Committee, and I think that is the committee through which the City Council on the one hand and the hospital officials on the other can meet and correct many things that should be changed. I feel that much publicity, good and bad, can be entirely eliminated if we would sometimes hesitate a bit on these matters, first referring them to the Hospital Committee for consideration before discussing them at length on the floor. I have been a member of the Hospital Committee since my appointment by President Murray, and I feel that much more would be accomplished if many of the hospital matters discussed at length on the Council floor were first referred to that committee for consideration.

The orders were passed (the second one as amended) under suspension of the rule.

PROMISED FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT RE CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, and supplementing similar order passed by the Council on February 27—be again requested to promptly issue promised report relating to nursing care of patients at the Boston City Hospital referring to public statement issued by the Finance Commission about a month ago during the week of February 22, at which time the City Council was requested to delay hearings pending early issuing of such report.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PETITIONS FOR TAX ABATEMENTS.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, not to penalize widows and other persons financially unable to pay their taxes, by unfavorable action on their petitions for abatements, where they have a mortgage with a cooperative bank which compels the owners to amortize their mortgages or have their property foreclosed.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I have in mind the situation where a widow who owns a house has upon it a mortgage from a cooperative bank. We all know that cooperative banks require every owner to pay so much a year upon the principal of the mortgage. I know of a case of a widow who made application for an abatement, her husband having been dead for a period of three or four months and her son being sick with an incurable illness. The petition for abatement came before the Board of Assessors, and one member of that Board politely said during the year 1937, during which time the husband was alive, a certain amount was paid to the bank on the principal, and therefore he denied any abatement to that widow. We all know that cooperative banks which hold mortgages on a home will compel the mortgagee to pay as agreed upon or will otherwise foreclose the mortgage, and as a result the mortgagee is penalized on abatement, when she is unable to pay the taxes and seeks an abatement. While other widows and people unable to pay are entitled to abatement under Clause 18, and receive it, she is penalized because a cooperative bank holds the mortgage on the house and is unwilling to yield. I say that it is an unfair situation, and that the Board of Assessors should in such matters use reasonable discretion in granting abatements. This woman has no money, and the bank threatens foreclosure. She cannot pay and faces the likelihood of losing her home. I think such a situation should be considered by any Board of Assessors, and I think his Honor the Mayor should instruct the members of the Board to use reasonable discretion, not denying the petition of a woman like this because she has a cooperative bank mortgage on her house, but giving her the consideration that others receive and are entitled to.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

POLICE PROTECTION AT RIVERS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of assigning police to cover during the summer season those parts of rivers which flow through residential areas of the city.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLOSING OF ACTIVE CITY DUMPS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, consider the advisability of closing up all active dumps that are located in residential areas of the city.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, we are now getting into the early springtime and the summer is approaching, and there is a threat from these active dumps in hot weather in the Mount Hope section and other parts of my ward, as well as in other congested areas of the city. This order simply requests the Health Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of closing, as a menace to health, all active dumps that are located in residential areas, in the warm months. It does seem that this year those dumps should be covered up at such times.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROTEST TO W. P. A. RELIEF CUT.

Coun. SULLIVAN and HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Resolved, Whereas, The reduction of the Presidential Budget for W. P. A. purposes by $150,000,000, constitutes a dire threat to the economic welfare of thousands of citizens and families of Boston, and

Whereas, Such action must result in increasing the welfare costs of the city, thereby adding to the burden of the small home owner, and

Whereas, By reason of the further lack of money in circulation, the merchant as well as the consumer must, of necessity, suffer by it, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Boston City Council favor the further granting of the $150,000,000, or such adequate amount as will be necessary for the maintenance of the W. P. A. activities in the National Budget, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the Massachusetts delegation in the United States Congress.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BOSTON COUNTY AND COUNTY MAINTENANCE.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to prepare, introduce, and seek the approval of legislation to set up and establish Boston as a county.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to prepare, introduce, and seek the approval of legislation which will cause each town and city in Suffolk County to contribute its proportionate share to the cost of county maintenance.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, Suffolk County as now established and operating is really non-existent, because Boston taxpayers pay the entire cost of county government. Of so little importance are the duties of County Commissioners in Suffolk County that they are delegated to the twenty-two members of the Boston City Council, who are required to give them only casual consideration. The present Suffolk County government is an archaic institution which is a relic of the days when some of the communities now included in Boston's twenty-two wards were independent towns. It is my hope that the public opinion of the citizenry of Boston will be aroused and that this distressing matter would be brought to a speedy and satisfactory solution. In 1938 the burden of maintaining the existing Suffolk County government added $2.33 to the Boston tax rate. This, in effect, meant that the small home owner struggling to carry property assessed in the vicinity of $5,000 had to pay approximately $12 to maintain the county government which has little direct bearing on his affairs. Boston, for example, maintains the Deer Island House of Correction, the cost of which in 1938 was $439,045, and as a consequence maintains a Penal Institutions Department to supervise that place, and a steamer to provide transportation. The total cost in 1938 was $530,161. While minor offenders of Revere, Chelsea and Winthrop are being sentenced there, not one penny is ever contributed by the taxpayers of these communities for upkeep of the institution. What is true of Deer Island is true of Charles Street Jail, where offenders from all parts of Suffolk County are housed. In 1938, Boston taxpayers spent $250,223 to maintain the jail and not one penny was borne by the favored property owners of Revere, Chelsea and Winthrop.

Citizens of Boston pay all costs of East Boston Court, although all citizens arrested in Winthrop are arraigned there at no cost to the Winthrop taxpayers. Separation of Chelsea, Winthrop and Revere from Boston will result in arraignment of Winthrop prisoners in Chelsea Court, with the local community contributing to expenses of the court. Operating expenses of Chelsea Court are likewise borne by Boston taxpayers, fantastic as that may seem, and the 1938 cost of that unfair burden to Boston was $40,617. Few Bostonians realize the burden placed upon small home owners of the city by the existing Suffolk County government. Total costs of all county departments to Boston taxpayers in 1938 was $3,563,796. Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop were not required to meet any of this deficit and this unbearable situation will continue forever unless an aroused public opinion compels the state government to establish Boston as a separate county. I can see no reason why the thousands of industrious and economic home owners, who, at the present time are faced with the possible loss of their homes that represent years of thrift and industry on their part, should be forced to pay for the maintenance at Deer Island of drunks and wife beaters from Winthrop, Chelsea, and Revere. There was an historical cry to the effect that there should be no taxation with representation, but either towns and cities composing Suffolk County have certainly reversed the order of things. They have representatives on the political pay rolls of the county, but pay no taxes or contribute to it. This is a striking disregard of the welfare of the people who are paying the costs. At the present time there is pending in the Legislature a bill to separate Plymouth and Norfolk Counties, which have a composite population of only 462,000. The bill seems to have made some progress. Now, certainly on the basis of population, Boston, which has in excess of 800,000 population, and Suffolk County which has in excess of 915,000 have ample reason to seek a measure which would tend to separate these cities and towns for Boston, in the Legislature. In view of the political issues involved, Boston may be a voice crying in the wilderness for this measure, but the citizens of Boston in general will look with interest to these activities of the Legislature on this matter. Our country cousins at Beacon Hill, who have constantly been striving to deprive Boston of the home rule by presenting the excuse that it is for economic security, cannot hedge on this matter.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

COOPERATION WITH SOMERVILLE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner of the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange with the Somerville Fire Department, a cooperative plan, in order to have the Somerville department answer all alarms in the Sullivan square district of Charlestown.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUNKER HILL AS NATIONAL SHRINE.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Governor of the Commonwealth be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to memorialize Congress for the enactment of legislation commemorating the Monument Grounds at Bunker Hill as a National Shrine.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PREFERENCE TO WELFARE RECIPIENTS ON SNOW WORK.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

In response to many requests from members of the department, a Police Memorial Mass will be celebrated on Sunday, May 7, 1939, at 8 a. m. in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Washington street, Boston, in commemoration of departed members of the Boston Police Department.

His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, will honor the occasion with a brief address.

A Communion Breakfast will be served at the Copley-Plaza Hotel following the church services, at which the following distinguished guests have been invited to speak:

His Excellency Leverett Saltonstall, Governor of Massachusetts.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor of Boston.

Mr. Lewis J. Valentine, Police Commissioner of the City of New York.

The commissioner extends a cordial invitation to all members of the department, irrespective of creed, who can do so, to be present at the Mass and the Communion Breakfast, and sincerely urges all Catholic members to receive Holy Communion.

This memorial will serve, through the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, to freshen anew the memory of our departed comrades as we assemble to honor them for their services and heroism. While our hearts are saddened by their departure, we may be comforted in the thought that they are with us in spirit.

A committee composed of Deputy Superintendent Benjamin A. Wall, Capt. Charles F. Eldridge and Capt. William D. Donovan will be in charge of these exercises.

Members of the department who will participate will assemble in uniform at Station 4 at 7.30 a. m. sharp, on Sunday, May 7, 1939, and march in a body to the Cathedral. At the conclusion of the services they will assemble outside the church and march directly to the Copley-Plaza Hotel.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

(From a report of the American Road Builders' Association.)

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 31.

SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1939.

No. 14

BOSTON'S WELFARE RELIEF LOAD MUCH INCREASED DURING WEEK ENDING MARCH 24—962 NEW CASES ADDED DURING WEEK, MAKING TOTAL OF 31,415 ON ROLLS AS AGAINST 29,439 FOR SAME WEEK OF LAST YEAR—SUM OF $3,269,095.21 DISBURSED TO NEEDY PERSONS BY DEPARTMENT SINCE FIRST OF YEAR—SUM IS EXCLUSIVE OF SOLDIERS' RELIEF—FACTS SHOWN IN WEEKLY STATEMENT PRESENTED TO MAYOR TOBIN.

That Boston's public welfare burden is rapidly mounting due to W. P. A. layoffs is eminently shown by the enormous jump in the number of relief recipients listed in the financial statement published for the week ending March 24. At that time the report filed with Mayor Tobin showed that the number of active cases for the week was 31,415, as against 29,439 for the corresponding week of last year, and 30,645 for the week previous. Altogether the number of cases added to the list was 962 for the week, with only 192 cases discontinued.

During the week, for relief there was expended the sum of $162,334.26, and for the same week last year $157,798.87. Already for this year there has been expended the sum of $3,269,095.21, thus running a little more than $1,000,000 per month. The statement of conditions for the week reads as follows:

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 12.

I. RESIGNATIONS.

The following resignations have been accepted by the Fire Commissioner, to take effect at 8 a. m., Friday, March 24, 1939, Rule 414 of the Rules and Regulations having been waived:

Hoseman James C. Cusack of Engine Company 34.

Hoseman Walter O. Bannon of Engine Company 52.

II. RETIREMENT.

The following retirement, which will take effect at the close of business, Friday, March 31, 1939, is hereby announced:

Inspector Patrick J. Larkin of the Wire Division.

Inspector Larkin was appointed to the Wire Division on February 24, 1897. He leaves the department with the best wishes of his associates.

III. A. D. T. ASSIGNMENT.

The following signal number is to be added to the running cards of the A. D. T. Company in this department:

Signal 561, Patten Restaurant Company, 37-51 Court street. Apparatus to respond, Engine 4, Ladder 24, District Chief 4. Nearest box is 1262.

The following signal number of the A. D. T. Company has been discontinued and company commanders will make the proper corrections in the A. D. T. book: Signal 79, 733-745 Boylston street, Boylston Chambers; page No. 3 of the A. D. T. book.

IV. BOSTON AUTOMATIC FIRE ALARM SIGNALS DISCONTINUED.

The following signal numbers of the Boston Automatic Fire Alarm Company have been discontinued:

Signal 82, building 49-59 Haverhill street.

Signal 1245, building 90-104 Hanover street.

Company commanders will make the necessary corrections in the Boston Automatic Book.

By order of Fire Commissioner WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY.

SAMUEL J. POPE,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 14.

I. JOHN J. McDERMOTT.

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death on March 26, 1939, of Hoseman John J. McDermott of Engine Company 36. Hoseman McDermott was appointed to the department on January 11, 1907.

The funeral was held from his late home, 9 Monument square, Charlestown, at 8.30 a. m., Wednesday, March 29, 1939, followed by services at St. Mary's Church, Warren street, Charlestown, at 9 a. m.

The chief of department made the customary detail to act as a funeral escort and the members of Engine Company 36 were excused from duty in order to attend the services.

II. INSPECTION OF BRAKES, LIGHTS, ETC.

Assistant Engineer of Motor Apparatus James Wall will inspect all automobiles and motor apparatus in the department for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of brakes, lights and safety devices thereon.

This inspection is in accordance with the regulations of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles and will begin on April 1, 1939.

III. PHYSICAL TRAINING COURSE.

The Park Commissioner has generously made available for use by the Fire Department the gymnasium at the Brookline Street Municipal Building on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday mornings.

The instructor at this gymnasium has offered to give special attention to classes made up of firemen, and members of the department are asked to volunteer for enrollment in this activity on their off time.

Already many men are going to gymnasium regularly and this number should be enlarged by many others now that expert guidance in class gymnastics, basketball, handball, volley ball, etc., is being made available to us through Park Department facilities.

If more members enroll than can be handled at Brookline Street, additional groups will be organized in the various districts.

The Fire Commissioner strongly recommends this activity for the men of the department. Many private individuals pay hundreds of dollars annually to secure conditioning exercises in private clubs and gymnasiums. Personal health will be improved and the most enjoyable recreation provided for those who join in these classes.

Applicants should send their names to Headquarters on Form 5 on or before April 5, 1939. The first classes will begin April 11. Handball, basketball, volley ball and other games will be organized on that day.

Attendance on the various days will be voluntary, of course.

IV. A. D. T. COMPANY.

On pages 19 and 20 of the A. D. T. running cards the letter "S" will be placed in the column signifying sprinkler alarms on the line for A. D. T. signals 547, 548 and 549. These signals are located as follows:

No. 547, 55-63 Tremont street; No. 548, 1-5 Beacon street; No. 549, 7-9 Beacon street.

At the foregoing locations the night watch and fire alarm service will be discontinued as of April 1, 1939, and will be superseded by A. D. T. sprinkler supervisory service.

V. COMMENDATIONS.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to publish the following letter for the information of the department:

March 28, 1939.

THE COMMISSIONER, Fire Department,
60 Bristol Street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR,—I wish to express my appreciation of the prompt and effective response to the fire that occurred at Gallup's Island March 25, 1939. The good work of your firemen limited the damage to a small amount.

Since the placing of the island on a caretaker status, our local fire protection is necessarily inadequate, and it is gratifying to know that we can depend on your department in case of emergency.

With many thanks, I am,

Very sincerely,

H. J. WARNER,
Medical Director,
Medical Officer in Charge.

VETO OF DOG RACING IN BOSTON GARDEN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 22, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith without my signature and disapproved, the order passed by your Honorable Body on March 20, 1939, for the location of a dog track at the property known as the Boston Garden.

I take this action despite the fact that dog racing is a legally conducted sport in this county and despite the fact that certain revenues accrue to the state and city governments from such sources.

I cannot be convinced, however, that there is any demand from the citizens of our city or county for additional outlets or opportunities to satisfy the gambling instincts, nor I am convinced that an additional dog track in our community would prove of financial benefit to our city. In fact, I am of the belief that the establishment of additional dog tracks at a time when economic conditions are so unstable, and when a large proportion of our citizens are forced to seek direct or indirect relief, cannot fail but have a destructive influence and effect upon the general welfare of our community.

For this reason, and without desiring to set myself up as the keeper of the public's conscience, I feel it to be my responsibility and duty, at this to veto the order as presented me.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Placed on file.

VETO OF ONE-DAY-OFF-IN-SEVEN FOR POLICE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 21, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am inclosing a communication which I have received from Police Commissioner Timilty setting forth the facts that to grant one day off in seven, rather than one day off in eight, to members of the Boston Police Force would cost $85,150 the first year of operation and would be increased to $109,150 during the fifth year of operation.

To place this added financial burden on the city at this time would tend to place the position, not alone of police officers but of all city employees, in jeopardy. It would also be placing a further burden on the already sadly harassed home owners and property owners of the city.

Therefore, because of the present financial situation of the city, I am returning the order passed by your Honorable Body without my approval.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Police Department, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

My dear Mayor Tobin,—I have your letter of March 20 requesting the number of additional officers that would be required in order to grant one day off in seven, rather than one day off in eight, together with the additional cost thereof, and I submit herewith the following information:

Additional Number and Cost for One Day Off in Seven.	Cost.
Two lieutenants	$5,400
Four sergeants	10,000
Forty patrolmen	64,000
Additional salary cost	$79,400
Additional cost for uniforms and equipment at $125 each	57.50
Total cost for the first year	$85,150

The patrolmen, as you are no doubt aware, receive an initial salary of $1,600 per annum, with an annual step-rate increase of $100 until they reach a maximum of $2,100.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

PAYMENT OF MEN ON SNOW REMOVAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 27, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of February 6, 1939, concerning the arrangement for the payment of men engaged on snow removal work in the yard from which they are assigned, instead of forcing them to go to the Albany street yard to receive their wages.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, March 23, 1939.
William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—The following order that was passed in the City Council on February 6 has been referred to me for consideration:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the payment of men engaged on snow removal work in the yard from which they are assigned, instead of forcing them to go to the Albany street yard to receive their wages."

The order was received too late to make the necessary arrangements with the City Treasurer for the payment at the local yards of the men engaged in snow removal necessitated by the storm of the middle of February.

However the emergency workers engaged in the snow removal due to the storm of March 12 and 13 were paid on March 21 in the local yards out of which they worked. The City Treasurer is agreeable to paying all emergency workers at the local yards hereafter, and I therefore recommend that this order be approved.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Placed on file.

ISSUANCE OF EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 27, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Welfare Executive Director relative to your order of March 6, 1939, concerning the issuance of emergency assistance to persons who are in dire need as the result of the change of pay day for W. P. A. employees.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Overseers of the Public Welfare,
March 16, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Attention of William J. Doyle,

Dear Sir,—This department has received your communication of March 9, 1939, with inclosed copy of an order from the City Council, dated March 6, 1939, reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Overseers of the Public Welfare Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the issuance of emergency assistance to persons who are in dire need as the result of the change of pay day for W. P. A. employees, particularly to those who were assigned to W. P. A. employment from the welfare rolls."

The Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare have delegated authority to me to meet any emergency assistance of a dire nature that may result because of the change of pay day for W. P. A. employees from a weekly system of payment of wages to payment of wages once in two weeks. We are hopeful in this department that the need temporarily occasioned by this change will not be great but each individual case will be treated as the merits of the case warrant.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM G. O'HARE,
Executive Director.

SURVEY OF BLUE HILL AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 27, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Boston Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of March 6, 1939, concerning the making of a survey of the entire length of Blue Hill avenue with the view to making necessary changes in the present traffic regulations to cut down the high death rate on this heavily traveled thoroughfare.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, March 23, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated March 6, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the entire length of Blue Hill avenue with the view to making necessary changes in the present traffic regulations to cut down the high death rate on this heavily traveled thoroughfare."

This commission is acutely aware of the serious traffic accident hazard which exists in Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury and Dorchester, from Seaver street to River street, Mattapan square.

Our accident records show that from January 1, 1936, to December 31, 1938, 579 motor vehicle accidents involving personal injury have occurred in this area. Six of the above accidents involved fatal injuries.

It is the opinion of our engineers that certain physical changes must be effected in the roadway of Blue Hill avenue before any constructive attempt can be made to lessen this serious accident hazard.

Public Works Commissioner George G. Hyland has submitted to us for our approval a proposed plan for eliminating the existing street car reservation in Blue Hill avenue, from American Legion Highway to Babson street and replacing it with a seven-foot center-divisional island with the street car tracks flanking the island. We believe this construction, when completed, will materially help conditions in this portion of the avenue.

We believe that the portion of Blue Hill avenue between Seaver street and American Legion Highway should also be reformed, but this change would involve more construction work and therefore greater cost.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

Placed on file.

TRAFFIC LIGHTING, BLUE HILL AVENUE AND SEAVER STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 27, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of March 6, 1939, concerning a survey of the traffic lighting regulations at the corner of Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, March 23, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated March 6, 1939, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the traffic lighting regulations at the corner of Blue Hill avenue and Seaver street, with the view of effecting changes in the present traffic regulations which will permit pedestrian traffic, desiring to cross at this point, additional safety."

The records in this office show that from January 1, 1936, to December 31, 1938, forty-three motor vehicle accidents involving personal injury, one of which resulted in a fatality, have occurred at this intersection.

The present physical layout of this intersection is such that it is impossible to provide an exclusive period for pedestrians in the showing of automatic traffic signals. It is our opinion that certain major physical changes must be made in Blue Hill avenue before this area can be made safe for pedestrians.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

CAR TRACKS, SAVIN HILL AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 27, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, relative to your order of February 27, 1939, concerning the removal of the car tracks on Savin Hill avenue and Stoughton street, Dorchester, which tracks are not being used at present.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
March 20, 1939.

Mr. William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of March 1 with order of the City Council concerning removal of car tracks on Savin Hill avenue and Stoughton street, Dorchester, I would say that it is the usual practice to remove unused tracks in connection with the reconstruction of streets in which the tracks are located.

We have no objection to removal of the tracks on Savin Hill avenue and Stoughton street but desire to call your attention to the fact that under the law we would be under no obligation to pay any part of the expense of resurfacing the streets.

We have been advised by the Public Works Department that new pavement is to be installed in Stoughton street and we are planning to remove our tracks in connection with that work.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD DANA,

President and General Manager.

SEGREGATED BUDGET FOR 1939.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 27, 1939.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith in segregated form my budget recommendations for city, county and revenue departments for the fiscal year 1939. These recommendations are in substitution for the lump sum allowances submitted to you under date of January 30, 1939. The allowances in this budget represent, in my opinion, the lowest appropriations possible without seriously crippling the services rendered by the city, and without reducing salaries of city and county employees. It had been my intention to submit a budget at the very outset of the calendar year but my insistence upon exercise of a highest scrutiny and severe economy has resulted in this presentation. In the interval which has elapsed since the first of the year I had instructed all department heads under my jurisdiction to curtail expenditures to those of an absolute necessity and in consequence of more time for analysis of departmental requests. I am able to submit a budget substantially lower than would have been the case were it submitted at the first of the year. In the event that your Honorable Body feels after deliberation that parings in these allowances could be made without jeopardy to the services or the functions of the municipal government, I sincerely hope that you will not hesitate to reduce these estimates.

* Increase.

† Special Appropriations include: Bridges, Repairs, etc., $40,000; Contingent Fund, $295,500; Conventions and Entertainment of Distinguished Guests, $24,425; Public Celebrations, $39,400; Real Estate Division, Repairs, etc., $20,000; Reconstruction of Streets, $25,000; Reserve Fund, $125,000; Snow Removal, $400,000.

The allowances recommended for city departments total $38,560,605.12. This total represents a reduction of $5,330,747.54 over estimates as originally submitted by department officials last November and is actually $1,130,449.58 below the total expenditures for the year 1938.

Personal Service.

From records at the office of the Budget Commissioner it is to be noted that the allowance for Personal Service is the lowest appropriation on a full year salary basis for city departments since 1928.

Contractual Services.

The allowance for Contractual Services is the lowest appropriation since 1922.

Equipment.

The allowances for Equipment is the lowest since the establishment of the segregated budget some twenty-two years ago.

Supplies.

The allowance for Supplies is the smallest appropriation since 1928, with the exception of 1933 and 1934, during which two years the market prices of items included in this category were substantially lower than the level which obtains today.

Materials.

The allowance for Materials, $244,750, is the lowest amount recommended for city departments in the last twenty-odd years.

Special Items.

The allowance for Special Items, which consists primarily of the city appropriations for aid to dependent children, dependent aid and old age assistance, is $10,304,364.23. I am informed by the Director of Public Welfare that demands for assistance made on his department are in the increase and I am fearful lest the threatened curtailment of the W. P. A. work relief program will aggravate the situation. It is not intended that your Honorable Body interpret the allowance for Special Items (welfare assistance) as an estimate of the requirements for relief assistance for the full year. What they will be is highly conjectural. All we know is that the unfortunate victims of economic conditions must be provided for until they are able to provide for themselves. The figure submitted in this schedule is practically the same as that submitted in the budget of last year. It is to be ardently wished that an improvement in conditions of employment or additional cooperation from Federal and State governments may render it possible that no further sums will be needed for this item.

Relief Projects.

The allowance for Relief Projects for the purpose of defraying Boston's share of W. P. A. projects is $22,231.70 greater than the amount originally provided in the 1938 budget. Unexpended loan balances carried forward from 1937 to 1938 amounted to $118,122 as compared with a current carry over of relief projects balances of $161,954. With this carry over and the increase in actual appropriations, departments will have available $66,000 in excess of last year's appropriation for W. P. A. projects. Final requirements for this item are conditioned upon Congressional action. In the event that additional funds are necessary to continue W. P. A. work relief program, existing law provides that they be made available by borrowing.

Special Appropriations.

The sum total of the various allowances under this group reflect a net decrease of $32,804.47 over 1938 appropriations. This reduction is made notwithstanding the increased appropriation necessary for snow removal. In 1938 it cost the City of Boston $279,001.22 to perform this very necessary function, and in the first three months of the current year the cost of snow removal has already reached the $400,000 figure.

The allowances for the Contingent Fund and the Reserve Fund are the same as in prior years.

An allowance of $25,000 has been recommended in this year's budget for Reconstruction of Streets, under chapter 90 of the General Laws, as compared with last year's appropriation of $50,000.

	$3,584,260 32	$3,727,240 13	$142,979 81

* Decrease.

† Special Appropriations include: Social Law Library, $1,000; Supplementary Maintenance of Young's Hotel, $8,000; Temporary Courthouse Accommodations, Rental of, $40,000.

Allowances for county maintenance show an increase of $142,979.81 over appropriations for 1938. The above table indicates in comparative form the group distribution of this increase.

Personal Service.

The increase in the Personal Service is due primarily to the increased personnel for the operation of the new Suffolk County Courthouse, which has recently been opened for public service.

Contractual Services.

Of the increase of $9,033.45 in Contractual Services, $7,200 may be attributed to the cost of moving the Suffolk County departments to their new quarters.

Equipment.

The increase of $28,077.66 in the Equipment item is for the installation of rugs, American flags, electric fans, desks, fireproof containers for official documents, and similar equipment installed in connection with the opening of the new courthouse. There is reason to believe that if the appropriation of the Courthouse Commission had been sufficient to provide the $7,200 for the cost of moving in relocating offices and for the installation of this new equipment, it would have been a proper charge to their funds. In view of the depleted condition of their funds and my desire that there be no further delay in the use of this building, I am recommending that the city go forward in the matter of completing financial arrangements and with a bill in the Legislature for the Commonwealth to reimburse the City of Boston in the proportion provided by law.

Special Items.

The decrease in the Special Items of $29,034.28 is due completely to repeal of the law, by the last Legislature, for the Penal Institutions Department to provide separate support to the dependents of inmates to that institution during the term of their sentence.

Special Appropriations.

Of the increase of $48,000 in Special Appropriations, $8,000 represents the cost of personnel to maintain the Municipal Court in its present location until the sheriff is able to provide quarters acceptable to it in the courthouse on Beacon Hill. The remaining $40,000 represents the rent chargeable by the City of Boston to the County of Suffolk for use and occupancy of the so-called Young's Hotel by the Municipal Court of the City of Boston for the first eight months of 1939, at which time it is believed the Municipal Court will move into quarters in the new courthouse.

Section 6 of chapter 474 of the Acts of 1935 provides that the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts shall share the cost of operation and maintenance of the Suffolk County Courthouse, taken as a whole, on the ratio of 70 per cent and 30 per cent, respectively, and payments to the City Treasurer, under the provisions of this same chapter, should result in a cost to the taxpayers of Boston of less than the cost of operating prior to the new construction.

TAX RATE FOR BOSTON.

In view of the various bills pending in the Legislature having a direct bearing on municipal finances, it is practically impossible to forecast a tax rate for Boston with any degree of accuracy. Comforting it is, however, to note that I have continued to conduct the city's affairs economically and that whatever increase in the tax rate for Boston that may come can be attributed to financial policies completely and exclusively beyond the control of the Mayor of Boston.

Under the provisions of chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889, departments are authorized to expend, prior to the adoption of the budget, one third of the previous year's appropriation. In view of the fact that the period of grace allowed by statute is coming to an end, I recommend prompt consideration and adoption of the accompanying orders and recommendations by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Appropriations and Tax Orders for the Financial Year 1939.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1939, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston or County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriation for Water Service, current expenses, and the payment to the State, under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest and debt requirements or for loans issued for water purposes be met by the income of said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for Printing Department be met by the department income and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for the City Record be met by the income of said publication and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for the Traffic Tunnel be met by the income from tolls and any excess over income from taxes, in accordance with the provisions of section 11, chapter 297, of the Acts of 1920, as amended by chapter 74 of the Acts of 1935; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on December 31, 1938, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation by the income of the financial year beginning January 1, 1939, and by taxes on the polls and estates in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston be paid into the general treasury, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the city and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the State tax for the year 1939, or for any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth shall be payable in two equal installments, on July first and on October first of 1939; that interest shall be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after the first day of November, 1939, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 59, section 57, of the General Laws, as amended, until paid, except the taxes assessed upon shares of national banks, which shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the first day of October, 1939, until paid, and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be part of such taxes.

Ordered, That except as the appropriation for any purpose or item shall be increased by additional appropriations or transfers lawfully made, no money shall be expended by any department for any of the purposes or items designated in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out in excess of the amount set down as appropriated for such specific purpose or item.

USE OF WATER DIVISION BALANCE TOWARD DEBT REQUIREMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 20, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached recommendation from the City Auditor relative to the disposition of the balance remaining in water income at the close of 1938. I feel it desirable to point out that this excess revenue developed largely as the result of an intensive campaign directed toward the collection of water rates assessed in years prior to 1938. Because of this fact it is not safe to assume that the record achieved in 1938 will be maintained in subsequent years.

I submit herewith an order authorizing the City Auditor to use $542,980.95 of the Water Division balance to meet city debt requirements of the current year. I earnestly recommend adoption of this order because the proposed use will lower the amount to be raised in the tax levy for debt purposes and thus afford the taxpayers of the city a saving equivalent to 35 cents on the tax rate. In view of the overall increase in the rate which the city must face because of higher state expenditures this reduction, small though it may be, is most welcome and is indicative of the fact that every possible saving within the control of the city government will be utilized for the relief of the owners of real estate.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Auditing Department, March 17, 1939.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In 1938 the receipts of the Water Division of the Public Works Department exceeded expenditures by $654,998.45. Under the provisions of chapter 324 of the Acts of 1914 any balance remaining in water income "shall be used to meet interest and sinking fund requirements or serial loan payments on any debt of the City of Boston." During 1939 interest requirements and payments on serial debt issued for water purposes will total $112,017.50. I propose to utilize the funds available within the 1938 water income balance to meet the foregoing debt requirements and then apply the balance against the regular debt requirements for the current year.

I respectfully recommend that authority to cover this proposed action be secured from the City Council.

Respectfully,
CHARLES J. FOX, City Auditor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of section 1 of chapter 324 of the Acts of 1914, the City Auditor be authorized to use $542,980.95 of the balance in water income to meet interest and sinking fund requirements or serial loan payments on any debt of the City of Boston.

Referred to Executive Committee.

CHANGES IN COMPENSATION AND CLASSIFICATION PLANS.

The following were received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 27, 1939.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith for consideration by your Honorable Body the attached proposal by the Budget Commissioner of certain changes in the "Compensation and Classification Plans for the Officers and Employees of Suffolk County."

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Budget Department, March 27, 1939.
To the Mayor and the City Council.

Honorable dear Sirs,—Rule 3, "Classification of New Positions" of the "Compensation and Classification Plans for the Officers and Employees of Suffolk County," provides that, "Whenever a new position is established or the duties of a position are so changed that, in effect, the whole position, as described in the class specifications for the class to which it was originally allocated no longer exists, but, in its place, there is created a new position of a different class, the appointing authority shall forthwith report this fact to the Budget Commissioner with a full statement of the circumstances and a description of the duties as changed."

In accordance with the provisions of this rule the Sheriff of Suffolk County has requested that the position of Chief Elevator Operator be established at the Suffolk County Court House. After investigation of the actual and proposed duties and responsibilities of this new position, I propose and recommend the establishment of the following new classification:

Title of Class:
Chief Elevator Operator.

Duties:
Under general supervision, to supervise, direct and assign the work of elevator operators in the Suffolk County Court House; to see that

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 27, 1939.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith for consideration by your Honorable Body the attached proposal by the Budget Commissioner of certain changes in the "Compensation and Classification Plans for the Officers and Employees of Suffolk County."

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Budget Department, March 27, 1939.

To the Mayor and the City Council.

Honorable dear Sirs,—Rule 4, "Amendment of the Classification Plan" for the "Officers and Employees of Suffolk County," provides that, "The Budget Commissioner shall, as he considers necessary, from time to time, propose amendments to the classification plan, together with the reasons therefor."

In accordance with the provisions of this rule I propose that the classification "Coat Room Attendant" be amended by inserting under the caption "Duties," and after the words "Registry of Deeds coat room," the words, "and in the main coat room of the Suffolk County Court House," so as to read as follows:

Duties:

Under immediate supervision, to be responsible for the care and custody of wearing apparel and other property checked at the Registry of Deeds coat room and in the main coat room of the Suffolk County Court House; to give information concerning the location of records, indexes and plans; and to perform other related work as required.

This change is made necessary because of the fact that the new Court House building contains a coat room for the use of lawyers and those persons having business in the Court House who wish to check wearing apparel and other property. As no such accommodation was available in the old building, it is necessary to make the above change in order to provide for an attendant in this new department.

Respectfully,
FRANCIS X. LANG,
Budget Commissioner.

Ordered, That the "Compensation and Classification Plans for the Officers and Employees of Suffolk County," as adopted by the City Council on April 13, 1931, and approved by the Mayor on April 15, 1931, be, and the same hereby are, amended by inserting under the caption "Duties," and after the words "Registry of Deeds coat room," the words "and in the main coat room of the Suffolk County Court House," so that the same shall read as follows:

Title of Class:

Coat Room Attendant.

Duties:

Under immediate supervision, to be responsible for the care and custody of wearing apparel and other property checked at the Registry of Deeds coat room and in the main coat room of the Suffolk County Court House; to give information concerning the location of records, indexes and plans; and to perform other related work as required.

SALE OF PIGS AT DEER ISLAND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 27, 1939.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the inclosed communication from the Commissioner of Penal Institutions requesting permission to sell 100 pigs now located at the House of Correction, Deer Island. These pigs weigh approximately 22,500 pounds and in the opinion of the commissioner it would be for the best interests of the city to dispose of them at this time.

As the pigs are no longer required at Deer Island the commissioner's request has my approval and I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Penal Institutions Department,
March 27, 1939.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir.—We have at the present time at the House of Correction, Deer Island, one hundred (100) pigs ready for market. These pigs will weigh approximately two hundred twenty-five (225) pounds each, a total of approximately 22,500 pounds.

At the present market price this department should receive between $2,000 and $2,500 from the sale of these pigs. In my opinion the private sale, after bids, of these pigs at the present time would be for the best interests of the city, and your approval of this sale, together with that of the City Council, is hereby requested.

Respectfully,
JOHN J. DOUGLASS,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

Ordered, That the Penal Institutions Commissioner be authorized to sell at public or private sale, to the highest bidder, the surplus stock of pigs at the House of Correction, Deer Island, amounting to approximately 22,500 pounds.

Referred to Executive Committee.

TRANSFER OF HOUSE OF CORRECTION TO STATE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, March 21, 1939.
Hon. Leverett Saltonstall,
Governor of Massachusetts.

Your Excellency,—The Finance Commission of the City of Boston is empowered by the statute which directed its creation to make report from time to time as occasions warrant to the Governor, or to the Legislature, as well as to the Mayor of Boston, or to the City Council of Boston, on matters of appropriations, expenditures, methods of administration, etc., affecting the City of Boston or the County of Suffolk. Under this authorization the Finance Commission desires to bring to the attention of your Excellency and to the Legislature a situation that is of substantial importance to the city. It has also somewhat direct bearing upon present affairs of the state.

In many ways the taxpayers of Boston individually are required to pay proportionately a much larger share of the expense of government than do the taxpayers of other communities. Sometimes this is due to statutory requirements which have accumulated during the existence of the Commonwealth. Sometimes it is due to nothing more than practices adopted by public authorities. In other instances it is due to an excess of zeal on the part of local government which led to the establishment of services under permissive or mandatory authority and which eventually led to development or expansion of those services to a degree not yet found advisable or necessary by other municipalities or counties.

As your Excellency doubtless knows, with respect to the payment of the expenditures for government services in Suffolk County, the City of Boston is to all intents and purposes the County of Suffolk.

The Mayor and the City Council of Boston are in effect the County Commissioners. They must provide from the financial resources of the City of Boston for the maintenance of the county government, courts, institutions, etc. As in the conduct of municipal affairs the public administrators of the City of Boston have in past generations elaborated in provision of public service, so likewise have they in their capacity as, in effect, County Commissioners of Suffolk County elaborated in provision of county service.

To meet the expenditures necessary for maintenance of county government, the city is not even aided by all the revenue received by the county offices. For instance, the district court located in Chelsea to which legal matters—civil and criminal—which arise in the municipalities of Chelsea and Revere are brought for adjudication divides the revenue received by this court between the municipalities of Chelsea and Revere.

The revenue obtained from a case having its origin in Chelsea goes to the city of Chelsea. The revenue obtained from a case having its origin in Revere goes to the city of Revere. Yet the City of Boston in its capacity as the County Commission must pay for the maintenance of the courts.

Cases originating in Winthrop are handled by the East Boston Court. The fines received by the court in cases originating in Winthrop are turned over to the town of Winthrop. The entire expenses of this court also are paid from the treasury of the City of Boston.

Likewise, the City of Boston exclusively must pay for the care and custody of the prisoners committed by the Chelsea Court and by the East Boston Court to the Charles Street Jail and to the House of Correction at Deer Island.

A more striking illustration of the burdensome requirement that Boston must pay the expenses of cases originating in these other municipalities was furnished recently by a decision of the Supreme Court. The Court ruled that the expenses of the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth in the investigation of municipal conditions in the city of Revere, which resulted from a gangster murder in Revere, must be paid by the treasurer of the City of Boston.

History of the Deer Island House of Correction.

The imposition of the expense of maintenance of a county house of correction on the City of Boston, which first occurred in the early days of the city, is an instance of the prodigality of the public administrators at Boston expense. Originally, in colonial times, Boston had its own "work-house" for the incarceration of persons unable to care for themselves as well as for violators of the peace. In 1788 the General Court required every county to maintain a house of correction. That statute or any of several subsequently passed in relation to the county house of correction did not require that each must be large enough to accommodate all commitments of the particular county's courts. No county except Suffolk even attempted to supply accommodation to that extent.

The house of correction required by the 1788 act was intended for the commitment of persons for a great variety of causes. Though in some instances the offences listed in the act for which persons might be sent to this house of correction would be analogous to offences for which twentieth century practice is to punish with state prison sentence, they might be characterized for the most part as light offences—common brawlers, drunkards, vagabonds, idlers, professional beggars, fakirs, sneak thieves, nightwalkers, etc.

In 1824 the existing house of correction, the successor to the earlier "work-house" provided by Boston, became by statute the House of Correction for the County of Suffolk. By the terms of this statute the City of Boston must bear and defray all the expenses of the House of Correction of the County. This relieved Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop of any expense for the care and custody of persons committed by court to the county institutions for offences committed within their borders.

During a large portion of the nineteenth century the City of Boston maintained two institutions, each known as a house of correction. One was at South Boston, another at Deer Island. In addition, the city maintained a reformatory for juvenile offenders at Rainsford Island; also, for a considerable period, another correctional school at West Roxbury, known as a parental school.

The number of these correctional institutions, as well as the variety, is evidence that Boston certainly did its share in meeting the need and cost of ample prison accommodations. No other county in the state ever matched that liberality.

No Contribution from Other Municipalities to Deer Island Expense.

Whatever Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop may have contributed to the cost of construction of an original county house of correction and of maintenance of a county house of correction until 1824, these municipalities have not, since 1824, contributed anything toward either construction or maintenance expenses of any county house of correction. Boston has done it for them.

In the early days of the Commonwealth all of the county institutions were "reformatories." Persons found guilty of serious offenses, and particularly those known as hardened criminals, were sent to state institutions.

When authority was given by legislation in 1896 and in 1899 to merge the two existing Boston houses of correction in one institution to be located at Deer Island and to be known as "The House of Correction at Deer Island for Suffolk County," it was provided that the additional cost would be a City of Boston expense. Previous expenditure on the institution located there had likewise been a City of Boston expense.

There can be no argument, therefore, that Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop have any interest in the House of Correction at Deer Island because of investment of Chelsea, Revere or Winthrop funds. Nor can there be any doubt that Boston is paying from its own funds the expense for county correctional institutions that should be properly Chelsea's, Revere's and Winthrop's.

Change in Type of Prisoners Sent to Deer Island.

The Deer Island institution was not intended for the hardened criminal type. In the major period of its existence it had not been the practice of the courts to send the hardened criminal class there. It is true that it always received many recidivists or repeaters; but the recidivists that came there were of the type who indulged in the lesser violations of statutes or ordinances, rather than the burglars, the murderers, the rapacious, etc.

The institution was built for the type it was intended to reform or to restrain—the lesser offenders. It was not laid out or developed to contain and to keep occupied prisoners who are sent away for long terms, or prisoners whose every movement must be supervised and who must be kept always under heavy guard. In other words, the Deer Island House of Correction was intended only as a reformatory and was built and developed to be a reformatory.

In recent years it has become entirely "a prison." The inmates there are under lock and key most of the time. Meanwhile, the city administrators have been unwilling to spend the money that would be necessary to transform the House of Correction into a modern institution for the custody of hardened criminals. It would take too much money from the Boston taxpayers to pay for such a change. As a result there is but limited provision for the kind of industry that is feasible for long-termers, and the means of keeping them in quiet restraint are inadequate.

Many believe that the municipal administrators acted properly when they withheld authorization for the expenditure that would have been necessary to meet adequately the new conditions. It does not appear, however, that any of Boston's administrators made any effort to resist the march of progress in the wrong direction of the House of Correction as a correctional institution.

The number of commitments to Deer Island of persons found guilty of serious crime has steadily increased. The criminals themselves make every effort to be sent there. They want to be near the city in a place where friends and relatives can make frequent visits. While it cannot be said that Deer Island never had any confirmed criminals, still the percentage of that class formerly sent to Deer Island was small. Now it amounts to almost one half the inmate population.

Sufficient Protection to Public from Deer Island Lacking.

Apart from the question of whether the serious offenders belong at Deer Island or not, and whether the City of Boston should have to pay for their keep, there is another matter of serious import to be kept in mind. That is the need for and the supply of protection for the public from this class of prisoners while they are supposed to be in restraint. Fortunately, there has been no serious break at Deer Island yet. There have been occasions, however, when the authorities were seriously alarmed.

There is no wall around the institution property except one which separates it from the end pointing out to sea which is occupied by the Federal Government.

The Winthrop shore, a residential section, was formerly separated from the prison property by a narrow gut. Sometimes this gut was so narrow that one could almost jump across it. At other times it was wide enough for passage by large excursion boats. At all times it was difficult to cross because of the strong currents.

Now even that protection to Winthrop has gone. The gut has been filled and a street approach to the House of Correction has been made. The whole prison is within easy walking access of the business center of the town of Winthrop.

In the early days of the House of Correction its proximity to Winthrop did not constitute a great danger. Most of the inmates were short-termers, the average commitment being for five or six months. From time to time there were some escapes, but the prisoners who attempted it found it too difficult to reach shore by swimming.

Now, however, there are many at Deer Island who are serving long terms and frequently many who have other prosecutions facing them upon release. There are many who have previously served time in State Prison and Concord Reformatory. There are many, therefore, who might at any time become desperate and attempt escape.

The people on the Winthrop shore have something to worry about from this class of prisoners under the limited protection that now exists.

Boston Cannot Finance Needed Modernization.

If the City of Boston is to continue its custodianship of the Deer Island House of Correction and if the courts are to continue to send hardened criminals down there, Boston must soon spend a lot of money in rebuilding the institution. Boston must first make it safe for law-abiding people to live on the Winthrop shore. It must provide industrial occupation for the new type of inmates. It must add to or replace the aging facilities here and there.

The Finance Commission questions whether Boston should be compelled to shoulder this expense. Is it proper to compel one county, because it happens that the largest city in the state pays the bills of that county, to erect and maintain a modern state penitentiary while the state provides that type for most of the other counties of the state? In its present financial condition, Boston cannot do it.

Interest of Boston in Solution of Present State Prison Problem.

Assuming that the state undertakes to provide new prison accommodation, Boston has a strong interest in whatever means the state takes to furnish it. Boston pays a substantial portion of the state tax. Accordingly, Boston will eventually pay a substantial portion of the cost of whatever the state spends for new prison accommodation and maintenance of it. It is Boston's interest as well as the state's to keep that cost as low as possible.

The state authorities realize that the state must provide more prison accommodations. Recess committees have recommended more for a generation. One thing contained in the report of the most recent recess committee that cannot be disputed is the statement of the very evident need for more prison accommodation.

All the efforts of many years of those sincerely interested in the parole system, and in prisoner reform, are being nullified by the present crowding of prisoners, good and bad, in the existing state institutions. The Finance Commission has likened it to putting spotted apples in barrels with good apples. The Recess Committee has recently used the same simile.

Accommodation must be provided or arranged so that prisoners may be properly segregated by classes and types and that the rotting type may be separated from those for whom there is hope of reformation. Many judges are sending prisoners to Deer Island only because they know there is room for them there. If there was ample accommodation in state institutions, the judges would not send many of these same prisoners to Deer Island.

Finance Commission Suggestion that Deer Island be Taken Over by State.

The Finance Commission has already suggested one method of meeting the need—that the state take over the Deer Island House of Correction. The advantages to the state are many. The cost of a new site would be saved. Cost includes more than financial outlay by the state. There is the cost to the neighboring community to protect itself. Deer Island is now and has been a prison for a century. It is easily accessible to the center of the state population. Accessibility for relatives and friends of prisoners is an important consideration in orderly care and custody of prisoners. Frequent visits by relatives tend to keep up the morale of prisoners by relieving the monotony of prison life. Deer Island can be reached from almost any point in Metropolitan Boston by payment of an ordinary, small car fare.

A prison must be easily accessible to a large center. A large police force nearby is necessary when trouble breaks out. The aid of a large fire department, such as cities maintain, should be speedily obtainable in emergencies. If such aid is not available, the institution must contain that extra service for all emergencies within its own organization. Deer Island has the maximum in protection in this respect.

Disadvantages of the Norfolk Suggestion.

Governor Hurley in 1938 suggested an additional prison plant near the present Norfolk annex of State Prison. Many experienced in prison administration question whether it would be good judgment to place a walled prison for hardened criminals in such close proximity to an unwalled, wide-open reformatory where prisoner trustworthiness is being tried out.

From the standpoint of accessibility, Norfolk could not obtain, in an emergency, a large police force without almost coming to Boston. The maximum police reserve must, therefore, be employed in that one spot the year around. This would mean heavy overhead expense.

It costs visitors to prisoners at Norfolk the best part of a working day to reach the institution and return from there. It costs approximately $5.00 for transportation from and to Boston.

Recent Recess Committee Report.

Recently a recess committee created under authority of the 1938 Legislature made a report on the Massachusetts prison situation. This committee recommended using a portion of the State Farm at Bridgewater for housing State Prison surplus. In many respects the objections to the plan of the Hurley administration apply to this suggestion also.

The blanket condemnation by this committee of the Deer Island institution was unwarranted. It followed approximately a one-hour visit of a portion of the membership of the committee to the institution. It was superinduced to some extent by hostile report of conditions by some who have personal interest in continued maintenance of Deer Island by the City of Boston.

This Recess Committee made comparison of cost of operation at Deer Island with the cost at Charlestown State Prison and with the average cost in the state institutions with discredit to Deer Island. Any comparison is worth nothing unless there is a common basis for it. There can be no common basis established between any state institution and the Deer Island House of Correction under existing conditions. For many reasons, some of which have been already set forth in this report, the cost under present conditions at Deer Island must be greater than in the other institutions.

To form intelligent opinion of the availability of the Deer Island House of Correction more is necessary than a casual inspection. A more scientific approach to the question, prompted by a desire to make the most of what is now there, would have discovered that many features of the institution would serve for many years if the state took it and expanded it. No architect or engineer apparently was employed to examine for the committee or to estimate cost of changes. Nor was such service obtained apparently when the committee arrived at the cost of other projects.

Investigation of Deer Island by State Commissioner of Correction.

The State Commissioner of Correction recently assigned employees of his department to investigate conditions at Deer Island. Not having visited there himself in several years, according to the records of the House of Correction, he personally is unacquainted with actual conditions and underlying causes. This group of investigators spent several days in investigation spread over four or five weeks.

The investigators were not men expert by training or experience in prison management such as the Finance Commission believes to be necessary for such a task. Two of them (there were four in all) were under recent administrations employed in the Governor's office with limited, if any, opportunity to observe prison management. None of them was appointed to the state department as one having had experience in institutional work, and all of them are of comparatively recent connection with the department. The Finance Commission does not know to what extent their report guided the Recess Committee in its finding, if at all. The Finance Commission believes it should not be taken too seriously for several reasons.

Former Recess Committee Favored Deer Island for a State Institution.

A recess committee created by an earlier Legislature made an exhaustive study of the same question which was before the committee recently reporting. That earlier committee made careful note of changes that would be necessary at Deer Island and estimated the cost of them. The committee emphatically recommended acquisition of Deer Island by the state and figured the cost of making over the existing institution would be approximately $1,000,000. This figure included expenditure of approximately $100,000 for a bridge which would now be unnecessary because there is a roadway to the island.

Conclusion.

Keeping taxation costs in Boston as low as possible, especially in these times, is important to the whole state. Financial disaster to Boston will affect every taxpayer in the state.

The amount the city must pay to the state is vitally important to the city. It is not what the city is responsible for on its own account that is mainly the cause of the present threat of financial disaster.

Ill-considered state expense in providing new prison accommodation will increase the hazard of Boston financial disaster. Providing ample and accessible new prison accommodation by a means that will serve to keep the cost down and at the same time relieve Boston of an unfair expenditure accomplishes good for both the state and the city.

In view of the foregoing facts and observations, the Finance Commission believes that the transfer of the custody of the House of Correction at Deer Island from the City of Boston to the State Department of Correction and the merge by the State Department of that institution, after suitable rearrangement and expansion, will serve best and most economically for relief of the crowded conditions at Charlestown State Prison and Concord Reformatory.

The commission desires to emphasize that the proposal contained herein is offered on its merits alone. It is not a part of any idea that the state should assume custody of other county institutions.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to oppose all bills before the Legislature pertaining to increases in salary for any county employees unless same have referendums to the Mayor and City Council.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I notice quite a few bills of this kind going through the Legislature without any idea of their coming before the Mayor and City Council, bills to increase salaries and pay rolls. On some of these bills creating and increasing salaries in the City of Boston this Council has nothing to say. I believe that we as County Commissioners should have some voice in such matters, that if such bills are to be put through they should at least be approved by the City Council.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REQUESTED DATA FROM BOARD OF ASSESSORS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Assessors, through his Honor the Mayor, advise the City Council the amount of the total assessed valuation of property in Boston in the year 1928 and 1938, giving real estate and personal property separately.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLEARING OF SIDEWALKS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to direct and instruct division captains, in charge of police stations throughout the city, to vigorously prosecute violations of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, chapter 39, section 44, providing for the clearing of sidewalks; and further Ordered, That for the more effective enforcement of the provisions of said chapter 39 of the Revised Ordinances, the Police Commissioner be requested to obtain from the Board of Assessors before November first of each year, for the information of division captains, the name and address of the person or persons, firm, or corporation owning the parcels of vacant land in the city located in accepted city streets and adjacent to public sidewalks.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I realize, that our winter is about over for this year, but I have in mind primarily the coming winter and the fact that, although a large number of property owners and residents of the city quite properly expect the city within a minimum time to clear the streets of snow directly following a snowfall, there is an increasing number of property owners of the City of Boston who, nevertheless, leave their sidewalks, especially those adjacent to vacant pieces of land, unswept or unshoveled not only for days but for weeks at a time, until they become dangerous to the traveling public. When complaint is made to the Police Department to proceed in the matter of compelling owners to clear their sidewalks, something which is supposed to be done within 24 hours of a storm, the commissioner quite properly points out the difficulty at times of finding out the names of the owners of vacant pieces of land. I have in mind, for example, a piece of land in Dorchester, at the corner of Washington street and Codman Hill avenue, adjacent to a steep hill, where the sidewalk is hardly ever shoveled from the beginning of the winter to the end, very likely because of difficulty in getting the name of the owner of the property. I feel, therefore, that the members of the Police Department in the different stations might very well, in available odd moments, in advance of next winter, obtain the names of owners who thus violate the law, so that they will be in a position to prosecute. The general public should be better protected in such a matter than it has been in the past. So I feel that this is not merely a technical matter, but one requiring the passage of an urgent order. I think the average citizen of Boston has a right to feel indignant with those who do not shovel their sidewalks, but there is much difficulty at times in prosecuting because the names of the negligent owners or lessees are unknown. Therefore, I think it is well that we should have such names and then we have the remedy provided in the law.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ROPING OFF STREETS FOR RACE.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Messenger be authorized to rope off the streets in the Oak square district of Brighton on the occasion of the annual Presentation Club marathon run to be held on Saturday afternoon, April 1, 1939, and to place detour signs at Tip Top street, Oak square and Cuffin street, same to be charged to the City Council fund for Ropes and Stakes.
Passed under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement the following streets in Ward 10, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Lawn street, Wensley street, Hillside street, Sachem street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RELOCATION OF CITY HOSPITAL TELEPHONE SERVICE.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with officials of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company as to the expediency of relocating the City Hospital telephone service and transferring it to some exchange other than those listed under the heading of "Central Exchange Offices, Downtown Boston."

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I feel that I can say without doubt that the citizens in practically the entire city will gladly welcome co-operation of the Telephone Company officials in the request contained in the order. At the present time the City Hospital telephone service originates in the Kenmore Exchange, which office is included in what is known as the "Central Exchange Offices for Downtown Boston." Just why the City Hospital, located as it is out in Roxbury, should be considered a part of what is described by the telephone officials as downtown Boston, and linked as it is in an exchange that, in turn, is linked up with such exchanges as Devonshire, Hancock, Hubbard, Lafayette and Liberty, the telephone service in which latter exchanges embraces an area confined almost entirely to downtown Boston business is rather difficult to understand. Those of us who live in the outlying sections of the city, such as Roxbury, Jamaica Plain, Brighton, Dorchester, Hyde Park and West Roxbury, just to mention a few, realize that to telephone into any of the exchanges listed in what is commonly known as the downtown section is considered by the Telephone Company to be extra service, and consequently more expensive. The City Hospital, to be sure, is far removed from downtown Boston. Conservative estimates are that approximately 2,500 incoming calls are handled in an eight-hour day by the operators on the hospital switchboard. Being in one of the so-called downtown exchanges, as it now is, the service contracted for by practically all the telephone subscribers in the outlying sections will not permit their calling the City Hospital without the assessment of an extra five-cent charge. In fairness to many thousands of subscribers who yearly contact the hospital inquiring as to the condition of relatives confined there I hope that the officials of the Telephone Company will appreciate, on the average service subscribed for, the unreasonable extra cost of these telephone calls into the City Hospital and I therefore request his Honor the Mayor to ask that the matter be gone into thoroughly with a view to giving fair and proper consideration to these many thousands of telephone users.

DROP IN PROPERTY VALUATION.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council a complete report of the reasons why they expect that the valuation of property within the City of Boston will drop $40,000,000 this year, as reported; and be it further Ordered, That the Board of Assessors submit a list of the names and addresses of property owners who have secured tax abatements and reductions in assessed valuations amounting to more than $1,000, exclusive of widows' abatements, for the year 1938.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, inasmuch as the City Council is charged with the duty of preparing the city budget for the year, I believe we are entitled to the information that I have asked for in these orders. We have been given to understand, through statements of the Board of Assessors, that they expect that the valuation of property within the City of Boston will drop $40,000,000 this year. Of course, the tax rate will be affected considerably by such a serious drop in property valuations in Boston. I believe personally, also, that the tax rate is considerably affected by tax abatements. We are faced with these problems, and I believe that this Body, from every point of view, is entitled to such information as I have asked for in these orders. I understand that for five years we have not been able to get that information. I certainly trust that the orders will pass.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned at 3.22 p. m., on motion of Coun. ROSENBERG, to meet on Monday, April 3, 1939, at 2 p. m.

PROFITABLE MUNICIPAL MARKETS.

Municipal markets, "white elephants" in many cities, can be made self-supporting and even profitable, according to recent reports on two of them. The Department of Public Markets of New York City reports that within the administration of its present Mayor, Fiorello LaGuardia, the city's markets have changed from inefficient and expensive undertakings into profitable investments. The Benton Harbor, Mich., municipal fruit and vegetable market is described as doing a three-million-dollar annual business by its City Manager in the February issue of "Public Management."

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

BLAMES SUPERINTENDENT OF NURSES, IN LARGE PART, FOR NURSING CONDITIONS AT CITY HOSPITAL — FINANCE COMMISSION REPORTS TO MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL ON RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION — DEMANDS FOR GREATER MEDICAL TRAINING OF STUDENTS FOUND TO AFFECT THEIR TIME DEVOTED TO FLOOR DUTY AND PATIENTS — COMMISSION QUESTIONS PURPOSE OF SCHOOL AS BEING WORKED OUT, DEBATING WHETHER NURSING SERVICE TO PATIENTS IS OF GREATER VALUE TO CITY OR WHETHER IT IS BETTER TO PROVIDE NURSES WITH A UNIVERSITY SCHOOL FOR EDUCATING THEM — URGES LESSENING OF SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS.

The Finance Commission, on April 6, presented the following report to the Mayor and City Council recounting results of their probe of City Hospital conditions:

BOSTON, April 6, 1939.

To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—In recent weeks the City Council has been greatly agitated over the question as to whether or not the nursing strength of the Boston City Hospital is adequate.

A member of the Council provoked a spirited discussion which may result in public good when he made charges that there are not enough nurses and that the present staff of nurses is overworked. He further charged that as a result of this inadequacy in nursing strength individual nurses have collapsed from overwork and patient care has suffered.

Other members of the Council made counter-contention that there are plenty of nurses at the institution to supply the patient care that is justifiable. As proof of this claim little was offered in Council except that it was pointed out that the Boston City Hospital still ranks among the best hospitals in the country. Charges made at the same time in respect to the cleanliness of the hospital and inelegance of some nurses' rooms have already been substantially refuted.

While it cannot be said that the participants on either side of this dispute in the City Council have expert knowledge of conditions at this hospital or of required administration at any hospital, their freely offered opinions have been given wide circulation. It is well known that hospital executives have inspired both the offensive and the defensive sides of the argument.

Ranks with Best.

The very prominence and standing of the Boston City Hospital, which, the Finance Commission agrees, ranks among the best in the country, has served to focus the attention not only of the medical and surgical fraternity on the dispute, but of hospital administrators everywhere. It has greater than ordinary significance because other hospitals are suffering to some extent from similar agitations, and the hospital world is fearful of results if present efforts to organize workers into one big organization extend so far as to include hospital workers. Strikes have already occurred in some hospitals.

It happens that there is in existence even now an organization drive at the Boston City Hospital. This drive is in a way related to the present agitation among the nurses. It has given the hospital authorities grave concern as to the eventual outcome. The hospital employees have become organized as a Boston City Hospital Employees Association. The association originally became incorporated as a social organization, but its present trend is toward a much more serious objective. It embraces a large percentage of the employee staff.

The organization has become a political power; it has an official publication which frequently expresses resentment at administration measures adopted by the trustees and superintendent, and threatens investigators of all kinds, and has picked out for special mention Finance Commission investigators.

One of the leading spirits, a subordinate in minor capacity, defied the superintendent for a year and refused to obey orders given to him by the superintendent on the authority of the trustees.

The hospital executives are in fear that the employees may, as they grow stronger in organization, with outside political help, assume the right to dictate to the trustees in matters of administration.

Nurses in Organized Units.

Until recently the nurses remained aloof from this organization, but as a result of the constant agitation of the officers and to some extent of dissatisfaction among nurses with present conditions, 90 per cent of the nurses have joined. The executives in charge of the hospital had no previous warning that the nurses intended to cast their lot with the porters, ward maids, kitchen employees, ambulance drivers, laundry help, etc.

On the determination of the primary question as to whether or not more nurses are necessary depends the future policy at the City Hospital in respect to hours of service, division of time of service between classroom work and ward work, extent of classroom work, whether or not the City Hospital is to continue to be used by hospitals of other communities of less medical repute as a modified medical school for the education of their nurses, and whether or not the graduates of this City Hospital School for Nursing are to be certified by the state authorities to practice as registered nurses.

REPORT ON CITY HOSPITAL.

In the welter of opinion in the dispute over the merits of the nursing situation, the chief administrators of the City Hospital have not been of any great help. They are not in agreement themselves on the facts in the situation.

Meanwhile many, including your Honor and the members of the Council, must be in a quandary as to the proper allotments of funds for the City Hospital.

The trustees, who are the responsible authority under the statute, have said that more nurses are needed. On the other hand, their executive officer,—the superintendent,—upon whom they have placed the burden of actual administration, has stood firm in his contention that there are nurses enough there now. Another authority, the Superintendent of Nurses, to whom has been delegated the task of organizing and training the nursing strength, left no doubt in the minds of those who heard her at a City Council hearing that she believes many more nurses are necessary.

In this situation, with the executive authority at the hospital divided on the question, the Finance Commission has sought advice from executives in other hospitals of high repute, from leading organizations within the nursing profession, and from state authorities in Massachusetts and in New York having jurisdiction over the medical and nursing practice.

LIMITATIONS OF BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL.

At the outset it should be recognized that unlike the situation in many private and semi-public hospitals, receipts for treatment or private contributions to the Boston City Hospital are not substantial in comparison with the cost of operation. Actually in 1938 the revenue of the hospital amounted to $272,537. In the same year there was spent for operation, exclusive of the Sanatorium, $3,322,798, which was more than ten times the amount of its revenue. Some conditions at the City Hospital, with respect to service and hours and wages, must, therefore, be different from those in hospitals which are nearer self-supporting.

The Boston City Hospital is a public hospital. It has been the unchanged authorization of the Legislature since the original creation of the hospital by Act of 1858, "to erect, establish and maintain a hospital for the reception of persons who, by misfortune or poverty, may require relief during temporary sickness."

The Finance Commission has previously argued that treatment at the Boston City Hospital was intended by the Legislature to be gratis, but for a limited class—the poor and persons, not poor, but suddenly stricken by accident or collapse and unable otherwise to obtain emergency treatment.

EXPANSIONS OF HOSPITAL SERVICE BEYOND LEGAL LIMITATION.

It is needless now for the commission to dwell at great length on the many ways in which the administrators have expanded the hospital service beyond the scope of the statutory authorization. When previously the commission has done so neither the hospital authorities nor the public apparently were shocked into action intended to bring the hospital activities within the law.

The Finance Commission recognizes that the expansions beyond the authorized scope were attributable partly to public demand and partly to private interest of the medical world. It just did not happen that legislative authority was sought as the hospital enlarged to make provision for paying patients, chronic cases, patients from outside Boston and even outside Massachusetts.

The commission believes, however, that it is important to emphasize that the continued rising cost of maintenance is due as much to the expansion of the hospital facilities beyond the legal authorization as to any other cause. The present mix-up in the nursing situation is due to one of these periodical expansions.

The City Hospital, like most large hospitals, depends for a substantial part of its nursing service on work performed by student nurses during their period of training. The courses of study and practice provided for such students must, however, have matched certain standard requirements to make it possible for the students on graduation to obtain certificates from the established certification boards in the various states entitling them to practice as registered nurses.

COMPLAINT OF POOR EDUCATION OF NURSES.

Persistent and long continued political interference with appointments to the hospital force (see Finance Commission report of June 28, 1935) eventually brought about a serious situation in the nursing school in 1936-37. The Board of Registration of Nurses in Massachusetts and the State Board of Nurse Examiners in New York—the respective certification boards for the two states—gave final warning to the City Hospital authorities that the product of the hospital nursing school was not sufficiently trained and educated to warrant certification as graduate or registered nurse, and unless the training was improved both boards would decline to certify the City Hospital Training School nurses on graduation.

The specific complaints of both certification boards were substantially identical. Stated briefly, the principal points made in written report by the New York Board were:

1. The teachers in the school were not well enough educated themselves to teach students.
2. The students were not given enough classroom instructions.
3. There was not enough supervision of students.
4. The ratio of nurses to patients was less than the required minimum.
5. Night duty assignments were too long.
6. Suitable records were lacking.

STEPS TAKEN BY TRUSTEES TO IMPROVE NURSING.

With the threat of refusal to certify hanging over the hospital school which, if carried out, would seriously cripple the hospital's nursing service, the trustees and superintendent set about immediately to improve the situation. They decided to obtain, first of all, for the position of Superintendent of Nurses, a person capable of putting the school on the level required by the States' Boards. They canvassed the field very thoroughly, interviewed the deans of the nursing schools at Yale and Columbia, officers of state nursing boards and nurses' organizations.

The supervisor of approved schools of nursing of the Massachusetts board was among the first to be offered the place, but she declined the appointment. This fact definitely sets at rest the point made by some that the criticism of the nursing school by the State Board executives was due to the failure of its supervisor to obtain the position of Superintendent of Nurses. Many others were also offered the position, but declined the appointment.

In almost every case the refusals were due to the belief among interested groups that the hospital was too political, that the successful operation of the school was hamstrung by politicians who forced appointment of girls to the training school lacking important requirements, and that there was no security in the position for continued tenure by an executive who insisted on acceptance only of the right kind of students.

Eventually, after many others had declined the appointment, the hospital authorities brought the present incumbent from Canada to take the position on the recommendation of the executives of the National League of Nursing Education in New York. The technical ability of the present incumbent to perform the task assigned to her is unquestioned. The superintendent is a graduate nurse who has been identified with the nursing profession in various hospitals and capacities for approximately forty years. She has been president of the National League of Nursing Education in New York and was for several years a director of the organization.

The hospital authorities placed this new incumbent on a higher plane in executive direction of hospital service than had been the lot of her predecessors. Given the title of Director of the Nursing School, she was told she could have assurance of support in whatever she determined to be necessary to raise the standards of the school. The trustees built up the importance of her position by raising the salary from $2,900 to $4,000, and gave her, in addition, a comfortable modern apartment in which to live. They provided her with executive assistants and teachers of her own choosing and set them up in salary and living quarters on a higher plane than had been the custom previously.

The new superintendent or director first presented the trustees with her idea of what was necessary to raise the standard of the nursing school when she submitted estimates of financial needs for the year 1938. Her program envisioned improvement in living conditions, more nurses, and more executive assistants, and a greatly improved and enriched curriculum for the students. It was estimated that the additional cost would be $600,000. Part of this was due to additional service on account of the newly opened surgical unit, the Dowling Building.

THE VOLUME OF WORK PERFORMED BY THE HOSPITAL.

In order to appreciate the task facing the new superintendent in September, 1937, when she took over direction of the nursing force and nursing school, the amount of the service at the time and the cost is important. It is herewith given, first, as the trustees have reported it on an annual basis. Comparison is offered with earlier and later years so that the relation of the 1937 condition to other years may be understood.

These figures indicate a large hospital, normally treating over 40,000 bed patients and over 100,000 out-patients annually. The striking feature of the comparison lies in the figures for 1933. That was the year when the hardships of the depression period were at about the crest. In that year the daily average number of ward patients was the highest for the ten-year period compared. The total number of persons treated in the hospital, including the Out-Patient Department, was the largest number of any year in the ten. In only one other year of the ten was the cost of operation as low or lower than in 1933. The 1933 cost was $210,000 more than the 1929, but $500,000 less than the 1938 cost. The average number of patients treated did not match these variations. The daily average number of patients was only 1,147.3 in 1929, rose to 1,635.4 in 1933, but fell back to 1,430 in 1938. The death rate, on the other hand, in 1933 was at the lowest level of the whole period. If per patient cost and death rate are a measure of a hospital's efficiency and of the efficacy of treatment provided, it would seem that the nursing service in 1933 was adequate.

When this record was accomplished in 1933 the number of nurses, according to the best figures obtainable, was approximately 508. The ratio of nurses to patients at that time was approximately 1 nurse to 3.2 patients.

INCREASE IN PROVISIONS FOR NURSES
UNDER NEW SUPERINTENDENT.

In 1937, previous to the advent of the new Superintendent of Nurses, the number of nurses was approximately 525. The ratio of nurses to patients was approximately 1 to 2.6. In February, 1938, the number of nurses had risen to 655. The ratio of nurses to patients was 1 to 2.2. On February 11, 1939, the number of nurses had become 689. The ratio of nurses to patients on that day was 1 nurse to 2.1 patients.

The death rate was lowest when the ratio of nurses to patients indicated the least generous supply of nurses. It was 3.8 in 1933 when there was a nurse for 3.2 patients and it was 4.4 in 1938 when there was a nurse for 2.2 patients.

The ratio of student nurses to graduate nurses in the hospital on February 19, 1938, was 365 student nurses, approximately one half of whom were affiliated nurses so called, i. e., nurses in training in other hospitals temporarily assigned for education in special subjects to the Boston Hospital — to 284 graduate nurses. On February 18, 1939, the ratio was 401 student nurses to 279 graduate nurses.

The number of members in the nursing school assigned to executive direction or supervision has likewise increased. When the present Superintendent of Nurses took office in 1937 there were ten known as executive nurses and twenty known as supervisors. In 1938 the number of executives increased to fourteen, and the number of supervisors to twenty-six. In 1939 the number of executives is fourteen, and the number of supervisors twenty-seven. In other words, the staff directing the student and graduate nurses increased from thirty to forty-one.

Technicians in hospital surveys do not accept the ratio of nurses to patients as the conclusive measure of required nursing service. Nor do they admit death rate figures alone rate the efficiency of the hospital. They point out that some cases require more care than others, and that fact upsets the calculations.

Nevertheless, it is worth something in the present dispute that the net result of the treatment at the hospital was better in 1933, when the hospital population was larger and the number of nurses was smaller than it was in 1938. Obviously it cannot be accepted that it is a matter of the number of nurses at the hospital at present that is responsible if patient care has suffered.

It has been suggested that the impression that there are too few nurses is more due to the assignment of the number on the staff than to the actual number. In order to determine this, the Finance Commission has obtained the standard requirements of the State Board.

This board has ruled that to be eligible for certification the student must have had a minimum of thirty months of practical nursing in every nurse-training period of thirty-six months. This left a maximum of six months for classroom work.

During the major part of 1938 the first year student nurses at the Boston City Hospital were assigned to classroom work for approximately nine months. Previously the classroom work lasted only five months. Since the above comparison of nursing strength over a period of years reveals that extra nursing time was provided for in the 1938 allotment for nurses, therefore, it is obvious that the extra time was taken up in extra classroom work for the new students, not in providing more care of patients.

Because of specific complaint by the State Board the nine-month period of classroom work has recently been shortened to six months. There is objection by technical advisers of the Finance Commission that it is not customary in other hospitals to spend the whole of the first six-month period in classroom work. Assignment of the student nurses to ward work at an earlier date would add much to the present patient care.

CLASSROOM INSTRUCTION.

The classroom instruction and the hours of it required in the curriculum of the new nursing school are not in accordance with national standards and other hospital practices; and, come what may in the matter of the need for more service in the wards, the nursing school executives will let nothing interfere with the prescribed number of hours in the classroom. For instance, when the hospital load increased beyond all previous experience in February and March of this year, due to the great number of persons suffering from respiratory sickness, the school executives refused to suspend classes for a minute to permit the students to help in meeting the extra need for nursing service. As an illustration of the excessive amount of time spent by City Hospital students in classroom work, there is offered a comparison of the number of hours required on specific subjects

Technical advisers of the commission point to the variations in the City Hospital school from practices elsewhere as evidence that the City Hospital school is giving more higher education on medical subjects but less education in practical nursing than is the custom in comparable institutions.

EXTRA COST OF PRESENT POLICIES.

Providing for this higher education is not done without extra expense. The teacher nurses brought into the organization by the present superintendent were additions to the pay roll. Though they supplanted others in authority and were given higher pay and more expensive living, the others are still on the pay roll at the rate they received when they exercised the authority and performed the duties of teachers. Also, it has required a larger number of graduate nurses who are paid $1,200 per year to give the service necessary.

In further addition to the pay roll cost the present superintendent has supplemented the new teaching force she added to the pay roll by making contract with Boston University Medical School to give courses to the hospital students in the classrooms and laboratories of the medical school. The cost of this extra instruction is a growing one, having started in 1938 at $4,649 and now, in 1939, going to $5,506. An important consideration is that this outside instruction keeps the students off the wards by the amount of time spent in taking these courses outside the hospital.

In the eight leading hospitals compared in the foregoing table only the Boston City Hospital pays a salary to students while training. The salary is not large, being $90 the first year, $150 the second year and $200 the third year; but it makes striking contrast with the fact that in seven others no salary is paid, and in four of the seven tuition is charged each student.

HOURS OF DUTY OF NURSES.

The length of time that nurses are required to be on duty has entered the present discussion. The Superintendent of the City Hospital Nurses claims that it is inhuman and not conducive to good service to require the nurses, particularly the student nurses, to work the long hours required by present hospital financial limitations.

Elsewhere, generally, the eight-hour day for all nurses (student and graduate) is not yet in operation. This is particularly true of public hospitals. In the City Hospital all employees, except some executives, and the nurses are on an eight-hour, or shorter, day basis. It would seem that the relative importance in a hospital of the work of the nurses would dictate the best conditions of employment for them rather than the poorest.

GRADUATE NURSES DUTY HOURS.

It is not easy to state flatly the number of hours per day required of nurses at the Boston hospital. For instance, the time of the graduate nurses on day duty is divided into segments of fourteen days. The length of the working day is nine hours. The nurse has one day of nine hours off in the fourteen-day period, on each of two other days receives four hours off, and on Sunday one hour off. This means that the graduate nurse on day duty works approximately a fifty-four-hour week. It is called in the hospital a fifty-four-hour week. The head nurse on the day shift is on an eight-hour basis.

The time of the graduate nurse on night duty is divided into periods of seven days' service. The length of the night shift is eleven hours. One night off in seven is allowed. The net time on duty, therefore, is approximately sixty-six hours. It is called a sixty-six-hour per week shift in the hospital.

In New York City hospitals all nurses are on an eight-hour basis. In most local hospitals student nurses are on an eight-hour per day basis, but the best information obtainable by the Finance Commission is that in most local hospitals graduate nurses average fifty-four hours per week, day or night duty.

In other words, therefore, the graduate nurses on the day shift in the Boston Hospital are working about the same length of time as are the graduate nurses in most local hospitals—fifty-four hours per week—but the graduate nurses on the night shift in the Boston Hospital are working twelve hours per week longer—sixty-six hours against fifty-four in most local hospitals.

STUDENT NURSES DUTY HOURS.

To state here the hours of duty of student nurses, it is necessary to have it understood what is meant by duty. It seems fair for the purposes of this report to assume that the number of hours of the students' time required to be given to their training is their hours of duty.

Student nurses give their whole duty time to classroom work and study for the first six weeks. After that six weeks, and until the end of the probationary period of six months, they give eleven hours per week to ward work of a non-technical nature. During the period when they are giving eleven hours to ward work, they attend daily classes, but the number of hours spent in class and in preparation for class varies from day to day. The number of the hours of duty in the first six months is therefore indefinite.

After having served this probationary period of six months, a student nurse is assigned either to day duty or night duty. If the assignment is to day duty, the amount of time required in the wards is fifty-nine hours per week. To this is added four to six hours in classroom and it is estimated that approximately twelve more hours of study time is required. Summed up, this means that when the student is assigned to day duty a total of seventy-five to seventy-seven hours per week of the student's time is required by the hospital to be devoted to the work of training.

If the student happens to be assigned to night duty the hours required are as follows: For ward work, seventy-seven hours; for classes, four to six hours; for study, twelve hours. Summed up, this makes ninety-five hours per week.

There are few if any other hospitals which require for student nurses so many hours of ward duty plus class and study duty. Generally in other hospitals the hours for ward and classroom work for students are limited to forty-eight hours per week. Representatives of the national nursing organizations and the state boards agree that it is too much to expect more than that from the young girls who are usually the student nurses.

OBJECTION OF SUPERINTENDENT IN RESPECT TO HOURS OF NURSES' DUTY.

The present Superintendent of Nurses desires to reduce the number of working hours of the graduate nurses from the present fifty-four-hour week for day nurses and the sixty-six-hour week for night nurses to forty-eight hours for each; and the superintendent desires to reduce the hours of the student nurses in ward work from the fifty-nine hours now required of those on day assignment and the seventy-seven hours of those on night assignment to a flat forty-four hours per week.

How this innovation will affect the Boston hospital costs should be understood.

COST OF GIVING SHORTER HOURS.

The latest estimate available of the Superintendent of Nurses is that to give the forty-four-hour week to student nurses day and night will require the employment of 106.8 additional graduate nurses at $1,200 per year or a yearly cost in salary of $128,160. To give the graduate nurses the forty-eight-hour week will require the employment of twenty-one additional graduate nurses at $1,200 per year, or a yearly cost of $25,200 in salary. The total additional salary cost for both groups, therefore, will be $153,360.

In other words, the plan of the superintendent is to make up the deficiency in nursing service that will result from shortening the hours of the nurses, both student and graduate, by the employment of more graduate nurses.

AFFILIATED NURSES.

The City Hospital accepts nurses in the training school from other hospitals and gives them instruction in courses not available to them in their own hospitals. These nurses are designated as affiliated nurses.

Among the affiliated hospitals are many state institutions like Medfield, Danvers and Westboro which are principally mental disease hospitals; some county institutions like Franklin County Public Hospital; and many public or semi-public municipal or sectional hospitals which offer general treatment, but in some branches have not the facilities or the number of cases to provide study and experience for their nurses sufficient to enable them to meet the registration or certification requirements of state boards. Among the affiliated hospitals from which the Boston City Hospital now takes nurses for training in special subjects are one from Rhode Island and one from Vermont.

The City Hospital authorities claim that the acceptable among the applicants for the Boston Hospital School are fewer than are necessary to operate the school. Therefore, they must augment the service their own pupils give by the service obtainable from these affiliated nurses.

The admission requirements of applicants at the affiliated hospitals in many instances, particularly the public institutions, are not so rigid as are the requirements at the Boston City Hospital. Therefore, it is very possible that under present rigid standards the City Hospital school will admit a pupil from an affiliated school whose application would have been rejected if made originally to the Boston school.

These affiliated nurses train at the Boston school for sometimes three months, six months, nine months, one year, or fifteen months, according to the courses taken and sometimes for particular reasons.

At the present time the Boston hospital nurses obtain all their training in the Boston hospital. Arrangements are being made, however, to send some for special training to a Rhode Island school in 1940.

While these affiliated nurses are attached to the Boston school, they give the hours of service required of the class to which they are assigned. It is usually either fifty-nine hours on the wards in day service or seventy-seven hours on the wards in night service.

The high standards which a prospective student in the Boston school now must meet of necessity cause many potential candidates either to be turned away or to decide to seek training elsewhere. The loftiness of the courses given is beyond their ability. This automatically reduces the supply of acceptable applicants, and makes it necessary to receive students from affiliated hospitals.

CONCLUSIONS.

The Finance Commission has attempted to keep personalities out of the foregoing discussion. Yet it is necessary to state at the outset that the present situation is due entirely to the unwillingness of the Superintendent of Nurses to be satisfied with a school that would meet the exact requirements and nothing more. The commission is of opinion that the superintendent could claim, with a measure of justification, that what has been done in the nursing school has been within the broad license given by the trustees when they commissioned her, without specific limitation, to raise the standards of the school for nursing. Although it is undoubtedly true that the trustees never defined the limitations for the school, having in mind the financial ability of the city to pay as well as the exact need to produce good nursing, yet, obviously, the trustees had no intention to permit creation of more than a school that would meet the state requirements and eliminate the criticisms made by the States' Boards.

The obvious result of the enriched curriculum at the hospital is that the product of the nursing school will come out better educated in respect to sickness and disease. It is a matter of opinion on which experts are not agreed as to whether the product will be as good at the art of nursing.

This raises the question as to whether graduates of the City Hospital Nursing School are to come out as assistant doctors or as assistants to doctors in nursing patients. With the present emphasis on the higher education of the students and the lessening that naturally follows of practice in actual nursing, it is not illogical to expect that a new type of hospital employee must be developed. That new type will be an assistant nurse, an employee who will perform the service that the higher-educated student will not have time, inclination or experience to perform. This will add heavily to present hospital costs.

Then comes the question as to whether the purpose of the nursing school is to provide nursing service for the hospital or to become primarily and wholly a university school for the training and education of nurses, simply using the City Hospital as the workshop, with the taxpayers paying for the education of the students and even paying them for the time spent in learning a profession. To carry out this plan will require the hire of other employees to give adequate nursing.

To give the student nurses at the City Hospital the best training possible and under the best conditions possible is a laudable ambition. There is no doubt that this is the motive which has actuated the present Director of the Nursing School in everything she has done since she took over control in 1937. However, it must not be forgotten that it is difficult at the present time to give sufficient funds for that purpose. As has been stated, under present authorization the primary purpose of the institution is to provide treatment for the sick poor of Boston. Adequate training of the nurses is, of course, an important consideration, and necessary to good nursing; but the primary purpose of the hospital—providing treatment for the sick—must come first.

There is no doubt that a good training school helps the hospital, and is even necessary; but it would appear that a good training school can be conducted, and adequate nursing can be provided, without going to the extreme of establishing a university school for nursing.

If times were better, tax rates lower, and taxpayers were not so pressed in other directions, the city undoubtedly would be satisfied with nothing short of the best in this respect. Unfortunately, however, the cost of government has reached such a height that curtailment is a necessity in many branches of service. It is, therefore, not a time for the City Hospital to give more than needed good service.

Student nurses can be trained and directed while in school to give good nursing service. It is not necessary to rely mainly on graduate nurses. Plenty of recruits for the school can be obtained if, in setting standards for acceptance of recruits, the objective is to obtain students who will make good nurses, not particularly students who can absorb a university training. As stated, many prospective students now are rejected because, in the opinion of the school executives, they are not of the university type, and many others are dropped from the school after once being admitted because they cannot absorb the university training given them.

It would seem, therefore, that the requirements of the school should be lightened to permit more students to enter; that the course of instruction should be changed so as to remove a little of the present emphasis on medical instruction, and to give more practice and instruction in the nursing arts; and that the curriculum be made sufficiently flexible to permit the assignment of more students to ward work at the period in the year when the hospital is carrying its peak load of patients.

The comment has been made to the Finance Commission by competent authority that the courses now given to nursing students in the Boston University Medical School are more for prospective physicians than for prospective nurses.

Student nurses, even though paid a small stipend and given free education and training, are much less expensive than graduate nurses.

The present financial difficulty of the city would seem to dictate greater reliance in actual nursing on the student force, having in mind, of course, enough graduate nurses to supervise the students and to supplement the service of the students to the degree necessary.

On the matter of the hours of service, it does not seem reasonable to expect to obtain good service from students who are required to give the number of hours required of them at present. The nurses perform the principal task for which the hospital was established—providing patient care. No one can defend a seventy-seven or ninety-five hour week for student nurses in an institution which exacts only forty-eight hours' labor from porters, ward maids, laundry employees, etc.

As regards the hours of employment of the graduate nurses, it does not appear that those on day duty are overburdened by the requirement of fifty-four hours per week service. With some exceptions, it is the prevailing custom in comparable hospitals. On the other hand, a sixty-six-hour week for graduate nurses on night duty is considered an imposition by most hospital and nurse executives.

To give the graduate nurses on night duty the same length of duty hours as is given those on day duty can be accomplished without necessarily adding to their number. One means suggested to the Finance Commission is to reduce the number of graduate nurses on day duty and assign more to night duty, and to make up the deficiency in the day force by the use of student nurses more in practical nursing on the wards and less in classroom activities. More Boston City Hospital students and fewer from affiliated hospitals will give an extra lift, inasmuch as there is more freedom in the assignment of City Hospital students. This will also tend to correct what many now consider the inadequacy of experienced nurse service at night.

Number of student nurses now in particular wards varies as other hospitals want particular courses for their students. The result is that at times some wards are over-supplied. Competent authority has informed the Finance Commission that the contagious wards are more often than not too heavily nurse-manned, while the maternity wards are too thinly nurse-manned.

As previously stated, Finance Commission representatives have consulted many having expert knowledge of hospital management concerning the nursing situation at the City Hospital. It seems to be the general opinion among them that the present assignment of nurses, which is based more on a desire to educate nurses than a desire to provide nursing service, gives the appearance of too few nurses, when—as a matter of fact—there is a-plenty of nurses provided for in the funds appropriated for the hospital.

The commission is of opinion, therefore, that readjustment of the present policies of the school, so as to bring student training into line with needed service and present financial limitations, is the present task of the trustees and superintendent. The institution should continue to give service as simply a hospital.

The Finance Commission believes it is timely in this report to go a little beyond the immediate issue of the adequacy of the nursing force at the City Hospital, and to make some observations in regard to the accomplishments of the hospital under trying circumstances.

Among all who have had occasion to become acquainted with the work of the Boston City Hospital, and particularly among those who by professional training might be considered expert in knowledge of hospital care of the sick, the Boston City Hospital is regarded as second to none anywhere. It is the consensus of informed opinion that the City Hospital performs a public service that is nowhere matched by that of any other hospital.

Public hospitals operated by a municipality are a rarity. A very few, like New York City, have them; but for the most part general hospital care of the sick, where it exists, is left to private or semi-private auspices. The Boston City Hospital gives service even beyond so-called hospital care.

With the assistance, financial and otherwise, of leading medical schools it has earned high reputation internationally for its accomplishments in medical research. The volume and importance of its contributions to medical science are without parallel in a single hospital. It is prepared for and regularly treats all types of human physical ailments. It is a common occurrence for the Boston City Hospital to take in cases of human suffering which other hospitals have given up trying to ameliorate and to restore the sufferers to physically comfortable living.

In this period of the last two years, when the number of its nursing strength has been questioned, it has made records in successful treatment of sickness never equalled anywhere else. In a period of twenty-two months it has not lost a diphtheria case by death.

Within its walls the best medical and nursing care known to science is given to women in childbirth. This service includes pre-natal as well as post-natal care and supervision. Unable to find room in hospital beds for all the prospective mothers who come to its doors to be delivered, the City Hospital, with the cooperation and assistance of the Community Nursing Association and the Boston Lying-In Hospital,—one of the best of its kind in the world,—now regularly gives a service in childbirth to mothers in their homes that in so far as pertains to medical and nursing service is the equal of any that money can buy or science suggest.

During 1938 the total admissions to the maternity division were 3,580 and the total deliveries were 3,320. The infant mortality rate was 6.1. When the stillbirths and premature infant deaths are deducted, the net mortality rate is 3.3. This unquestionably places this service of the Boston City Hospital at the top among the ranking services of this nature in the world.

Out of this 3,580 admissions, the maternal deaths totaled only ten,—a ratio of less than three tenths of one per cent,—a record which is better than any clinic of its kind in the country.

The Out-Patient Department has in continuous operation thirty-nine separate clinics to which 405,721 visits by patients were made in 1938. The nose and throat clinic, the largest of the thirty-nine, alone treated 15,710 persons. This gives indication of the great number of persons with serious ailments treated without becoming bed patients of the hospital.

So successful has been the research work in treatment of pneumonia that from July 1, 1938, through March 15, 1939, of 342 cases treated, only fifty-six died, or 16 per cent. Of these 342 approximately 30 per cent, or 101, were affected by a poisoned blood stream in addition to their pneumonia. The City Hospital pneumonia patients are in a much more weakened and disease-ravaged condition when first brought to the hospital than is the situation with cases in private hospitals.

The Research Center known as the Thorndike Laboratory is well known to the medical world at large. Its facilities are ever at the disposal of Boston's sick. Some of the world's greatest medical discoveries are due to the research work of this laboratory.

The Mallory Institute of Pathology, a division of the hospital and named after one of the foremost pathologists of all time, who has served at the hospital for a lifetime, has trained many of the country's leading pathologists and medical examiners.

Doctors trained in the Boston City Hospital are the envy of the medical world and their services eagerly sought by institutions everywhere.

Proper appreciation of the precious value of this Boston institution, therefore, would seem to dictate that the operation and management of the hospital should be left to those in whom the law has vested the authority, and that suggestions for changes in its operative efforts and criticism be confined to those who have some expertness in hospital work.

The hospital employs more than 2,000 people. There are upwards of a quarter of a million passing through its doors every year either for treatment or in regard to treatment of themselves or others. All, even of the employees, are not capable of realizing the aims or of appreciating the practices of the hospital; and yet it is not surprising that there are some among this vast number who are ready and willing to find fault publicly, or to whom it does not occur that the hospital administrators are more anxious than any others to remove cause of justifiable criticism.

It has become the habit for many to complain from time to time to City Councilors of claimed irregularities, poor conditions, of food, of pay, of hours of labor, etc. Unfortunately, at times these complaints have been publicly aired in Council meetings before investigation.

Fortunately, the medical reputation of the hospital has been unharmed by these periodical outbursts. Every one of them, however, makes it harder for the appointed executives to carry on the work of the hospital in orderly comfort. Many employees, unable to understand and appreciate the motives of the administrators, or unwilling to submerge their own interests in the general good of all, have found a haven in the City Council from which they could inspire attacks on their hospital superiors. As a result much time and thought of hospital administrators that might have been given more profitably to worthwhile hospital service is taken up in petty controversies.

By act of the Legislature of 1885, the hands of the City Councilors were taken off the management of the City Hospital. By the charter amendments of 1909, the City Councilors were prohibited from interference with the executive or administrative business of the City Hospital. On several occasions, over a long period of years, the Corporation Counsel has interpreted the statutes in this way to the City Council.

It would seem, therefore, that the part of wisdom, decency and good conscience would dictate that the City Councilors leave management of the hospital to the legal officers of the hospital, beyond the unquestioned right of the Council to make suitable inquiry as a guide in determination of whether or not the appropriation recommended by the Mayor for hospital maintenance can be reduced.

It is to the credit of Mayor Tobin that he has given every encouragement to continuance of the work of the hospital on the highest medical plane.

Respectfully submitted,

MAYOR TOBIN ISSUES WELCOME GREETINGS TO HOME-COMING BASEBALL CLUBS.

Mayor Tobin, on April 11, issued the following statement:

I desire to voice the sentiments of all baseball-loving citizens of Boston in saying, "Welcome Home" to the Bees and the Red Sox.

We have read with increasing interest the news from the Southern training camps and have come to hope for great things from the players as they have steadily developed, both in ability and spirit, under sunny skies. But even if disappointments affect our pride, as the season advances, it is the duty of all of us to give the teams loyal and constant support.

No sport has such a grip on the American public as baseball. We term it the American pastime pre-eminent. Nobody can measure its beneficial effect on the youth of the land or the healthful entertainment it has furnished adults.

The best evidence of baseball's popularity in Boston is the extent to which the sand-lot leagues and those directed and controlled by the Boston Park Department have grown. Nobody can question the value of our playgrounds if he knows to what fine uses they are dedicated. I have the honor to be honorary chairman of the Park Department's Baseball League and I have watched its development and popularity with great pleasure. In the city's vacant lots and spacious playgrounds many champion athletes have been developed, baseball having the largest share.

The Boston teams come home for their first game on Saturday. They will receive a hearty welcome, I am sure. Let us give them every encouragement and wish them such success that they may emerge in the autumn with championship honors.

BOY SCOUTS TO PARADE BEFORE MAYOR TOBIN AND HEAR ADDRESS.

Boy Scouts of the Boston Council will hold a unique May Day program at the Parkman Bandstand, Boston Common, on May 1, at 7.30 in the evening. Not one, but four parades will inaugurate the affair. Beginning at 7.30, parades will leave simultaneously from South Station, Copley square, English High School, and Charles Street Subway Station, and march to the Boston Common.

The Boston Fire Department Band and the Boston Police Department Band will begin a short concert, in the meantime, from the Parkman Bandstand, playing until the Scouts arrive. Each group will have its own Scout Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps and all Boston Scouts, some 5,000 strong, with over a thousand leaders, will assemble before the bandstand, where an address will be made by his Honor, Mayor Maurice J. Tobin.

The program, which will be heard over Station WAAB, from 8 to 9, is a rededication to the Scout Oath and Law and a reaffirmation of acceptance of and belief in the Bill of Rights, just recently formally accepted by the Massachusetts Legislature.

President Frederick Deane of the Boston Council will open the exercises and Scout Executive O. A. Kitterman will lead all Scouts and Scouters in the oath and law. Mayor Tobin's address will deal with the application of Scouting to the perpetuation of American democracy, and he will personally lead everyone present in a pledge to promote more fully the responsibilities and obligations of all citizens as implied in the Bill of Rights.

MAYOR TOBIN INFORMED OF PLAN TO TAX CITY EMPLOYEES BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

The following letter from the Executive Director of the United States Conference of Mayors in Washington, has been made public by the Mayor:

WASHINGTON, April 11, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Yesterday the Congress took the final step in sweeping aside the century-old salary taxation immunity for state and municipal employees. The bill, which provides for reciprocal but not retroactive taxation by the Federal Government of municipal and state salaries and for state taxation of Federal salaries, now goes to the President where it will be signed within a short time.

Municipal employees, therefore, will now pay Federal income taxes on income received beginning January 1, 1939. Returns, thus, do not have to be made this year as the return for 1939 income is not due until 1940. All city employees should be advised of this fact.

The status of certain municipal employees who have always paid Federal income taxes in the past, as they were engaged in rendering so-called proprietary functions, is not affected as they have to pay on the same basis as before.

The matter of Federal taxation of bonds is still before the Congress and you will be kept promptly informed as to actions taken.

I am,

Faithfully yours,

PAUL V. BETTERS,
Executive Director.

36,400 MOTOR DEATHS IN 1935.

According to the findings of the National Safety Council motor traffic deaths in 1935 totaled 36,400, compared with 1934's record of 36,000.

The only decrease was among school children up to fifteen years of age. Motor vehicle accidents to children have increased much less than those of adults since 1922, when safety education began on a national scale. October, November and December were the reddest months. Two-thirds of the accidents were in places under 10,000 population; more than 40 per cent of the victims pedestrians.

Thirteen states decreased traffic deaths 7 per cent or more: Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming and Washington.

TO PROTECT MINORS.

Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

FIVE PER CENT OF CITY BUDGET PAID FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

The Refuse Collection Division operates six days a week, and enough men are provided to compensate for a five-day week for all the personnel employed.

REVISION OF COURSES IN ECONOMICS

Mr. Lee: Mr. Chairman, at the first meeting of the year, I said I would like to give my particular attention to and lay greater emphasis on the problems of democracy and studies in the way the American Government works. At other meetings, when Mr. Sullivan has not been here, I have made known that I would postpone the discussion until he was here. As you know, it came up at our conference when he was here. So all I would like to do tonight would be to read a summary of the proposals I made at the last conference down here.

Dr. Foley: Don't you think, Mr. Chairman and Mr. Lee, it would be better to wait until the full board is here?

Mr. Lee: No, I thought not, because my thought is simply that these public meetings are the opportunity which the mass of voters and the public at large have to follow our work, although the press does act as messengers in a way between us and the public. On a matter like this, a matter of policy, I think it is very fitting to take it up at a meeting like this. The subject matter has been discussed upstairs, so Mr. Sullivan is conversant with it.

Dr. Foley: You say it is more important for the press to get it than Mr. Sullivan, who is a member of the committee?

Mr. Lee: I would say, in view of the fact that we are going into our budget, we won't have much time to take up these matters—we will take up some, but it is important that matters which are not administrative but are of concern to the public should be gone into at these meetings.

Dr. Foley: I will waive the objection.

Mr. Lee: I would like to preface a brief summary, as I feel I must do from previous experience in emphasizing that I am interested in studying American development. Heretofore, when I brought up matters which seemed to me to be the cornerstone of our American government, attempts have been made to make my efforts look exactly the opposite, as though they were opposed to American government. In fact, I am conservative to a fault. I do not go so far as our Commissioner of Education, Mr. Downey. In an article in the Herald headed "Downey favors study of isms," he says: "We have been very delicate about our observations relating to other forms of government. We must teach democracy aggressively, not defensively, so that our future voters may be aware of the contrasts between countries where freedom prevails and countries where freedom is limited."

He is a very worthy gentleman, in a meeting or in conversation, have I ever recommended studying foreign forms of contemporary government. I have never brought up the subject at any time. Perhaps I should. I don't know. My interest has always been in following our own American system of government.

I would not read at this conference the recommendations of Ex-Senator Holmes and Senator Burke's committee as to what should be studied, because it goes in other ways and the local part is left out.

Mr. Chairman, when I say I have myself striven to emphasize American studies, as I say there has been an effort, a plot, almost, to represent any effort to study America as being the reverse. These persons who spend so much time on the subject hit at the American institutions first. I long for the time when they will hit at Communism. They begin with Harvard University, the oldest institution of learning in the country. They take a fling at the writer of the Declaration of American Independence, Thomas Jefferson. They attack civil liberty, without which no democracy is possible.

First I wish to make it very clear that my efforts have always been in behalf of American institutions and the efforts of those who raise the scare of subversive activities are always directed against institutions which have been American since the day America was started, including always the clergymen, beginning with the most respected and best known, and going to the lesser.

I hope in this case, as the subject makes clear, my remarks will not be construed as dealing with anything but American Government and the theory of American life.

The summary which I wish to present I will skip through very hurriedly, a sentence here and there.

Heretofore I have stated, the function of school committees has been allowed to be that of keeping children ignorant of and at a distance from many of the problems of modern life.

Mr. White: May I interrupt? Before you read further in that statement, would you be more specific on whom you are referring to as "they"?

Mr. Lee: You mean referring to the "function of school committees"?

Mr. White: Yes.

Mr. Lee: I mean that in a very general way, Mr. White, in referring to school committees in diversified parts of the country. I do not mean it particularly as referring to this school committee, because at this time I am comparatively new here. The efforts which I started last year were continued by the committee quite as much as by me. Efforts along the line of survey were continued by you particularly, and very much agreed to by others. As far as I know, the Committee is sympathetically still scrutinizing and studying the same cornerstone of American Government in our schools. So I do not mean that as a reflection on this committee, although I think we have got to pull ourselves up and make sure that it does not hold true of us. As the Commissioner of Education, Mr. Downey, said, we have been too delicate in talking about forms of government.

Mr. White: You are not specifically referring to this committee?

Mr. Lee: No, I am not.

Dr. Foley: May I ask Mr. Lee a question? You do not feel that this committee agrees with your philosophy?

Mr. Lee: I think anyone who has a philosophy feels that people should agree to it. It does not follow that they always will. I realize there are different views in the committee on some subjects, although we have much in common on some.

The view has been expressed that in school we should teach the pleasant and beautiful things of life and not the sour ones. This is part of a system. Persons engaged in so-called illegal enterprises do not want the public burrowing into their affairs. Certain business men do not want the public burrowing into their affairs. And certain politicians do not want the public burrowing into their affairs, and all three know that the place to stop such curiosity is in the schools. And so they stop it. Thus we send the child out on the road of life in a beautiful car called American education, without telling of the open manhole and the ditch around the corner. That a good high-jacking job has been done at the corner is evidenced, as I have said, by the depression and by newspaper accounts of any last twenty-four hours.

Skipping further: Nor is this an undefined or indeterminate subject for classroom preparation. We know, as we know any science, many practices which tradition has accepted and custom has honored in American life. It is a definite and demonstrable phenomenon that public improvements are always fewest in a section of the city where the political machine and the people's representatives are strongest. Why? It is a definite phenomenon in American life that people do relish and make a fetish of the racketeer, as witness a gangster's funeral. Why? It is a definite phenomenon of American life that people say and believe that politicians and politics are dirty. Why is that?

It is not the enlightened and frank discussion in the class room that demoralizes. It is knowing that the teacher covers up, and suspecting that she covers up because schoolroom education is part of a system where certain elements want the work-a-day relationships of people's lives covered up, that demoralizes. It is this that makes the child cynical, hard-boiled, and distrustful of the motives of his government. This attitude of not coming clean in the classroom, and not inviting the child to work with the teacher on their joint problems, is more responsible for delinquency in the United States than all the other factors put together.

If a more concrete expression is needed here as to ways of handling such matters as that of passing dollar bills to the policeman in order to sell ice cream on proscribed beaches, three presentations offer themselves. First, if such typical practices are not mentioned, in favor of classroom concentration on only the model form of government, the child's experience in his neighborhood belies the classroom, and leaves him later disillusioned and rudderless. Second, if such a policeman is held up in the classroom as a notorious rascal, the child's experience later will belie this, when he finds such an officer a "jolly good fellow," just trying to get along and to let him get along. Third, if, on the other hand, the position is taken that a lot of our City ordinances are cumbersome anyway, and yet that the cop cannot afford to take the risk of winking at them without some compensation for his risk, and that, nevertheless, the adjustment of passing dollar bills is not a very satisfactory one because it gives the advantage to the biggest ice cream vendor who can pay the most, and likewise clutters up the beach with hawkers to the detriment of mothers and children, then you have given the student something to run on.

I think I have concluded, by pointing out that this science of living with our institutions and governmental machinery, is the science today.

I close my remarks with an emphasis on taking a wholesome attitude in looking into our government as it works, and seeing if the teacher and student together cannot work out a way at least to a more satisfactory relationship, based on a very thorough scrutiny and examination of the way our governmental machinery works.

Superintendent: There are a few little points of view I would like to have cleared up in Mr. Lee's discussion, so I shall know exactly how to proceed. I wish I could have had a copy of just what he is presenting here this evening. I will have to trust to my memory of what he said, because his early remarks do not coincide with the typewritten sheet which he passed to the members of the committee upstairs.

For instance, somewhere in the early part of your talk you say it is a definite and demonstrable phenomenon that public improvements are always fewest in sections of the city where the political machine and the people's representatives are strongest. I would like to see that demonstrated.

Mr. Lee: That is a particularly good point, and it is a point which is so common that it can be discussed without having any mention of any particular individual. Let us first inquire the truth of that, whether it is true or false. I think the strongest machine sections of our own city are Ward 3, the West End, the North End, the South End, and also South Boston.

To be sure, South Boston does have one tremendously significant improvement, but more by the grace of God, because the beautiful ocean was put there and it was inevitable that that beach be used. I think outside of that, most persons would agree that South Boston had fewer improvements than any other section, except the North End and the West End, which does not even have a municipal building.

Mr. White: I disagree that South Boston is boss-controlled in politics. I think South Boston is one of the most independent districts in Boston. There is no particular ward boss or machine boss there. To go over there and look at the records of the actual turnover in occupants of offices is proof that there is no machine.

You are talking about one particular thing; that is, the improvement in recreational facilities, because that happens to be at the beach. How about the intellectual development of the people of South Boston? I suppose that has improved just as much as the people in any other district of the city of Boston, and perhaps more.

Mr. Lee: The intellectual improvement cannot readily be governed by politics.

I have no challenge as to the moral or intellectual quality of the people who live in what I believe to be the strongest political districts of the city, but as far as advantages are concerned, from the government, from the city, or from the state treasury, it seems to me they are fewest in a section where the machine is strongest.

You say South Boston has been unusually free from any one machine. Is that your point?

Mr. White: Yes.

Mr. Lee: I am not as familiar with South Boston, obviously, as I am with my own section, in the West End. If that is true, that is a point that should be brought up, and perhaps that accounts for the fact that we do have, or the South Boston citizens do have, such an advantage as the beach. Over in Ward 3 I think the Hendricks Club machine and the Lomasney machine can be accepted as a very definite machine.

We say there are fewer improvements for this reason, that the machine candidate in office, in order to keep his strength, votes with business groups, economy groups, the so-called power groups. He votes for legislation or appropriations for their interests.

Chairman: As the Chairman has to leave, I am going to ask Mr. White to take the chair.

Mr. White took the chair.

Dr. Foley: South Boston being discussed so openly, as a resident of that most illustrious part of Boston that is to me God's chosen part of the entire universe, I wish to go on record as saying this: not only have we a very beautiful beach and esplanade, but the character of the people and our groups in South Boston are for us to be proud of; also our schools and especially our high schools, where much of the material that Mr. Lee has talked about here, the economic features of government, are discussed in the classroom. I still say, Mr. Chairman, that I do not believe that my associate here can qualify as an authority on many of the statements made, because he has not visited our high schools or our grade schools, namely the intermediate schools or the elementary schools.

So it is difficult for me to see that he is qualified on many of the statements made. I feel that he is going off on a tangent, that he is creating a so-called smoke screen, so that it is befogging us. I would like to hear something definite as to just what is in back of all this matter that he is putting before the Committee.

Mr. White: Perhaps you would answer the question.

Superintendent: I would like to raise a question. I would like to ask you this question: Do you wish me to instruct the teachers to teach the children that it is a definite and demonstrable phenomenon that public improvements are always fewest in a section of the city where the political machines and the people's representatives are strongest?

Mr. Lee: Yes.

Superintendent: In order to teach that, teachers at least must know it is a fact.

Mr. Lee: I would like to answer your question. I have every intention of answering your question to the last letter. As for the improvements, one can cite a gymnasium which has been agitated for seventeen years. Fifteen thousand signatures have been signed. Nothing has been done.

I would like to answer your question more fully about that location. I think you have brought up matters that tend to have me qualify my first statement. I will leave it this way, that when the Back Bay, which I think you will agree, perhaps, is less of a machine district—when they get special lights, they get not only one, but four at every corner of Beacon Street from Charles Street to Massachusetts Avenue. The district of Hyde Park seems to be less of a machine section. They get a $500,000 golf course.

At least, if I may come back to the West End, where I frankly say I am on better known ground, there the candidates from the political club, when in the State House or City Council, vote with the economy interests and the business interests on matters of legislation or appropriation. They thus consolidate their strength with those groups. Having gained position and strength, they are then in a position to do a great many personal favors for constituents, personal favors which are extremely valuable and serve as sort of social work. For instance, in the old days a tremendous number of positions were filled on the city payroll. It was a thing the people needed. It was entirely proper. Suppose there were licensed taverns, gasoline stations, and all that kind of thing in the day when favors were done by the local political organization, because they had gained the strength with the forces in the community which enabled them to exert that character of influence in the city administration. Then suppose this same district came up to the city administration and asked for twenty sets of traffic lights. The administration would say that they could not have the twenty sets of traffic lights, as well as the personal favors. The politician acts as a sort of broker, giving the corporate power what it wants and so getting the citizen what he wants.

All that has been neglected in our school instruction.

So the child goes out into a machine district, without any appreciation of why there are machines, what the benefits are, how it works, and, if anything, with a distaste toward it, not having had it sympathetically mentioned in the text books.

I think if the children could see the politician as Senator Walsh has described the politician, a messenger or an errand boy for the people, who tries to give every group in the community what it wants, as it were bargaining between them, so that he gives one thing to one group, and in return is able to give another group something else, then I think they would begin to understand the mechanics of American life. When they see that real improvements are more valuable to the people than political favors, the people will begin to get it. At least at times of election, they could understand the business and intentions of a candidate, because they would exactly know the nature of his office and business, and would not be beguiled by platitudes, and it would lead to a much wiser decision. It would put the hand of the citizen on the actual machinery of the government, as it is.

Did I answer that, Mr. Gould?

Superintendent: I think you got pretty far afield. I judge you are holding up the political leader in a district as being a sort of saviour to the people.

Mr. Lee: Yes.

Superintendent: Then I don't see the consistency, why you argue that outside improvements are always fewest in the section where the machine and the public representatives are strongest. I should think the public would want the public improvements.

Mr. Lee: No, the public do not want public improvements. They are usually people of small income, and it is much more valuable to have a job through patronage, or to be able to conduct their taverns or whatever business they are in, or their gasoline station, even if a little adjustment has to be made in city ordinances to do so. That which brings them income is much more important to them than playgrounds or municipal buildings.

Dr. Foley: You do not believe that, do you, Mr. Lee?

Mr. Lee: Yes, I do.

Dr. Foley: That the various districts in our city do not want improvements? Do you believe that?

Mr. Lee: I believe that up until now that has been true. I think now any section has more to gain by community improvements through City Hall and the State House than it could by personal political favors, but by and large, that is true.

Dr. Foley: Some thirty years ago, the sanitation of the City of Boston was abominable. That has all been improved upon. The public wanted sanitation. Don't you believe that that was for the best interests of the citizens of Boston?

Mr. Lee: Yes, because it was on a city-wide scale, but in the West End we postponed having electric lights for years after the rest of the city had them, because in the West End we preferred not to get money from the city treasury for that purpose, when we could get jobs for our citizens by using our influence at City Hall.

A year ago, at the West End Joint Planning Committee, where I am going tonight, they were discussing the need of traffic lights. We brought out that 129 people had been killed or maimed going to the Charles Street playground. We had had a rather spectacular parade, urging the then Mayor, Mr. Mansfield, to set up the traffic lights. A particular gentleman from the Hendricks Club, for whom I had particular respect because of his ability and integrity said, "Isn't it much better to have people killed by automobiles than to have them starve to death? We are trying to give our people jobs. If we go and borrow money from the city treasury to set up a traffic light, our influence is not going to be as great. They will say, 'You have got your traffic lights. Don't come and bother us for jobs.'"

Dr. Foley: I should say, in view of that, it would be advantageous to the representative of the city or state government to have lights. That would not be paying off. That would be a humane action, more than anything else.

Mr. Lee: No, if you go into the Mayor's office and get a traffic light, you can't pop in the next day, and say, "I want so and so taken care of." He would say "I gave you that traffic light last week."

Dr. Foley: That is not so. We say that has never happened.

Superintendent: You see how difficult it is to ask the teachers in the schools to teach this. The difference of opinion expressed around this table would indicate how difficult it would be to ask a couple of hundred teachers to teach a particular thing which nobody believes, or very few believe.

Dr. Foley: I say this. He has not yet put his finger on the facts of what is on his mind. I cannot seem to track down what seems to be his idea in order to have our teachers carry on and teach this matter. I fail to understand.

Superintendent: As I understand Mr. Lee, he is trying to have taught in the classroom the workings of our government, both good and bad. I think, however, some of the questions suggested here are not suitable subjects to teach in the class, because I doubt if we can come to agreement as to their significance, or even the conclusion that he reaches.

If you take the next sentence: "It is a definite phenomenon in American life that people do relish and make a fetish of the racketeer, as witness a gangster's funeral."

I think you ought to qualify that by stating some people do, but a great majority of the people do not.

I think that is what we should teach, if we are going to teach it at all. Personally, I do not see why our teachers should be called upon to teach any such thing to the children in our schools.

Mr. Lee: Don't you think the respect or admiration given to racketeers is undue, whether it is extensive or not extensive? The tremendous headlines honoring the funeral are evidence. The obvious flattery that people summering in Florida felt if they were invited to Mr. Capone's parties.

Superintendent: You make the definite statement "It is a definite phenomenon in American life that people do relish and make a fetish of the racketeer," and then say, "Why?" I say it is just a few who make a fetish of it.

I do not know why we should select that as a topic for discussion in our classroom.

Mr. Lee: The American people as a whole do much more toward admiring the racketeer than the people of England or France do. There is something about our American life that brings that about. What is it? Let us understand it.

Superintendent: Well, what is it?

Mr. Lee: Well, I think what happens there is that our legislatures do make the laws running toward the business element. Of course, the business element can in the first instance draw up laws. A good law is hard to draw up. The business element can hire lawyers, and can finance the bringing of laws to the attention of the Legislature, and can finance the campaigns of candidates that are running for office. So our laws are made on the side of the business element. The citizen of small means feels that this country is not going very well. "Somegrouns in the country seem to be doing nicely. I can't get a job myself. My boy is 19, and he can't get a job. My girl is earning $8 a week, and she is going to lose her job next week."

Therefore, the average citizen feels that things are not going very well, so he may take up with some racket like the number racket, and then protect himself by alliance with the police. It means the inspector may be shifted; the policeman who is too vigilant will be transferred. That makes an impression on the neighborhood which is in the nature of respect and admiration for the racketeer. The first cause is as I have enumerated, the manipulating of our legislature in favor of an element which is more powerful at the legislature. Then the public at large becomes discontented. From this public, emerge individuals all ready to support politicians and hence get immunity for lawless activities, while Mr. Average Citizen sees that this individual is getting a power which no law-abiding citizen would have.

Mr. White: Aren't you confusing, Mr. Lee, the responsibility of different departments, one with another? That, certainly, is not the responsibility of the teacher. I do frankly think that the teachers in the Boston Public Schools, where they can with equity and justice distinguish between that which is right and wrong in our government, try to explain to pupils in so far as the time allows and their knowledge of the situation permits. I do not think the majority of teachers in our system know anything at all about racketeering.

Mr. Lee: You will find that the teacher in certain wards does, Mr. White.

Superintendent: Mr. Chairman, I think that our teachers have a big responsibility in the schools. I think they have the responsibility of teaching the rights of citizens but I also feel that they have the responsibility of teaching the duties as well.

I do not believe that all of these things that you bring up should be presented by teachers in the classroom. I think a good many of them affect a very small portion of the community in which we live.

On this next page, if I may go to that, you say, "If a more concrete expression is needed here, as to ways of handling such matters as that of passing dollar bills to the policeman in order to sell ice cream on proscribed beaches, three presentations offer themselves."

Can you imagine a teacher in our schools who is teaching and upholding duties and ideals, suggesting to the children how much they are to pay the officer for the purpose of breaking the law, and can you imagine the officer wondering how much he should charge in order to wink at people who break the law? Do you think that should be taught in our schools, to our little children, by our teachers?

Mr. Lee: I do not say our little children. I think it should be taught before a boy leaves school. Those are the problems he is going up against. I do not say for the purpose of teaching him to break the law. I said he should be taught how it works, for the purpose of working out a system which will not induce the breaking of the law.

At a late meeting of the planning committee in the West End last summer, one of the kids had complained that he could not sell ice cream on the Charles Bank beach because he could not afford what the cop wished. I forget what it was. I think "three bucks."

I said, "That is an outrageous situation. I will take that up at the planning committee tonight."

Then I realized if I did, no good would come of it. The kid would not be allowed to sell at all. In this case, the kid did not succeed. I suppose the man who did it, who could pay a bigger price perhaps, was a man with a starving family and he would lose it, so I let it slide.

Superintendent: You do not think that is general enough to teach it in the classroom, that an officer should ask for an amount from the people to break the law?

Mr. White: I do not think we should set out to indict the police department or any other department in the city.

I think you have a duty to perform in a situation like that to the police department, and also to the youngster who comes to you with that sort of complaint, to show him that that it is not the best way out in the long run. The best way would be to teach him that in the long run he cannot break the law. He cannot do it. Anybody that is foolish enough to think that he can beat the law, in the long run, sooner or later, finds out that he cannot. If the police department is not functioning properly, you know where to bring a complaint, but it is not to the Boston School Department.

Mr. Lee: I did not say I was indicting or criticizing the police department itself. It is you who have spoken of these practices as being so evil.

Mr. White: I have not spoken of any practices.

Superintendent: I am just using your own words.

Mr. Lee: Mr. Gould talked in a tone as though that was wrong.

Superintendent: Certainly I did. It is absolutely wrong. Don't you think grafting between a policeman and some youngster, if such a thing is true, is wrong?

Mr. Lee: I do not think it works out to the continuance of our civilization.

Superintendent: That is a very definite question I have asked. Is it wrong, or right??

Mr. Lee: I don't think things are always wrong or right. I think there are different ways of doing things. I suppose if a fellow is trying to keep the wolf from the door, that is one thing. I suppose it is a different thing when he deals with a cop or somebody else.

Mr. White: You don't believe, in sincerity, that the best way to educate the children of our schools is just to show them the expedient way of beating the law, rather than fighting, the hard way?

Mr. Lee: Not the expedient way of beating the law, but showing the way the law works.

Mr. White: If everybody does his duty—but we are primarily interested in the teachers, as regards educating the children, physically, mentally and morally, in the school system.

That is where our responsibility lies. If some other governments or our government does not function properly, that is for the police, the courts, and the prosecuting department. The fault is theirs, not in the school system. That is where the complaint should be made.

Mr. Lee: No. On the contrary, it seems to me in the first place, far from the police feeling that they have been indicted, which is not my thought at all, the police would welcome a citizenry with experience, a class graduating that would understand the handicap that prevents the cop from doing what he wants to do. I think the cop would be delighted if the children would study sympathetically the forces they are up against.

As to your second question, I say absolutely yes. The reforms made in the way of clean-up by the District Attorney's office are superficial and often just pave the way to a recurrence of the same thing.

I have no criticism of Mr. Dewey in New York, but I think in the long run the improving of this condition in New York, Boston, or anywhere else must begin in your classroom, on the lines I mentioned a while ago. Every citizen has a right to go along, realizing where rights infringe on one another. Where do they begin?

Superintendent: Everybody believes we should teach that in the classroom. We do not believe we should teach it the way you think.

Dr. Foley: I think our school system should teach children how to think, not what to think. We talk about the economic situation. They certainly did not prophesy that the World War would last over three months. They did not prophesy the 1929 catastrophe. That took place, in our time. So that after all, the economic situation is an entirely different situation now than the problem that faced us then. I feel this way, that if our committee will go from school to school occasionally, going to the high schools, the intermediate schools, familiarize themselves with what is going on in our schools, then we will know that our teachers are without a peer in the field of education. I am perfectly satisfied with the teachers that we have in our system, headed by our Superintendent of Schools, who gives every effort to every matter that concerns his schools. I feel that we are fortunate indeed, and that there is no criticism that I can see that can come from any member of the committee.

Mr. Lee: If I might answer a question of Dr. Foley's a little more precisely, as to whether the Mayor of the city recommends the establishment of the traffic lights as against giving somebody a job, or weighs one form of favor against another, I would at least say that as a public official, I do just that.

Dr. Foley: I will say the Mayor of Boston is too busy a man to even think of such trivial matters as traffic lights, where he has facing him now a possible $85 tax rate. I feel the City of Boston is really under that particular tax rate.

Superintendent: Do you think they consider the question of handing out jobs? Do you think it is always a question of swapping?

Mr. Lee: Let me just stick to myself, then, rather than, possibly, anyone else. If someone comes to me who very much wants to see a playground opened, or to see some recreation facility established, like a beach, and I go to work for that person, or for his community, if after considerable hard work, I perhaps am successful, as I have been I might say in two out of three cases, and then that person comes to me, in the middle of it and says, "I want a job. Can you help me get a connection with the W. P. A.?" I say, "No, I have worked my head off for you. Please don't come around here and ask for something else."

Superintendent: Why do you say that?

Mr. Lee: The reason I say that is that there are only a certain number of hours in the day. You can't help everybody in the city and give your best efforts for different people. You do not concentrate your entire efforts on one particular individual. I think if a city government does do that, it must be a pretty partial system of government.

Superintendent: I think the average city official is guided entirely by the needs of the occasion.

Another question, and I will stop. You say "It is knowing that the teacher covers up, and suspecting that she covers up because school room education is part of a system where certain elements want the work-a-day relationships of people's lives covered up, that demoralizes."

I do not believe there is a teacher in our school system that has that attitude of mind at all. Then it says: "This attitude of not coming clean in the classroom and not inviting the child to work with the teacher on their joint problems is more responsible for delinquency in the United States than all the other factors put together."

The answer to that is to go around to our classrooms and see our teachers at work. You will see that the teacher not only works with the child, but plans the work so that pupils can do it. The teachers work before school and after school, which is exactly what the teacher in our school is doing with the child all the time. She is not trying to cover up. She is trying to broaden and develop the child's mind. She is trying to give him an insight into all the real problems. She is trying to build up and standardize the ideals of the child. She has in mind helping to make him a good, upright citizen and she gives all her strength and energy to that. She is not covering up. She is not acting in a way to repress the child. She is trying to bring out in the child all the gifts that he has.

Dr. Foley: I would say, concerning the teacher, of course the responsibility is on the parents, to develop the child along in the best manner. I feel that our teachers are certainly doing that particular job.

Mr. Lee: I am willing to agree with the Superintendent about 95 per cent of the work and the efforts of the teacher in her class, but we are talking here about the particular study of city government. That is what we are referring to.

I think every argument here, or discussion here tonight, as to this matter of how much you give to the policeman for a concession, also the attitude shown here, indicates that the school committee, or at least the teaching force, does not meet the child on the same level, his own terms, according to the standard of trying to see these problems through for him. They either do not touch on them, or they make out that all kinds of graft are criminal; that everybody trafficking in graft is virtually a criminal. They take one of those attitudes. Then when the child goes out, he meets a practical problem, like selling song sheets. There again, they usually make a trade with the officer. They have the problem of what they are going to do. Either they are going to go without any income, or make an arrangement with the police.

These questions should be talked over in the classroom. As it is now, the child goes out to a different world from the school. Every child, I say, comes to a place where he finds out that the school, when compared with the world outside, is different. There seem to be bounds there. There is not a complete meeting on one level.

Superintendent: I am glad he does. I am glad there can be such a place that is different from the world you are describing, but I have a feeling that the better place is in the classroom. I am telling you the average youngster will be better able to go out and meet the problems if he knows what his rights and duties are than if he has to discuss such situations in a classroom.

Mr. Lee: The commonplaces of life, the electric light, the radio, are at the disposal of the humblest citizen. The only prospect before the child is going out into this civilization which has tremendous potentialities. It is like an automobile which has got numerous unsatisfactory gears. You may take the attitude that those gears cannot be examined in the classroom for it is something that is not joyous, but there is something that is joyous in going after the broken-down automobile and trying to repair it.

There is something wrong with the automobile, and we must examine the spark plugs, the gasoline tank, and see if we cannot repair it; see if we cannot unite together in the adventure of making it really 100% efficient for the benefit of each group in the classroom.

Superintendent: It seems to me they do teach real things. They teach the problems of life in the classroom, although they do not take up every technical violation of the law. I do not believe there is any necessity of teaching that in the classroom.

Dr. Foley: I have said many times, if we could have an hour at the end of the week, where the children could have the advantage of instruction in religion, then the great Christian world would be at the base. The trouble that we now face is the Godless proposition we meet. Just as soon as we get back to Christianity, then we will have everything worthwhile in our system.

Mr. Lee: I do not see why there is this divergence in point of view between you and me, if the schools are already teaching, as you say, the way through the complexities of life.

Superintendent: You just said America was the best place in the world?

Mr. Lee: Yes.

Superintendent: If you say the whole responsibility is on the teachers, don't you think they have done a fairly good job from 1635 to the present time?

Mr. Lee: Certainly a better job than has ever been done in the world before.

Superintendent: I think they have done pretty well. Certainly we are in agreement that this country has more privileges than any other country in the world. I think there is a great deal of credit due to teachers because of that.

I think we disagree on the fact that you select minor violations of law and want to use that as a basis for classroom discussion. You think the child is educated only within the four walls of the school, where, as a matter of fact, the child, growing up, particularly in high school, the age where you naturally would discuss these problems, is becoming educated by every experience with which he comes in contact. I venture to say that even with all these violations of law, many of our students in high school know more about them than the teacher in the classroom.

Mr. Lee: I still do not see why it is not well for the relations to be closer between the child and the teacher.

Superintendent: Do you think the child does not know it is wrong to bribe an officer? Do you think he has to be taught that?

Mr. Lee: He knows that is the convention, but does he know whether it is wrong in his own mind?

Superintendent: Of course it is wrong and he knows it is wrong.

Mr. Lee: How many people feel it is wrong to try to fix an automobile case? I am probably the only person in the room—except the Superintendent—who never tried to fix an automobile case!

Dr. Foley: I think we have the finest police force there is anywhere, and the district will bear me out that we have the finest police force there is in the entire country.

Mr. Lee: We have tried our Constitution for a couple of generations. It certainly is not working out. Benjamin Franklin said our constitution would work well for a while. Then corruption would come in and overthrow the government, and a dictatorship would be set up. We have almost come to that process now.

Superintendent: Are you going to overcome corruption by educating young people in the corrupt methods by which some people have achieved apparent success?

You are saying the teacher must not teach a philosophy of life, that the only purpose is for all people to get along, regardless of the method by which they get along; that the teacher must not condemn anyone, because she is likely to find, if she condemns an officer who accepts a bribe, that the child is likely to find he is a "jolly good fellow" and, therefore, that classroom experience is belied. Then your teacher in the classroom cannot be a teacher. She cannot teach, unless she wishes to make a desirable change in the individual who sits in the classroom. That is what teaching means. It means making desirable changes.

I do not consider it desirable to take a thing that is evidently evil, and have the teacher look at that thing without expressing any opinion as to the right or wrong of it. I do not think you will build up the child's moral stamina by that, not for a minute. It does not seem to me sensible.

Mr. Lee: It is a desirable change to the child if instead of having a cloudy picture of the road ahead of him, he can have a clear picture of the road ahead of him.

Superintendent: He has a clear picture of the road ahead of him. He has duties and responsibilities. He has ideas. He is not looking at the ditch; he is looking at the sky.

Mr. Lee: He has got to know how to meet it.

Superintendent: He does know how. You will admit we have the highest civilization in the world. Therefore the individuals in it must have known how to meet their problems.

Mr. Lee: If they are already teaching what I have in mind, well and good. Evidently there is a big separation between what I have in mind and what you have.

Superintendent: Evidently there is.

Mr. Lee: I say a system should teach the child so he can see what the things are and what the results are. I strongly stress the fact of showing what the ultimate result is when an exchange in money goes on between an individual and a policeman.

Superintendent: You have mentioned three methods of presentation. There is not a right or wrong moral consideration mentioned at all.

Dr. Foley: I move we adjourn, Mr. Chairman.

Superintendent: If I had that statement in advance, I could have prepared a written reply.

Mr. Lee: I think you did have a statement in advance.

Superintendent: No, you selected certain parts to read. You left out certain critical parts. I had to try to remember what you read.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN,
Secretary.

BOSTON'S LIABILITY FOR METROPOLITAN DEBT, 1937.

Boston's liability for this contingent debt of the State (i. e., in the form of annual assessments for sinking funds and interest) incurred for Metropolitan parks, sewers, water, etc., was $28,559,995 (net) on July 1, 1937, or $1,283,454 more than in 1936 and $6,473,404 more than in 1927. It is divided thus: Water debt, $25,314,274; Park debt, $904,738; Sewer debt, $1,639,878; Charles River Basin debt, $701,105. The percentages paid by Boston in 1937 were 63.4515 on Water Debt; 48.6623 on most of the Park Debt; 36.25 on most of the Sewer debt, and on Charles River Basin debt the same as on Park debt.

Metropolitan assessments paid by Boston in 1937 amounted to $4,752,277.22, of which 64.23 per cent was for debt requirements and 35.77 for maintenance. Water assessment, $3,282,201 (usually paid from water revenue); park, $786,974; sewer, $470,545; Charles River Basin, etc., $212,557.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payment must not exceed 6 per cent.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

FINANCE COMMISSION URGES CHANGES IN POLICY OF NURSING SCHOOL AT CITY HOSPITAL—WOULD HAVE TRUSTEES CONFER WITH CHAIRMAN OF STATE BOARD AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS AS TO WHAT IS REQUIRED, AND THEN TO REGULATE CURRICULUM OF SCHOOL TO MEET THOSE, AT THE SAME TIME GIVING MORE TIME TO NEEDS OF PATIENTS IN THE WAY OF FLOOR DUTY—SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS NOW IN VOGUE LAUDABLE UNDER NORMAL HOSPITAL CONDITIONS, BUT TOO DRASTIC IN DEMANDS IN PRESENT SITUATION.

The Finance Commission of the City of Boston, on April 17, addressed the following to Mayor Tobin relative to the nursing school at the City Hospital:

BOSTON, April 17, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

HONORABLE SIR,—The Finance Commission believes that some clarifying information is necessary at this time to answer adverse comment on the commission's report to the nursing situation at the City Hospital. This adverse comment has come from a few who are undoubtedly interested in the good name of, and in efficient service at, the hospital, but who, nevertheless, missed some important points in the Finance Commission's discussion of the situation. The commission also believes that comment is called for in regard to a public statement from the trustees of the hospital, to the effect that no changes are contemplated in the nursing school as a result of the report.

Having in mind statements made by the trustees in the conference with the Finance Commission, at which you were present, the commission assumes that the later statement of the trustees means that no changes in executive personnel of the Hospital School of Nursing are presently contemplated.

The commission would like to recall to you that the report of the Finance Commission pointed to the need of changes in educational policy of the school. It did not suggest changes in the executive personnel. As a matter of fact, the report stated that the present Superintendent of Nurses and her staff are fully capable of making the changes suggested by the facts of the commission's report.

Changes in Curricula.

Substantial changes in curricula under the present personnel have already been brought about by the representations of the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses. Surely, the influence of the trustees of the hospital must be as great with their subordinates in the nursing school as was the influence of the State Board. Therefore, if the trustees will it, further changes can be obtained without necessarily bringing into office a new staff of nursing school executives. The commission is content to leave the decision as to whether or not a new staff will replace the present staff to the trustees and to you. Nevertheless, the distinct impression made upon the members of the Finance Commission at the recent conference with the trustees is that it was agreed that changes in educational policy were called for, and would be made.

The commission believes that the convictions expressed by you of the soundness of the recommendations of the report will not be weakened by slight adverse comment on some particulars. Nevertheless, the commission desires to give you the reassurance that many nurse training school executives, many hospital executives (other than Boston City Hospital), and many men and women in high standing in the medical profession have communicated with the Finance Commission since the publication of the report and have warmly commended the attitude taken by the commission. They have stressed the timeliness of it, because the facts disclosed in the report relate to one of the most troubling problems in hospital management all over the country at the present time — proper training of nurses. It is evident in these communications that it was the discussion in regard to the present nurse training — not the tribute to the medical record of the hospital — and the recommendations for changes in educational policy that interested most of these many commentators.

The commission desires to emphasize that the good reputation of the hospital rests entirely on its accomplishments in the fields of medicine, surgery and research. The extensive investigations of hospital management by the Finance Commission qualify the members to make this statement.

The question has been asked by some, if it is not consistent with the reputation and purposes of the City Hospital to encourage this idealistic training for nurses which has been the objective of the nursing school executives; also, if the results of this idealistic training will not enhance the reputation of the hospital and the standing of its nurses. To answer this question, it is not necessary to stress — as might be proper — the inability of the city to pay for it; or that it is not within the proper scope of the hospital's activities to develop in the field of nursing a counterpart to the Teachers College in the educational field; or, further, that the nursing profession should not be closed to any girls but the 11 per cent who become college trained.

More Practical Demands.

The scientific value of this idealistic training has already been appraised by the chairman of the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses and the executives of the Board. Their appraisal has been that it will not produce satisfactory nurses. Hence the warning that more emphasis on practical nursing and less on classroom instruction is necessary, if the City Hospital nurses are to be certified by the State Board.

MAYOR FINDS MEANS TO CUT TAX RATE 75 CENTS FOR 1939—UNDISTRIBUTED SUM OF $1,194,300 FROM GASOLINE TAX, NOW MADE AVAILABLE FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE BY LEGISLATION, WILL MAKE PROPOSAL POSSIBLE, MEMBERS OF COUNCIL SO INFORMED IN REPLY TO REQUEST FOR INFORMATION AS TO STATUS—LEGISLATION HAD BEEN SOUGHT BY MAYOR TO ENABLE USE AND APPLICATION.

Upon April 17 Mayor Tobin submitted the following to the City Council:

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I submit herewith a report prepared by the City Auditor in response to an order adopted by your Honorable Body at the first regular meeting of the current month, requesting information concerning the disposition of highway funds received in 1938 from the Commonwealth. I feel it desirable to supplement the report of the auditor with the following statement.

For several years prior to 1938 the state tax was maintained in the vicinity of $10,000,000 by the transfer of varying amounts from the Highway Fund. According to Federal authorities this constituted an improper diversion of gasoline tax receipts, and the state was advised that continuance of the practice would result in a material reduction in Massachusetts' share of Federal aid distributed to the states for highway purposes. In recognition of this advice the transfer procedure was terminated in 1938 and under the provisions of chapter 500 a direct distribution of $5,000,000 was made from the Highway Fund to cities and towns. As might be expected, this distribution resulted in a corresponding increase in the state tax, provision for which must be made by cities and towns in their 1939 tax levies. The effect of this increase on municipal tax rates for the current year could be offset, of course, if the amounts distributed to the cities and towns could be used to meet ordinary highway expenditures and thus remove from 1939 municipal budgets appropriations for highway maintenance. It was discovered, however, that the language used in chapter 500 would not permit such an application of the funds distributed. When this became evident, I decided that Boston's share of the distribution should be held in reserve until legislation could be secured authorizing its use in such a manner as to afford genuine tax-rate relief.

Early this year, in conjunction with other municipal officials, I introduced a petition in the Legislature requesting that legislation be enacted authorizing cities and towns to use any unexpended balance remaining in the fund for ordinary highway expenditures. As a result of this petition chapter 2 of the Acts of 1939 was enacted, authorizing the use of any unexpended balance for the construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways.

As pointed out in the report of the City Auditor, Boston's share of the distribution, namely, $1,194,300, has been preserved intact and, in a separate communication, I am recommending that it be appropriated in accordance with the provisions of chapter 2 of this year's acts. Adoption of this recommendation will afford genuine tax relief to the extent of 75 cents in the tax rate. I feel that this disposition of Boston's share is proper and appropriate.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

BOSTON, April 13, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Under an order adopted by the City Council at a regular meeting on the third day of the current month, information is requested as to the disposition of a check received from the Commonwealth in 1938 as a result of a distribution of receipts from the gasoline tax. The exact amount received by the city in this respect was $1,194,300, and since its receipt it has been held in reserve pending the enactment of legislation authorizing its use for ordinary highway construction and maintenance. This authority is now available under the provisions of chapter 2 of the Acts of 1939.

Respectfully,

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

BOSTON, April 17, 1939.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—Chapter 2 of the Acts of the current year authorizes cities and towns to extend for local highway purposes the funds received by them under the provisions of chapter 500 of the Acts of 1938. The City of Boston, under the provisions of said chapter 500 of the Acts of 1938, received the sum of $1,194,300. None of this sum has been expended and if appropriated as authorized by the provisions of said chapter 2 of the Acts of the current year will be available for expenditure for construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways and the other purposes set forth in said chapter 2.

I respectfully recommend that this sum be appropriated as authorized by and for the purposes set forth in said chapter 2. I submit herewith a form of order appropriating said sum for said use. This order provides for the expenditure of said sum under the direction of the Department of Public Works as follows:

Paving Service:

Personal Service.....	$800,000
Snow Removal.....	369,300
Reconstruction of Streets.....	25,000

In view of the foregoing, budget requirements for these respective items during the current year will be reduced by amounts equal to the sums set forth and, therefore, I further recommend that these items as appearing in my budget recommendations now under consideration by the Committee on Appropriations be reduced by the respective amounts previously indicated.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That as authorized by the provisions of chapter two of the Acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, the sum of one million, one hundred ninety-four thousand three hundred (1,194,300) dollars, being the unexpended balance of funds distributed to the City of Boston under the provisions of chapter five hundred of the Acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, be, and the same hereby is appropriated for construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of roads, streets and highways other than state highways, surface drainage, sidewalks, curbs and bridges, whether such work be ordinary or otherwise, said sum to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works as follows:

Paving Service:

A. Personal Service.....	$800,000
Snow Removal.....	369,300
Reconstruction of Streets.....	25,000

Obviously, if the City Hospital Training School for Nurses is labeled officially as a school that does not produce nurses who will satisfy the requirements of the State Board, great harm will have been done to the reputation of the hospital. If such a dénouement developed, the training school for nurses at the City Hospital would not be in keeping with the high standing of the hospital in the research and medical field.

The Finance Commission stated that the objective of the executives of the nursing school has been to develop a university school of nurse education. There are some colleges now which offer courses in nurse education to their students. Locally, Simmons College is one of them. Yale and Columbia also have nurse education schools. Practice in patient-care is merely incidental in these college courses. In contrast, the primary purpose of the City Hospital being to provide patient-care, the training of nurses there is incidental.

The aim of the university school of nursing, such as is mentioned above, is to train executives for hospitals and for nursing schools, and to some extent to train specialists in nursing fields just as their medical schools train specialists in the practice of medicine. If the hospital schools of nursing are to follow the example set by these university schools of nursing, eventually the situation in nursing will be somewhat similar to that of an army that consists of colonels and generals, but no privates.

Good nursing is a general need at all times. To the person of small means it is as much of a necessity as it is to those of large means. If rates of pay of nurses are within reasonable limits, there is employment in the profession for a great number of young women.

LIMITS OF OPPORTUNITY.

Limitation of the opportunity to become nurses to the college-bred means denial of the opportunity to become nurses to many more than the majority of young women. The result of such limitation will eventually mean a scarcity of nurses, and that only those who can afford to pay the high wages that the limited number can command, like $15 per day, can have professional nursing attention outside a hospital. Those who cannot pay will either flock to the public hospitals, increasing the taxpayers' burden, or will just go without trained nursing care.

The chairman of the State Board of Registration of Nurses, the official authority in this state on nursing standards, has informed the Finance Commission that its report leaned too heavily on the side of fairness when the commission compared the educational requirements of the school of nursing at the City Hospital with the educational ambitions of the National League of Nursing Education. In a signed statement to the Finance Commission the chairman of the State Board has said:

"This National League of Nursing Education is the student curriculum instruction division of the American Nurses Association and represents a group striving for collegiate education for student nurses but, as a group, the National League of Nursing Education has no legal authority in these matters.

"Apparently, the measuring scale given to the Finance Commission . . . is not a legal requirement but a recommended program set forth by the National League of Nursing Education as a start towards collegiate courses for student nurses.

"The scale of hours for the six subjects, mentioned in the report of the Finance Commission, is based on the recommendations of a national group of propagandists for collegiate courses for student nurses and shows a recommended number of hours, ranging from 410 to 450, for six subjects as against a Massachusetts state required 204 hours of instruction in four of these subjects and no requirements whatever in two of them."

It appears from the above statement that the chairman of the State Board believes requirements of the National League of Nursing Education of New York City are higher than are justifiable. You will recall that in the six classroom subjects compared in the commission's report, the City Hospital Training School, strange to say, exceeded the number of hours of classroom instruction recommended by this National League of Nursing Education. Therefore, the Finance Commission deems it proper, for your fuller information, to compare the requirements of the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses in these six subjects with the present requirements of the City Hospital Nursing School:

Massachusetts State Requirements.

Anatomy and Physiology, 60 hours; Bacteriology, 30 hours; Chemistry, 24 hours; Psychology, no hours; Sociology, no hours; Nursing Arts, 90 hours. Total, 204 hours.

Boston City Hospital Requirements.

Anatomy and Physiology, 142 hours; Bacteriology, 52 hours; Chemistry, 91 hours; Psychology, 50 hours; Sociology, 51 hours; Nursing Arts, 106 hours. Total, 492 hours.

Since under Massachusetts statute the City Hospital Training School must meet the requirements of the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses, recommendations of unofficial organizations to the contrary notwithstanding, it seems to the Finance Commission proper that one of the first steps to be taken in straightening out this nursing school difficulty is that the trustees of the hospital should confer with the chairman of the State Board and its executive officers. A detailed discussion of the City Hospital situation in such a conference would reveal what is necessary to bring the City Hospital Training School for Nurses into line with Massachusetts requirements.

The commission believes also that your Honor should participate in this conference, so that you may be fully informed as to the financial cost involved and, with the city's financial condition in mind, determine whether or not, and how far, the curriculum fixed as a minimum by the State Board may and should be enriched. Action is called for.

The trustees have asked for extra provision in the budget to permit the opening of a new maternity ward and another surgical or operating unit. It appears that both are needed, inasmuch as the maternity wards are overcrowded now and the resort to the use of cots in corridors has been necessary. Both these extensions will add to the patient-care requirements. It is imperative, therefore, to come to an early decision as to the future policy of the nursing school.

The commission will consider it particularly unfortunate if determination of the correct policy and execution of it is permitted to be shelved, as have been recommendations in the past for other needed reforms in management at the City Hospital. As stated once before in a Finance Commission report, the high medical and research standing of the hospital has been gained in spite of, not because of, the character of its management.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF DR. DAVID P. HAYES, SCHOOL PHYSICIAN, ON ATTENDANCE AT HEARING BEFORE THE CHILDREN'S BUREAU, DEPARTMENT OF LABOR, WASHINGTON, FEB- RUARY 15 AND 16.

The following is a report of the hearing and conferences by Dr. David P. Hayes, school physician, before the Children's Bureau, Washington, on February 15 and 16.

Hearing was called to discuss certain proposed regulations relating to employment of minors fourteen to sixteen years of age under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938.

Many groups and organizations were registered and the accredited representatives of the following were invited to speak:

A legal representative of the Department of Labor.

National Education Association.

Women's Industrial Union.

American Federation of Labor.

Attorneys representing various newspaper publishers.

National Child Labor Committee.

Department of School Hygiene of Philadelphia.

Certificating Office, Philadelphia.

Boston School Department.

Burroughs Newsboys' Foundation.

Many suggestions were offered, all the way from no regulations whatever to absolute prohibition of any gainful employment by anyone under twenty-one years of age—even to include the selling of newspapers.

The regulations offered by the Industrial Division of the Children's Bureau itself would prohibit employment of minors in manufacturing and mining, in operating or assisting on motor vehicles and in messenger service, and that under other or authorized employments the hours of employment should be outside school hours, not more than three hours on a school day nor eight on a non-school day, and that the hours be between 6 a. m. and 7 p. m.

These regulations could only apply to places of employment doing an interstate business, all other establishments are still subject to state and local regulations only.

For many years past the Boston School Department has been enforcing regulations differing only in a few minor details from those proposed and it was my privilege, as representing the Boston School Department, to advocate their adoption with a few minor reservations.

DAVID P. HAYES, M. D.

MAYOR TOBIN ADDRESSES MASSACHUSETTS RESTAURANT ASSOCIATION—PREDICTS PROSPECT FOR A VERY BUSY SUMMER AND FALL FOR NEW ENGLAND, WITH THOUSANDS OF VISITORS COMING, PRIMARILY, TO VISIT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Mayor Tobin addressed the Massachusetts Restaurant Association, at the opening of its annual business session at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, Tuesday morning, voicing a message of happy anticipation of good business throughout New England during the summer and autumn, due to an overflow of the multitudes attending the New York World's Fair.

The Mayor remarked that he could think of no other period in the last dozen years which had offered greater promise of a busy season than the present period. He spoke of the millions of persons from all parts of the country who will visit New York and perhaps spend the remainder of their vacation touring New England. Certainly, every effort on the part of business interests in New England had been directed toward obtaining this additional business. The Mayor's remarks, in part, were as follows:

You all know that the real foundation for New England's allurements to outsiders has been laid by the New England Council. Twelve years ago the six New England Governors sent a challenge to the business men of New England. Could they create a permanent agency of cooperation for the solution of economic problems common to the six states? Today, the New England Council is called "the most conspicuous and the most successful example of regional cooperation in the United States."

With a large sum of money at its disposal every year for advertising, the New England Council has done wonders in promoting the industrial, commercial, recreational and agricultural interests of the six states. And nothing that has been accomplished looms larger in our eyes than that having to do with the advertising of New England's recreational advantages.

It is true to say that New England's appeal has gone to the remotest corners of the globe most alluringly. That appeal having, by its very persistence, entered into the longings of so many thousands of homes leads us to think that what we are doing now in specialized advertising to attract the New York World's Fair visitors will have a most interesting effect.

We are told that approximately 3,000,000 persons visit New England annually and that their expenditures amount to $500,000,000 annually. Also, that New England property used solely for recreational purposes is assessed at $550,000,000, on which taxes of $15,000,000 a year are paid. That certainly is a picture which we should all desire to cherish. It is a picture that needs the close attention of all of us year after year, for in these days of keen competition for business every section of the country must be constantly alert to obtain its fair share of business from the outside.

What benefits New England in new business benefits you restaurant and hotel men, the purveyors, the transportation agencies, the theaters, small tradesmen and real estate generally. No matter how ardent we may attempt to be in the resort to superlatives, we cannot exaggerate the advantages which we possess in this section of the United States. And, in the same breath, we cannot ignore the importance of maintaining our advantages at the highest possible level. We must insist upon the best in roads for the accommodation of the travelling public, the best service and food in hotels and restaurants, and high standards in all lines of public and private service. We must give to the world a constant reminder of old-time New England hospitality.

And I am sure that service and hospitality are watchwords which Massachusetts keeps in mind as it entertains the travelers who come here for vacation or convention purposes. We are firmly grounded in the belief that we should extend ourselves in every possible way to secure conventions. The coming summer will see more conventions in Boston than for years, and next year there is a convention list in which we should all take the greatest pride.

In inviting conventions to come to Massachusetts, or Boston, we are happy to cite among the advantages we possess, outstanding hotels and restaurants. I know of no more progressive groups among our business people than those who own or operate the hotels and restaurants. The Fifteenth Annual New England Hotel Exposition, which opens at the Hotel Statler on Wednesday, is a positive reminder of the type of enterprise which we must encourage for New England's greatest appeal. Fortunate it is that this exposition is being held at a time when everybody is so optimistic about a distinct upward trend in business.

I was astonished to learn that more than 4,000,000 persons are employed in restaurants and hotels of the country and that in Massachusetts alone there are more than 11,000 restaurants. Good luck to you all, and may all of our ardent expectations for business be bountifully realized.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 327.

Patrolmen Francis R. Sullivan and Michael E. O'Connell both attached to Division 9, are commended for efficient police duty performed in connection with the arrest of three boys whom they observed standing in a doorway, who confessed to breaking into a store earlier in the night and stealing a quantity of cigarettes and candy. Upon further investigation, the boys confessed to a series of house breaks in Dorchester and Mattapan during the past several months.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend these officers for their keen observation and devotion to duty, shown in accomplishing these important arrests.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 328.

In view of the increased number of cars on the roads in the spring, officers will pay particular attention to the safety of such children who at this season of the year make greater use of the streets as play yards, for roller skating and bicycle riding.

In keeping with Registrar Frank A. Goodwin's commendable efforts to reduce to a minimum the dangers to pedestrians and motorists from speeding automobiles, officers are urged to enforce the 25-mile speed limit passing through congested areas and the 45-mile limit on wet streets.

Officers detailed to "speed traps" for the purpose of apprehending speedsters will perform such duties openly and in plain view of motorists and will not in any way secrete themselves behind obstructions, trees, etc., as has been the practice in the past in some instances.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 329.

Lieut. Wilfred D. Mulligan, Sergts. John F. Dunleavy and Francis J. Hennessey and Patrolmen Frederick G. Kahler, Edward C. Noonan, Leo R. Lombard, Thomas F. Meagher, Hugh F. Ahern and Walter Tyldesley, all attached to Division 2, are commended for efficient police duty performed in connection with the arrest of five men and two women who were involved in an assault and robbery of a man in Custom House street in the early morning of January 4, 1939.

The commissioner is gratified to recognize and commend these officers for their diligence, perseverance and devotion to duty shown in performing this splendid police duty which reflects credit on them and the department as a whole.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TIMILTY,
Police Commissioner.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 27, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your approval is respectfully requested to award the lease of the refreshment concession in the George Wright Golf Course Club House, West street, Hyde Park, to James P. Hoar, 1662 Columbia road, South Boston, for a term of one year, from April 1, 1939, to March 31, 1940, for the sum of $600 per year.

Mr. Hoar at the present time is conducting the Castle Island concession of this department in South Boston, and he is maintaining it in a better and more efficient manner than any of his predecessors. He is also at the present time operating lunch rooms in two of the largest schools in Boston, to the satisfaction of the School Department, and he is recognized as a leader in this particular field, with a reputation of serving high-grade products and satisfactory service.

The George Wright Golf Course is recognized as one of the finest municipal golf courses in the country, and it is our desire to attract only the highest type individuals to membership in this club. To do this we must have a man of experience handling the refreshment and food concession.

If this concession is operated satisfactorily, as we feel it will be under Mr. Hoar's direction, the city will be able to get an increased rental at the expiration of this one-year lease.

In view of the splendid reputation of Mr. Hoar, his qualifications and his experience and his ability to pay the rental when due, the Board of Park Commissioners requests that for the best interests of the City of Boston this concession be awarded to Mr. Hoar without advertising.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

BOSTON, April 10, 1939.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your approval is respectfully requested to award the lease of the refreshment concession at World War Memorial Park, East Boston, to Charles H. Gallison, 197 Trenton street, East Boston, for a term of two years from May 1, 1939, for the sum of $125 a year.

This is the same rental we have been getting for this concession for some years back, and, under the terms of this lease, Mr. Gallison is to build his own booth, which must be satisfactory to this department, and furnish all his own equipment for the maintenance of same. Mr. Gallison has had considerable experience as a cook and manager of a lunch room and refreshment concessions of the same type as are operated at the beaches of this department.

In view of his experience and his ability, and the fact that we are to obtain the same rental as the city has received heretofore, the Board of Park Commissioners request that for the best interests of the City of Boston this concession be awarded to Charles H. Gallison without advertising.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

MAYOR TOBIN, IN PATRIOTS' DAY ADDRESS AT NORTH SQUARE, WARNS UNITED STATES TO KEEP AWAY FROM EUROPE—SAYS AMERICANS ARE FIRMLY DETERMINED NOT TO SHARE MAN-POWER IN ANOTHER EUROPEAN CATASTROPHE—DELIVERS ADDRESS AS HE SPEEDS MODERN "PAUL REVERE" ON FAMOUS RIDE TO INITIATE APRIL 19TH EXERCISES.

In his address at North square, on April 19, Mayor Tobin said, in part:

Today, in Europe, the whole continent is reeling with the shock and clash of hostile interests among the nations of the Old World. There is imminent risk of war more deadly than man has ever known—a war which may bring European civilization far down the road toward destruction.

That awful risk the United States deplores, but cannot prevent. Moreover, if the aggressor nations do reject all counsels of peace, and if open hostilities occur in Europe, the American people are now firmly determined to avoid participation. Twenty-two years ago this nation sent two million of its worthiest sons to face battle overseas. It won the war, but to no avail. The basic troubles and discussions have been proved to stand beyond any American power to cure or correct.

Now, as in the time of Paul Revere, the American people are straining their gaze to discover whether they do indeed see again, shining through the war clouds, the signal lanterns hung in the steeple of the Old North Church as they were seen 164 years ago. I mean today's lanterns of warning that there is a positive movement under way which, if left unchecked, will seriously diminish or impair America's power of self-defense.

If that signal of danger should ever be clearly seen, the American nation will rise in determined force and might to put it down. Until then, we will stand our ground and keep our powder dry.

But as the nation awaits for guidance, surely it should not delay preparedness. The United States Navy should be further strengthened. The air forces should be raised to fullest efficiency. The Army should be given every advantage of men and equipment which is advised by able experts.

Only by such preparedness will the United States be able to strike with its full power for the protection of vital interests, if ever our people do see the signal lights shining once more in the Old North Church.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 49 of the Acts of 1933, as most recently amended by chapter 57 of the Acts of 1938, the City Treasurer be authorized to obtain the approval of the Emergency Finance Board to the issuance of $2,000,000 in notes, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city, said notes, bonds or certificates to be sold at their face value to the Commonwealth and the proceeds be, and hereby are, appropriated for the purpose of meeting outstanding revenue loans.

On March 20, 1939, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 17, nays 0.

HOSPITALITY TO PRESIDENT DE VALERA.

President MURRAY offered the following:

Whereas, On May 14, 1939, the City of Boston will welcome as its distinguished guest, Eamon De Valera, past President of the Irish Free State, and present Prime Minister of the new republic of Eire; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston, in meeting assembled, expresses its pride and pleasure in the opportunity to welcome to Boston, the home and birthplace of American liberty and freedom, the official representative of the Irish people, the able, scholarly and distinguished Eamon De Valera, whose long and ceaseless fight for freedom of the Irish people finds sympathetic and admiring response in the hearts of all liberty-loving Americans; whose career is replete with deeds of courage and daring; whose life is a story of martyrdom, sacrifice and struggle in the face of tremendous obstacles; and whose high intelligence, unswerving devotion and determination, unafraid and unclouded vision, inspired and fearless statesmanship, has resulted and been rewarded in the creation and establishment of the new republic of Eire, an accomplishment which has been the dream, the hope, and the prayer of men of Irish blood for many centuries; therefore be it further

Resolved, That the Mayor of Boston and the City Council of the City of Boston, representative of all the people of Boston, hereby extends to Eamon De Valera, and through him to all the people of the republic of Eire, the high esteem and unbounded affection of the citizens of Boston; and to wish for Eamon De Valera, and all the people of the republic of Eire, the help and guidance of Divine Providence for a glorious and happier future.

The resolutions were passed.

INFORMATION RE PERSONNEL OF POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with the following information concerning members of the Police Department, covering the period from January 1, 1938, to January 1, 1939: The number of members who died; the number who resigned; the number who were pensioned or retired; the number who were discharged; and the total number of vacancies caused by these reasons or other reasons, if any.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESTRICTIONS AT REAR OF BACK BAY HOUSES.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Planning Board, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to advise the City Council as to the present requirements regarding light, air and setback in the rear of the houses in the area bounded by Arlington street, Boylston street, Massachusetts avenue and Beacon street, and what changes, if any, the department can suggest to prevent injury to adjoining and neighboring properties caused by the building over of back yards to or close to the line of the alleys.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, when the Back Bay was originally built, the houses were set back and there was a provision for back yards, following practically a uniform line. In recent years apartment houses have been put up that have been built to the alley, and former single dwelling houses have been altered and built to the alley. The result has been great damage in many cases to the adjoining and nearby houses. For example, if you have two buildings going to the alley and one in between, the chance for light and air to the one in between has been practically destroyed. The purpose of the order is to find out what the present requirements in the matter of light, air and setback at the rear of these houses are, and what can be done to prevent damage to houses not so extended by the extension of adjoining houses to the alley.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF LEE STREET, WARD 11.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out as a public highway, Lee street, Ward 11.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PRISON INDUSTRY FUND APPROPRIATION.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of appropriating five thousand (5,000) dollars for the Prison Industry Fund, to enable the industries now established to operate on full time.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, undoubtedly most of the members of the City Council have read recently in the newspapers Commissioner Lyman's attack on Deer Island. I think probably the members of the Committee on Prisons were particularly surprised at that attack in view of their recent visit to the island and their majority report upon conditions existing there. Certainly, in view of that visit and investigation of conditions, the newspaper statement by Commissioner Lyman was astonishing. With the exception of the need of more and better buildings on the island, there was not one iota of truth in the commissioner's report. There is no question of doubt that conditions at Deer Island can be improved, but it would require the expenditure of many million dollars, an expenditure, as Commissioner Lyman knows, that the City of Boston is in no condition financially to make at the present time. It occurs to me, remembering the old maxim, that the commissioner is a great believer in the idea that the best defense is a good offense. I don't know whether Commissioner Lyman is fearful of the barrage now taking place at the State House, fearing that his job may be jeopardized and taking the initiative in making this attack, having in mind its possible effect on the Governor, perhaps making him believe that the commissioner is doing a noble work in the position he now holds. The Committee on Prisons inspected conditions down there, and found no such conditions as Commissioner Lyman has stated. Things were in as good condition as could be expected under the circumstances. I personally spoke to a number of inmates and none of them complained of their treatment. The only trouble was that the industries were not working as they did in the old times, and that was because there was not money enough to provide materials to run the factory on full time. In my opinion, Major Mulcahy is the finest man we could have for that position, and there has never been trouble since he has been at the head of the prison. I cannot, therefore, understand why Mr. Lyman made the report he did. To my mind, if the Mayor of Boston will grant $5,000 to the Prison Industries Fund, there will be no trouble at the island. The important thing is to appropriate sufficient money to enable the industries now established to operate on full time. There is one other thing that I think we should draw to the attention of the Massachusetts Legislature. Unless the State of Massachusetts helps to relieve the burden of the City of Boston and Suffolk County, we will continue to have inadequate buildings and corresponding trouble at Deer Island. The City of Boston has not the money. The state gets its money from the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth, and the different cities and towns send to this prison many of their citizens and inhabitants. Therefore, it is up to the Legislature of Massachusetts to do something constructive, even if it means taking over the entire responsibility.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I do not believe that furnishing $5,000 additional to the industries at Deer Island will at present solve the problem there. It seems to me, as I have observed and studied the situation as it presented itself to the Committee on Prisons, that the management of the industries has been inefficient, that they were not able to tell what they were doing, or what it cost. It was clear, after a long examination, that their overhead was too large, that they had too many so-called instructors for the amount of business they have been doing for a long period of time. The whole management, I think, needs to be revamped before we can hope that the present industries can be run without constantly requiring replenishment of the capital with which they were started several years ago, and which has been dissipated to such an extent that the industries have been running at a loss. They claim that that is so because business has fallen off. The figures indicated, however, that the business had not fallen off materially, but that there was inefficiency in management. Therefore, I feel that management is what they need more than capital.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, some months ago the Council, I being among the minority, voted $20,000 for a pioneer chicken farm at Deer Island, not particularly to give attention to the chickens but supposedly to keep the idle men among the prisoners busy, furnishing them with an industry that might be of advantage to them. I voted against that waste of the city's money, of course. It seems to me now that the proposition to follow up that $20,000 with $5,000 more, for the alleged purpose of providing employment for prisoners at Deer Island, should be defeated. In these days of unemployment, if we have extra money to spend, with all due respect to the prisoners at Deer Island, it seems to me our first duty is to the tax-paying public and to try to keep the men who are out of prison at work.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

SIDEWALK ON ELMONT STREET, WARD 14.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a sidewalk along Elmont street, Ward 14, as a W. P. A. project.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESIDENCE WITHIN CITY OF ALL TEACHERS.

Coun. HUTCHINSON and SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of requesting all nonresident teachers in the Boston public schools to become residents of Boston prior to the start of the next school year, and registered voters of Boston within a year.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I believe Boston people should have jobs in Boston in preference to people living outside of the city. Those people who are working for Boston in the School Department of the city should live in the city. They should help to bear the burden that is being borne by the taxpayers of the City of Boston. They are getting their bread and butter from this city and certainly should help the city.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I am impelled to go along with Councilor Hutchinson on this matter at this time by reason of the actions taken by the mayors of several cities, notably Woburn, enforcing a ruling whereby only residents of those cities would teach in their schools. This, I think, should cause Boston to adopt a similar measure as a defensive complex. A search of the last pay roll book brings out the startling fact that in 1937 in the Boston high schools alone $1,238,102 was expended to pay the salaries of 348 teachers living outside of Boston. These teachers were divided among sixty-three of the 359 cities and towns of the state. Dorchester High School for Girls had twenty-nine nonresident teachers on the staff, and Dorchester High School for Boys had the same number. Twenty-five nonresident teachers taught in East Boston High School, and eleven teaching at Charlestown High were from outside of the city. A similar number were on the pay roll at Girls' Latin. Out of seventy teachers at the Brighton High School, nineteen came from outside of Boston, and four counties were represented in the teaching staff of that high school. Forty-three out of 105 teachers at the English High School, receiving an annual aggregate salary of $165,782, were nonresidents of Boston. At Girls' High, twenty-one teachers, receiving a gross salary of $72,768, represented four other counties. Ten teachers at the High School of Commerce and nine at the High School of Practical Arts were likewise nonresidents, while at Mechanic Arts High School thirty-eight teachers listed on the pay roll as receiving $150,336, failed to make Boston their home. It is interesting to note that in that year five parties, paying taxes or rentals in Woburn, drew an aggregate salary in excess of $16,000 from the City of Boston schools. Newton took the medal with thirty-four nonresidents, and Duxbury won the distance prize with two residents of that town on the Boston school pay roll. I think it must be said in tribute to the present members of the Boston School Committee and with respect to the men who have served in that body for the past ten years, that the pay roll book reveals few, if any, additions to the Boston school system from outlying towns during that period. It was remarkable to learn that one gentleman, living in Duxbury for the past thirty-two years, was drawing $4,464 as a Master at the Brighton High School. It will be noted that this includes only those teaching in the Boston high schools. A passing glance reveals that at least a similar amount would be expended among teachers in the primary and grammar grades. Salaries for nonresidents of Boston in the high schools amounts to eighty cents on the Boston tax rate, and for all grades combined, about $1.60 per thousand of the $45 tax rate will be expended to keep nonresidents of Boston at work. In view of the fact that Commissioner Reilly, upon his incumbency in office as Fire Commissioner, placed a similar ruling in effect in that Department with notable results, I feel that the School Committee might well do the same. I believe that the School Committee would be fully within its rights to demand that prior to the next school year all teachers living outside of Boston move into the city, or forfeit their positions in the Boston school system. Here are some statistics, giving the salaries of nonresident teachers in different parts of our city:

District.	Amount of Salaries.	Number of Teachers.
Charlestown.....	$41,136	11
Brighton.....	69,908	19
Commerce.....	38,880	10
English.....	165,782	43

And this will give an idea of where some of these nonresident teachers are living:

I certainly trust that the order will pass. Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I think the order offered by Councilor Hutchinson and Councilor Sullivan is a very excellent one. We know what has been done by many of our departments in bringing into town those who are working for and are paid by the departments. Mr. Reilly, of the Fire Department, has done a very excellent job in bringing in the firemen; Police Commissioner Timilty, I understand, has taken care of his department in that respect. I think it might be well for us to send such an order as that now offered by Councilor Hutchinson and Councilor Sullivan to the trustees of the Public Library and the trustees of the City Hospital, asking them to do likewise. It is about time that we had some concerted action in a matter of this kind, and I think putting pressure behind it will bring the thing to a real head, and that we will then get somewhere.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DISTRIBUTION OF BUTTER TO WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to contact the proper W. P. A. officials in Washington in an effort to have butter, which was on the commodity list up to last August, distributed to W. P. A. workers and welfare recipients in Boston who have commodity cards.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, my reason for introducing this order is to bring the matter to the attention of the proper W. P. A. officials in Washington so that butter, which was on the commodity list up to last August, may be distributed to W. P. A. workers in Boston. I understand that there has been such distribution all over the Commonwealth but that W. P. A. workers here in our city have not recently been considered. I hope that the Mayor will get in touch with the officials at Washington and that something will be done along this line.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING SHERWOOD STREET, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving, Sherwood street, Ward 19, under the W. P. A. type of construction. Passed under suspension of the rule.

NUISANCE AT SODEN'S FIELD, ROSLINDALE.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor direct the proper authorities to take immediate steps to abolish the present nuisance in the form of collected water which now exists at Soden's Field in Roslindale. Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. LANGAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

Report on petition of Neil P. Coyle (referred March 6) to be reimbursed for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator of motor vehicle belonging to Sanitary Division, Public Works Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of twelve hundred dollars ($1,200) be allowed and paid to Neil P. Coyle in reimbursement for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Sanitary Division, Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report accepted; order passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Joseph F. Ezrin (referred today) for driveway opening at 363-371 Tremont street—that leave be granted.

Report accepted; permit granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on petition (referred October 24, 1938) of William J. Maher for driveway opening at 1800 Centre street, Ward 20.

Report accepted; said permit granted under usual conditions.

3. Report on message of Mayor and ordinance (referred January 9) recommending new scale of fees for sealing of weights and measures—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said ordinance passed.

4. Report on ordinance (referred December 29, 1938) concerning sale of cigarettes, cigars, etc., by vending machines—recommending passage of ordinance in accompanying new draft, viz.:

An Ordinance Concerning the Sale of Cigarettes or Tobacco by Vending Machines.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. No person shall vend or sell cigarettes, cigars or tobacco by the use of automatic vending machines or locate, install, keep, maintain or use, or permit the location, installation, keeping, maintenance or use upon his premises of any vending machine, automatic vending machine, or coin controlled, or coin operating machine, or other mechanical device used or engaged to be used for the sale or distribution of cigarettes, cigars or other tobacco products by such method until said person has obtained a license therefor from the Police Commissioner.

Section 2. Such licenses shall be for the term of one year from the date of issue, and the license fee shall be twenty-five dollars ($25) for each vending machine, automatic vending machine or coin controlled, or coin operating machine or other mechanical device used or engaged to be used for the sale or distribution of cigars, cigarettes, or other tobacco products by such method, and shall be granted subject to such rules and regulations as may be imposed by the Police Commissioner, and violation thereof shall be cause for immediate revocation.

Section 3. Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction, be subject to a penalty not exceeding twenty dollars for each offense.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I did not quite understand the wording of the ordinance, did not get the gist of it, and would like the chairman of the committee to explain its intent.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, in answer to the question of the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) and in order to clarify the matter, let me say that the ordinance as reported by the committee would have this effect, so far as the use of cigarette or tobacco vending machines throughout the city is concerned. The idea is that there shall be a license fee of $25 on each and every machine.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the committee to explain to the Council why we should tax them $25? I feel that at the present time people are being taxed to death. The action of the Council a few months ago in raising fees all along the line has met with very severe protests from many of the small business men in this city, and many are now asking that such action be repealed. Instead, we are now proposing to tax these cigarette vending machines $25.

Coun. TAYLOR—That is not correct. This is a license fee and not a tax. We have not the power to tax.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I desire that when the vote is taken on this matter, it be taken by yeas and nays.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, as the original proponent of such an increase in the license fees on cigarette and tobacco vending machines in the City of Boston, I want to finally disillusion the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) of the idea that this is a tax. It is not a tax, it is a license fee. I might say that I believe last year there were at least 1,500 of these cigarette vending machines in the city that were not taxed, upon which not even a personal property tax was paid. I also have in mind the fact that in the city of Chicago three or four years ago there was a license fee of $50 for each of these machines, and that last year they were prohibited altogether. So it would seem that this is certainly a reasonable license fee. On the question of imposing a license fee, the argument can also be used that these machines automatically put men out of employment, that they are in direct competition with tobacco stores. The Law Department, in advising the Committee on Ordinances, stated that they felt that such a license fee as is here proposed was in no way beyond the power of the City Council, and upon being asked whether or not they felt that the proposed license fee, which is but one half of what the fee that was imposed in the city of Chicago several years ago, was an unfair license fee, the Law Department stated to the Committee on Ordinances that they did not feel that such a fee was so excessive as to be considered a tax or that even the $50 charge imposed in the city of Chicago was so excessive as to be considered a tax. However, we wanted to be fair in the matter and simply proposed here a license fee of $25, instead of the $50 that was imposed in the city of Chicago before these machines were prohibited there. As I say, we simply wanted to be fair in the matter, and to fix a figure that would not be construed by the court as a tax, and yet that would repay the City of Boston for the services rendered by certain departments of the city. Assuming for the sake of argument that the proposed ordinance is passed, it is my intention to offer to the Council an ordinance containing rules and regulations to be established for the cigarette and tobacco vending machines, which shall be under the inspection of the Board of Health and under the reasonable supervision of the Police Department, besides being tested annually and as to mechanical operation by the Sealer of Weights and Measures of the city. Rumors have reached members of the committee to the effect—rumors which, of course, are to be discounted—to the effect that a member of the family or a friend of the present Mayor, who has some connection with these cigarette vending machines, is prepared to see to it that the ordinance is vetoed. I will state, however, realizing that the Mayor is such an outstanding executive and that he desires the city to be as self-supporting as possible, and realizing that he wants the various city departments, so far as possible, to be able to support themselves, that I am very sure the Mayor will be uninfluenced by any outside interests and that he will, of course, give this ordinance careful consideration. The regulating ordinance which I desire to submit would require, among other things, that the licensing authority, or the Sealer of Weights and Measures, shall issue a metal plate to the applicant which shall be fastened or exposed in a conspicuous place on each machine so licensed before such machine may be used or operated. Such plates shall specify the year of the current license, the name and address of the owner, the name and address of the licensee, the address of the location where such machine is licensed to be operated, and a statement that such machine is not to be operated by any minor. The only place on most of these cigarette vending machines where such a plate could be put is a small inconspicuous place, so some arrangement would have to be made whereby the plate would be exposed in a conspicuous place before the machine could be used or operated. Of course, it can be readily seen that if there is access to these machines by minors—for instance, in the ordinary garage, gasoline station or hotel lobby—without proper supervision, any minor in the City of Boston could easily obtain cigarettes and tobacco products. The committee therefore had in mind, in order that there might be proper supervision and regulation, certain work to be done by various city departments, first, that before such machine is licensed, it shall annually be tested as to its mechanical operation by the Sealer of Weights and Measures of the City of Boston, who shall certify to the licensing authority that the machine is in proper working order; second, "the Board of Health, at intervals, shall inspect such machines and if, on such inspection, the merchandise in such machines is found not to be reasonably fresh and merchantable, or if the machine or merchandise is certified by the Board of Health not to be in sanitary condition, then the license shall be at once revoked"; and, third, "it shall be the duty of the Police Department to keep such machines under reasonable supervision and to diligently and promptly institute prosecution in any and all cases where any such machine is operated by a minor."

As a member of the bar I realize, of course, that those who do not wish a license fee placed on the machines—and nobody likes to pay out money even when it should be paid—conceivably might attack the validity of the ordinance. In my opinion, the ordinance, as the Law Department stated, is absolutely valid provided the fee is not so large as to really be a tax. It should be a fee that can be substantiated or supported by the amount of service required to be rendered by the city departments; and in that connection I have in mind that when the regulations are adopted the Sealer of Weights and Measures must certify that the machine is in good working order, that the Board of Health must see that it is in sanitary and proper condition and that the Police Department will be supposed to exercise reasonable supervision so that the ordinance against minors buying tobacco shall not be violated. Of course, when an ordinance like this is attacked in any court it must appear that the amount charged for the license fee—in this case, $25—is not in any way disproportionate or unfair. From the point of view of revenue it should be a considerable help to the city. Some months ago we increased the license fees on a number of businesses and activities, always bearing in mind that when we seek to increase the revenue of the city in this way, fees must not be placed at a point where they are not warranted by the necessary supervision and activities of our departments in connection therewith. Bearing in mind that there are in the city 1,500 of such vending machines, and perhaps more—my arithmetic is always bad, and so you can compute the amount for yourselves—it seems to me that, while the amount to be obtained may seem a small item to some, it should appeal to the Mayor as at least an attempt to obtain some much needed revenue to meet our city expenditures. And, of course, we all bear in mind that there should be a fine for the selling of tobacco products to minors anywhere in the City of Boston. Under the present status of the matter without proper signs on these machines and without supervision, that ordinance is being violated every day.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, of course all the members of the Boston City Council, as well as the Mayor, are interested in securing as much revenue for the city as possible. I am not speaking in the interest of vending machines or of anyone interested in any such proposition, but what I am particularly concerned with is the question of putting through an ordinance here that may be decided to be contrary to the principles applicable to license fees. We might be putting through an ordinance here that would be returned to us, on the ground that it was really a tax. When we are told about the situation in Chicago, as I understand it, the tax question and other questions that might enter into an ordinance of this kind in that city are on such a different basis that no parallel with Massachusetts could be drawn. I believe the $50 fee imposed in Chicago was really a tax, and not a license fee, and we have been told that when it went into effect in Chicago the vending machines got into the hands of a racketeer group and that the use of the machines there was finally prohibited. It may be that there is danger of the same thing here. If you want to charge a license fee on vending machines you should be sure to impose a fee that will be sustained by a test in court, as a fee and not a tax. We have heard the statement about the supervision that is provided here over the vending machines. If this goes through I don't believe we will find any more supervision than now obtains. We are not going to increase the number of police officers of the city or the inspection forces of the different departments. It sounds well on paper to say that this is to be under the supervision and regulation of the Sealer of Weights and Measures, the Health Department and the Police Department. But I think there is a serious question whether the supervision and regulation will be improved by the passage of such an ordinance. Therefore, I say, if we are to have a license fee it should be one that is reasonable and one that is not really a tax, one that will not be carried to the courts on the ground that it is a tax. I am in favor of every small business man being given a chance to make a decent living, but if we are going to put a tax on certain machines and certain activities we must seriously consider the question of whether we may not be driving them out. We don't want to drive industry out of Boston; we do not want to tax the small business man or the small industry to an extent that will impose a serious hardship. If there is a proper personal property tax and a small license fee that would stand the tax I would favor it. I therefore believe the ordinance should be amended by making the amount $5 instead of $25, thereby enacting an ordinance that will undoubtedly stand the test. Then if we find at the end of the year that there are 1,500 or more of these machines in Boston, that they remain here, we may be able to use our own judgment in the matter of imposing a larger license fee. I would move, therefore, that the ordinance be amended by making the license fee $5 for such vending machines.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I also appreciate the fact that the city has to have more revenue, but, as the previous speaker has said, we do not want to impose a license fee that will drive people out of business and deprive men of employment. I happen to represent this downtown section of Boston, where a very large proportion of such machines as are aimed at here are located. I walked down Green street the other afternoon and a man called me in and pointed out what the effect of such a license fee as is proposed for these vending machines would be. He stated that it would reduce the number of people working in his place and that it would have the same effect on a number of such concerns all over the city. He stated that when it was claimed that those who would be injured come from outside of the state, that is not so, that the action here proposed will seriously affect many small business men in our community, particularly in the downtown section.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Coun. FITZGERALD—When I get through. This taxation question is getting to be a very serious one in this city. I have heard a good deal of complaint from the lodging houses, who have been considerably stirred up recently by the statement from the assessors that they may be further taxed on their personal property. Many of them had hard work getting by last year, and a number of them have gone under in the past few years. There has been too much of this taxing of people who were defenseless and could not speak for themselves. The door has been opened of recent years, so that now nobody is escaping taxation, and it is becoming a very serious burden to many people in our city. These vending machines are in barber shops and other such places, enabling them to make a little money to eke out their income, and now it is proposed to tax them in a way that will probably drive them out of business. Who is the blame to be placed on? Not the Board of Assessors, but those who have opened the door, with the result that propositions of this sort are now being advanced from day to day. I warn you gentlemen now not to rush into this matter. It is something that should be postponed. There are a lot of people who are going to be affected by it. But when it comes to putting such plans into action some people cannot see beyond their noses, and rush into these things without proper consideration. The members of the Council should think before voting for such measures. There are plenty of things to think about without striking at the poor and defenseless. These machines offer a chance to some poor fellows who may be out of a job to make a little money or it may enable them to increase their very small income. It might well be that even some members of the Council later on might welcome an opportunity of this kind, at some time in their lives. How many young fellows of seventeen or eighteen, or even older men, are working in small factories or stores, where they do not make very much, and this enables them to make a little additional income and to keep off welfare, so that they will not become objects of public charity. The profit in almost every line today is very small, and you are now trying to drive these people to the wall. I say it is not fair and that you should not do it. The other day I walked down Chambers street and I found a place where three men had to be let go, without any notice. We all know what people are obliged to put up with today, and so I say, "Don't rush this thing." If so, you will pay for it. When these things are brought home to the ones who are responsible, the people will be told that the City Council passed it. This sort of thing should stop, and I sincerely hope that this ordinance will be defeated in the Council today.

Coun. WILSON—I suppose the councilor is now willing to answer questions?

Coun. FITZGERALD—It all depends on what they are. (Laughter.)

Coun. WILSON—Is the gentleman aware of the fact that there are probably not more than ten or twelve operators of these machines in the City of Boston, and that they are people who own 200, 300 or 400?

Coun. FITZGERALD—I only know what these men informed me, and I understand that they are selling directly through these machines. I have talked with a number of them through the downtown section here, largely my ward, and I understand that all these little fellows are directly interested. They are practically all operating within the confines of Ward 3. The action here proposed will directly affect a large number of these small business men in their pockets. They are the ones who are interested.

Coun. WILSON—I would like to ask the gentleman another question. Does the gentleman feel that if a man can't buy some cigarettes through a machine he will stop smoking, or that he will go into a tobacco store and buy his cigarettes? Does he think that the cigarette smoking habit will stop by the putting out of commission of these machines?

Coun. FITZGERALD—I don't know about that.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, it seems to me that we must stop adding to all these activities of our city government. This is a new activity that is being proposed. It will naturally follow that there will be inspections and that a lot of additional records will have to be kept. This tax on the machines will mean inspections and more inspections, and more activities. I am against it.

On motion of Coun. KERRIGAN the ordinance was referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Coun. CHASE—No, Mr. President.

Coun. SULLIVAN—No.

President MURRAY—The Chair hears objection.

DEER ISLAND CHARGES.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Prison Committee of the Boston City Council investigate the charges made by Commissioner Lyman about Deer Island Prison.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, speaking as chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, I think it is only fair and proper for this body to investigate the charges made by Commissioner Lyman. I have in mind the fact that a few months ago the Committee on Prisons investigated the Deer Island situation; but apparently Commissioner Lyman has made some sort of investigation since. Inasmuch as this body has the responsibility of appropriating money to maintain Deer Island, it seems hardly right that we should let these charges go without investigation. So I hope the Body will pass this order.

The order was referred to the Committee on Inspection of Prisons.

ANALYSIS OF POLICE PERSONNEL, ETC.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to bring up to date the analysis of police personnel, equipment and assignments given on page 820 of the City Record of 1935, including the status of the Police Department on January 1, 1939.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLOSING OF PUBLIC DUMPS, WARD 18.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of ordering the public dumps now located close to residential areas in Ward 18 to be immediately closed, before summer weather sets in.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have been very much concerned about this matter for some time, and have put it up to the Mayor of Boston, and the Mayor, having the seriousness of this matter brought to his attention, made an appointment for this morning to receive about 100 people from that dump section, with a view to looking into and probably remedying the nuisance there. I don't know how many members of the Council have been out there and have been in a position to realize the situation in the summer months, when the dumps make houses in their neighborhood absolutely unlivable. I understand that the Mayor was to go out there today with the Public Works Commissioner and the Health Commissioner, and arrive at an intelligent understanding of the situation, and how it affects residents in those places. I think the position of the Mayor on this and other matters is exemplary, to say the least. I sat here and listened awhile ago to a statement made by a member, to the effect that it had been said that a member of the Mayor's family was going to interfere with action that might be taken by the Mayor in regard to the so-called slot machine ordinance. My experience with our present Mayor—and I have had experience for many years with different Mayors, as a member of this Body—is that he has always been governed solely by what he considered the best interests of the citizens of Boston. I feel, in fact, that he has been giving the best administration this city has had since the days of the Honorable P. A. Collins; and I say to the councilor who made the statement I have referred to in regard to a friend or member of the Mayor's family influencing the Mayor's judgment on the slot machine business, that, in my opinion, no man will be able to do that. I know what the Mayor of Boston could have had had he adopted a different attitude on one of the matters that has come before him for action, in regard to dog tracks out in the Readville section. But he went into the homes out there, studied the situation, and pointed out the effect that the proposed action might have on youths and others in that neighborhood. I am the representative of those people, and I know how they felt on that and on other matters, and I know that when the Mayor realized how they felt he acted accordingly. Many of the people are not in a position where they can talk for themselves, but the Mayor made it very clear that, as long as he knew how they felt, there was no necessity for their going further. So I know that nobody is going to influence him against his best judgment in the matter of the cigarette machines or on other matters that may come before him. I think, therefore, councilor, that you have not a single thing to worry about in that respect any more than in other matters that might injuriously affect the citizens of this city, so far as the Mayor is concerned. No friend of the Mayor or member of his family is going to influence his action. My experience with the Mayor shows me clearly that nothing except what he thinks is for the best interests of the citizens will dictate his action on any matter that comes before him. I am glad to say that. I have had a good deal of experience with different mayors of Boston for some years, and there are some of them with whom I have battled on occasion. If I did not think any Mayor was right, I have battled him, but I am greatly encouraged to see the service that he, a member of the on-coming generation, is giving to his native city. If there is any honorable, upright man, of the highest integrity, in our city, it is Maurice Tobin.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

UNEMPLOYMENT OF THOSE OVER FORTY.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That Mayor Tobin consider the advisability of appointing a competent committee to study and report upon the matter of the unemployment of those over forty years of age in Boston's industrial and commercial establishments. The "Forty Onward League" should be encouraged. Importance should be laid upon ability and not age.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, a woman came to me two weeks ago and said that she was rapidly approaching a serious time, so far as continued employment was concerned, and that she was going to get her hair dyed. She said, "I have worked thirty years for a certain concern, but I will not be able to continue unless I have my gray hair dyed some other color. If it remains gray, I am out." There are thousands of people who are being dropped because of age in some of the greatest concerns in this country, some of whom will not hire people of over thirty-five. They do not want older people, and when they get to a certain age they have to leave. Age has become a detriment instead of an honor. I think it might be well to appoint such a committee as I have suggested in this order, and that it may help to save a few old people their jobs. Let us try to bring home to some of the business houses the fact that there is an obligation to those over forty and that the experience they have acquired with age ought to count for something.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF OWEN STREET, WARD 18.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept Owen street, Ward 18, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF COLORADO STREET, WARD 18.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept Colorado street, Ward 18, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF WALDEN STREET, WARD 10.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, Walden street, Ward 10.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DISPOSITION OF STATE CHECK.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Auditor be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council Committee on Appropriations, in writing, during the current week, the disposition made of check received from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in excess of one million dollars during the autumn of 1938 for road work.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I am very sure that if we can receive that information during the current week, it will be of assistance to us. I have been among those who appreciated the efforts made by the Mayor to reduce the budget this year something like two millions under last year, and I think the information I have asked for in this order may be of assistance to the Committee on Appropriations. Refreshing my recollection, I think that following the dispute between the Legislature and Governor Hurley last summer, some time during the autumn, there was a check to the amount of a million or a million and a quarter that came through to Boston to be used for work on the roads. I was under the impression that most of that money was still available and that, therefore, the Public Works Department budget would benefit by it.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CITY-OWNED PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish in writing to the City Council Committee on Appropriations this week a complete list of all passenger automobiles now owned by the city, but in use by city employees and officials,—not including fire apparatus, trucks, patrol wagons and police patrol cars,—and giving by departments in each case the make of the car, the type, the year, model and the cost.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, no doubt the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations should have the final credit if we are able to benefit by any helpful information along this line, because the order is introduced following early hearings of the Committee on Appropriations. I am inclined to agree with him that probably at the present time, and it is no new thing, many city officials are riding around at the city's expense, not in Fords or other low-priced cars, but in cars that would do credit to the chief executive of the city. It may be that if this information is furnished, giving the names of the cars and a description of them, it will be of great assistance to Councilor Chase and his associates in considering the budget. We can now form a general idea of the type of cars that are used, by seeing them parked around City Hall avenue.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

"FOR SALE" SIGNS ON TAX TITLE PROPERTY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide "For Sale" signs on all 1,947 tax title properties now in the custody and control of the city, and further, that an up-to-date and complete list of all tax title properties now owned by the city, giving the location, number of square feet, assessed value, and accrued taxes, interest and costs for each parcel, be printed as of April 1, 1939, and made readily available for real estate men and possible purchasers.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, in February the Council was kind enough to pass an order I introduced asking specific information in relation to tax title property that has been such a headache to the city for the last three or four years under the administration of former Mayor Mansfield. As several members who were members at that time will recall, the power of approval of sale of tax title property was for some reason removed from the City Council by Beacon Hill. The avowed reason, according to the Mansfield administration, was that, with the requirement of City Council approval of the sale of tax title property, there was too much delay, that the Council moved too slowly. But the reason why the Council moved slowly, if it did, on tax title property was because when we endeavored to get any concrete information as to any particular property, the actual assessment, and so on, it was like opening a tin can with the end of your fingers. They just did not want to give us information, and until we got it we refused to act. I have therefore been glad to see from the records just how rapidly this property has moved since they have ceased to have the Council as a millstone around their necks. Here are the figures: In 1936, no parcels were sold; in 1937, there were thirty-one parcels sold; and last year, when they no longer had the City Council as a millstone around their necks, only twenty parcels were sold, about two thirds of the number sold in 1937. And so far this year there have been but eight parcels sold. It appears from that information which has been furnished to us through the Custodian of the Real Estate Division,—and this is not only interesting but helpful,—as appears on page 144 of the Council Minutes, that we are now stuck with 1,947 properties in the custody and care of the city, with an assessed valuation of close to $3,000,000, upon which close to $1,000,000 is due for unpaid taxes, interest and accrued costs. That has not only been sold for taxes, but has been put through the Land Court and cannot be redeemed. We have it in our lap, and that is the reason for the order I have introduced today, that the Superintendent of Public Buildings, through the Mayor, provide "For Sale" signs on all 1,947 tax title properties in the custody and control of the city, and that the location, number of square feet assessed, value and accrued taxes, interest and cost for each parcel be printed as of April 1, 1939, and that they be made available to real estate men and possible purchasers. Unless something is done, we are stuck, and I would therefore suggest, in accordance with ordinary business management and practices, that we at least put up a sales sign at the various locations, and take at least some steps looking to disposition of the property. The average real estate man might want to make a play on the market, and would be facilitated in doing so by something of this kind, instead of having to go to the Superintendent of Public Buildings office to see what they had for sale, or spending the day, or perhaps a week, finding what the properties are, what they consist of, and what the unpaid taxes, interest and accrued costs are. There are real estate men in Boston who might be glad to get a good deal of this property for parking privileges, and it might at least reimburse the city for unpaid taxes, interest and accrued costs. So I think it would be well, even if it might mean the expenditure of a little time by the Superintendent of Public Buildings, to provide these "For Sale" signs and to furnish the desired information, in our endeavor to unload three millions of property. We should at least furnish available information in regard to the property to any live real estate operator who might want to relieve us of some of the load.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS, BROWN AVENUE, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install sidewalks, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, on both sides of Brown avenue, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF WARD 20 STREETS.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to accept and lay out the following streets in Ward 20: Theodore Parker road extension, Schirmer road extension.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PLAYGROUND, WARD 20.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the new Real Estate Department of the city be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the section along the Veterans of Foreign Wars Parkway, between Church and Corey streets, Ward 20, for the purpose of determining whether or not the city owns any land in this area which might be developed for playground purposes; and, if not, be it further requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in their 1939 budget a sum sufficient to provide for the establishment of a playground in this area.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH UNIT, WARD 20.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of erecting a Health Unit and recreation hall in some central location in the Ward 20 district.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SANDBLASTING CITY HALL WALLS.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of sandblasting the outer walls of City Hall in connection with the present remodeling work.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ROPING FOR B. A. A. MARATHON RACE.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Messenger be authorized to rope off the streets at such points as may be necessary for the Annual Marathon Race, under the auspices of the B. A. A., on April 19, 1939, the expense to be charged to the appropriation for Flags, Ropes and Stakes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING WEST SIXTH AND WEST SEVENTH STREETS.

Coun. KERRIGAN and MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement West Sixth and West Seventh streets, Wards 6 and 7, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.48 p. m., on motion of Coun. CHASE, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President MURRAY at 4.26 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WILSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz:—

Muriel Matthews, Masonic Hall, April 3; Murray Aklen, Jordan Hall, May 10; Ruth M. Taylor, John Hancock Hall, May 5,—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred today) that Mayor consider advisability of appropriating $5,000 for Prison Industry Fund, to enable industries to operate on full time—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order declared passed. Coun. KELLY doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The order was passed by roll call, yeas 12, nays 6.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Englert, Fitzgerald, Galvin, Harris, Hutchinson, Kerrigan, Langan, McMahon, Murray, Rosenberg, Taylor—12.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Fish, Kelly, Lyons, Sullivan, Wilson—6.

Later in the session Coun. CHASE moved a reconsideration of the passage of the order.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, if my motion to reconsider prevails, I will move reference to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion to reconsider was declared lost. Coun. CHASE doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I understand that the only things that would naturally come before the Committee on Appropriations are appropriation items recommended by the Mayor, and there will be nothing before the Committee on Appropriations in reference to this $5,000.

Coun. CHASE—Well, Mr. President, I think action upon the matter should be delayed until we know definitely that they cannot function without that $5,000 at the island.

President MURRAY—The order that we are acting upon does not appropriate the money, but simply asks consideration of the advisability of appropriating it.

The motion to reconsider was lost, yeas 6, nays 11.

Yeas—Coun. Chase, Fish, Kelly, Lyons, Rosenberg, Wilson—6.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Englert, Galvin, Harris, Hutchinson, Kerrigan, Langan, McMahon, Murray, Sullivan, Taylor—11.

3. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred March 27) authorizing sale of pigs to highest bidder at House of Correction, Deer Island—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Report on ordinance (referred today from Committee on Ordinances) re use of cigarette vending machines—recommending reference to the Committee on Ordinances.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, on this proposed reference I have personally complied with the desire of the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) who is vigorously opposed to the ordinance. I believe it is the understanding that the Committee on Ordinances will report back next week, and this reference is to be made in order to permit the gentleman from Ward 3 to appear before the committee. There has been so much time already taken on the matter that I don't wish to add anything at this time.

Coun. FITZGERALD—I shall try to appear before the committee, although there may be some doubt about my being here Friday afternoon. I have talked with a number of people in the West End about the ordinance, and they are opposed to it.

The report was accepted, and the proposed ordinance was referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

Coun. KERRIGAN in the chair.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL SERVICE, CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Hospital Trustees be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish an emergency hospital room and service at the White Fund Unit in Charlestown.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, until quite recently we in Charlestown have had the benefit of the Haymarket Relief Hospital which was finally closed. But the people of my section derived a great benefit from that hospital while it was open. We have in Charlestown an unusual situation, somewhat different from what prevails in any other section of the city. We have people over there working twenty-four hours a day along our waterfront, under floodlights at night, and there are many injuries during the late hours of the night. I have been informed that sometimes more than three-quarters of an hour elapses before they can get an ambulance over there in case of an accident. I have also been informed that the Massachusetts General Hospital, when they take patients from Charlestown, usually send them over to the City Hospital. I believe, therefore, that it is the duty of the city to supply proper hospitalization facilities for Charlestown, which at one time had a hospital of its own. I believe it is the duty of the city, really as an emergency measure, to see that we in Charlestown have the protection which is now lacking and which we should have, and facilities such as I have suggested in this order would not be supplied at tremendous cost to the city.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, when the question of abandonment of the Haymarket Relief Hospital came up, I voted with the Mayor, as Councilor Norton did. Councilor Norton has since said that he felt that his action at that time was unwise, and I also regard mine in the same light. I particularly feel the importance of adequate hospital accommodations in a city like ours, having it brought home to me only this last week, in the case of an attorney friend of mine, at the Pemberton square courthouse. He had a bad attack and had to wait over half an hour before assistance arrived, his face in the meantime turning purple, and the ambulance did not arrive in time to save his life. If the Relief Hospital had been functioning, he could have received first aid which might or might not have saved his life. That I don't know, but at least he would have had a better chance.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HOSPITALIZATION OF EXPECTANT MOTHERS.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the admittance of expectant mothers whose husbands are on the W. P. A. or welfare, and others in poor financial circumstances, to the Maternity Ward, without the payment of a fee.

President MURRAY—Mr. Chairman, I don't wish to criticize either the Superintendent of the Boston City Hospital or the Hospital Trustees in this matter, but there is a practice prevailing at the City Hospital at the present time that I believe should be changed. It seems that after the wife of a husband who is on W. P. A. or welfare has her first baby and wishes to go back for a second time, there is a fee charged, I believe of $10. It seems to me that that is an improper charge and that the City of Boston should make some provision to take care of it. I think if it is brought to the attention of the trustees they will remedy it. There is no provision, however, made to take care of it at the present time, and it is necessary to go to some private agency to seek aid. I think the charge is unfair, and I think if it is brought to the attention of the trustees they will remedy it.

On motion of Coun. TAYLOR, the order was amended by inserting after the words "W. P. A. or welfare," the words "and others in poor financial circumstances," and as amended was passed.

SALE OF TAX TITLE PROPERTY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of selling at least part of the 1,947 parcels of tax title property now held by the city, at public auction, after properly advertising the same.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, without repeating what I said in reference to the 1,947 tax title properties before the Executive Committee, I do feel that it would be well for the Mayor to consider the advisability of selling at least part of these 1,947 parcels at public auction, after properly advertising the same. I believe it would be good judgment for the Superintendent of Public Buildings to so advertise and sell some of the lots. I believe it would certainly be well to try out the expedient of selling at public auction some of the preferable lots, to see what results we will have. I think a start should be made, because the city is not getting richer and up to the present time we are making very little progress in dealing with the $3,000,000 of property that has thus been left in our laps.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REINSTATEMENT OF JAMES GRAY, JR.

Coun. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the reinstatement of James Gray, Jr., as a member of the Boston Police Department, provided that such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 20 SIDEWALKS.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install sidewalks, under the W. P. A. plan of construction, on the following streets in Ward 20: Brookfield street, Hamilton street, Maple street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT ON ATTENDANCE OF SUPERINTENDENT ARTHUR L. GOULD AT ANNUAL MEETING OF AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS AT CLEVELAND, FEBRUARY 25 TO MARCH 2.

The following is the report on attendance at the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators of the National Education Association, presented to the School Committee by Superintendent Arthur L. Gould:

Under authorization of the Boston School Committee, the Superintendent attended the sixty-ninth annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators which was held in Cleveland, February 25 to March 2, 1939.

Although the convention was not formally opened until Sunday, February 26, an important discussion concerning Federal support of education by superintendents of cities with a population of 500,000 and over, was scheduled for Saturday, February 25. At this meeting, as is always the case when Federal support of education is under discussion, there was sharp debate as to where the control of education would reside. Although the majority was strongly in favor of state control, a vigorous minority group insisted that control would be determined by the source of funds made available. It was agreed by a majority of those in attendance that Federal aid based on an equalization program was essential for the preservation of our democracy, since states, and localities within states, are extremely unequal in their ability to support an adequate program of public education.

It would be interesting to have a study made of the ability of the several states to support education as contrasted with what is actually raised by taxation in these states for education. Such a study would determine what is a reasonable standard of educational opportunity within the several states and would surely raise the question of control.

It seems evident that in any equalization plan, states which have been generous in support of education would profit little through Federal aid, while states in which education has been neglected would necessarily receive generous support. United States senate bill S1305 embodies the essential features of this plan of equalization of educational opportunity in the various states.

The convention program was organized on the general subject of "The Foundation of American Education." Morning and evening sessions were devoted to discussion of some of the following major subjects:

- Educational Policy in the Making.
- Spiritual Foundations of Education.
- Educational Propaganda and Press Freedom.
- National Planning.
- Social Foundations of Education.
- The Challenge of Crime.
- Economic Foundations of Education.

With such a program it was to be expected that democracy, as the most effective pattern for the establishment of the happiness and well-being of all peoples, would be the central theme of the principal discussions. Many speakers urged the promotion of a nationwide program, particularly within the schools, to assure that youths and adults understand the social, political and economic problems which must be faced in order to support and apply more widely the principles and ideals basic to the perpetuation of a democratic society. Such ideals must include a guarantee of personal liberty, social and economic security, control of public policies by the people, equality of opportunity and freedom of expression. The inculcation of these understandings and ideals must be recognized as the educator's fundamental responsibility if the state is to be the servant rather than the master of its people.

While recognizing the necessity of definite intensive study of economic and social problems, and the need of providing youth, whether in school or out of school, with adequate guidance adjustment and placement services, nevertheless, the association viewed with alarm the possibility of developing two public school systems in the country, one under Federal control and the other under state control. The danger, as the association viewed the problem, comes from the present tendency to create Federal agencies and bureaus which, though rendering valuable service, can result only in waste, duplication of effort, inefficiency and loss of civil liberties, unless controlled by state and local authorities. This, it seems to me, is the dilemma we face. With Federal support there inevitably comes a degree of control. But if, as the association definitely recommends, we are to receive Federal support, we shall be obliged to weigh the measure of control we must give up, in order to realize on a nation-wide scale, equalization of educational opportunity.

In discussing the spiritual foundation of education, Theodore Soares, Professor of Ethics, California Institute of Technology, stated that many nations and peoples are accepting as true that the "thoughtful few shall not be governed by the thoughtless many." He further said, that a true social philosophy must begin with acceptance of the belief that the individual, however obscure, is a human personality important to himself and the group with which he lives and works. From this viewpoint a true democratic society must afford each individual the largest opportunity for the development of his own personality, for the contribution of his best for the common good, and for participation according to his ability in the direction of the society of which he is a part. Democracy, according to Professor Soares, means not so much sameness as equality of opportunity for growth.

The discussion of the topic, "Educational Propaganda and Press Freedom," was conducted as a forum. The general opinion seemed to be that at appropriate levels controversial subjects should be discussed without restriction, except for recognition of the laws of libel and slander. Care should be exercised, however, that zeal for freedom of expression and broad tolerance of other forms of government should not cause us to lean backward and thus permit under-teaching of democracy. Instruction in democracy should at all times aim to develop those qualities of character upon which it rests—tolerance and respect for the rights of others.

In the discussion of the topic "National Planning," Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, appealed strongly for the support of the schools in teaching conservation of natural resources. Dealing with conservation from a broader viewpoint, he urged all schools to teach how to make our democratic government function by putting into practice the principles of liberty, equality and the development of a responsible citizenship.

Speaking on the same general subject, "National Planning," Edmund E. Day, President of Cornell University, called attention to the fact that unorganized youth is handicapped in placing its problems before the public; that youth, desirous of full participation in society, is challenging the present school program; that youth asks reasonable security for the future and the opportunity to prepare for the part it must play in the solution of the vital problems facing America today.

Education as an instrument of social progress was discussed by Harry E. Barnes, economist of note and editorial writer for Scripps-Howard newspapers. He stressed the idea that because of the great advance in science and technology, we live in a mechanized world without a corresponding growth in our social, economic, political and ethical institutions. He stated that our program of education is outmoded in that it fails to develop the insights and aptitudes necessary for the proper coordination of natural resources, human skills, production and distributive equipment, all of which are essential for the establishment of better human relationship and a more abundant life.

In the discussion of the topic "The Challenge of Crime," the warden of the United States Penitentiary, Alcatraz Island, urged the educators to prepare themselves for the early recognition of criminal tendencies by means of the establishment of child-guidance clinics, psychological testing and psychiatric service. He emphasized the need of instruction in duties and obligations as the means of developing a sturdy self-reliance and steadfast character. In any case, he asserted, it is the duty of the school to undertake to do early what must otherwise be done late when the problem is much more difficult. He emphasized the importance of close cooperation between state and local school authorities in the development of programs suited to the peculiar problems of the prison.

Concerning the "Economic Foundations of Education," Fletcher H. Swift of the University of California told the results of an intensive and extensive study of school finance in Europe. In England, the national government gives aid to public and private schools in the form of capital outlays, current expenses, scholarships and pensions. In France, the national government aids local communities in erection of buildings, and in the payment of the salaries of all public teachers according to national salary scales. In addition to salaries, French teachers receive additional compensation for dependent children, house rent and for maternity. In concluding his discussion, Professor Swift stated that conditions in the United States are quite similar to those which led England and France to develop national aid in support of public education.

Throughout the entire convention, the consensus of opinion seemed to be that human values be put first, and that all forms of educational service and social organizations be viewed in terms of their contribution to human growth and development, both individual and social.

PROFITABLE MUNICIPAL MARKETS.

Municipal markets, "white elephants" in many cities, can be made self-supporting and even profitable, according to recent reports on two of them. The Department of Public Markets of New York City reports that within the administration of its present Mayor, Fiorello LaGuardia, the city's markets have changed from inefficient and expensive undertakings into profitable investments. The Benton Harbor, Mich., municipal fruit and vegetable market is described as doing a three-million-dollar annual business by its City Manager in the February issue of "Public Management."

NO. 17

MAYOR TOBIN PRAISES WORK OF ROBERT BRIGHAM HOSPITAL FOR ITS SERVICE TO HUMANITY OVER THE 25-YEAR PERIOD OF ITS ORGANIZATION — MAKES ADDRESS AT ANNIVERSARY DINNER AT PARKER HILL INSTITUTION — PAYS TRIBUTE TO DR. JOEL E. GOLDTHWAIT, FAMOUS BOSTON SURGEON, WHO WAS FIRST PRESIDENT, AND UNDER WHOSE GUIDANCE HOSPITAL HAS GROWN TO IMPORTANT PLACE IN MEDICINE IT NOW HOLDS — POINTS TO FUTURE GOAL OF MEDICAL WORK.

At the assembly commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital Mayor Tobin spoke, in part, as follows:

I rejoice in commemorating with you tonight twenty-five years of this hospital's devoted service to the welfare of mankind.

As Mayor of Boston, I am especially conscious of the city's debt of gratitude to the founder of this noble institution, Robert Breck Brigham. His name, with that of his brother, Peter, stands forever recorded upon the honor roll of those who may be called the great, the truly "Great Givers to Boston." I refer to the men and women whose individual benefactions to the welfare of Boston loom, through history, as the most outstanding gifts, both in material value and in practical usefulness, which have been directly made to the city.

The roll of the "Great Givers to Boston" comprises, as you know, Peter Faneuil, Benjamin Franklin, George Francis Parkman, Henry Lee Higginson, Eben Jordan, the Brigham brothers, George Robert White, the Forsyth brothers, John Lowell, as founder of the Lowell Institute, and Isabella Stewart Gardner, the donor of Fenway Court. From the years that are passed there are still other prominent benefactors whom I might mention. Through the years of the future there will be, I hope, many more.

It was the purpose of your founder, Robert Brigham, to establish here a hospital which would provide care for peculiarly difficult cases, an institution which would extend the hand of medical mercy and speak a perpetual message of hope to the hearts of suffering men, women and children who might otherwise abandon hope. I refer to persons crippled in body, to the victims of diseased conditions which had become chronic.

Great Healing Work.

Specializing in such cases, the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital has accomplished in its first quarter-century a great healing work which men of an earlier time would have thought impossible. Patients who supposed they never could walk again, after a year's care have gone out of the hospital walking. Chronic sufferers have been, in hundreds of instances, not only relieved but fully cured.

As to the hospital's system of after-care, I doubt if there is an institution in the world whose following of cases after discharge is longer or more thorough. I refer, of course, to your departments of "Home Service" and "Social Service," including occupational therapy. The Robert B. Brigham Hospital not only cures people, but keeps them cured. It re-educates its patients to keep well as citizens in the community, or, at least, to lead lives suitably adjusted to whatever permanent limitations they may have.

Naturally, as Mayor of Boston, I give thanks for such valuable service, and I am especially mindful that many of this hospital's patients are cases directly referred to it by the City Hospital. Residents of the city proper receive your care, in many instances, entirely without charge; others upon the payment of only a few dollars.

At the same time I cannot help but share the regret expressed again and again in the annual reports of this hospital during recent years, that it is giving now only a part of the free care which it is equipped to give. Of seventy-four beds on the public wards there are, as I understand it, only fifty-four now in use.

The cause of this condition is, I know, lack of funds — a definite and very positive lack of funds to perform the full public service which the hospital was created to do and is now equipped to do.

Honor to First President.

The shortage of money could scarcely have been foreseen twenty-five years ago. We are honored tonight by the presence of the hospital's first president, Dr. Joel E. Goldthwait, a leader in orthopedics well known throughout the nation, and indeed the world. Surely when this institution was opened in 1914, Doctor Goldthwait did not dream that it would ever lack funds to maintain the free care for which it was equipped.

The hospital, when opened on November 12, 1914, had cost $1,250,000. And the capital fund established for its maintenance from the Robert B. Brigham estate was $5,000,000. This endowment, at 4 per cent, should have assured you an annual income of $200,000 from this source alone.

Instead, as I am informed, for several recent years this great hospital has not received a single dollar from the founder's fund, and is receiving none now. Why? Because that noble citizen, Robert Breck Brigham, had invested his savings largely in Boston real estate, and by his direction the assets of the endowment fund have been kept almost exclusively in Boston real estate.

Could there be a more striking, a more impressive example of the excessive burden of costs which real estate is bearing today, than that this great $5,000,000 trust, devoted exclusively to philanthropic purposes, has not been able in recent years to earn a single dollar of profit?

Surely, this total lack of net revenue gives strong evidence to prove that real estate in Boston, as in other Massachusetts cities, today is bearing more than its fair share of taxation. Surely, we have proof, in such a dramatic example as this, that the time has come when the Commonwealth must find other sources—such as a sales tax—by which to pay the expenses of state government. The cities of Massachusetts, laden with immense welfare budgets, cannot go on bearing the whole load. Real estate cannot bear it. Industry cannot bear it. Our savings banks, with two billion dollars invested largely in real estate, cannot longer bear such an inordinate load of taxation on real property.

And now, as it would appear, even our institutions for care of the sick and protection of the public health must be given relief.

The burden of tax-costs should be more wisely and fairly distributed. The expense should be shared, so that it may no longer be true, as in the case of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital, that a $5,000,000 fund produces no income whatever to help the noble work which this institution is doing, and I trust will do through many years to come, for humanity.

TAUNTON'S ASPHALT PLANT.

One of the functions of a city public works or street department is to operate as effectively as possible in the construction and maintenance of its streets and sidewalks and to produce the necessary materials for paving at the lowest possible cost. In some cities this is effected by the purchase of all paving materials in either the raw or the mixed stage. Taunton has used a city-owned 100-ton asphalt plant for street paving and maintenance and for sidewalk construction for ten years. Located in the city yard with the equipment repair shop and garage, the plant is housed in a 60 by 90 foot building with a 30 by 100 foot wing, which was formerly used as a foundry. The American City.
